

ready to extend to him the greeting of the navy. Secretary Long was at the door, and as the admiral entered, the secretary held his hand and with enthusiasm said: "Admiral, I welcome you here. This is the day for the navy. You and your associates of the navy are assembled here to give you a hearty greeting."

"Thank you," he replied, "I have a few words of greeting with the secretary and then with Mr. Allen and other officials. These include the most distinguished of the navy, including Admiral Crowl, Admiral O'Neil, Melville, Van Rensselaer, Nicholson, Bradford, Simpson, and General Miles. I have also met the admiral, General Haywood, commanding the marine corps, Captain Lemley, judge advocate general of the navy, and many others."

There was little need of introduction, as Admiral Dewey had served alongside most of these officials. There was no ceremony after the first greetings. Secretary Long invited the admiral to accompany him to the president's quarters, where Mr. McKinley and the members of his cabinet were awaiting him.

Dewey Meets the President.
Arm in arm, Secretary Long and the admiral proceeded by the elevator to the upper floor of the mansion. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Secretary Long entered with the admiral, the latter being introduced to the president. The admiral, grasping his hand, wished him a hearty welcome.

The admiral acknowledged the cordial sentiments expressed by the president and then asked as to the health of the admiral. The admiral replied with great regret that she had not been well. In reply the president suggested that the admiral meet Mrs. McKinley, the president's daughter-in-law, and Mrs. McKinley makes a sitting-room, and here found her with some of her friends. The admiral was presented and received the president's wife, as well as the president, a most hearty welcome home.

Greeted by the Cabinet.
Returning to the library, the president invited his cabinet associates to the admiral's apartment. The admiral was introduced to the president, followed by Secretary Hitchcock, Postmaster General Smith, Secretary of the Interior, Secretary of War, Secretary of the Navy, Secretary of the Treasury, Secretary of the State, Secretary of the Interior, Secretary of the Navy, Secretary of the Treasury, Secretary of the State.

The greetings with the cabinet were brief, and then the president and Admiral Dewey proceeded to the reviewing stand. They passed out of the rear of the White House, down the gravel walks and out to the street in front of the White House. The admiral seemed to know that the hero was approaching, for a great wave of cheering went up and Pennsylvania avenue was packed in half an hour.

The stand had been erected at the head of Pennsylvania avenue, just below the Treasury department building, and as he moved through the stand to the front, he was met by the cheering of the crowd. The admiral turned to the right and waved his hand, and then turned to the left and waved his hand, and then turned to the right and waved his hand, and then turned to the left and waved his hand.

On the Reviewing Stand.
The president and Admiral Dewey were joined at the front of the stand by Secretaries Hay, Root, Hitchcock and Wilson, and Postmaster General Smith. The admiral, wearing a military uniform, saluted the president and the reviewing stand. The admiral turned to the right and waved his hand, and then turned to the left and waved his hand, and then turned to the right and waved his hand, and then turned to the left and waved his hand.

Was a Great Parade.
The column was headed by General George Harris, chief of the procession, followed by the bands of the army and navy, and the various regiments of the army and navy. The parade was a grand one, and the crowd was immense.

Too Close to England.
Why McKinley Refused to Try to Make Peace in South Africa.
New York, Oct. 2.—Charles Pierce, consul general of the Orange Free State, today received a cablegram relative to the Transvaal, stating that the cable was of such a nature that he could not make it public, but he was at liberty to say that the president of the Orange Free State had made an ineffectual effort to induce President McKinley to request other powerful nations to act with the United States as arbitrators between England and the Transvaal.

France Is With the Transvaal.
New York, Oct. 2.—A dispatch to the Times from Paris says: With a few votes in the French assembly, the Transvaal impinent, French opinion as to its justification and probable issue is in favor of the Transvaal. The French sympathies, with the Transvaal republic on the same grounds, with the same motives and in the same language as she did with Spain.

Germans Are Exempt.
Berlin, Oct. 2.—The North German Gazette makes the formal announcement that German residents are exempt from military service in the Transvaal. The National Zeitung says that any negotiations are in progress between Germany and England with reference to the Transvaal. The Berlin newspapers continue to attack England and her policy in the Transvaal.

Rumors Are Denied.
London, Oct. 2.—The Lisbon correspondent of the Standard says that he is able to deny the rumors that negotiations are in progress respecting Delagoa bay.

End of a Busy Day.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Warner's Safe Cure
Cure has blessed the world for twenty-five years. It has saved thousands of lives and is today the only known specific for all diseases and weaknesses of the kidneys and liver.

Democrats Gather at Dallas For Their Big Carnival.
New York, Oct. 2.—Vandals have begun the destruction of the beautiful Dewey memorial arch at Madison Square. The arch is made of steel upon a framework of wood. The northern and southern columns of the colonnade have been struck by relic hunters, and large pieces of wood have been hacked away. In one place the work of demolition has been carried to such an extent that a barrel can be inserted in the opening the vandals have made.

Dewey's Uncle Dead.
Wichita, Kan., Oct. 2.—H. H. Dewey of Sheffield, Ill., uncle of Admiral Dewey and father of H. H. Dewey of Chicago, died yesterday. He was 81 years of age. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and was highly respected in his community.

REPORT THAT THE BOERS HAVE CAPTURED DUNDEE
(Continued from page 1)
in the Transvaal, anyhow, except perhaps that they wanted the gold mines. If the richest gold mines in the world had not been discovered there I don't think the Boers would be so anxious to get the country.

The various conciliatory amendments proposed were voted down, and finally, by a standing vote of 60 to 48, the original resolutions offered by Judge Van Housen were passed. The principal resolutions were:

"Resolved, That the Holland society of New York, composed exclusively of descendants of Dutch burghers, residing in the colony of New Netherland, under 1765, sympathizing with the Boers of the South African republic in their struggle for the maintenance of their independence and autonomy, earnestly appeal to the government of the United States to use its good offices with the government of Great Britain for the preservation of peace between England and the Transvaal and for the settlement of the points in dispute between these two nations in a manner consistent with the rights of the South African republic the rights granted to it by the convention of 1834."

FIGHTING TOMORROW.
Assignments of Commanders For Boer Forces Have Been Made.
London, Oct. 2.—A special dispatch from Pretoria says that General Jan Kock will command the Boer forces on the Natal border, Commandant Cronje on the southwestern and General Schalkburger on the eastern border. The Boer forces are expected to be in command at Rustenburg. Altogether there will be nine generals in command of the columns.

SPAIN IS INTERESTED.
Anxious Regarding the Way the War May Affect Portugal.
Madrid, Oct. 2.—El Liberal today declares that Spain cannot remain indifferent to the events transpiring in the Transvaal in view of the existence of the Anglo-Portuguese treaty, by the terms of which, in the event of Great Britain becoming engaged in a war with Portugal, Portugal is obliged to mobilize 100,000 men and allow Great Britain to use her forts and arsenals.

TOO CLOSE TO ENGLAND.
Why McKinley Refused to Try to Make Peace in South Africa.
New York, Oct. 2.—Charles Pierce, consul general of the Orange Free State, today received a cablegram relative to the Transvaal, stating that the cable was of such a nature that he could not make it public, but he was at liberty to say that the president of the Orange Free State had made an ineffectual effort to induce President McKinley to request other powerful nations to act with the United States as arbitrators between England and the Transvaal.

Germans Are Exempt.
Berlin, Oct. 2.—The North German Gazette makes the formal announcement that German residents are exempt from military service in the Transvaal. The National Zeitung says that any negotiations are in progress between Germany and England with reference to the Transvaal. The Berlin newspapers continue to attack England and her policy in the Transvaal.

Rumors Are Denied.
London, Oct. 2.—The Lisbon correspondent of the Standard says that he is able to deny the rumors that negotiations are in progress respecting Delagoa bay.

End of a Busy Day.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Warner's Safe Cure
Cure has blessed the world for twenty-five years. It has saved thousands of lives and is today the only known specific for all diseases and weaknesses of the kidneys and liver.

Democrats Gather at Dallas For Their Big Carnival.
New York, Oct. 2.—Vandals have begun the destruction of the beautiful Dewey memorial arch at Madison Square. The arch is made of steel upon a framework of wood. The northern and southern columns of the colonnade have been struck by relic hunters, and large pieces of wood have been hacked away. In one place the work of demolition has been carried to such an extent that a barrel can be inserted in the opening the vandals have made.

Dewey's Uncle Dead.
Wichita, Kan., Oct. 2.—H. H. Dewey of Sheffield, Ill., uncle of Admiral Dewey and father of H. H. Dewey of Chicago, died yesterday. He was 81 years of age. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and was highly respected in his community.

REPORT THAT THE BOERS HAVE CAPTURED DUNDEE
(Continued from page 1)
in the Transvaal, anyhow, except perhaps that they wanted the gold mines. If the richest gold mines in the world had not been discovered there I don't think the Boers would be so anxious to get the country.

The various conciliatory amendments proposed were voted down, and finally, by a standing vote of 60 to 48, the original resolutions offered by Judge Van Housen were passed. The principal resolutions were:

"Resolved, That the Holland society of New York, composed exclusively of descendants of Dutch burghers, residing in the colony of New Netherland, under 1765, sympathizing with the Boers of the South African republic in their struggle for the maintenance of their independence and autonomy, earnestly appeal to the government of the United States to use its good offices with the government of Great Britain for the preservation of peace between England and the Transvaal and for the settlement of the points in dispute between these two nations in a manner consistent with the rights of the South African republic the rights granted to it by the convention of 1834."

FIGHTING TOMORROW.
Assignments of Commanders For Boer Forces Have Been Made.
London, Oct. 2.—A special dispatch from Pretoria says that General Jan Kock will command the Boer forces on the Natal border, Commandant Cronje on the southwestern and General Schalkburger on the eastern border. The Boer forces are expected to be in command at Rustenburg. Altogether there will be nine generals in command of the columns.

SPAIN IS INTERESTED.
Anxious Regarding the Way the War May Affect Portugal.
Madrid, Oct. 2.—El Liberal today declares that Spain cannot remain indifferent to the events transpiring in the Transvaal in view of the existence of the Anglo-Portuguese treaty, by the terms of which, in the event of Great Britain becoming engaged in a war with Portugal, Portugal is obliged to mobilize 100,000 men and allow Great Britain to use her forts and arsenals.

TOO CLOSE TO ENGLAND.
Why McKinley Refused to Try to Make Peace in South Africa.
New York, Oct. 2.—Charles Pierce, consul general of the Orange Free State, today received a cablegram relative to the Transvaal, stating that the cable was of such a nature that he could not make it public, but he was at liberty to say that the president of the Orange Free State had made an ineffectual effort to induce President McKinley to request other powerful nations to act with the United States as arbitrators between England and the Transvaal.

Germans Are Exempt.
Berlin, Oct. 2.—The North German Gazette makes the formal announcement that German residents are exempt from military service in the Transvaal. The National Zeitung says that any negotiations are in progress between Germany and England with reference to the Transvaal. The Berlin newspapers continue to attack England and her policy in the Transvaal.

Rumors Are Denied.
London, Oct. 2.—The Lisbon correspondent of the Standard says that he is able to deny the rumors that negotiations are in progress respecting Delagoa bay.

End of a Busy Day.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Warner's Safe Cure
Cure has blessed the world for twenty-five years. It has saved thousands of lives and is today the only known specific for all diseases and weaknesses of the kidneys and liver.

Democrats Gather at Dallas For Their Big Carnival.
New York, Oct. 2.—Vandals have begun the destruction of the beautiful Dewey memorial arch at Madison Square. The arch is made of steel upon a framework of wood. The northern and southern columns of the colonnade have been struck by relic hunters, and large pieces of wood have been hacked away. In one place the work of demolition has been carried to such an extent that a barrel can be inserted in the opening the vandals have made.

Dewey's Uncle Dead.
Wichita, Kan., Oct. 2.—H. H. Dewey of Sheffield, Ill., uncle of Admiral Dewey and father of H. H. Dewey of Chicago, died yesterday. He was 81 years of age. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and was highly respected in his community.

REPORT THAT THE BOERS HAVE CAPTURED DUNDEE
(Continued from page 1)
in the Transvaal, anyhow, except perhaps that they wanted the gold mines. If the richest gold mines in the world had not been discovered there I don't think the Boers would be so anxious to get the country.

The various conciliatory amendments proposed were voted down, and finally, by a standing vote of 60 to 48, the original resolutions offered by Judge Van Housen were passed. The principal resolutions were:

"Resolved, That the Holland society of New York, composed exclusively of descendants of Dutch burghers, residing in the colony of New Netherland, under 1765, sympathizing with the Boers of the South African republic in their struggle for the maintenance of their independence and autonomy, earnestly appeal to the government of the United States to use its good offices with the government of Great Britain for the preservation of peace between England and the Transvaal and for the settlement of the points in dispute between these two nations in a manner consistent with the rights of the South African republic the rights granted to it by the convention of 1834."

FIGHTING TOMORROW.
Assignments of Commanders For Boer Forces Have Been Made.
London, Oct. 2.—A special dispatch from Pretoria says that General Jan Kock will command the Boer forces on the Natal border, Commandant Cronje on the southwestern and General Schalkburger on the eastern border. The Boer forces are expected to be in command at Rustenburg. Altogether there will be nine generals in command of the columns.

SPAIN IS INTERESTED.
Anxious Regarding the Way the War May Affect Portugal.
Madrid, Oct. 2.—El Liberal today declares that Spain cannot remain indifferent to the events transpiring in the Transvaal in view of the existence of the Anglo-Portuguese treaty, by the terms of which, in the event of Great Britain becoming engaged in a war with Portugal, Portugal is obliged to mobilize 100,000 men and allow Great Britain to use her forts and arsenals.

TOO CLOSE TO ENGLAND.
Why McKinley Refused to Try to Make Peace in South Africa.
New York, Oct. 2.—Charles Pierce, consul general of the Orange Free State, today received a cablegram relative to the Transvaal, stating that the cable was of such a nature that he could not make it public, but he was at liberty to say that the president of the Orange Free State had made an ineffectual effort to induce President McKinley to request other powerful nations to act with the United States as arbitrators between England and the Transvaal.

Germans Are Exempt.
Berlin, Oct. 2.—The North German Gazette makes the formal announcement that German residents are exempt from military service in the Transvaal. The National Zeitung says that any negotiations are in progress between Germany and England with reference to the Transvaal. The Berlin newspapers continue to attack England and her policy in the Transvaal.

Rumors Are Denied.
London, Oct. 2.—The Lisbon correspondent of the Standard says that he is able to deny the rumors that negotiations are in progress respecting Delagoa bay.

End of a Busy Day.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Warner's Safe Cure
Cure has blessed the world for twenty-five years. It has saved thousands of lives and is today the only known specific for all diseases and weaknesses of the kidneys and liver.

Democrats Gather at Dallas For Their Big Carnival.
New York, Oct. 2.—Vandals have begun the destruction of the beautiful Dewey memorial arch at Madison Square. The arch is made of steel upon a framework of wood. The northern and southern columns of the colonnade have been struck by relic hunters, and large pieces of wood have been hacked away. In one place the work of demolition has been carried to such an extent that a barrel can be inserted in the opening the vandals have made.

Dewey's Uncle Dead.
Wichita, Kan., Oct. 2.—H. H. Dewey of Sheffield, Ill., uncle of Admiral Dewey and father of H. H. Dewey of Chicago, died yesterday. He was 81 years of age. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and was highly respected in his community.

REPORT THAT THE BOERS HAVE CAPTURED DUNDEE
(Continued from page 1)
in the Transvaal, anyhow, except perhaps that they wanted the gold mines. If the richest gold mines in the world had not been discovered there I don't think the Boers would be so anxious to get the country.

The various conciliatory amendments proposed were voted down, and finally, by a standing vote of 60 to 48, the original resolutions offered by Judge Van Housen were passed. The principal resolutions were:

"Resolved, That the Holland society of New York, composed exclusively of descendants of Dutch burghers, residing in the colony of New Netherland, under 1765, sympathizing with the Boers of the South African republic in their struggle for the maintenance of their independence and autonomy, earnestly appeal to the government of the United States to use its good offices with the government of Great Britain for the preservation of peace between England and the Transvaal and for the settlement of the points in dispute between these two nations in a manner consistent with the rights of the South African republic the rights granted to it by the convention of 1834."

FIGHTING TOMORROW.
Assignments of Commanders For Boer Forces Have Been Made.
London, Oct. 2.—A special dispatch from Pretoria says that General Jan Kock will command the Boer forces on the Natal border, Commandant Cronje on the southwestern and General Schalkburger on the eastern border. The Boer forces are expected to be in command at Rustenburg. Altogether there will be nine generals in command of the columns.

SPAIN IS INTERESTED.
Anxious Regarding the Way the War May Affect Portugal.
Madrid, Oct. 2.—El Liberal today declares that Spain cannot remain indifferent to the events transpiring in the Transvaal in view of the existence of the Anglo-Portuguese treaty, by the terms of which, in the event of Great Britain becoming engaged in a war with Portugal, Portugal is obliged to mobilize 100,000 men and allow Great Britain to use her forts and arsenals.

TOO CLOSE TO ENGLAND.
Why McKinley Refused to Try to Make Peace in South Africa.
New York, Oct. 2.—Charles Pierce, consul general of the Orange Free State, today received a cablegram relative to the Transvaal, stating that the cable was of such a nature that he could not make it public, but he was at liberty to say that the president of the Orange Free State had made an ineffectual effort to induce President McKinley to request other powerful nations to act with the United States as arbitrators between England and the Transvaal.

Germans Are Exempt.
Berlin, Oct. 2.—The North German Gazette makes the formal announcement that German residents are exempt from military service in the Transvaal. The National Zeitung says that any negotiations are in progress between Germany and England with reference to the Transvaal. The Berlin newspapers continue to attack England and her policy in the Transvaal.

Rumors Are Denied.
London, Oct. 2.—The Lisbon correspondent of the Standard says that he is able to deny the rumors that negotiations are in progress respecting Delagoa bay.

End of a Busy Day.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Warner's Safe Cure
Cure has blessed the world for twenty-five years. It has saved thousands of lives and is today the only known specific for all diseases and weaknesses of the kidneys and liver.

Democrats Gather at Dallas For Their Big Carnival.
New York, Oct. 2.—Vandals have begun the destruction of the beautiful Dewey memorial arch at Madison Square. The arch is made of steel upon a framework of wood. The northern and southern columns of the colonnade have been struck by relic hunters, and large pieces of wood have been hacked away. In one place the work of demolition has been carried to such an extent that a barrel can be inserted in the opening the vandals have made.

Dewey's Uncle Dead.
Wichita, Kan., Oct. 2.—H. H. Dewey of Sheffield, Ill., uncle of Admiral Dewey and father of H. H. Dewey of Chicago, died yesterday. He was 81 years of age. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and was highly respected in his community.

REPORT THAT THE BOERS HAVE CAPTURED DUNDEE
(Continued from page 1)
in the Transvaal, anyhow, except perhaps that they wanted the gold mines. If the richest gold mines in the world had not been discovered there I don't think the Boers would be so anxious to get the country.

The various conciliatory amendments proposed were voted down, and finally, by a standing vote of 60 to 48, the original resolutions offered by Judge Van Housen were passed. The principal resolutions were:

"Resolved, That the Holland society of New York, composed exclusively of descendants of Dutch burghers, residing in the colony of New Netherland, under 1765, sympathizing with the Boers of the South African republic in their struggle for the maintenance of their independence and autonomy, earnestly appeal to the government of the United States to use its good offices with the government of Great Britain for the preservation of peace between England and the Transvaal and for the settlement of the points in dispute between these two nations in a manner consistent with the rights of the South African republic the rights granted to it by the convention of 1834."

FIGHTING TOMORROW.
Assignments of Commanders For Boer Forces Have Been Made.
London, Oct. 2.—A special dispatch from Pretoria says that General Jan Kock will command the Boer forces on the Natal border, Commandant Cronje on the southwestern and General Schalkburger on the eastern border. The Boer forces are expected to be in command at Rustenburg. Altogether there will be nine generals in command of the columns.

SPAIN IS INTERESTED.
Anxious Regarding the Way the War May Affect Portugal.
Madrid, Oct. 2.—El Liberal today declares that Spain cannot remain indifferent to the events transpiring in the Transvaal in view of the existence of the Anglo-Portuguese treaty, by the terms of which, in the event of Great Britain becoming engaged in a war with Portugal, Portugal is obliged to mobilize 100,000 men and allow Great Britain to use her forts and arsenals.

TOO CLOSE TO ENGLAND.
Why McKinley Refused to Try to Make Peace in South Africa.
New York, Oct. 2.—Charles Pierce, consul general of the Orange Free State, today received a cablegram relative to the Transvaal, stating that the cable was of such a nature that he could not make it public, but he was at liberty to say that the president of the Orange Free State had made an ineffectual effort to induce President McKinley to request other powerful nations to act with the United States as arbitrators between England and the Transvaal.

Germans Are Exempt.
Berlin, Oct. 2.—The North German Gazette makes the formal announcement that German residents are exempt from military service in the Transvaal. The National Zeitung says that any negotiations are in progress between Germany and England with reference to the Transvaal. The Berlin newspapers continue to attack England and her policy in the Transvaal.

Rumors Are Denied.
London, Oct. 2.—The Lisbon correspondent of the Standard says that he is able to deny the rumors that negotiations are in progress respecting Delagoa bay.

End of a Busy Day.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column by Mrs. McLean and her daughters, Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Loder. The admiral was escorted to the president's study in the cabinet room, while the president was alone in the library adjoining.

Seven Sutherland Sisters.
The admiral met at the head of the column