

PLANS FOR BIG EVENT

Preparing For National Livestock Convention.

STIRRING UP INTEREST

MEETING HELD YESTERDAY AND PRELIMINARIES BEGUN.

Five or Six Thousand People Will Attend the Association's Meeting in This City Next January and a Week's Reception and Entertainment Will Be Provided.

The first steps toward the reception and entertainment of the National Livestock association in this city next January were taken yesterday. At the invitation of Secretary Callister of the Utah Wool Growers' association a few stockmen met in the offices of J. H. Moyle to discuss plans for an organization, under the operations of which the convention can be suitably provided for, and the large number of delegates and visitors it will bring into the state and city may be entertained.

J. C. Leary was made chairman of the meeting, and T. A. Callister, secretary. In stating the purpose of the gathering Mr. Leary declared it to be his opinion, as well as that of many others with whom he had talked on the subject, that the state, and more especially the city, would be called upon to provide quarters and almost a week's entertainment next January for 5,000 or 6,000 people. The assurances which he had received, and those which he had given all returning delegates from Fort Worth, were of a character to establish the willingness of the home folks to do the proper thing by these visitors. He was confident that this disposition was general, and its expression could be secured and attached to this movement as soon as it could be organized and a start made.

United in Sentiment.

John C. Mackey thought the initial steps toward the organization of the movement should be made soon, and he had hoped that action to that end could be taken at this preliminary meeting. In his later remarks, however, the present gathering was too small numerically to undertake the work of organization. He expressed an ambition that Utah should distinguish herself on this occasion, the disinterested cooperation of everybody he wanted the first moves in the matter made along lines that would attract every sympathetic interest.

O. P. Hatch of Woods Cross spoke in the same strain, and Chief Devine of the fire department promised his aid for the movement in every manner which would not entail neglect of his official duties.

Henry Harker of Nelson, S. T. Rigby and others present manifested a desire to help the project along, and spoke for themselves and others in assuring that Utah and Salt Lake ought to do this reception up right.

Committee to Begin Work.

The following motion by John C. Mackey was finally adopted:

Resolved, That the chairman appoint a committee of twelve to prepare lists of committees for the proper reception and entertainment of the National Livestock association next January. And that this committee of twelve report during the session of the Wool Growers' association in the hall of the city on the afternoon of April 8 next.

The committee appointed was as follows: Chairman, James H. Moyle; Hal W. Brown, James Devine, Jesse M. Smith, E. H. Callister, W. H. Hargh, John C. Mackey, James C. Leary, Henry Harker, John H. White, O. P. Hatch, S. T. Rigby.

The secretary was requested to ask the Wool Growers' association to include in its call for the meeting mentioned an invitation to merchants, railroad men and other interested citizens to attend the forthcoming meeting, and to solicit the aid of the city press toward securing an attendance.

Mr. Moyle, as chairman of the committee of twelve, announces that the latter will meet in his office at 2 p. m., April 5.

DISAPPEARANCE OF DEAF MUTE

ANDREW JENSEN WANDERS AWAY FROM HOME.

Is Seventy-five Years Old and His Friends Are Very Much Alarmed About Him.

Deaf and dumb, without a penny and 75 years of age, Andrew Jensen has been missing from the home of his son, S. P. Jensen, since Friday morning. The most diligent search on the part of the police failed to reveal his whereabouts yesterday, and the family is greatly worried over the old man's disappearance.

Jensen's home is on Ninth East, between Twelfth and Thirteenth South. The old man has been ill for a long time, and it is believed he wandered away in a fit of mental abstraction. He is deaf and dumb, and his appearance would naturally attract attention. Anybody seeing or hearing of the old man would confer a favor by communicating with the officers.

POLICE PICKUPS.

A. T. Hallett, a blind man, complained to the police yesterday that he had seen two boys enter his barn on Fourth West and Fifth South streets Friday night, and put the can on his horse's tail. The frightened brute nearly went frantic, running wildly down the street with the tomato receptacle dangling artistically around his heels, and straying up his enraptured career in the wind-pounded with $1.50 charges attached to him. Officer Sperry will investigate.

Jailer Kimball yesterday burned everything in the old bank house behind the city hall at the order of the police committee of the city council. The jailer derived a great deal of pleasure from watching the vermin-covered blankets go in smoke. The bunk house will go next.

Frank Kensall, the trustee who last walked away from the morgue, has been heard from. He writes to colored printer named Johnson from Grand Junction, saying he will be in Cripple Creek when the letter reaches Salt Lake, and sending his regards to "Oom" Sol.

Charles Wittenberg was arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Sling Wah, charging assault and battery. The case is said to be a continuation of the Anglo-Saxon-Mongolian feud down in the Bloody Third.

COOPER TO TEACHERS

Superintendent Tells of His Recent Trip East.

HEARD SOME GOOD TALKS

MANY NOTED EDUCATORS IN CHICAGO.

Attended a Meeting of the Department of Superintendence of the National Educational Association—This is the Most Important Branch of the Parent Body.

The teachers of the city were again fortunate yesterday in having the pleasure of listening to an address by Superintendent Cooper, who took the occasion of the recent meeting of the department of national superintendence of the National Educational Association as a subject upon which to speak.

"This department," said Mr. Cooper, "is the most important of the national association, because it is here that matters pertaining to the educational interests of the nation are brought up for discussion, and the foremost educators of America are present and take part in its proceedings. These men come from Maine to Washington, and from Duluth to Birmingham, Ala., and include presidents of colleges and universities, superintendents and supervisors of public schools, as well as state superintendents."

At the recent meeting in Chicago the principal theme for discussion in Mr. Cooper's estimation was the commercial aspects of education in secondary schools, and was a fruitful one. The one-man power in school supervision was presented and discussed at considerable length.

Valuable Papers Read.

Professor Atwater of Wesleyan university, Connecticut, an acknowledged authority on scientific instruction, read a valuable paper upon the subject, and his views, which were original and which will mark a new departure in that field, were so important that they were referred to a committee whose duty it will be to report at the next meeting, which will also be held in Chicago.

Mr. Cooper had the honor of being at Duluth to Birmingham, Ala., and from nine different states were present, and which he characterized as the most enjoyable of any he had ever attended. During his absence Mr. Cooper visited a number of schools in Chicago, and gave a graphic account of the work he saw there, and the different types of teachers whom he saw, and whom he classified as follows: The unsatisfactory teacher, the dissatisfied, the beam-bending teacher, the prejudging, the optimistic and the faithful.

INFANT BANDITS GO FOR GORE

AND ARE TORTURED UNDER THEIR OWN KOPJE

THEY WERE TORTURED UNDER THEIR OWN KOPJE

The French revolution would be forgotten. It would be the survival of the fittest. The streets of Santiago de Cuba would be a mass of lights and livers, and when, for want of victims, the reign of terror ceased, "Press on!" would be the slogan, until Porto Rico, Madrid, Luzon and the Transvaal were subdued or devastated.

So, just as soon as "Mick" had finished milking Friday night, the signal to depart was given, and the heartless band started down State street for Cuba, via Murray, armed to the teeth with two prodigious appetites and 55 cents. They reached the third canal that night before darkness came on. Unable to obtain something to eat, they fished, with cartridges for bait and carbines for poles, but without the suckers would not bite.

The bandits sought a resting place in Farmer Wayback's barn, but the piercing wind blew through the apertures and the night became dark. Black clouds hovered near, and a feeling of uneasiness over the outlaw band. Suddenly "Bloody Mick" dropped to his knees in terror, convinced that he and his pal had offended the great Jehovah.

When the moon came up that night, the stinking forms might have been seen coming cityward on the State road. At 4 a. m. they passed the guard at the city and county building, and a few minutes later knocked at their respective parents' roofs, where they were so energetically received that chairs are too hard for comfort. Lester milked the cow that morning (staying up), and "Micky" chopped the wood.

DECLARED HIS BELIEF THAT HE WAS ST. PATRICK THE SECOND

An aged couple, who had come to town to spend the 17th of Ireland and their surplus cash, evidently got more for their money than they expected, for in enjoying a social time they acquired a pair of beautiful emerald jags, which did not need an elaborate setting to make an effective show. He was of the old Kilarney type, with a brogue as broad as the back of P. Henry, and she possessed the characteristics of a lassie who had kissed the Blarney stone. These qualities, together with the quantity of their respective jags, drew a large number of small boys in their wake.

And as they oozed up State street at a slow shamble, foot-and-hall, bowing-to-your-partners, balance-all sort of a gait, the crowd waxed strong. Women called children who hurried out of their way in front, fell in behind to witness the antics of the old ones, but the old ones took no notice of the crowd, so absorbed were they in their own conversation. The climax, however, came as they reached the corner of South Temple, when the old man said:

"Begorry, Tille, O' beilave o'im sin't Patrick the second."

"Ond (hic) phy thot, Briz?" she answered.

"Beccuz O' can see 'em."

"That?"

"The snakes an' serpents, to be shure; O' beilave o'im droiv'in' them out of Americee."

The crowd were able to go no farther, and "Tille" and "Briz" were allowed to pursue their way in peace.

POLICE ARE MUCH PLEASED OVER PROSPECT FOR NEW JAIL

"Our new jail" was the topic discussed among police headquarters yesterday. The city council is getting ready to build such a one was the most pleasant news heard in many a day.

A number of suggestions were made by the officers, none of whom seemed to believe that it would be practical to erect the jail any distance from the police station, as has been proposed. Several times a day the police find it necessary to interview prisoners; then they have to be booked by the desk sergeant before being locked up; the trips to and from court every day must be considered, and on the whole the authorities look upon the proposed site opposite the city and county building as very impracticable, unless a police station is built adjoining.

It is said that the city had plans drawn some time ago for a jail that was to be added to the present police station at the same cost of the one now proposed—$200,000. Knutsford corner, however, is to be rendered almost impossible, as in going to court they walked through a hall into the court room, and there would never be any room for the prisoners. But that jail was never built. It is suggested that the city could do no better than to go ahead with the old plan now.

LIVELY RUNAWAY ACCIDENT ALONG THIRD SOUTH STREET

A sensational runaway occurred last evening about 5 o'clock, while the streets were crowded with Saturday shoppers. H. J. Lewis, a glove drummer staying at the Knutsford, was the driver, and he had a very narrow escape, as did several pedestrians and a wheelman by the name of Edwards.

Lewis had been out with a young woman all the afternoon in a low, rubber-tired vehicle, driving a somewhat spirited animal. After taking his company home, Lewis proceeded down West Temple street, and while passing in front of the Tribune, somebody woke up the horse, and he became alarmed and started. Lewis proceeded until the driver lost all control over him.

As the animal dashed around the corner of Third South street east, the driver leaped out, and the horse cornered. Edwards, the wheelman, turned in from the street about the same time, hearing the shouts of the crowd, and it looked as though he would be run over and killed. He fell off his wheel and made for the Sanitarium doorway, not a second too soon, for the bicycle was caught and smashed against the corner of the Knutsford.

The horse, however, dashed on over the sidewalk, the buggy turning over several times, and across Main street, two young girls narrowly escaping with their lives on the St. Elmo corner.

An excited crowd followed the runaway, yelling themselves frantic to warn those along the street. The horse ran in a large number of streets, and most dealers are busier than for months past showing property that is on the market. They all report that it is easy to get customers, but very hard to get property to suit and very hard to induce owners to let go of their property when buyers are brought to them.

Building activity has been resumed as a result of good weather, and all the architects in the city are busy getting out details for work now under way. In addition to this there is a large number of new buildings planned, principally moderate priced residences. Permits to build and to make improvements were issued last week as follows by Inspector Williams on the local stocks most in demand:

MUCH BUILDING PLANNED

Real Estate Market Shows More Life.

BANK CLEARINGS MAKE HEAVY GAINS.

Stock Market Was Not Specially Active, But All Securities Held Their Own in High-Class Shares—List of Dividends Paid By Various Concerns—Building Permits.

Local business is good, although unseasonable. The merchants with heavy stocks of heavy winter goods on hand are wondering what they will do with their unusually large surplus, but the dealers in light spring fabrics are in the best of spirits. The spring trade has opened earlier than usual, and with bright prospects for a big trade. This condition applies only to Salt Lake. The small dealers throughout the state are said to be quite blue over the disappointing trade in winter goods, the slowness of collections and the light spring trade.

The bank clearings continue good, even compared with the heavy clearings of last year. Yesterday they were $49,444.83, compared with $24,353.13 for the corresponding day of last year. For the week they were $227,421.65, compared with $139,662.63 for the corresponding week of last year. The gain has been heavy throughout the entire month thus far.

Dull Week in Stocks.

It was a dull week in local stocks, no sales of importance being reported, except about 800 shares of Utah Sugar stock. The price of that stock increased during the week from $14.40 to $15.00, as a result of the increase in the annual dividends from 10 per cent to 12 per cent, agreed upon at the directors' meeting during the week. Last year was a prosperous one for the company, and a good outlook for the future is considered very bright. April 1 another quarterly issue of $90,000 worth of the new stock will be issued to the present stockholders. This will have a tendency to bear the market again.

The following dividends will be paid within the next month on local stocks:

Table with 2 columns: Stock Name and Dividend Amount. Includes Home Fire, Co-op. Wagon & Machine Co., Utah Sugar, Heber J. Grant & Co., Salt Lake theatre, State Bank of Utah, Deseret Savings bank, Z. C. M. I., Zion's Savings Bank & Trust Co., Deseret National bank, Deseret Savings bank, State Bank of Utah, Zion's Savings bank, Utah Commercial & Savings, Z. C. M. I., Cunningham & Co., Co-op. Wagon & Machine Co., Home Fire, Deseret Savings bank, Clark, Eldredge & Co., R. M. B. Telephone Co., Ogden Sugar company, Utah Sugar, Salt Lake railway bonds, Mormon church bonds.

Awakening in Real Estate.

There is a reawakening in real estate that is most encouraging, and while no large transactions have been recorded for the week, there have been a large number of moderate priced properties being bought and sold. The market is becoming more active, and many buyers are being brought to them.

Building activity has been resumed as a result of good weather, and all the architects in the city are busy getting out details for work now under way. In addition to this there is a large number of new buildings planned, principally moderate priced residences.

Permits to build and to make improvements were issued last week as follows by Inspector Williams on the local stocks most in demand:

Woman's Democratic Club.

The card party given by the Woman's Democratic club at the residence of Mrs. Joseph L. Rawlins on Friday night was a distinct success, and the club members felt greatly encouraged over the result of their endeavor.

The third party of the series will be given at the home of Mrs. D. C. Dunbar, 348 North First West street, next Thursday night. All Democratic and Populist women are especially invited to participate, as well as the men and women of other political parties. It is hoped that the attendance on this occasion will surpass even the previous efforts of the club.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness results, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are cured by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. P. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by druggists, 75c.

TO IMPROVE LIBERTY PARK

GROUND WILL BE MADE VERY ATTRACTIVE.

BICYCLE TRACK TO BE PUT IN AND OTHER AMUSEMENT FEATURES—ARC LIGHTS ARRANGED FOR.

With the expenditure of but comparatively little money, Liberty park is to be made more attractive this season than ever. Chairman Hewlett of the city council committee which has direction over the park, reports that the grounds will soon be lighted at night with arc lights, a children's playground will be set apart in the northeast corner, and the bicycle track will be provided. The pond will be stocked with frisky pieces, and an ornamental entrance will be erected. The ravine back of the old mill will be converted into a run-way for the deer and other animals in the zoo annex.

While these improvements are in process of consummation, Parkkeeper Erickson is directing a general spring clean-up in the recreation line, every thing is looking so promising that the keeper, with justifiable pride, predicts the park's bowers of beauty will show to greater advantage this year than ever before.

An improvement which interests every wheelman and every driver of the horseflesh is Councilman Hartenstein's worthy effort to have a bicycle path constructed around the large circle at the inner edge. It is estimated that there are 10,000 bicyclists in Salt Lake, and they have long hoped for something to be done to give them the comfort while indulging the pleasures of a spring or summer afternoon and evening in Liberty park. Already several of the local wheel clubs have rendered aid in the project. Nine little girls from the Eleventh ward gave a "Motion Song," which had to be repeated to satisfy the audience. Samuel Newton of the Nineteenth ward also won much applause from the rendition of a violin solo. The Twenty-first ward was represented by two little girls, who gave a dialogue on the life of Joseph Smith.

Tots in a Duet.

After a duet by two tots of the Seventeenth ward, and a mandolin solo by Etta Browning of the Thirteenth ward, Joseph E. Taylor spoke to the children of the respect due their parents and teachers from the First ward, and President Nellie C. Taylor of the Y. L. M. I. A. Miss Louie B. Felt of the general board of directors, and Zina D. Young of the Relief society, all gave the children good advice, and complimented them on their good behavior at the conference.

After Miss Young had finished a duet was rendered by Sylvia and Francis Yowels of the First ward, and the meeting was dismissed by Little Elie Ellason, who gave the benediction.

Garbage Collectors Don't Make Regular Rounds. The health department is almost overwhelmed with complaints of property-owners and tenants in every part of the city over the unsatisfactory manner in which the garbage collection is being conducted.

It is proposed later on to collect a license tax of 50 cents or $1 a year on all bicycles, and apply the revenue to the improvement of the city's gravel paths for wheelmen in all parts of the city outside the paved districts.

FARMINGTON MAN DEAD. Charles Meadows Expires at Valley House. Charles Meadows, an old resident of Farmington, died last night at the Valley House, after an illness of two days of pneumonia. He was alone in the city, and his family in Davis county knows nothing of his death as yet. It is not known whether or not he has relatives in this city. The body will be kept at the Valley House until word comes from Farmington.

By trade the deceased was a gardener. He appears to be about 65 years of age.

CHARLES COXETER DIES. Albert J. Seare Receives Distressing News. Deputy County Clerk Albert J. Seare is in receipt of the distressing news of the death of his old benefactor and Sunday school teacher, Charles Coxeter, at Abingdon, England, recently, at the advanced age of 93. The old gentleman was a noted Nonconformist, and during his seven years' service in the Sabbath schools did much to shape the destinies of hundreds of young men who revere his memory as a wise philosopher and a true friend.

A few years ago, when Mr. Seare was on a prorelying tour in England, he had the pleasure of re-forming the strong friendship which had ripened between them years before.

WANTS NEW HORSES. Supervisor Condie Tired of City's Teams. Unless the city council does something Tuesday night in the direction of giving Superintendent Condie authority to buy new horses for the street and irrigation department, he will seek membership in the society for prevention of cruelty to animals and enlist the aid of the city in inducing the council to accede to his urgent appeals. The crippled, worn-out horses used by the department have reached that stage of uselessness that humanitarians consider it a duty to have them should be taken across the river and killed.

TOTS IN CONFERENCE

Primary Meeting For Salt Lake Is Held.

PROGRAMME WAS GOOD

CHILDREN GAVE SOME EXCELLENT SELECTIONS.

Interesting Exhibition by Little Ones in the Assembly Hall Yesterday Morning—Talks Delivered by Leaders in This Branch of the Church Work.

The primary conference of the Salt Lake stake was held in the Assembly hall yesterday morning. A long and interesting programme was rendered by representatives of the various ward primary associations, and addresses were made by some of the stake and state officers of the association. The large hall was well filled and the audience of little ones was a very quiet and attentive one. As the programme was completed in the morning there was no afternoon session held.

The meeting was opened by the audience singing, "We Are the Children of the Saints," after which Master David Cummings dedicated the meeting with prayer. A song of "Welcome" was rendered by a chorus from the Nineteenth ward, and Tillie Thomas of the Nineteenth read an essay on "Primary Work." Then followed "The Story of Samuel," repeated by little Elie Ellason of the Fifth ward. Nine little girls from the Eleventh ward gave a "Motion Song," which had to be repeated to satisfy the audience. Samuel Newton of the Nineteenth ward also won much applause from the rendition of a violin solo. The Twenty-first ward was represented by two little girls, who gave a dialogue on the life of Joseph Smith.
