

WATER BY MEASURE. Enormous Use and Waste to Be Effectually Stopped. METERS FOR MANY PLACES. PLAN OF PAYING GALLON RATE TO INCREASE SUPPLY.

Hotels, Laundries, Bottling Works, Depots, Office Buildings, Restaurants and Large Residences With Spacious Lavins Will Be Compelled to Buy Water By Gallon.

Before the end of this month large consumers of water will be induced, if not required, to be supplied through meters. The purpose is not so much to cheapen the cost of water service, as it is to prevent waste and to conserve the supply during the dry spell, when the pipe system is with difficulty kept full at an adequate pressure to serve everybody.

Warden Dow of the penitentiary, received a dispatch from Sheriff John Ward at Evanston yesterday afternoon that Goldie Brown, who escaped from the prison last Wednesday, and his partner, supposed to be John Gray, had been retaken at the Wyoming town. There can be but little doubt about the identity of the men, or Brown, at least, Gray is fatigued and cannot escape detection, though no description of him has passed between the warden and the Evanston officials. Brown's description has been given by the warden as follows: "Brown and partner."

Upon receipt of the news that Brown and Gray had been captured at Evanston, preparations were at once made by Warden Dow to bring them back. Detective Sheets was assigned to the work and leaves at 7 o'clock this morning, accompanied by two officers, to receive the prisoners at the Wyoming town. It is the general belief that the men will get no less than fifteen years each.

Mr. Curran, whose room was robbed by them the day of Brown's escape, was very happy when the news came, and anticipates great satisfaction in sending them to the penitentiary. Besides the clothes and revolvers, he has lost various articles of more or less value, which he cannot enumerate at present.

County Attorneys' Salaries. Question of When the State's Liability Ceased. State Auditor Richards believes he has encountered another snarl in the laws passed by the recent legislature. The law creating the office of district attorney for the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Seventh districts, defining the duties of the public prosecutors and fixing their salaries, provides that the state shall not be liable for half the salaries of county attorneys after the date of appointment of the auditor. March 3, but the law did not go into effect and the district attorneys were not appointed until May 9. Under a strict construction of the law, the state should claim reimbursement for half salaries to county attorneys for the two months who remained in San Francisco, but the auditor believes that a reasonable construction of the law will operate justly to the counties. He will secure an opinion from Attorney General Bishop before determining his action with reference to drawing warrants on the half salary account or refusing to do so.

From May 9 the state pays all the salaries of the public prosecutors except in the counties constituting the First, Second and Third districts, and the state will become liable for these also after Jan. 1, 1901.

GOLDIE BROWN'S CAPTURED. ESCAPED CONVICT CAUGHT BY EVANSTON OFFICERS. His Partner, Supposed to Be Gray, Also Arrested—Detective Sheets Will Bring Them Back.

LOOKING FOR HERMANS. Several People After the Salt Lake Murderer. POLICE RECEIVE LETTER. NORTH DAKOTA OFFICER IS WATCHING A SUSPECT.

Letters received by Chief Hilton would indicate that although the subject is practically forgotten at home, the whole continent has a watchful eye for Francis Hermans, the murderer. The chief receives from two to three letters each week asking for information regarding the crime of three years ago.

John Cadden, a representative of the American detective agency, writes from Salt Lake, N. W. T. Canada, asking if Hermans has been captured, and if the reward offered by the governor and citizens is still good. He also asks for a description of Hermans, and a photograph, saying he has a suspect in a neighboring town.

The letter that most interests the police, however, is from J. Laroux, presumably an officer, at Walcott, N. D. Under date of June 29 he writes for a second time concerning the case. "At this writing I have not been able to compare the photograph with the man I suspect, although I can see a resemblance. I have written, however, to people whom I believe to be Hermans' relatives. Will advise you later."

Such suspicions are too common to be of much satisfaction to the police. Hermans is of the average height, has a very ordinary appearance, and it is a very easy matter to find men who closely resemble him. It was said yesterday that more people had been taken for Hermans than any other criminal known.

RETURNS FROM PHILIPPINES. BARR W. MUSSEY ARRIVED IN SALT LAKE YESTERDAY. Talks Interestingly of Campaigns Against Filipinos—More Troops Are Needed.

After an absence of a year in the Philippines, Barr W. Mussey has returned to his home in this city, having arrived yesterday. He is in the best of health and spirits and stated that he had enjoyed his trip and experience in the highest degree. The return voyage was an exceedingly pleasant one. He was accompanied by Douglas Young and a Filipino youth who remained in San Francisco, but who will come to Salt Lake City later on.

Mr. Mussey and his brother are the publishers of a paper at Manila called Freedom, and he proposes to return to the Philippines in December or January to resume his journalistic work. He speaks highly of the climate and the natives of the better class, who, he says, favor annexation to the United States, and are opposed to the rebellion and the setting up of a native republic. The war would soon come to an end, he thinks, if the troops could only capture Aguinaldo, but that is hardly probable, because even if that leader was pressed to the last extremity, he would probably retreat to the mountains of Luzon, unless he should meet death by assassination at the hands of some of his followers.

The many things on the transients going over were insufficient and poor of quality, but after arrival in the islands the soldiers of Uncle Sam were not so well treated. There was no complaint from any save chronic grumblers, and those whom nothing at all would satisfy. The climate of the Philippines is not so hot as is reported to be, and Mr. Mussey states that the soldier boys who take care of themselves had nothing to complain of, and suffered nothing, without exception, believe in the policy of the government, but more soldiers are needed, and the present force is too widely scattered.

County Attorney Files Information Against Several Offenders. An information was filed yesterday afternoon by County Attorney Putnam charging Josie Robinson with grand larceny, and one charging Tom Hurley, Hank Kiddle and John C. Shepherd with grand larceny.

Jobie Robinson is accused of having robbed a man of $15 in the Star saloon on June 28. Hurley and Shepherd are charged with the robbery of Sheriff Harris and Douse caught in Summit county. They are held for stealing the sheep of a man near Park City.

COLEBORN AND THE MAJORITY. Judge Discredits the Rumor That He Is a Candidate. The Republican wire-pullers are still unable to find a majority candidate for the office of the Utah superintendent of the mission work at Fort Douglas, reported briefly, as did also Mrs. Spence, whose special work is at the mission.

LOGAN ELECTRICITY. Negotiations Pending for Consolidation of the Plants. Moses Thatcher is home from a week's business sojourn in Logan, where he still has many interests. He says negotiations are on there for the consolidation of the two electric light plants, with good prospects of success. A few more signatures were placed on the Roberts petition that was presented at the last meeting by the secretary, and the meeting adjourned.

COLBORN CALLED TO OREGON. RECEIVES ANNOUNCEMENT OF HIS WIFE'S ILLNESS. Will Be Unable to Take Up Salt Lake Business For the Present—Midway Will Be Opened July 24.

Judge E. F. Colborn, who was expected to take charge of the publicity department of the Salt Palace, received a telegram from Seaside, Oregon, yesterday, announcing the serious illness of his wife. He leaves this morning for Seaside. The judge will, for this reason, be unable to take charge of the publicity and promotion of the Salt Palace as was expected.

It is believed that the midway feature of the Salt Palace will be ready for opening July 24. Every energy will be exerted to accomplish this result. The date for opening the palace itself is still indefinite. The frame work of the building is now completed and it is believed that the structure will be ready by an early date in August.

At their regular meeting last night the directors again postponed consideration of bids for construction, this time until Monday night. The reason for this action was the absence of President Neiden, who was unable to be present until toward the close of the session.

The weekly pay roll, amounting to $1,100, was approved and allowed as well as a number of smaller amounts for supplies. It was stated that payments of stock subscriptions had not been flowing in so freely as was desired. Subscribers for stock are requested to pay up at once, as it will be necessary for this time on to crowd the work through.

MORRIS AND THE GIRLS. Touhey's Owner On Exhibition As a Polygamist. Justice Morris Sommer and his constant companion, the notorious bull pup, "Touhey," were the center of attraction on a Rio Grande Western train yesterday. The justice and his dog have been on an outing at Fairplay, Colo., for the past few weeks, and they were on their way home.

The conductor, who knew the justice because of "Touhey's" presence, told the several dozen school teachers who were on the train that he had seen the justice and that he had no less than nineteen wives.

To these young women, most of whom came from small towns in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey, the judge at once became an object of great interest. "Did you know he did not have attracted more attention."

"They came through the car in droves, looking and looking at me if I were some kind of a freak," said the judge yesterday. "I didn't know if it were Touhey or I by whom they were attracted, but I know that the dining car was filled to overflowing, and later I learned that they had gone to see me. Finally one of the men in the party introduced me to the judge. After some hesitation he intimated that I was a polygamist, and he seemed greatly disappointed to learn that I was not. He said that he had never heard of me or 'Touhey.'"

MR. DOWNING'S INVENTION. Railroad Man's Device For Securing the Door Key. L. L. Downing, commercial agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, is receiving the congratulations of his friends over an ingenious invention on which he has just secured a patent.

The patent is for a simple, yet effective device, which makes it impossible for anyone on the outside to push a key out of the keyhole in a door. The device is a small metal bar, just above the door knob, from which a little steel bar is suspended. When the key is placed in the keyhole and turned, the steel bar is drawn out of the key and makes it quite impossible for any one on the outside to turn the key or knock it out. Mr. Downing expects to make something out of his patent.

GRAND LARCENY CHARGES. County Attorney Files Information Against Several Offenders. An information was filed yesterday afternoon by County Attorney Putnam charging Josie Robinson with grand larceny, and one charging Tom Hurley, Hank Kiddle and John C. Shepherd with grand larceny.

Jobie Robinson is accused of having robbed a man of $15 in the Star saloon on June 28. Hurley and Shepherd are charged with the robbery of Sheriff Harris and Douse caught in Summit county. They are held for stealing the sheep of a man near Park City.

PEACEMAKER VALUED. First Step Taken in Organization of a Combine. MAY CLOSE SMALL MILLS. PLAN THAT MEETS WITH THE MOST FAVOR.

Moses Thatcher, who is perhaps more deeply interested in the milling of flour than any other man in Utah, is convinced that co-operation among the millers of the state is absolutely necessary, especially if they hope to secure a foreign or outside market for their surplus. He definitely steps toward consolidation have yet been taken, he says, but the matter is being thoroughly discussed by those interested. The mills present are of various sizes, and are placed on their value and capacity. Mr. Thatcher thinks the mills will not be bought outright. The most feasible plan is to have a syndicate of millers, the most favorable, is for twenty-five of the largest, best and most accessible mills in the state to pool or enter into a company to operate the same, and to run the smaller mills, and then, if necessary, run the large ones night and day to supply the demand for flour. In this way the expenses would be greatly reduced. All the mills would be run by one organization; one competent secretary would do the business for all; one scientific chemist would be attached to the organization in order to keep the flour in order by visiting each mill in turn, and many other needless expenses could be cut off.

It is to the effect of such a combination on the prices of flour in the local market. Mr. Thatcher said it would make prices steadier and more natural, and would prevent the fluctuations which obtain a more normal ratio to the price of wheat. When the price of wheat went up the price of flour would go up, and when the price of wheat went down the price of flour would go down. That is not the case now. It is not unusual for one to go up and the other down at the same time. This is due to the fact that the millers who commercialize business and destroy profits.

Mr. Thatcher is satisfied that nothing can be done toward meeting outside demands except through a combination of some sort. Since his return from the Pacific coast an emergency order was received here for a half bushel, about 500 tons, to be shipped to Honolulu. The order could not be filled because there was no organization here to handle the flour, and no way of properly grading the flour. He thinks the time is propitious for working up a splendid emergency order if the Utah millers can settle their differences and get together. The Southern Pacific, he says, is most favorably inclined, and will make reasonable concessions as to shipping rates. And the demand for American flour in Asia is growing every day, as a result of the Philippine war.

Grayling Planted. Thousands of the New Fish Growing in the Public Waters. The state fish and game warden keeps account of the disposition of fish which come into his possession, as well as the cash he handles. In striking a balance in his fish ledger yesterday, "Ward" says he has less than 100,000 of the 100,000 mountain grayling eggs which he brought from Montana last month, and he has 100,000 more eggs showing in an excellent one, and from the fry planted in various waters of the state he looks for making 3,000,000 young fish in two or three years hence.

PEACEMAKER'S REWARD. James Boyd Exhibits a Black Eye and a Scar. James Boyd appeared in the county attorney's office yesterday to secure a warrant of arrest for Sam Howard, whom he declared had beaten him and cut him with a knife or some other sharp instrument on the night of July 6 at the Dewey saloon.

Boyd had a black eye and a scar on the head as a result of his encounter. He had attempted to act the part of a peacemaker in keeping Howard and a gambler named Moore from fighting, but that Howard had attacked him and laid him out.
