

NEWS OF THE STATE

Suit Against Payson City For a Water Title.
County Assessor Dies

Idaho Woolen Mills May Be Removed to Logan—Football Game in the Snow at Park City—Muttal Improvement Fair at Kaysville—Peach Trees Blossoming.

Payson, Utah, Nov. 27.—The city has had the time extended to answer Mr. Patten's water suit for a title. The council divides the water for the people by ordinance, but has no authority to give title for water claims to any individual living in the city or out of it. Patten has never been denied his rights to water with the rest of the citizens of this city. No title can be given him other than in common with others who have used the water since 1850. Mr. Patten now says his attorney made the case much stronger than he wished and prefers to make an amicable settlement.

CONCERT AND BALL. Last evening Professor Poulson's school gave an interesting programme, supper and Puritan costume ball at the city hall. The Indians of the olden days were well represented. An enjoyable time was had until 11 o'clock when the music was given by the orchestra. The orchestra as the necessary repairs on the dynamo have been made.

Joseph Wightman & Sons are excavating for a new building on Main street having moved their old market. Plans are on for the work, and one year's time given for its completion. It will be a counterpart of the Simmons block. William Ferris has bought the old structure.

Jesse Miles' wife gave birth to a daughter which died yesterday. The mother is getting along pretty well. James W. Bradley, a prominent old citizen, is very low and not long for this world. Relatives are expecting him to pass away at any time. He is 70 years of age.

Snow fell here to a depth of two inches, while at Sanguin, but six miles south, the fall was eight inches. Thanksgiving day at Payson was generally observed in a quiet way by the usual number of home gatherings and family dinners, but in addition to this there was a fair and entertainment in the music hall, given by the Young Ladies Mutual Improvement association. The display was made up almost wholly of the work of the young ladies themselves, and it was indeed creditable. Paintings, needlework and everything necessary for home decoration was on exhibition. The hall was thronged during the afternoon with spectators. A musical programme by Miss Nora Bonemont, Mrs. Minnie Blood, Miss Eliza Draper and a guitar and harmonica band added pleasure to the occasion.

The ball in the evening was attended by about 200 persons and was a very enjoyable affair socially as well as financially. During the evening there was a contra solo, "My Queen," by Mrs. Ella Burdick, a solo by Mrs. Maud Barnes, and a song, "The Fog Bell," by James A. Cottrell. At 10 o'clock luncheon was served, and the evening closed with a social. The whole affair netted the committee about $50.

The Bountiful Dramatic company is billed to play "The Silver Lining" at the music hall on Wednesday evening next. The play has been pronounced a success in the towns where it has been presented. Mr. C. W. Beane, a talented Salt Lake actor, has the leading role.

Edward C. Barnes has recently purchased an interest in the ordinary business of Jones & Taylor and will shortly take control of the company's affairs in Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Clara H. Layton has been very sick for a few days, but is somewhat improved.

Broke His Ribs and Was Attacked by Pneumonia. Brigham City Bugler: Yesterday morning the county officials and numerous other citizens went up to Mantua to attend the sad funeral of Peter Jensen, county assessor of Box Elder county. Many prominent people spoke at the services, extolling the good qualities of the deceased. It was one of the largest funerals ever held in that place, as the deceased was one of the most prominent citizens of the town. Jensen resided there for years and being universally liked and respected.

Mr. Jensen died from rather unusual causes. It seems a few days ago he was at the county seat leading a horse. He had a heavy sack of flour on his back, and in attempting to step from the platform to the wagon his foot slipped and he fell, coming down on his back. He broke some of his ribs. This confined him to the house. Shortly afterwards pneumonia set in and the result is that it caused his death.

NEWSBOYS WON. Football Played in the Snow at Park City. Park City, Nov. 27.—The Salt Lake newsboys and Park City Stars played football in the snow in the presence of a large crowd this afternoon, the visitors winning by a score of 4 to 0. Jennings kicked off for the Park boys, who were steady to goal when time was called. Many of the spectators pronounced the game the prettiest and most evenly matched of any that has been played in the Park this season.

Woolen Mills For Logan. Logan Journal: If Mr. Edmund Buckley of the "North Star" woolen mills of Franklin receives proper encouragement it is possible that he will move his machinery to Logan and establish a mill here. Buckley can have the advantage of electric power. Mr. Buckley gives employment to a number of hands, and manufactures cloths, flannels, linings, his celebrated waterproof canyon cloth, blanket, yarns, etc., all of the very best quality.

Provo Nov. 27.—The fusion primaries for the nomination of candidates for the school board were well attended last evening. It is the general belief that the fusion ticket, supported by Democrats and Republicans, will be an easy winner against the non-partisan. Following are the nominations made: First Ward.—L. H. Pratt. Second Ward.—Ralph Poulton. Third Ward.—J. L. Clayton. Fourth Ward.—Myron Newell.

Peaches Blossoming. Brigham City Bugler: Some of our Brigham fruit growers have observed that the warm weather of late has started some of the peach buds on the road to blossoming. It continues, this might result in some loss to next year's peach crop. This warm weather seems to be fooling the unacquainted young fruit trees; they think spring has come.

Notes From Sandy. Sandy, Utah, Nov. 27.—The new Republican postmaster takes charge on the 1st of December. If he does as his predecessor has done he will give our citizens the most efficient and best built more commodious quarters he will occupy the old stand.

John Bradley Thinks That Parties After Gold Should Remain Away From Alaska Unless They Intend to Stay at Least Three Years.

Kokomo, Ind., Nov. 27.—John J. Bradley, who was raised in this vicinity, has written a letter of advice to the editor of the Union-Dispatch of this place, that he wishes all Indians and others interested to read and profit by. The letter is under date of Nov. 7, from Sitka, and is full of interest. He says:

Before coming to Alaska to seek for gold in the mountains, the country is mountainous, immense glaciers fill many of the valleys, most all the streams have swift currents, a large part of the surface is covered with moss which thaws out but little more than a foot in summer. In winter everything becomes solid and prospecting must be done with fire. Scrape the moss, strike a fire, when it dies out scrape out the thawed earth, repeating the operation indefinitely. The country affords no food. The means of transportation are few and costly. Remoteness makes it impossible to get supplies from the coast. It is necessary to bring a year's supplies, and if he is not experienced in mining, to work for wages the first year. He is then in school and will receive wages enough to pay for his expenses. When he is able to buy his outfit and secure a claim for himself. It is best to try to get a claim in the first year, unless you can give from the first five years. It is best for men to come in small parties, not over four together. Parties coming in the spring should make up their minds to stay, but cash and buy their outfits there. The stores are now well supplied and everything necessary can be bought there cheaper than to bring it. The cabinet of Canada is threatening to drive the Americans from British territory. A large force of mounted police is on the way here. The Canadians have been exacting tribute in all manner of ways that will add to the government revenue. Yours truly, "JOHN J. BRADLEY."

CATHOLIC HIERARCHY. Archbishop Chapelle of Santa Fe Transferred to New Orleans. Rome, Nov. 27.—A pope today appointed the Rev. P. L. Chapelle, bishop of Santa Fe, N. M., to archbishopric of New Orleans. The Rev. Father Marquie, the rector of the Annunciation, of Williamsport, Pa., has been appointed bishop of Erie, Pa.

Denver, Nov. 27.—A special to the News from Santa Fe, N. M., says: Archbishop Chapelle, whom the press dispatches announced has been appointed to New Orleans, is expected to arrive here tomorrow from Boston. He has been absent at Rome and elsewhere for five months. It has long been known that he sought the position of archbishop of New Orleans, and hence no surprise is expressed over his appointment. As to his successor here, there is much speculation, though it is believed that Vice-General Anthony Bonomi, who is resident of New Mexico, will be made administrator of the province, which includes Colorado and Arizona, and may eventually succeed to the archbishopric.

AN ALASKAN SCHEME. Salt Lake Company Formed to Ship Donkeys North. A company has been formed in the city for the purpose of shipping 600 donkeys to Alaska for use in the Klondike. The company is formed by Messrs. A. H. Vogeler, who is the head of the movement, and Messrs. McGinley, Pierce and Milan. Mr. Vogeler states that the donkeys have all been packed and are ready to start on the best stock that could be produced in Utah and Nevada. He avers that they are nearly ready to start for the north, the journey to be made overland to Seattle, thence by water to the coast, and over to a transportation company in that place, who have contracted for the animals.

They are not to be carried by the Steamer company here, but they are very much interested in the deal to the extent of furnishing the donkeys and delivering them at that place by March 1. The donkeys are to be used for carrying freight across the Chilkoot pass and into the Klondike country. Mr. Vogeler said that the donkeys would be started forward on their journey within a few days. The company is said to be on sound financial basis, which will insure the safe delivery of the 600 donkeys to the point named above.

WE ARE MISJUDGED. Speaking of unfavorable conditions, Congressman King said that there was no ground of disingenuous fact that the present administration is not favorable to Utah. He had a talk with Speaker Reed and Mr. Lacey, house chairman of the committee on public lands. The latter was of the opinion that the land board of this state was engaged in a sort of steal, and that the purpose was to deprive, in the interest of money, poor people of coming into possession of public lands.

Governor Wells injected a remark to the effect that Mr. Lacey should be informed that the state will sell lands at lower prices than the government demands. Congressman King further explained that he had personally waited upon Speaker Reed in relation to these matters; that the speaker was very much opposed to any legislation for either Utah or other parts of the west; that Mr. Reed frankly confessed that he had made a mistake in supporting the admission of some of the western states; that neither they nor their people were in accord with the east, and must abide the consequences.

UTAH GETS THE "FROZEN FACE." Mr. King further stated as an evidence of the administration's attitude towards Utah, that he went to Secretary Gage and asked him concerning the $75,000 that had been appropriated for the purchase of a federal building site, and wanted to know why he did not send an agent to Utah to make the purchase. Secretary Gage replied, "I considered he had furnished the best site in the present territory. The Dingley bill would not furnish sufficient revenue for the country, and that until the government was on a financial basis he would withhold action."

The secretary's attention was called to the fact that the appropriation was passed in precisely the same language as the bill, and he positively refused to act. Representative King then appealed to Speaker Reed, and asked if he would recognize him in an effort to have the secretary positively instructed to proceed with the purchase. Mr. Reed declined with emphasis, and the matter dropped. "So," Representative King concluded, "what we do must be done with the sanction of Speaker Reed. If he is favorable to our action, we can succeed; if not we cannot."

WILL KEEP THE BOARD POSTED. After Representative King concluded his remarks, the visiting delegation promised to keep several others from Washington of the opportunities in sight, and the necessities arising along the lines of the movement for the ceding of the arid lands. The conference was adjourned, after which the board considered some unimportant reports from the committee on awarding uncontented selections of school lands to preference right applicants in Beaver and Box Elder counties.

CURIOUS CERTIFICATE. Birth Record Filed With the Board of Health. The birth record kept by the board of health of Salt Lake City seldom reveals anything of uncommon interest. As a rule the vital statistics are as dry and featureless as any data of everyday occurrence. But yesterday the board received a certificate of a like import, which was filed for record with Clerk Pollard, which indicates that an over-joyous father made use of classical and euphonious Latin in filling in the birth record. The certificate was signed by the father, and was in the following words: "Quintus Sextus, male, white; born April 7, 1897, at 277 Corn, near Coliseum, 27th diocese; father's name, Quintus Sextus, occupation, legislator; birthplace, Herculanum; mother's maiden name, Claudia Bellina; birthplace, Pompeii." The father, who filled out the blank is probably a lawyer, but not a Roman.

Rock Savage For Chief. Rock Savage's friends commenced work in earnest in his behalf yesterday, and have hopes of making him the head of the police department. Mr. Savage himself is not doing any hustling, and said last evening that he had never sought any political office in his life. Should he be elected, however, he would accept it, but he had no strong hopes of it.

Rock did not know how popular he was until this boom for him started, and he is now being courted by good men who are willing to take off their coats and go in and work for him.

THE STATE BOARD. Senators Rawlins and Cannon and Congressman King. Express Their Opinions Regarding Cession of Lands to the State.

The Outlook at Present is Not Very Bright, But Something May Be Done in the Case of Arid Lands—The Present Administration is Unfavorable to Utah and the West Generally—Speaker Reed Still the Czar.

Utah's chances of acquiring additional arid lands, and the general attitude of the government towards the state, are very slim, yet there is a possibility that the western states, including Utah, will receive the benefits of the ceding of the vast arid tracts susceptible of reclamation by means of irrigation. This, at least, is the consensus of opinion expressed by Senators Cannon and Rawlins, and Congressman King at yesterday's session of the state land board. A discussion of the state's right to select mineral lands on grants to the state, and a reference to the administration's unfriendliness to Utah's interests were interesting features of the meeting.

THE PURPOSES STATED. A full membership of the board was present. In addressing the state's congressional delegation, who met with the board in response to an invitation, Governor Wells stated that the conference was held to ascertain what the possibilities were of obtaining additional legislation from congress pertaining to the government and the state's land interests, and also to arrive at a definite purpose in the direction most desired. The governor further remarked that the Utah legislature had sent a number of memorials to congress praying for legislation having for its purpose the ceding of government lands to the state, but many of the senators have been exacting tribute within the state, to the state government for the use and benefit of the people inhabiting its domain. The senator expressed himself as being of the opinion that it would be impossible to get legislation making the cession desired, because of the opposition of his eastern colleagues, many of whom had but a very limited knowledge of the needs and the possibilities of the great west. However, Senator Cannon believed that it is possible to obtain grants of the arid lands to the state, and he thought it best that the state's representatives to work with the senators and representatives of other states for a general grant of the arid lands to the states wherein they are located.

Governor Wells asked if it would be possible to get an exchange of government for state lands already granted, and Senator Cannon replied that he believed not, but he was ready to do anything to help further any plan that may be agreed upon as promising the most desirable results.

THE STATE'S RIGHT TO MINERAL LANDS. Senator Rawlins was then interrogated by Governor Wells, who requested the senator to state whether or not the state had the right under the enabling act to select mineral lands, but the query was withdrawn for a moment to permit Commissioner Groo to answer the question. Mr. Savage threw some light upon the subject. Commissioner Groo stated that when he was register of the United States lands, but he rejected an application of the state to grant to him certain lands to apply upon grants to the state. The land commissioner at Washington concurred in the rejection, and the case is now pending before the secretary of the interior.

A QUESTION OF LAW. Senator Rawlins, in reply to the governor's question, said he had been erroneously reported as having given an opinion that the state board could make selections of mineral lands. He had given no opinion, and he did not give one without a study of the question, but he believed that the state would have a fair chance, if resort were had to the courts, of establishing such a right. The grant of mineral lands, while the enabling acts of other states specifically except such lands. The homestead act of 1842 had a general exception of mineral lands, but in a Michigan case the supreme court had held that a general grant to a state carried mineral lands, unless specifically excluded. A later opinion, however, by Justice Field, held that the enabling act did not carry (gold and silver) that a state could not gain possession of lands bearing such minerals in the way noted in the opinion in the Michigan case.

Referring to the subject of further legislation, Senator Rawlins expressed the belief that there was no possibility of the state obtaining a cession of all the government lands, and that if that congress would grant the arid stretches to the state for reclamation and disposal to settlers. However, much depended on the disposition of the lands which the west representative King is more familiar.

CHANCES GOOD FOR ARID LANDS. Congressman King said that from his experience he believed that there was a fairly good chance to get the arid lands ceded to the western states. A bill for that purpose came within a half dozen votes of passing, and since then the sentiment has grown in favor of such a measure. He was of the opinion that if all interests worked together the arid lands would yet be ceded to the states in which they are located.

WE ARE MISJUDGED. Speaking of unfavorable conditions, Congressman King said that there was no ground of disingenuous fact that the present administration is not favorable to Utah. He had a talk with Speaker Reed and Mr. Lacey, house chairman of the committee on public lands. The latter was of the opinion that the land board of this state was engaged in a sort of steal, and that the purpose was to deprive, in the interest of money, poor people of coming into possession of public lands.

Governor Wells injected a remark to the effect that Mr. Lacey should be informed that the state will sell lands at lower prices than the government demands. Congressman King further explained that he had personally waited upon Speaker Reed in relation to these matters; that the speaker was very much opposed to any legislation for either Utah or other parts of the west; that Mr. Reed frankly confessed that he had made a mistake in supporting the admission of some of the western states; that neither they nor their people were in accord with the east, and must abide the consequences.

UTAH GETS THE "FROZEN FACE." Mr. King further stated as an evidence of the administration's attitude towards Utah, that he went to Secretary Gage and asked him concerning the $75,000 that had been appropriated for the purchase of a federal building site, and wanted to know why he did not send an agent to Utah to make the purchase. Secretary Gage replied, "I considered he had furnished the best site in the present territory. The Dingley bill would not furnish sufficient revenue for the country, and that until the government was on a financial basis he would withhold action."

The secretary's attention was called to the fact that the appropriation was passed in precisely the same language as the bill, and he positively refused to act. Representative King then appealed to Speaker Reed, and asked if he would recognize him in an effort to have the secretary positively instructed to proceed with the purchase. Mr. Reed declined with emphasis, and the matter dropped. "So," Representative King concluded, "what we do must be done with the sanction of Speaker Reed. If he is favorable to our action, we can succeed; if not we cannot."

WILL KEEP THE BOARD POSTED. After Representative King concluded his remarks, the visiting delegation promised to keep several others from Washington of the opportunities in sight, and the necessities arising along the lines of the movement for the ceding of the arid lands. The conference was adjourned, after which the board considered some unimportant reports from the committee on awarding uncontented selections of school lands to preference right applicants in Beaver and Box Elder counties.

CURIOUS CERTIFICATE. Birth Record Filed With the Board of Health. The birth record kept by the board of health of Salt Lake City seldom reveals anything of uncommon interest. As a rule the vital statistics are as dry and featureless as any data of everyday occurrence. But yesterday the board received a certificate of a like import, which was filed for record with Clerk Pollard, which indicates that an over-joyous father made use of classical and euphonious Latin in filling in the birth record. The certificate was signed by the father, and was in the following words: "Quintus Sextus, male, white; born April 7, 1897, at 277 Corn, near Coliseum, 27th diocese; father's name, Quintus Sextus, occupation, legislator; birthplace, Herculanum; mother's maiden name, Claudia Bellina; birthplace, Pompeii." The father, who filled out the blank is probably a lawyer, but not a Roman.

Rock Savage For Chief. Rock Savage's friends commenced work in earnest in his behalf yesterday, and have hopes of making him the head of the police department. Mr. Savage himself is not doing any hustling, and said last evening that he had never sought any political office in his life. Should he be elected, however, he would accept it, but he had no strong hopes of it.

Rock did not know how popular he was until this boom for him started, and he is now being courted by good men who are willing to take off their coats and go in and work for him.

OGDEN BUREAU. Business and Editorial Office 519 Utah Loan and Trust Building. Telephone 298. Ogden, Nov. 23.

A SHOCKING AFFAIR. A Car Passenger Gets a Few Hundred Volts of Electricity. There is a well known gentleman of Ogden who knows or thinks he knows how it feels to be electrocuted and for over a minute yesterday suffered all the tortures meted out to criminals in New York when the death penalty is inflicted. This gentleman was riding on the forward end of the street car, near Twenty-eighth street. Motorist Foxers stepped in to collect fares, after throwing off the current. The car gave a kind of lurch and to steady himself the outside passenger put his hand on the lever which the metal pivot sticks up through the leather handle. He, at the same time, threw the lever around, so that it stopped midway between two notches. Instantly the current of electricity passed through his body, and he felt as if he were being crushed.

"I knew something was up, but I did not know what," the gentleman said in telling of it. "I do not think of letting go and I guess I could not have done so had I tried. I was suffering terribly, but I could not tell what it was. It was as though a perfect net-work of electric wires had been thrown over me and each wire was charged with a thousand kinds of pain. In a vague way I was conscious of what was going on and could hear the rattle of the bell as Power administered the fares. I thought my time had come and I remember wondering what ailed me that I should thus be stricken suddenly from health to utter helplessness. I wondered what my wife would do and think when I was carried home. I wondered how I would look, how she would look; what she would do with me. The insurance money, a thousand other incongruous things seemed to troop through my whirling brain while fire danced before my eyes and raced through my veins. Somehow I regained strength and senses enough to get up and I did it. Powers at once threw the trolley off and released me."

The gentleman's hand and arm are badly burned and his entire frame considerably shocked.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS. Interesting Discussions and Election of Officers. The state convention of Sunday school workers continued in session at the Baptist church yesterday. Rev. Murphy led the devotional exercises, and a conference on the topic of "The Home Class Department" followed, led by Dr. Silver. The discussion was participated in by G. F. Peacock, Rev. Fowler and others. The Home Class Department was generally discussed, and the next convention was referred to the executive committee.

In the afternoon the committees reported and miscellaneous business was considered. At 3 o'clock primary work was considered. At the same time, in another room, there was a conference on superintendents and assistants, presided over by the leadership of Professor Quay of Salt Lake. In the evening there was a song service, followed by President Silver's report, which was read and adopted. The secretary's report showed 103 schools in the association, and the treasurer's report showed the association to be out of debt, with $1000 in the treasury. The annual report of this session discussed "Rally Days."

The following officers were chosen for the ensuing year, the action of the present being 40c. on the executive committee: Professor R. B. Quay of Salt Lake, first vice president; C. E. Parsons of Salt Lake, second vice president; A. S. Smith of Ogden, secretary; Dr. E. V. Silver of Salt Lake, C. M. Wood of Salt Lake, Miss Baker of Salt Lake, A. J. Orem of Salt Lake, C. E. Bennett of Ogden, Mrs. J. T. Bennett of Ogden, Mrs. G. B. Bennett of Ogden, Miss C. Sullivan of Brigham.

Dr. Silver and Secretary Smith occupied several minutes in congratulating the more distinguished guests who occupied local pulpits.

BY CONSENT. Attorneys Agree on Jury Cases and Jurors Are Drawn. The attorneys in several cases agreed to make no objection to the jury panel and the court made an order directing the sheriff to draw 29 names from the jury box. Deputy R. T. Harris thereupon drew the following names: Byron Goodale, Alma O'Connell, Joseph S. Taylor, George Tyrrell, George Poulter, William Thompson, S. W. Cragin, Joseph McLaughlin, Ammon Allen, E. A. Heath, Edwin Stratford, E. H. Wade, C. E. Bennett, R. K. Thomas, Gilbert Bennett, St. George W. Taylor, John Scofield, O. A. Parmley, James A. Slater. Venues were issued demanding the jurors' appearance Nov. 29 at 10 a. m.

Sidney Stevens Implement company vs. South Ogden Land, Building & Improvement company et al.; case on trial and will be heard tomorrow, by Judge C. G. Searby vs. Nels P. Anderson and Rosina Anderson; papers and records amended so as to change the name of one of the defendants to Rosina Anderson from Rosina Anderson.

George Eul has brought suit against William H. Pidcock and Ann Pidcock to collect $500 on a note and mortgage. The hearing will be held at 10 o'clock at the Locomotive Engineers Mutual Life & Accident Insurance association; remittitur from supreme court affirming the decision of the lower court was affirmed.

THE SUGAR FACTORY. Less Than $17,000 To Be Raised by Next Wednesday. Last night the returns showed that $233,100 had been subscribed for stock in the sugar factory. Several lists in two different districts will not be received until Tuesday. In West Weber yesterday $1,400 was subscribed. The amount necessary between now and Dec. 1 is $16,900. Meetings have been given for the purpose of raising money, and night in Marriott, Slaterville, and Fair West.

David Eccles will be in Ogden Tuesday, and if the $250,000 has been subscribed by that time, some will be selected to collect 10 per cent of the subscriptions. When the collection is made, the order for the machinery will be placed. The sum of $250,000 is not subscribed by Dec. 1, the whole project falls through.

ELECTION CONTEST. Filing of Suit Postponed For Remainder of 40 Days. The election contest to be waged by certain Republicans in the interest of Mr. Driver has been put off again. The papers were drawn and the complaint ready for filing. Then a consultation was held and it was decided that the contest had better be deferred. The plan partially agreed upon is to wait all the very last of the 40 days and 40 nights of the law, file a contest and then if the court shall sustain the contest there will be no opportunity for the Democrats to file a counter-contest to oust Driver. In looking over the evidence the attorneys saw that in such a suit a counter-contest would likely be successful.

Board of Education. The board of education met last night when President Dec reported that $11,000 had been turned over to the board by the county treasurer. The use of the city hall school rooms was granted to J. L. Haggerty for the purpose of a civil service examining board, for an examination to be held Saturday.

The resignation of Miss Bertha Brown was accepted. Mr. Dec reported a set of rules and instructions to the election judges, prepared by the board's attorney for use in the coming election. Adopted. The board was instructed to get all necessary election supplies. The form of the official call was adopted and ordered published. The judges of election and polling places were decided upon as follows: First Ward—Room 6, City Hall, R. B. Payne, E. R. DeVeto, J. L. Carlson. Second Ward—2002 S. Grant avenue, D. C. Nolin, C. D. Rora, W. G. Kind. Third Ward—Hadley's store, 953 Washington avenue, R. F. Hadley, F. S. Woodcock, M. J. Stone. Fourth Ward—Fourth ward amusement hall, Charles Meighan, C. R. Hollingsworth, J. A. Lampert. Fifth Ward—Reed hotel basement, William Watson, Joseph Langsdorf, C. C. Brown.

The compensation of the judges is to be $3 per day each, including lunch.

The Best Men. The Democratic and Republican parties in Ogden have, through their regular organizations, placed in nomination candidates for members of the board of education. It should be borne in mind that both parties have repeatedly declared the intention of putting up the best representatives for these offices, taking the ground that they are more important than any other offices in the gift of the people. Then, too, it must be remembered that in all the primary work candidates named were distinctly the candidates of the governing. There were no close contests and it is but fair to assume that each party put up candidates who represent that party's conception of the best men. Hence, for purposes of comparison, the candidates are here published in parallel columns.

Democrats. Ward 1st—John Ellis. Ward 2nd—J. D. Carman. Ward 3rd—The R. Evans. Ward 4th—Valen. Gilsen. Ward 5th—John Scofield. Ward 6th—Mrs. J. T. Hurst.

Republicans. Ward 1st—W. W. Hart. Ward 2nd—J. D. Carman. Ward 3rd—The R. Evans. Ward 4th—Valen. Gilsen. Ward 5th—John Scofield. Ward 6th—Mrs. J. T. Hurst.

Local Briefs. The Salt Lake Opera company will present "The Chimes of Normandy" at the Grand on Dec. 6.

Squire Cook has contracted with the Geneva Johnson Bishop company for a concert about Dec. 10.

Early yesterday morning a barn belonging to L. D. Watson on Canyon road, was destroyed by fire.

Sheriff Belnap is expected back this morning with the man Terry, whom he arrested in Baker City for horse stealing.

Samuel Stone, of Wilson's lane, yesterday charged Harry Paluse with forcible abduction to have been committed with Miss Stone.

Friday night in Old Kentucky" better by the addition of a number of minor improvements and has all the old strong features.

Senator Cannon lectured in the tabernacle last night on "Observations on the Far East." On Dec. 1, the senator speaks under the auspices of the Washington club on "Bimetallism."

Mr. L. R. Freeman, of Audubon, Ia., and Dr. Jesse Gage, of Salt Lake, city, assist in the music of the Presbyterian church this morning. Mrs. Freeman will sing the solo "Two Lives."

Dr. Carmahan, who is at Boise, Ida., expresses his unwillingness to accept the nomination for state work. He will arrive here this morning, and it is hoped he may be induced to accept.

Chapman, he of the sure thing look article, was arrested by Justice Hulanski before Justice Hulanski and found guilty of vagrancy. He was sentenced to 30 days on the rock pile, but sentence was suspended during good behavior.

The police yesterday failed to find the parents of the infant lost on the doorstep of the Hotel Utah. The infant was found in the music of the Presbyterian church this morning. Mrs. Freeman will sing the solo "Two Lives."

Very cheap, knitting business, good houses for man and wife. He beats prices for selling, or will rent. Address Herald bureau, Ogden.

Ladies' Muslim Underwear. One lot 50c chemises, 25c, 40c, any blouse drawers, 25c, and one lot $1.00 nightgowns, 50c each.

RELECTIONS OF A BACHELOR. New York Press: A woman's willfulness is her best protection. What worries most her is just how far a man will let her go without getting scared.

No girl knows how much she thinks of a man till she begins to wonder how long she can keep him.

Happy men are used principally to cut the leaves of new magazines and to button up long kid gloves with.

If there is anything that makes a man mad it is a woman that leaves out all the pronouns when she writes letters.

The only reason why an old bachelor doesn't know how to sew on his buttons is because he can always afford to hire some woman to do it for him.

A Pertinent Retort. New York Press: Flat-dweller—Look here; if you can't give us a little more heat I'll go to some one who can!

Janitor—Go to the devil!

Zero—Zero. New York Press: Professor—When an irresistible force comes into contact with an immovable body what is the result?

Janitor—Neither side scores.

One of Field's Home Jokes. Denver Republican: The late Eugene Field's two greatest jokes were collected here on the 27th of the month. Eugene Field used to say the wife was the only one who could make the expense of two birthday parties.

Debtor With Fine Sense of English. "Hi-hits: A long suffering tailor recently wrote one of his customers as follows: "Dear Sir—Will you kindly send amount of your bill and oblige." To which the obliging customer replied: "The amount is 55 3/4. Yours respectfully."

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE. Sloane is a great favorite at the Manchester race track, and he has been very successful in betting on horses he is to ride has boomed.

John Giffin, known in the world of labor, and who has been charged before a San Francisco judge charged with being a common drunkard.

At yesterday's racing of the Manchester November meeting, J. B. Lohr's 3-year-old colt, Maximus, ridden by Tod Sloane, won the Fawcett Handicap plate, worth $100, over a field of six horses. A brown colt, Bayview Castle, ridden by Sloane, won the final plate of $50 sovereignty.

W. L. Simons of the famous Ash Grove farm, Kenton, is to retire from business and to devote his time to stock raising in the Woodward and Shanklin sales. The University of Washington football team will leave for Seattle on the Grand Pacific to play the Oregon State Agricultural team for the college championship of the Pacific Northwest.

Smallpox in New Mexico. Denver, Nov. 27.—A special to the News from Santa Fe, N. M., says a visitor from San Marcial states that 30 cases of smallpox exist among the Mexican residents there. The matter has been reported to the state and the attention has not yet been called to the territorial board of health.

Cloakmakers Made Happy. New York Nov. 27.—The situation in the cloakmaking trade was considerably cleared today when several of the most prominent makers of coats and other articles of clothing, who had been threatening to cut down the wages of their employees. These five firms employ about 50 per cent of the labor, and it had been feared that on the expiration of the peace contracts they might wage an aggressive campaign against the brotherhood.

THE EMPEROR'S VISIT. The emperor declares that he is "filled with a great fear" and that he has tried "during his moments of leisure inwardly to question himself as to the errors he had committed." Further, as "a token of humility and submission to the will of heaven," he commands that the New Year day ceremonies of congratulation paid to him, should annually in the Falho throne hall, be changed to the Chinese temple, the hall—the last named meaning "to clear the political atmosphere."

The annual banquet given to the Chinese civil service examining board, held in question of the Chinese, was discontinued for that year, while every one belonging to the court is commanded to put on sober every day garments while the emperor is in evidence. Instead of the gorgeous full dress court robes demanded by etiquette the first day of the year, The emperor will attend the banquet in the palace, where an altar to heaven will be erected, facing the open air, before which the emperor and his full court will prostrate themselves "to beseech heaven to send high heaven to his chosen people."

With regard, however, to the ceremonies to be observed when congratulating the emperor-dowager, the emperor commands that the Chinese should observe at the Teening palace, "for as they are to be paid to one senior to the emperor, high heaven will be displeased at this display of imperial piety, which is really an expression of his filial piety."

LUCK IN GOLD MINING. Less a Factor of Fortune Than Pluck and Perseverance. Cassell's Magazine: The newspaper scribbler, in want of fresh copy, has a habit of telling tales of blind luck and happy accident. A drunken fool falls down on the hillside and wakes from his turbid dreams to find himself resting against a ledge of white quartz gleaming with the best quality of silver. He picks up a stone to throw at a stray sheep, and, realising its unusual weight, shatters it, and finds that he has struck the open seam to the caverns of Aladdin.