An Itinerant Doctor Drowned in Dead River

IN SIGHT OF HIS WIFE

THE SCHOOL QUESTION IN BRIGHAM CITY.

Embshell About to Burst Among the Republicans of Box Elder County—An Old Lady's Husband, Her Neighbor Will Be Held in Death of C. H. Monson

BRIGHAM CITY, Sept. 29.—Drowned in the very sight of his wife.

That was the fate of an itinerant doctor near Corinne yesterday afternoon.

The story comes to me as follows: Last Saturday a traveling doctor drove into Corinne. He was accompanied by his wife and two or three other people. They pitched their tent in Corinne, expecting to remain some time.

Monday afternoon the party thought it would be nice to have a duck hunt. So they drove about a mile south of Corinne and began popping away at the solonchaks—the law was not up yet.

This "quack doctor," as the people had already begun to call him, shot some ducks that fell across an arm of clear, fast moving Dead river. He was about sixty feet across and probably ten feet deep. When his game fell across the river, the doctor stripped off and swam over after his birds. He successfully crossed the water, secured the game and started on the return trip. When within thirty feet of the shore, he could be seen to be crying; cried for help and then, right before the eyes of his frantic wife, he sank beneath the woman watching him.

The people on shore were horror-stricken for the moment. Then a brave young man of the party leaped into the cold water and made for the drowning man. But he, too, became cramped or exhausted, and barely got back alive. He then mounted one of the ducks and dove in and tried to discover the body of the now drowned man and drag it ashore, but in vain.

But he, too, became cramped or exhausted, and barely got back alive. He then mounted one of the ducks and dove in and tried to discover the body of the now drowned man and drag it ashore, but in vain.

His name could not be ascertained. He was about 35 or 40 years of age—a big, broad-shouldered man of fine presence. He claimed to be connected with the prominent firm of doctors in San Francisco.

The body will be interred in Corinne tomorrow afternoon. It is the unfortunate man is so prostrated that practically no information as to who they are can be furnished.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION

is still the all-absorbing topic of conversation in Brigham.

Yesterday the county commissioners met in their usual session and the representatives from the four old districts a chance to air their grievances and, if they had any, suggest a better plan for appointing the teachers.

It was quite a hot old session when the commissioners from the Second had the floor. El Jensen and John Merrill were the champions of the old plan and they treat the commissioners and small audience present in a most unbecoming manner.

Several times the court was under the cruel necessity of bringing him down to earth. He is an orator of no mean ability, and when he imagines he has a grievance he rises to an oratorical height that would have done credit to a Patrick Henry.

State Superintendent of Schools, Dr. John R. Park, was present and he pleaded his much when he first learned that the Brigham school districts had been united. "Gentlemen," said he, "I have made a study of the right of partition, and I beg of you don't go back, but a receding of the consolidating order of the court would surely be a step backward."

After hearing the matter the court took it under advisement. Their decision is practically a foregone conclusion. The districts remain united, but instead of placing a certain rate of taxes on each of the old districts for the next seven years, they will make the amount that each is to raise during that time. This is to cover any discrepancies that might arise in the future, the fluctuations of values of property.

Although it is no doubt just and equitable it yet remains to be seen whether it is this new order of the court will meet with popular approval. There are a few agitators in town who seem to be working for the old plan, and there is no telling what they may contrive.

One of the biggest objections of the non-unionists is the new order of things in 1946. They have just built for the finest school house in town. In grading, some of their children were called to cross a dreadful wall boundary line and attend school in an inferior building. They also claim that their children were being taken to the street and their handsome building used for a temporary high school. Of course their views are extreme, but many people here are nevertheless.

POLITICS.

Politics are surprisingly quiet here since the tickets were nominated. Some people are wondering if the party leaders have not gone off to bed, or if they have snaked off to the mountains to dig gold in order to raise funds to carry on the campaign.

It is pretty well understood that a bombshell is about to burst in one of the chief planks of the platform recently adopted by the Republicans in this county.

Honorable Rabbles.

BOUNTYFUL, Sept. 29.—Tough Rampton was a low-down, mean, scoundrel came home this morning on the south bound 5 o'clock train. It seems he had climbed the summit, and, like Rip Van Winkle, had wandered far down the other side, where he was lost in the timber. All night he struggled amidst the rocks and trees, vainly seeking some trail by which he might return. Next day he encountered some trappers, who were cutting holes in the Morgan, where he boarded the train. He purchased his ticket with money which he had found.

It was announced that a rescue party is returning on the by-streets. Some did not get home until late in the afternoon.

Heavy frosts last night cut down the melon, tomato, squash and cucumber vines. The Wanda Cross Canning and Pickling factory will be the greatest sufferers from the frost as they will have to suspend operations soon.

PROVO, Sept. 29.—Business was transacted before Judge Hatch in the Fourth district court today as follows:

W. H. Grant vs. George Nicholas et al. Judgment rendered in favor of plaintiff. Suit was on contract on purchase of a jackass and was appealed from the justice court. A. Anderson vs. Fork. Judgment of this court awarding plaintiff possession of the animal reverse that of the lower court.

A suit for an accounting by James Dunn, guardian, brought by George Buxton, was heard in part. Both parties were present. In 1874 a divorce was granted in favor of the father's estate was set aside for this plaintiff for his maintenance, education and support. The distribution of the trust had not been satisfactory to George Buxton, who is now of age, and he is asking for an accounting. Represented by E. Booth as counsel. Mr. Dunn is represented by J. B. Mallin.

Demurrer to the information filed recently against Charles Boltwinkle, the semi-demented tramp recently arrested for breaking into the house of Philadelphia were visitors at the Ontario mine today.

Mrs. F. W. Hoyt has issued invitations for a silver party next Thursday afternoon. The guests are asked to write out and bring the best reasons for the demonetization of silver.

Serious Eruptions.

"My blood is in a bad condition, and I thought I would try a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has done me good, and before I had taken one-half a bottle I found they were disappearing. I regard Hood's Sarsaparilla as the best blood purifier on the market, and I have also been benefited by Hood's Pills." Mrs. Robert Stevens, 33 L. Street, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills.

POPULISTS WERE BUNCOED

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE CALLED TO MEET ON THURSDAY.

Say They Had a Fair Bargain With the Silver Republicans—Will Probably Have Another Convention and Complete Their Ticket—Many Endorse Democrats—Some Republicans Nodded Also—Address Issued to All Factions.

There is lamentation and discord among the Populists of Ogden. Their grievances are many, and their efforts to remedy them are being made.

After reading The Herald's account of the Republican "barney" meeting published yesterday, the fact dawned upon them that the things that are not like the things that were, and most of them were willing to agree with the populist that "all men are liars," and especially some men. They came to the conclusion that they had been used as a whip by the Independent Republicans to crack over the McKinley Republicans and bring them into line, and had been unceremoniously cast aside when the need for a whip was over.

Readers of The Herald will remember the inside facts of a political deal whereby the Populists agreed to give the silver Republicans, provided they would remain in the county and legislative ticket.

THE ORIGINAL DEAL.

The deal was made with the Populists by the executive committee, composed of S. S. Smith, L. J. Reeder, J. J. Olsen, Henry Holmes, William Burnett, and others. The deal was made on the condition that the Populists would give the silver Republicans the county and legislative ticket.

Democrats; it's the offices we want.

ADDRESS TO THE REPUBLICANS OF WEBER COUNTY.

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republican party held at Ogden on the 28th day of September, 1936, which meeting was composed of Republicans representing all shades and degrees of opinion upon the national ticket. It was unanimously agreed through conference that the best thing to do in the nomination and election of one county legislator is to elect a Republican; therefore we urge that there should be not only unity of action but that no factional differences concerning the party to be elected should enter into the contest, and that all Republicans have their eyes fixed upon the McKinley-Bryan ticket without working any prejudice to them, either as to the most valuable and scientific names for office.

There is lamentation and discord among the Populists of Ogden. Their grievances are many, and their efforts to remedy them are being made.
