

If you want to press the people to buy daily, is the advice given by the National Advertiser.

In The Salt Lake Herald, it reaches more Utah homes than any other paper published in the state. The merchant's trade comes from the homes.

FIVE MORE VICTIMS NAMED

The "Three Tailors" Select Additional Candidates For Defeat.

HAVE CHOSEN ONE WOMAN.

George L. Nye Is Named For City Attorney.

Has Accepted With a Great Deal of Grace—Miss Joanna Sprague For City Recorder and Sam Park For Auditor—Orson Woolley For Police Justice—The Council Next—Doremus For Mayor on the Republican Ticket—Other Bits of Political Gossip.

- For Mayor. JOHN CLARK. For Attorney. GEORGE L. NYE. For Recorder. MISS JOANNA SPRAGUE. For Treasurer. JOSEPH E. CAINE. For Auditor. SAM C. PARK. For Police Judge. ORSON WOOLLEY.

And there you have the work of the "three tailors" convention up to date. The nominations are a success, too, for each and every one of the candidates selected have accepted. Mr. Nye was the last one to come to town, and that possibly accounts for the closeness of the window curtains at the apartments of the club last evening. They were so arranged as to shut out the view of the hats on the pews. Maybe the committee didn't want outsiders to see Mr. Nye's hat.

With the exception of Nye, the state was run through as announced in The Herald. Frank B. Stephens failed to accept the nomination. Mr. Stephens was highly honored and all that sort.

SAM C. PARK. Candidate for Auditor.

of thing, but could not take the place, so he declined with thanks. Mr. Nye, however, was the man of the hour. He came to the fore like a patriot and gallantly announced that he was in the fight until the cows come home.

COUNCILMEN TONIGHT.

The committee will tackle the councilmanic question this evening. Candidates will be selected from all the wards, or precincts, and their names heralded to an expectant and waiting public as soon as they are confirmed. The committee does not believe in doing things by halves. It will present the names of three from each precinct for the voters to act on, and will in addition to this issue an "address" to the people, in which it will declare, as did that body famed in history from which it takes its name, "We, the people of Salt Lake City," etc.

The meeting of the club last night wasn't so long as some of the others. It seems that at some of the other gatherings, presumably the two which have been held without announcement, the names of several gentlemen have been discussed for places, but the sub-committee appointed to see them and the messengers sent from the bank to interview various "parties" have had a hard time in making arrangements, and not until last evening did they make favorable reports. Then the business was closed up in a hurry. It reminded one of the action of the institution in which the meeting was held, securing itself on a defaulted investment. There was no time lost.

GEORGE L. NYE.

George L. Nye, the youth selected to run as city attorney, has been elected—as a stalwart Republican up to within very recent period. When he was defeated for county attorney last fall by Waldemar Van Cutt it was stated that his political opinions received a very severe shock. George had an idea he was the idol of the people, and when the people took a shy at him and buried him under a vote at least a foot thick in the lightest spots, he grieved. George is a nephew of George A. Lowe, one of the heavyweights in the non-partisan movement. Maybe this had something to do with his selection, but it might be unfair to say so.

SAMUEL C. PARK.

Sam Park has never run for an office before. He is a novice in the art of politics, but that he will obtain support is evidenced by the fact that he is the son of his father and a son-in-law of Arthur I. Thomas, who stands very close to F. H. Lamm of the Tribune. Sam will be a good man in the campaign—he can sing.

JOSEPH E. CAINE.

Joseph E. Caine is a son of John T. Caine, one of the committee on nominations. He is engaged in the insurance business and is on the staff of Young, brigadier general commanding the National Guard of Utah.

wearing the rank of lieutenant colonel and being assistant adjutant general.

MISS SPRAGUE.

Miss Joanna Sprague is a young woman who has for several years been employed as stenographer in the Third district courts and only ceased work this week when the county commissioners began a system of retrenchment in favor of the taxpayers and cut her compensation. She is so far the only woman on the ticket, and unless some other is elected for the council, doubtless will be elected. She is regarded as a means of pacifying the women for the neglect or refusal to permit them to join the agitation making the nominations.

ORSON A. WOOLLEY.

Orson Woolley is a resident of the Fifth precinct. Of late he has been admitted to the bar. Formerly he was in the laundry business and before that was a merchant.

J. E. CAINE. Candidate for Treasurer.

The politics of the candidates thus far nominated has been as follows:

John Clark, candidate for mayor; Democrat.

George L. Nye, candidate for attorney; Republican.

Miss Joanna Sprague, candidate for recorder; Republican.

Joseph E. Caine, candidate for treasurer; Democrat.

Sam C. Park, candidate for auditor; Republican.

Orson Woolley, candidate for police judge; Democrat.

So, up to date, honors have been evenly divided. The two parties have three candidates each.

The geographical distribution does not give the west side of the city a great deal of means in the mayor, as all means are credited to the mayor, as put off with the auditor. The fourth, the "No Hill" of Zion, gets the mayor and the treasurer. The fifth gets the recorder and the police justice.

The church goes two candidates, the mayor and the police justice. The balance are of the Gentile persuasion.

THE COUNCIL.

It is understood that already some efforts have been made in the direction of selecting councilmen. John Henry Smith is reported as having been working in the Third precinct for a day or two interviewing people on the subject with more or less success, principally near the Presbytery, was approached on the matter although this does not mean to convey the idea Smith did it and refused to take the place. Ezra Thompson also declined the honors in favor of his own in the direction of the name of A. F. Doremus was also presented, but was withdrawn without action. It was doubtless as well that this was done, as Doremus would not have taken it. He has a good chance on the Republican nomination for mayor and will doubtless get it.

In the Fourth precinct, Bishop M. S. Wright was approached and declined. Now the committee are laboring with John Dorn, the principal owner of the Mercantile mine. They want him to enter the council and assist in carrying out the work. John is coy, however, and does not care to force his business to go roaming around the streets looking for broken freighting boxes and holes in the earth and all that sort of business. Colonel F. A. Grant, who has just been selected to command the First Infantry, N. G. U., also has been approached, but he declines to be a candidate, but the committee hope to bring him to the front, with the able assistance of his superior officer, the adjutant general.

Some action may be expected tonight on the matter of the address to the people, which will explain the reason why they are expected to vote for the ticket. There will be an immense amount of chatter in the document, if all reports be true. Parley L. Williams has not been in attendance upon the meetings for the past two nights, and it is reported he is working on the exhortation attended to.

THE SCANDINAVIAN DEMOCRATS ARE UP IN ARMS AGAINST THE SO-CALLED NON-PARTISAN MOVEMENT.

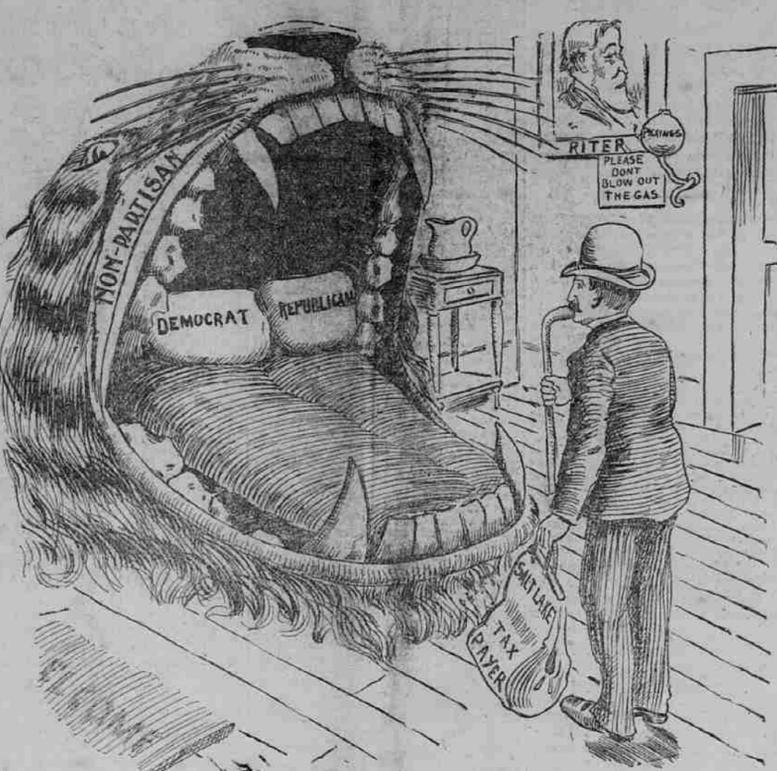

Not only do the Scandinavian Democrats want the Democratic ticket, but they also want the Republican ticket. At the last meeting of the society a committee comprising 25 members, five from each municipal ward, was selected with Mrs. A. M. Nielsen president, F. S. Ertman, vice-president, Conrad Lund secretary and John Halvorsen assistant secretary. From this number seven were selected as the executive committee with John Halvorsen chairman and E. G. Johnson secretary. The committees are getting down to work with a will and good results are expected from the labors they have begun.

In the coming city convention, when it comes to nominating an opponent to George L. Nye, the Democrats will have no difficulty in getting the right kind of a man. Either Dave Hemphrey, W. C. Hall or R. W. Young can beat him in the race. It makes no difference which.

Dave Emery has it all figured out. The non-partisans have nominated a Democrat for mayor and that will cause nine-tenths of the Democrats to vote that ticket. Then the Republicans

(Continued on page 5.)

INTO THE JAWS OF DEATH.

The Ferocious Monster From the Non-Partisan Jungle in Its Justly Celebrated and Widely Advertised Feat of Swallowing Two Political Parties.

(Reproduced without permission from the Salt Lake Tribune.)

SALVATION ARMY ROMANCE.

Young Girl and an Old Widower Are Missing.

(Special to The Herald.)

Boise, Sept. 15.—Mabel Coleman is missing from her home at Lewiston. She is 14 years old and has been active in Salvation Army work, selling the War Cry and singing in the street.

In the Salvation brigade was C. D. Santo, a widower with two children. Santo paid such devoted attention to Mabel last winter that the girl's father, also a member of the army, strenuously objected to his conduct.

The ardent old lover was forbidden to see the child and the Coleman family advised her to discontinue her work with the army because of the attentions of Santo to Mabel.

The girl was sent on an errand to the city and she disappeared. No trace of her has been found. Santo went about the city, pointing the revolver at the windows of the girl's people, they could not be seen.

The affair has created a good deal of excitement in Salvation Army circles.

THE HERALD BULLETIN.

PAGE ONE. The "Citizens" Ticket. Attempted Assassination of Diaz. All London Talks Silver.

PAGE TWO. At the National Pie Counter. Many Bicycle Records Broken.

PAGE THREE. High Grade Gold Ore. News From State Line. Suit to Set Aside Conveyances.

PAGE FOUR. Editorial.

PAGE FIVE. His Girl Wife Stolen From Him. Another Railroad For Klondike.

PAGE SIX. Big Crops in Cache. Financial and Commercial.

PAGE SEVEN. Montana Miner's Revenge.

PAGE EIGHT. The Municipal League. In Railway Circles.

IDAHO MASONS.

Officers Elected at the Grand Lodge Meeting.

(Special to The Herald.)

Boise, Sept. 15.—The 36th annual meeting of the grand lodge of Idaho Masons was held here today. The officers elected were as follows: Grand master, G. M. Waterhouse; grand secretary, C. H. Storer; grand treasurer, C. H. Storer; grand lecturer, F. B. Seal of Boise.

Retiring Grand Master Mack presented the grand lodge with a ring to be worn by the grand master and handed down in succession.

VERY ROUGHLY HANDLED.

Agitators of the Anarchist Stamp Not Allowed to Speak.

(Special to The Herald.)

Chicago, Sept. 15.—The men supposed to be the emissaries of some anarchist society, denounced the government, branded the Poles of Chicago as cringing cowards and as a climax tore a small American flag to shreds at Black Hawk and Noble streets last night. The result was a small riot during which the supposed anarchists were badly beaten. Had not the horse attached to the light wagon from which they were speaking, become frightened by the angry shouts of about a hundred Poles and run away, the two men would have probably been killed outright. As it was, a crowd of infuriated men chased the runaway for several blocks, throwing stones and sticks at the half unconscious and blood covered men who crouched in the bottom of the wagon. One of the men was severely wounded. The other was lively while it lasted, but the horse soon got away from its harness and carried the supposed anarchists to safety.

Telegraphers Elect Officers.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 15.—The Society of the United States Military Telegraph came to session here for the past few days elected the following officers for the ensuing year: W. B. Wilson, Holmesburg, Pa., president; E. H. Henshaw, Omaha, Neb., vice-president; and J. B. Peck, Chicago, secretary and treasurer. The convention adjourned to meet next year in Omaha.

Idaho Crop Prospects.

(Special to The Herald.)

Boise, Sept. 15.—Last week northern Idaho reported the wheat crop damaged 10 per cent. This week the reports say the damage is insignificant. Latah, Kootenai, Nez Perce and Shoshone county farmers report the best prospects of getting it all harvested and to market. Two weeks of clear weather will clean up all the fields.

New Utah Postoffice.

(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, Sept. 15.—A postoffice has been established at La Salle, San Juan county, Utah, and Fred N. Brewer commissioned postmaster.

An increased pension is granted Daniel Jenkins of Rawlins, Wyo.

Maro Breaks Her Neck.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 15.—Do-Do fell and broke her neck in the steeple chase at Fort Erie this afternoon. Her jockey was not hurt.

Young Logan Suffers by Fire.

Youngstown, O., Sept. 15.—Fire at noon today destroyed the stock barn of John A. Logan, Jr. Eight finely bred horses and many elegant equipments were burned. Loss estimated at $15,000.

TRIED TO SLAY DIAZ.

Old Mexico's President the Mark For Anarchists.

HIS VERY NARROW ESCAPE.

WOULD-BE ASSASSIN NARROWLY ESCAPES LYNOCHING.

Thousands of People Had Assembled to Celebrate Mexican Independence Day and the President Was Reviewing the National Troops—Later the President Delivers His Message to Congress and in This Discusses the Silver Question at Length—No Intimation of Going to the Gold Standard—Barrios, Overthrown, Coming to the United States.

City of Mexico, Sept. 15.—Izabella Anfo, a violent character, assaulted President Diaz today during the military procession usual on Independence day. The man was felled with a cane by a companion of the president and was immediately taken into custody by the authorities. The central thoroughfare of this city, extending from the Alameda to the Alameda or public plaza and known by various names, was thronged by great numbers of people assembled to see the military procession usual on Independence day. Gen. Barrios on each side of the street kept the crowd from pressing the marchers on the way to take part in the public exercises at the Alameda, after which the military parade was to march through the same street on its way to the national palace to be reviewed by President Diaz. The scene was immensely picturesque, the historic avenue, called by George Augustus Sala one of the famous streets of the world, being all a-shake with color and the Spanish-fashioned balconies filled with ladies.

IN BRILLIANT TILTS.

After a short wait the murmur ran through the crowd that the president was coming, and on foot, dressed in the uniform of a general of division. The president, bowing right and left to the applauding crowds, came, immediately behind him being General Pradillo, the governor of the national palace, who served in the same capacity under Emperor Maximilian. Following them were other officers, cabinet ministers, etc. Suddenly near the Alameda there was a disturbance in the crowd on the sidewalk, and a well built, muscular man with flowing black hair and mustache, forced his way by tremendous effort past the gen darmes and jumped between the president and General Pradillo and the chief of staff, Monasterio, and dealt a blow at the back of the president's neck, but the violence of the President Porfirio Diaz of Mexico.

President Porfirio Diaz of Mexico.

TAKES MUCH CREDIT.

Taking credit for having practically killed the plan, the editorial concludes with the warning that the campaign will be continued.

The leading French statesmen are not wholly disinclined to reopen the mints, while a vigorous attempt is being made to induce India to adopt the same course. Of course, if that ratio, this proposal appears to me to be in the highest degree objectionable. First, because it puts an end to an experiment which has failed; second, because it affords no substantial prospect of giving a steady, permanent exchange, which there is every prospect of attaining if the policy of 182 is adhered to. Third, because if the succeeded in giving a permanent exchange at the ratio of 15 1/2 to 1, which is not improbable, it could only be effected by artificially increasing the gold value of silver throughout the world to the same extent, thus introducing without the consent of British parliament all the mischief of international bimetallicism at this ratio.

Lord Farrar promises on a future occasion to give his reasons for these conclusions, adding that as the proposals have been for some time before the government, it is desirable that public attention should be drawn to them.

DENOUNCES THE GOVERNOR.

Indignation Largely Mixed, It Says, With Derision.

London, Sept. 15.—The Standard's

(Continued on Page 2.)

ALL LONDON TALKING SILVER.

Governor of the Bank of England Causes the Sensation of the Day.

PROPOSALS WITH SEVERAL STRINGS ATTACHED.

Will Carry a Silver Reserve if France Will Resume Free Coinage and Certain Other Things Come to Pass.

Generally Regarded by Gold Standard Leaders as an Attempt to Stop the "Clamor" of American Bimetallists—Bank's Proposals Treated With Derision—Wolcott Writes That He Is Much Encouraged—Not Believed That the Government Will Sanction the Proposition—Speculation Concerning the Reopening of the Indian Mints.

London, Sept. 15.—At the semi-annual meeting of the Bank of England today the governor said: "You are probably aware of the proposals laid before the government in the summer by the United States and France whereby the country might increase its use of silver as a contribution to an international agreement, which, while not affecting our gold standard, might enable the mines of France and America to resume free coinage. Among the proposals was one asking the bank to hold the amount of silver permissible under the act of 1841 as against its notes."

The governor then read a letter dated July 29, addressed to the chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach. It was as follows: "Reference being made to the conversation, we beg to say that the bank is prepared to carry out what is laid down as permissible in the bank charter, viz.: To hold one-fifth of its note issue in silver provided always that the government mint is again open to the free coinage of silver, and that the prices at which silver is procurable and salable are satisfactory."

Replying to the questions, the governor said the Bank had no negotiations with the United States monetary commissioners, adding: "We have sought no silver, all we have done is to agree under certain circumstances to carry out what is permissible under the act of 1844."

BIMETALLISTS ARE JUBILANT.

The letter caused surprisingly little comment in the city, and did not affect silver prices. Great satisfaction, however, is expressed by the headquarters of the Bimetallist league. The secretary of the Bank of England, Mr. George F. Glennie, when asked if the action of the Bank of England does not mean the reopening of the Indian mints, replied: "That is a political question and does not concern us."

The bankers of the city are surprised and displeased. Manager Ross of Glynn, Mills, Curry & Co., ardent supporters of the Gold Standard Defense association, voiced the opinion of the bankers. He said: "The letter, with such qualifications, does not pledge the bank to anything, and its only effect will be to encourage the bimetallists' agitation. If the plan was carried, it might raise the price of silver temporarily, which would be followed by a reopening of the American mines, overproduction and a consequent fall in the price of silver."

The officials of the foreign office declined to comment on the letter, but a high official of the treasury department is quoted in an interview as describing the work of the United States monetary commission.

THE TIMES HYSTERICAL.

Running Out of New Argument, It Reports Itself.

London, Sept. 15.—The Times commenting editorially this morning on the letter read by the governor of the Bank of England at the semi-annual meeting of the bank says: "The letter is not more than a repetition of the old story which has been at work in France as here in relation to the currency reserve, the reopening of the French mints is perhaps within the limits of possibilities, though we doubt whether the action of the Bank of England can be in any case a determining factor. The second condition which the bank imposes, the condition with regard to the price of silver, is obviously more important. An immense responsibility would rest upon the bank's officials who must exercise the right to decide what should be regarded as a fair price of silver."

Editorial protests strongly against the policy of the bank in having consented to commit itself, though even thus limited, to the question of silver. Arguments used in former articles, the Times says: "We cannot assume that the admission of silver into the currency would detract from the bank's prestige abroad. It would be a very objectionable course and not at all in accordance with the policy of the ministry with the American commissioners and French government."

TAKES MUCH CREDIT.

Taking credit for having practically killed the plan, the editorial concludes with the warning that the campaign will be continued.

The leading French statesmen are not wholly disinclined to reopen the mints, while a vigorous attempt is being made to induce India to adopt the same course. Of course, if that ratio, this proposal appears to me to be in the highest degree objectionable. First, because it puts an end to an experiment which has failed; second, because it affords no substantial prospect of giving a steady, permanent exchange, which there is every prospect of attaining if the policy of 182 is adhered to. Third, because if the succeeded in giving a permanent exchange at the ratio of 15 1/2 to 1, which is not improbable, it could only be effected by artificially increasing the gold value of silver throughout the world to the same extent, thus introducing without the consent of British parliament all the mischief of international bimetallicism at this ratio.

Views of the Daily Mail.

London, Sept. 17.—The Daily Mail, in its financial article this morning says: "As it is obvious that the French will never agree to open the mints, it is a pity the question is being raised with a view to making an unequivocal declaration. We do not like to be ungenerous, but the silver mine owners with the aid of Europe, a rise in silver as a consequence of the American proposal, a tariff policy and to keep the silverites in good humor."

Views of the Daily Mail.

London, Sept. 17.—The Daily Mail, in its financial article this morning says: "As it is obvious that the French will never agree to open the mints, it is a pity the question is being raised with a view to making an unequivocal declaration. We do not like to be ungenerous, but the silver mine owners with the aid of Europe, a rise in silver as a consequence of the American proposal, a tariff policy and to keep the silverites in good humor."

Recalls an Old Tale.

London, Sept. 15.—The Daily News in its editorial on yesterday's proceedings at the semi-annual meeting of the Bank of England says: "The proposal which was made to open the mints was the advantage of the gold standard, the buildings of France and the United States were to be destroyed, and the fable of the fox which lost its tail."

SILVER CRAWLS UP.

An Advance Both at London and New York.

New York, Sept. 15.—The Evening Post says: "Bar silver in London is unchanged at 25 1/2 per ounce. New York price for commercial bars 1/4 cent higher at 56 1/2 per cent. Government assay bars 1/4 cent higher at 54 1/2 per cent. Mexican dollars unchanged at 32 cents bid, asking price 1/2 cent lower at 31 cents. At today's New York bid price for silver, the bullion value of the United States silver dollar is 43 1/2 cents."

From Poverty to Riches.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15.—Niel Goodman, an employee of the Phoenix Iron Works of Phoenixville, has just received word that by the death of his sister he becomes sole heir to an estate of $200,000 in Stafoordshire, England.