

THE DAILY HERALD.

Published Every Day by THE HERALD COMPANY.

OFFICE: THE HERALD block, corner West Temple and First South streets, Salt Lake City.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. DAILY, PER MONTH, $3.00. DAILY, PER YEAR, $30.00.

METEOROLOGICAL REPORT.

Yesterday's Record at the Local Office of the Weather Bureau. Salt Lake City, Utah, July 1, 1899.

TALLY ONE FOR SANPETE.

Mayor Hanson of Ephraim issued a call last week for a mass-meeting which was held last night in honor of the Utah volunteers in the Philippines.

TIN PLATE TARIFF AND WAGES.

Fifty thousand men were thrown out of employment yesterday by the closing down of the tin plants. The scale of amalgamated iron, steel and the workers does not meet the approval of the trust which has two objects in suspending operations.

RUSSIAN GOLD MINES.

Notwithstanding her cold, bleak zone, her ice-invested shores, her barren lands, her rigid rule, and cruel penal system, Russia is setting an example in enterprise, in perseverance, in educational and industrial advancement that many another country would do well to emulate.

MARRIAGE AND LABOR LAWS.

French scientists and statesmen were greatly disturbed a few months ago over the alarming decrease in the birth rate of the nation. Many remedies were suggested, among them being laws to encourage wedlock.

PROSPEROUS MEXICO.

Advocates of the single gold standard have been dividing their time between crediting the financial system of the United States with the good crops and foreign demand which has produced a measure of prosperity in this country, and explaining how it happens that free silver Mexico is increasing in prosperity faster proportionately than any other country in the world.

could afford to withdraw from their business concerns the capital which might be required in the case of a single explosion or wreck and the result is that single men are preferred while married men are deserting their families to secure employment.

WOMEN OF THE WEST.

There will be rejoicing in all the states represented in the Philippines when the volunteers return. The mothers and the wives and the sweethearts will shed holy tears of joy, and the men and the neighbors will be glad to welcome the heroes home again.

HEAR FROM SCHLEY'S FRIENDS.

Senator Wellington has informed the president that the overwhelming defeat of the Republican ticket in the municipal election of Baltimore last spring was due to the persecution of Schley by the bureaucrats unchecked and doubtless approved by the president.

COPPER HAS A RIVAL.

Copper will always be in demand, but it has a rival metal in aluminum. Not that the latter can replace it in a hundred uses to which it is put, but in the one important function of transmitting currents of electricity aluminum is gaining in favor.

At Ten Dollars a Week.

Hiram Crossroads-Zeke Billings is counting on making money enough this summer to buy a new automobile. He is a little fellow, but he has a big heart.

At Breakfast.

The landlady says coffee still keeps up. "Well, I don't see how the coffee we call keep up if it's so weak I should think it would go to bed."

Her Bathing Suit.

"This is my new bathing suit, papa," said the fair maid; "how do you think it'll look in it?" "Well, judging by the dimensions," responded her papa, "I think you'll look more out of it than in it."

POINTED WITH HUMOR.

Cheap Gas. The gas was in New York profoundly affects many relations of life. For instance, the conventional farmer of the hazy mountains, upon entering his room at a New York hotel, starts violently.

Superstitious.

"Do you believe it is unlucky to open an umbrella in the house?" "I have had worse luck opening jack pots."

Protected.

"Yes, indeed, Bradley Biggs is a real widower." "Do you mean by a real widower, Lucy?"

A Pointer.

Little Willie-I guess sister Grace won't want to go ridin' on your tandem much longer.

Notes About People.

Senator Forster of Washington never held a gun, and he is a political officer, says that of county auditors.

General Irving Hale holds the record of the best average ever attained at West Point, and is one of the best marksmen in the army.

It is said that the Queen of Sweden's enthusiasm for the Salvation Army and its works has caused a certain amount of dissatisfaction to be felt at court by those who do not feel in sympathy with the army's methods.

When Admiral Schley was a midship on the sea, it was the custom to put the old cigar box which held the ballots of the officers in voting for president. Bell and Everett, the White candidates, had a large majority.

The death is announced of Charles Edward Drury-Fortnum, who was well known as an antiquarian. In 1888 he presented his paper on the subject of the Renaissance art objects to the University of Oxford. He was a great authority on gems, bronzes and majolica.

George Gould finds relaxation in golf and tennis. He is a great golfer.

Andrew Carnegie, in a recent letter on the use of riches, says: "In the final analysis, the question will be, what has the rich man done for his fellows?" It will not be asked under what form he worshipped God, but how he served man.

The "Sick Man's Burden" is the title of a volume of essays and lectures by the proprietor of the hotel in New York where Rudyard Kipling was ill with typhoid fever and pneumonia, and who just before he sailed for Europe, it is made up of the daily bulletins issued by the physicians during Mr. Kipling's sickness.

Frue Magdalene Thorsen, mother-in-law of Henrik Ibsen, the Norwegian dramatist, and herself a novelist of renown, received from King Oscar of Denmark on her eightieth birthday last Saturday, the Golden Medal of Merit. She also received the Norwegian Medal of Recognition.

Chicago is raising its hands in horror and peeping from behind them at the nude figures of nymphs, heroic in size, which adorn the facade of the new structure on the lake front. They were modeled by young women of the Art Institute, the students of the director, the Lorado Taft. Those who are not scandalized on moral grounds, but condemn the purity from an artistic standpoint, declare that these figures are evidently copied from models whose waists have been ruined by long wearing of the corset.

The Lipton Tea company of London, of which Sir Thomas Lipton is the principal owner, has been fined five and costs for the sale of false trade descriptions by including the weight of lead paper and other wrappings in the weight of tea. It has been alleged at the trial that this means the profits of the Lipton company were increased $7,000 a year. This was denied by the defense.

THE CIRCUS BAND.

I have heard the grandest music that a mortal man can hear. And I have listened to musicians play by rote and play by ear. Heard Von Bulow and Joffrey do it. And a chance at Paderewski I have rarely ever missed.

How they played with crash and thunder! How that circus band could tout! From the men were played the tubs, to the bassoon and the flute.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

Now my boyhood days have down to the dim and misty past. And childish things are laid aside; my goal is set, and I am not so fast.

SOME GOOD SHORT STORIES

In Good Company.

An interesting anecdote of the elder Dumas, illustrating the author's perennial flow of fine spirits, has been told. A gentleman calling on the author of "Monte Cristo," had been ushered into a room containing the host's studio, the servant telling him to go in, as Mr. Dumas was alone.

The Dignity of the Law.

A celebrated judge was once trying a case where the accused could only stand Irish, and an interpreter was accordingly sworn. The prisoner said something to the interpreter and the latter replied: "What does he say?" demanded the judge.

The Only Thing Left.

A grandfather, well known in the English house of commons, was chatting amicably with his little granddaughter, who was snugly unconcerned on his knee.

She Was Candid.

"And so," he said, "you believe in predestination?" "Yes," she replied, "it seems to me that anyone who believes the Bible at all must believe in the doctrine of predestination."

A False Jewel.

When Mrs. Smith decided to give a tea party she made up her mind that it should be the event of the season. With that in view she started elaborate preparations, promising Mary, her cook, an extra week's wages if she would help her to make the party a success.

A Bribe.

Doctor-Well, Johnny, what can I do for you? Johnny-What will you take to tell me that I ought to have a bicycle?

STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS.

Utah Bank and Commercial Stocks and other High Grade Investment Securities bought and sold.

SALT LAKE THEATRE.

GEO. D. PYPHER, Manager. Curtain at 8:35 p. m.

ONE NIGHT MONDAY, JULY 3 RECEPTION.

The Champion of the World. JAMES J. JEFFRIES.

FITZSIMMONS

In conjunction with VAUDEVILLE ATHLETIC ENTERTAINMENT.

Regular Prices-5c, 10c, 25c, 50c. SEAT SALE FRIDAY.

As Two Thinkers See It.

The Herald's Home Study Circle could have no higher commendation than the opinions given below from Rev. Alfred H. Henry, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, Salt Lake City, and President W. J. Kerr of the great Brigham Young Academy at Logan.

Both gentlemen are thinkers and readers of the best literature, both are conservative in their views and both represent the most progressive type of citizen.

Here is what they have written about The Herald's new educational feature:

"Concerning the Home Study feature of The Herald, I like it. It is certainly a move in the right direction. It cannot fail to meet with the endorsement of the rapidly increasing circle of Herald readers. I believe it would be a splendid thing to encourage the formation of Home Study classes, keep a record of the names and what courses are pursued and in other ways systematize the work."

"Every day shows more clearly the need of a broad, liberal, easily accessible and thorough system of education, so arranged that it can be made available to the workers of all classes who have only odd moments to devote to study. So sharp is competition in business, so imperative are the demands of our modern life, so short is the time for leisure for those who are compelled to labor, that in many cases instead of the individual going to college the college must come to the individual."

"The time is coming when every great newspaper will be considered lacking in one of the essential features of modern journalism unless it has arranged to supply this need. ALFRED H. HENRY."

BRIGHAM YOUNG COLLEGE, PRESIDENT'S OFFICE, LOGAN, UTAH.

The publication of "Vacation Studies" by The Salt Lake Herald is in line with the progressive spirit so essential to success in modern newspaper work. I consider the plan a very good one. The names of the contributors are sufficient guarantee of the value of the studies. Most of the reading done by many people during the summer months is confined to the newspapers. Much time is wasted in reading articles that are of little interest and of no permanent value. The publication of these studies will result in more systematic reading on the part of a great many people, who will thereby accomplish very much more than they otherwise would; besides, the information acquired will be of much greater value than the knowledge gained from most of the articles generally published in the daily newspapers.

W. J. KERR.

To satisfy numerous requests for back numbers of the Home Study Circle, a special supplement of The Herald has been published, which contains all the studies from June 15, the first number, up to date. It will be mailed free to all new subscribers who send a request for it with their order for The Daily Herald.

Drop us a postal with your address and the address of friends who may be interested, and we will send a copy of the Studies.