ANOTHER BATTLE AND BRITISH ARE VICTORS

Rout the Enemy and Capture Their Camp, Equipment, Horses and Wagons at Elandslaagte.

Brisk Engagement at Dundee, in Which Boers Are Worsted - Terrible Loss of Life to English at Glencoe.

London, Oct. 22.—At 2 o'clock this morning the war office posted the following from General Archibald Hunter:

Ladysmith, Oct. 21, 8:45 p. m.—General White rode toward Elandslaagte at 2:30 p. m. The force under General French left here at 4 a. m. by road and rail to Modders bridge. By 2 p. m. it had been gradually strengthened to the following total: Fifth Lancers, a squadron of the Fifth Dragoon Guards, two field batteries, the Natal field battery, the Devonshire regiment, half the Manchester regiment, half the Gordon Highlanders, the Imperial Light Horse and two squadrons of Natal volunteers.

General White's intention was to recon the railway to Dundee and return here with his troops tonight.

The Enemy Routed. At 7:45 a report was received by telephone, saying we had carried the enemy's position, capturing their camp, equipment, horses and wagons. The cavalry is in pursuit. The operators on the instruments say we have some wounded, but have no details yet. I expect General White will be late, so I'll wire for him.

Elandslaagte is a small station on the railway about midway between Glencoe and Ladysmith. The Boers occupied the place on Thursday or Friday and cut the railway in order to prevent British troops heading either way between Ladysmith and Glencoe.

A correspondent in Glencoe camp sends the following dispatch, under date of Oct. 20, morning. "Breakfast disclosed the Dutch all around Dundee. As soon as they were in position on the hill behind Peter Smith's house, where they posted a cannon, the fire began generally; and to wake us they put several shots and shells into the camp, causing a speedy evacuation of the tents and forming up of all the ranks outside the camp. Our guns were soon in action and replied with telling effect. The whizzing of the enemy's shots as they passed over our heads had music to it; beyond a natural dodging of heads, their effect was not disastrous.

Boer Guns Are Silenced. "So effective was our artillery fire that in ten minutes the guns of the Boers were all but silenced. I could see from my position how telling it was. I could see members of the staff going about their duties as coolly as if the whole thing was a sham battle. "As soon as the Boer fire slackened, our artillery, which had been beautifully served, trotted into town and posted themselves. They soon compelled the enemy to retire, but yet they appeared like so many bees in groups, on every place of vantage, on the ridge which skirted the town, while others were driven toward the coal fields. "Our guns continued to play on Smith's hill, where beautiful practice was made. As the shells burst the Dutchmen could be seen scrambling for cover. While our guns were engaged the Hussars deployed on the left flank. Soon the cannonading ceased, and after five minutes sharp work was over. This may be put down as the first battle of Dundee. "The battle was soon renewed with great vigor. At 7:30 a message arrived telling the camp that the Boers were marching on us with the intention of attacking our rear. A heavy mist which caps the surrounding hills ob-

BRITISH OFFICERS FALL

Startling Loss of Life in the Battle With the Boers Friday.

London, Oct. 21.—The war office has issued the following list of casualties in the battle between Glencoe and Dundee yesterday, received in a dispatch from the officer commanding in Natal, Sir George Stewart White, dated Ladysmith, Oct. 21, 4:10 a. m.:

Divisional Staff. General Symonds, mortally wounded in the stomach; Colonel C. E. Beckwell, assistant adjutant general, severely wounded in the right shoulder; Major Frederick Hammons, deputy assistant adjutant general, seriously wounded in the leg.

Brigade Staff. Colonel John Sherster, deputy staff officer and brigade major, killed; Captain F. L. Adam, A. D. C., seriously wounded in the right shoulder.

Leicester Regiment. Lieutenant D. W. Weldon, wounded slightly in hand.

First Battalion, Royal Irish Fusiliers. Second Lieutenant A. H. M. Hill, killed; Major W. P. Davidson, wounded; Captain F. H. S. Connor, wounded; since died; Captain J. W. Pike, wounded; First Lieutenant M. C. Carberry, Lieutenant C. C. Southey, wounded; Lieutenant R. W. Wortham, wounded.

Royal Dublin Fusiliers. Captain G. A. Weldon, killed; Captain M. Lovell, wounded; Captain A. Dibby, wounded; Lieutenant R. C. Parrier, wounded; Lieutenant C. G. J. Genge, wounded, since died.

King's Rifles. Lieutenant C. H. Gunning, killed; Captain H. K. Peckel, killed; Lieutenant J. Kyle, killed; Lieutenant N. J. Hambro, killed; Lieutenant C. Barnett, killed; Major C. A. T. Doull, wounded; Captain O. S. W. Nugent, wounded; Captain A. R. M. Sturt, wounded; Lieutenant R. J. Crum, wounded; Lieutenant R. Johnston, wounded; Lieutenant G. H. Martin, wounded.

Eighteenth Hussars. Second Lieutenant A. C. McLachlan, wounded; Second Lieutenant E. H. Bayford, wounded.

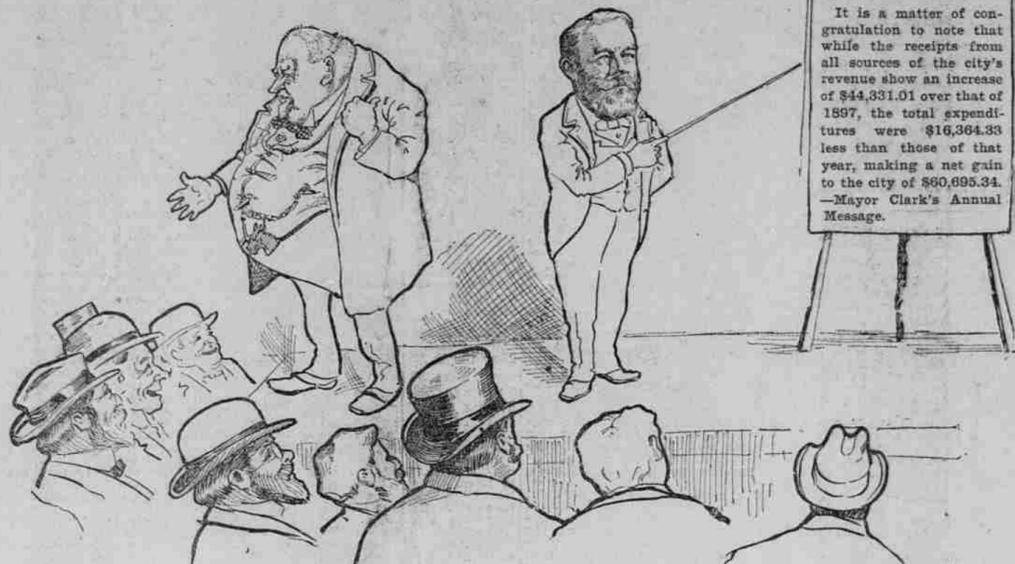

The list of officers killed and wounded, strikingly shows that while the British victory was complete, it was bought at a heavy price. In addition to Sir William Penn Symonds, who is mortally wounded, two colonels, three captains and five lieutenants were killed, and a colonel, three majors, six captains and ten lieutenants were wounded. This heavy loss among the officers was due, as the latest dispatches show from the scene, from the valiant conduct in sticking to the traditions of the British army and refusing to use the cover of which the men availed themselves during the storming of the Boer position on the summit of Koppie.

Among the rank and file the hussars had seven wounded; the artillery, one killed and three wounded; the Leicester regiment, one wounded; the king's rifles, eleven killed and sixty-eight wounded; the Irish Fusiliers, fourteen killed and thirty wounded; the Dublin fusiliers, four killed and forty-one wounded; and the Natal police two wounded.

PROVOCATION REPUBLICANS DECLARE FOR GOLD AND A SEWER.

Convention Was Tame Except When the Platform Was Being Considered—Ticket Is Same Old Crowd.

(Special to The Herald.) Provo, Oct. 21.—The Republican city convention convened in the opera house today and nominated the following for city officers, without enough argument or opposition to make the proceedings interesting.

Mayor—S. S. Jones. Recorder—J. U. Buchl. Treasurer—Miss Mary Boshard. Attorney—Thomas John.

Justice—A. A. Noon. Marshal—Frank Tucker.

The ticket is about as good as could be expected and Republicans will probably be satisfied with it, but the convention did something that will cost the party dear, when it endorsed the St. Louis gold platform, turned down so vigorously by practically the same crowd of delegates two years ago. They did it, too, over the majority vote of the committee, and it is the first convention in the state to so declare itself. Two reports of the committee on resolutions were turned in, the majority report going on to tell at great length what the Democratic party hasn't done and the other coming out unequivocally for the St. Louis platform. Judge Saxey and Herb Pyne introduced the minority report through Bishop Keeler and Charley Smith leading a hot fight against the gold bug policy. But the Hanna suite-makers had things their way in this, as they did throughout the convention, and the minority report was finally adopted.

The platform adopted also upheld the administration, thanked McKinley for fighting the Philippines, and locally advocated a sewer system. There was also a clause against Sunday liquor selling and gambling.

FEARS THAT TRANSPORT SENATOR MAY BE LOST

Col. Charles Denby Tells Startling Story of Wreckage Seen in the Swell of the Typhoon

The Ship, With Its Precious Load of Iowa Volunteers, Is Known to Have Been in the Storm.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 21.—The transport Senator, having on board the fifty-first Iowa volunteers and other soldiers to the number of 1,700, should reach San Francisco within two or three days, unless it suffered serious accident in the typhoon which struck it soon after it left Yokohama on Oct. 6. News of a disquieting sort is brought by Colonel Charles Denby and Professor Dean Worcester, the remaining members of the Philippine commission, who are returning post haste to Washington. These men saw wreckage in the swell of the typhoon that crossed the track of the Senator. They saw the glowering storm and were caught in the edge of it. Their own boat, the Empress of Japan, a ship accounted far sturdier than the Senator, suffered damage from the half-spent force of its gale. The sailors said they believed the Senator was in the midst of the typhoon. The next day a lifeboat and a spar were seen floating on the foamy sea over which the typhoon had swept. "I should certainly not wish to cause needless alarm," said Colonel Denby, "but am forced to admit there is cause for some apprehension of the fate of the Senator. It would not be well to say at this time that the transport is lost, for that would perhaps cause needless anguish to the friends and relatives of those aboard it, but it is well the meagre truth we know should be made public. "The date of sailing from Yokohama was set for Oct. 6, but in the meantime word was received from the Manila observatory that a typhoon was moving northward and would pass near the Japanese coast. Many of the American colony urged the captain not to sail the Senator out of port that date, but he told them to put away their fears, and he slipped his mooring and set out for home. "The following day the Empress of Japan sailed out of Yokohama for Vancouver, with Colonel Denby and Professor Worcester aboard. They left the Japanese port at sunrise, and before sundown they were being tossed by the firm of the typhoon. The Empress of Japan shifted its course and ran from the storm.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPER MAN IS CAPTURED BY THE BOERS

State Department Cables Consuls to Take Action in the Matter.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Eugene Easton of Kansas City, Mo., a newspaper man, has been captured by the Boer forces in South Africa and the state department is now negotiating with the Transvaal authorities looking to his release. Word of his capture came this afternoon from Easton's father, the Rev. Dr. J. A. Easton, of Tippecanoe City, O., who telegraphed Assistant Secretary of the Interior Davis as follows:

"Inform the government of Eugene's detention by the Boers, and secure his protection as a citizen. Wire me details."

Mr. Davis called on Assistant Secretary Hill, and as a result cable instructions were sent to the American consuls at Pretoria, Bloemfontein and Cape Town to see that all American citizens are promptly and fully protected, and for investigation and special report on Easton's detention.

It is believed Easton was one of a party of newspaper men aboard a special train captured by the Boers several days ago. He was formerly Mr. Davis' private secretary.

VICE PRESIDENT HOBART IS DYING IN NEW JERSEY

(Special to The Herald.) New York, Oct. 21.—The report reached the city late tonight that Vice President Hobart is dying at his Paterson (N. J.) home, and that his family have given up all hope and so notified President McKinley.

Mr. Hobart was seized with an attack of the heart this afternoon, from which it is feared he cannot rally.

SUSPECTED HOLD-UP IN JAIL

J. C. LYLE IS IN CUSTODY OF SHERIFF AT OGDEN.

Believed to Be One of the Men Who Robbed a Union Pacific Train Near Wilcox, Wyo.

(Special to The Herald.) Ogden, Oct. 21.—Sheriff Charles E. Layne arrived here this morning from Rigby station, Ida., having in charge J. C. Lyle, whom he arrested at that place on Friday on the charge of being implicated in the Union Pacific holdup last June.

Lyle was locked up in the county jail and no one allowed to converse with him. He is in ignorance of the nature of the crime with which he is charged. No information has yet been filed against him, but will likely be on Monday.

The suspect is about 25 years of age, five feet nine inches in height, weight about 160 pounds, light complexion and blue eyes, slightly flattened nose, heavy at points, full face and walks slightly stooped, answering the description of the first of the six men named in the offer of reward in every thing but his age and weight, being slightly younger and lighter than the man described.

He was arrested at Rigby station as he was entering the dining car at noon for lunch, having just come from work, where he was employed on a grading gang on the St. Anthony branch of the Short Line. He signified his willingness to come at first, but after the train pulled out said he would not go out of the state without requisition papers.

Sheriff Layne wired Marshal Ellis at Pocatello, but when the train got there Lyle was asleep, and the officers did not disturb him. When he awoke he was charged to find himself in Utah.

The man who informed on Lyle was also locked up at the county jail for reasons best known to the sheriff. It is said that the man became convinced of Lyle's guilt through an elaborate description of the methods employed in holding up the train, during the proceedings in the minutest details.

SONS OF LABOR ENTER A PROTEST

Denounce Lannanites in Unequivocal Terms.

DECLARE ALLEGIANCE TO DEMOCRACY

Big Mass Meeting Held in A. O. U. W. Hall.

Indignant Workmen Gather and Talk in Scathing Terms of the Transparent Falsity of the Antielection Promises Made By the Colonel's Ticket and Platform—Resolutions Condemning Hannanites Passed with Enthusiasm.

The workmen of Salt Lake, in mass-meeting assembled last night, declared themselves in no uncertain terms against the party of Hanna and McKinley and against the Lannan city ticket. Every seat in the big A. O. U. W. hall was occupied, the attendance being estimated at between 200 and 300. Speeches were made in which, in burning words, was portrayed the attitude the Republican party, from time immemorial, has taken toward the laboring man when his vote was not needed. The utter hypocrisy and sham of antielection promises by the Lannanites was exposed, and as a result resolutions were unanimously passed declaring for the Democratic ticket and the party that has always been the friend of the plain people.

Former Republicans There. The gathering was not made up entirely of men who have always been known as Democrats. Liberally sprinkled throughout the hall were many who had formerly been Republicans. The Republicans in the hope that they might do something that would show at least a passing interest in men who earn their bread by the sweat of their brow.

These men had no hesitancy in openly declaring their allegiance to the Democratic party and the ticket nominated a week ago in the "Threats in the Trees." They said the scales had fallen from their eyes, and that they now realized where they must look if they hope for any help for themselves and their families. The climax came when B. R. Haddock offered a set of resolutions. The reading of them was punctuated by frequent and long continued applause. When the question came on their adoption they were declared to be the sense of the meeting with an enthusiasm rarely witnessed on such an occasion.

Strong Resolutions. The resolutions, which were offered by B. R. Haddock, are as follows: Whereas, the Republican party of this city, posing as a friend of the laboring man, seeks by its antielection promises to secure for itself the vote of the working classes in the face of facts which are well known to all.

That when the work of improving the water supply of this city was in progress and the city council, through the aid of the support and maintenance of their families, the three Republican members of the city council, Robert, Buckle and Diehl, opposed the plan and advocated the placing of the control of said work in the hands of the Democrats, to be done by contract, thus affording Denver, Chicago and other cities a chance to come in and compete with some industry, and are on record as so voting.

That the Democrats in the city council maintained that the citizens of Salt Lake City should perform the work, and that the same should be done by the hands of the board of public works. That the Democrats so voted, and the resolution of the Republican members was defeated.

That the Democrats in the city council, when they themselves defeated in the council, these Republican councilmen, as we are informed and verily believe, solicited three Republican members, identified with the party actively, W. A. Nelson, John E. Dooly and M. H. Walker, to cause the council to be joined from proceeding with the work, and when a decision of the court was rendered, the said three members, by the Democrats and in practice at the time alluded to in the opening of this preamble, the said three members of the city council, Robert, Buckle and Diehl, voted against the appointing of the case, while the Democrats, believing the judgment of the court to be contrary to sound policy and against the principles of law.

That in so voting against the question of appeal, the three Republicans advocated a policy of having work performed by day labor and against the principle of Salt Lake workmen.

Parley's Canyon Work. And again: That when the work of cleaning Parley's canyon was proposed, these said Republicans urged that the work be placed in the hands of the board of public works, instead of being done by day labor as advocated by the Democrats and in favor of the board of public works. That the Democrats are on record as having voted for the day labor system. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the workmen of Salt Lake City, in meeting assembled, that we condemn the action of the Republican members aforesaid, two of whom, Robertson and Buckle, are candidates for re-election.

That we endorse the action of the Democratic members in voting to sustain the workmen of this city.

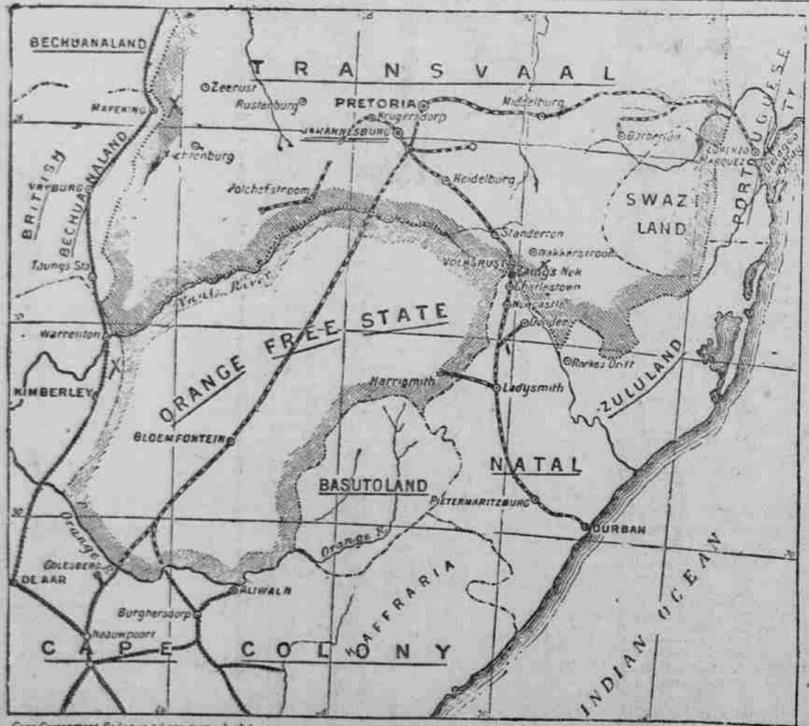

That we know of no way of judging the future but by the past and by the promises which are held out to us, and whereas, the Democratic party, by its antielection platform, pledge themselves to the interests of the workmen in the following plank of the platform:

"We insist that only bona fide residents shall be employed on the public work or shall be awarded public contracts, and so far as practicable the work in the several city departments shall be done by day labor."

Be it Resolved, That we endorse the Democratic ticket placed before the people at election this fall.

Speech of Stephen Tyne. But two speeches were made during the evening, but they were full of Democratic spirit and enthusiasm. Stephen Tyne was the first speaker. He took for his subject a circular which was issued to laborers by the Republican city committee, and was signed "A Fellow Laborer." Its purport was that the Republican party had always legislated for the benefit of the workman, and to back up that statement the truth was twisted in a way familiar only to the Lannan clique. All of the fallacies of the circular were exposed by Mr. Tyne in a convincing manner.

"The Republican party has always been an enemy to the laborer," he said.
