

DEATH BLOW TO KHALIFA MAHDI

Particulars of the Capture of His Capital.

INTREPID VALOR OF THE DERVISHES

Amid a Hell Fire of Lead They Met Death Defiantly.

Battlefield Strewn With the White-clad Corpses, Looked Like a Snowdrift Dotted Spot—Brilliant Charge of the British Lancers—Incidents Leading Up to Saturday's Battle—Damage Done By Gunboats on the Nile.

Omdurman, Opposite Khartoum, on the Nile, Nubia, Sept. 3 (by cable post to Niasir).—The sirdar, General Herbert Kitchener, with the khalf's best standard, captured during the battle, entered Omdurman, the capital of the Mahdi, at 6 o'clock this afternoon at the head of the Anglo-Egyptian column, after completely routing the Dervishes and dealing a death blow to the Mahdi.

Last night the Anglo-Egyptian army encamped at Agiza, eight miles from Omdurman. The Dervishes were three miles distant. At dawn the Anglo-Egyptian column, consisting of infantry and cavalry, started out for three or four miles. The Dervishes were in the line of the Anglo-Egyptian column, and the British Lancers, the second battalion Lancashire Fusiliers and the first battalion Grenadier Guards, with the Maxim battery, manned by the Royal Irish Fusiliers, our country's best fighting force, the Warwickshire regiment, the first battalion Cameron Highlanders and the first battalion Lincolnshire Regiment, were supported by the Maxim Nordenfeldt batteries.

At 7:30 a. m. the enemy crossed the Nile above the camp and advanced steadily in enveloping formation. At 7:45 our artillery opened fire, which was answered by the Dervish riflemen. Their attack developed on our left and in accordance with the plan of the sirdar, they swept down the hillside with the design of reaching our flank. But the withering machine gun fire from the Maxim battery frustrated the attempt, and the Dervishes halted, swept toward our center upon which they concentrated a fierce attack.

A large force of horsemen, trying to face the Dervishes, were repulsed. The Cameron Highlanders, the Lincolnshire Regiment and the Southdowns, were hurled back, and the Dervishes, after the withdrawal of the entire body, whose advance was checked by the machine gun fire, were driven back.

At 10:15 the sirdar ordered an advance and our whole force, in line, drove the scattered remnants of the foe into the desert, our cavalry cutting off their retreat to Omdurman.

General Roger, Chief of Cavagnac's Military Staff, Will Retire—Sausier and Zurlinden Declined War Portfolio—Religious Services Forbidden at Henry's Internment.

Paris, Sept. 4.—Owing to the resignation of M. Godefroy Cavagnac, of the ministry of war, President Faure returned to Paris this morning, and conferred with M. Del Casse, minister for foreign affairs; M. Bourgeois, minister of public education, and General Zurlinden.

WYOMING'S BIG EVENT. Celebration of Frontier Day Begins Today at Cheyenne.

There Were 44 Prostrations—Everything That Floated Carried a Cargo of Humanity Out of the City.

PROSTRATED BY THE SUN'S RAYS FORTY-THREE DIED IN NEW YORK FROM ITS EFFECTS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The sweltering heat of the past few days has given place tonight to a shade of coolness. While the heat of the city was not so great tonight in the matter of degrees it was just as oppressive and more so than that of Saturday, on account of the duration and continuance of the hot weather. Up to midnight there had been reported 43 deaths in 44 prostrations from the heat. Today everything that floated carried a crowd of humanity, and the trains, cable and trolley cars and other modes of locomotion were jammed with people all day long.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH. The rough riders had religious services in their camp today. Colonel Roosevelt, after Chaplain Grown had concluded, made a little speech, a sort of farewell, some of the men took it to be, Colonel Roosevelt commended the daring and gallantry of the men, their skill in managing horses and their use of arms.

ONE DEATH IN CHICAGO. Chicago, Sept. 4.—Today only one death was reported. There were several prostrations, none of which, however, are serious.

NINE IN PHILADELPHIA. Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—There were nine deaths from the heat today in this city and about 25 prostrations, notwithstanding, for the first time since the present hot spell, the thermometer showed a sign of falling. For the past three days the thermometer has hovered between 95 and 98, but the maximum reached today was 91 degrees.

PANDO INTERVIEWED. Expressed His Views on the War Derisively. New York, Sept. 4.—General Luis N. Pando, the former commander of the Spanish troops at Manzanillo, who arrived on the Ward line Philadelphia, spoke to the newspaper men through an interpreter.

EXPRESSING HIS VIEWS ON THE WAR DERISIVELY. Asked to express his views of the war in general, the general replied, with a gesture of derision: "War has been a dead sea. There are 2,000,000 soldiers in Cuba who have not seen an American soldier. My opinion is," General Pando continued, "that the Spanish and American soldiers who have been involved in a war by the politicians made fools of the soldiers, and sold them."

SEVEN DIED AT SEA. The troopship Roumania, five days from Santiago, came today with company K and two of the Ninth Massachusetts, and convalescents from various commands, in all about 600 men. He was at the top of his profession and would in two or three days be able to give an absolutely authoritative decision as to the purity of the water. Women passing through the camp were displeased by seeing that some tents did not have floors and fancied that the men were sleeping on the ground. The rough riders had the water taken from the tanks and were buried at sea. They were: Daniel K. Reynolds, Seventy-first New York; Charles Conners, Ninth Massachusetts, acute dysentery; Orville Dean, United States engineer corps, acute dysentery; Timothy O'Malley, company K, Ninth Massachusetts, acute dysentery; Henry M. Blodgett, company K, Ninth Massachusetts, acute dysentery; Paul W. Friendmann, company G, Seventy-first New York, acute mania; Joseph Francis, company B, Sixteenth infantry, acute mania.

DIED IN THE HOSPITAL. Those who died in the general hospital today were: Samuel Osborne, private, company I, Seventh infantry; Charles H. Conner, private, company B, Eighth infantry; James McGrath, private, company F, Eighth infantry; Henry Sawyer, private, Tenth cavalry; James Ray, private, company H, Seventh infantry; Martha Hill, private, company F, Third infantry; Elmer S. Greene, private, company F, Seventh U. S. infantry; Hezekiah Bell, private, company G, Twenty-fifth New York, acute mania. The signal men predict a wind storm tonight. Warnings were sent throughout the camp to peg down all tents.

SECRETARY ALGER TALKS. Says No Complaint Comes From the Heroes of Santiago. Washington, Sept. 4.—Secretary Alger, who returned last night from New York after his inspection tour through Camp Wikoff at Montauk Point with President McKinley and several members of the war department, commented tonight on the condition of the camp and stated the result of his visit. The secretary said:

EXPERIENCE OF THOSE WHO CROSSED THE GLACIER. Two Hundred Who Met Death From Drowning and Various Causes Over Rush to Copper River. Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 4.—H. H. Hill, who arrived here today from Copper River, Alaska, says that when he left there, Aug. 28, nearly 100 destitute men were being fed from government supplies. Mr. Hill prospected the various streams emptying into Copper river for a distance of 200 miles and failed to find any gold whatever. This has been the experience of 4,000 others who crossed the Valdez glacier. About 700 men will winter in Copper River valley. Their scanty stock of provisions has been replenished by donations from prospectors who are endeavoring to get out of the country. Mr. Hill estimates that at least 200 men have been drowned and died from various causes since the rush to Copper river began.

PROSPECTORS AMBUSHED. One Killed By Indians While Boating Down the Yukon. Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 4.—The schooner J. M. Coleman, which arrived on the Sound today from St. Michaels, brings news that two prospectors were ambushed and killed while drifting down the Yukon in a boat. Indians fired on the boat, killing one and wounding the other. The wounded man escaped and reached a police camp. Police started a search for the Indians and the prospectors' supplies. They were brought to Dawson, where one of the Indians made a confession.

SPANISH PEACE COMMISSION. Why Castillo Could Not Serve—Rios May Accept. Madrid, Sept. 4.—3 p. m.—The refusal of Senator Leon y Castillo, the Spanish ambassador to France, to serve on the Spanish peace commission, on the ground that he could not participate, owing to the non-participation of General Porcayo Porter, the United States ambassador to France, has been accepted by the cabinet.

MAJOR THORPE KILLED. Runaway Accident Took Off a Prominent Western Figure.
