

DUBOIS IS COME DRETT

Ex-Senator Brings Cheering News Down From Idaho.

STATE SAFE FOR BRYAN

WILL ROLL UP MAJORITY OF FROM 10,000 TO 15,000.

Senator Fred T. Dubois, after going through nearly every county in his state, brought the good word down yesterday that Idaho will roll up a majority of from 10,000 to 15,000 for Bryan and Democracy.

"I was with Mr. Towne in nine counties of Idaho," said Senator Dubois, "and from my observations during that tour and prior thereto, I am safe in saying Mr. Bryan will have a majority of at least 10,000 and more likely 15,000."

The senator is very confident of victory in the senatorial fight. When questioned as to the truth of the claim made by Idaho Republicans that Mr. Towne is a Republican, he replied:

"There is absolutely no truth in that. I have been in Fremont, Bannock, Blaine and Blaine counties, in each of which the Mormons are a majority of the population, and so far as I could discover, there was no disposition to raise old issues and stir up the passions. I was greeted most cordially everywhere."

REPUBLICANS MAKING MISTAKE.

"My judgment is that the Republicans are making a great mistake in their endeavor to resurrect animosities of the past. My own observation teaches me that in Idaho the Mormon people vote the ticket representing their principles and the nominees on their ticket more closely than the Gentiles. Of course it would not be a matter of wonder if here and there, now and then, some Mormon Democrat should oppose me on personal grounds. I find some Gentile Democrats who are not supporting me for the same reason, but this occurs in Idaho as elsewhere, and has been active in politics for any length of time."

"On the other hand, I believe that for every Democrat who will not support me throughout the state there will be at least three Republicans who will, and everyone in Idaho who reads the statement will know I am speaking within bounds."

"Yes," continued the senator, "if all the states were as safe as Idaho there would be no doubt of the election of Colonel Bryan with a congress which would restore bimetallicism, destroy trusts, stop this tendency toward imperialism, take the country out of the hands of the few and restore it to the many."

IN THE POLICE COURT.

James Warren, the drunken sailor who smashed in two doors on Plum alley and raised a general disturbance, was arraigned in police court yesterday on a charge of drunk. Warren acknowledged that he had imbibed rather too freely, but declared that he only accidentally put his foot through the doors. The judge informed him that the "accidental" affair would cost him $5 or twenty-five days.

Charles Arnold, a young fellow who claimed to come from Springville, was charged with vagrancy. The arresting officer alleged that Arnold had "struck" several people on the street for money. The prisoner pleaded guilty, but asked for a chance to get out of town. The judge told him to get a start for Springville right away.

F. H. Fleming, who said he was a miner, was up on a charge of petty larceny. Fleming pleaded guilty, but when he left he incidentally picked up an overcoat belonging to William B. Wainland and walked off with it. Fleming declared he didn't know anything about it, but said he might have been guilty. Sergeant Burbridge had seen him take the coat and knew he was guilty. "Thirty dollars or thirty days," said the judge.

C. P. Madsen, the carpenter who was tried Thursday on a charge of exhibiting a deadly weapon, appeared yesterday to receive his sentence. He promised faithfully to put the gun away and not use it any more. The judge told the defendant that he thought there was no provocation for any citizen in this day and time to carry a gun around the streets. The judge said, however, that in consideration of the statement made by Madsen, he would be more lenient in his sentence than he otherwise would. Twenty-five dollars or the fine imposed, and Madsen paid it.

Mike Cleary, the laborer who swiped a pair of chain looms from the Mountain Ice company and sold them to a second hand store, was arraigned on a charge of burglary. The plaintiff, Albert Bastine, alleged that Cleary had broken into the house and stolen the looms.

Cleary, however, declared that he was sleeping in the house and had been for two weeks. The defendant pleaded not guilty to the charge and his case was set for today at 2 p. m. He was placed under $500 bonds in default of which he was turned over to the sheriff.

F. J. Kelly, the cook who skipped from the Railroad Exchange hotel with arranged on Wednesday night, was arraigned on a charge of embezzlement. He pleaded not guilty and was placed under $200 bonds pending his hearing today. He was turned over to the sheriff.

NEW YORK ALREADY FEELS EFFECT OF THE STRIKE.

MAKES A DECIDED HIT

SUPPLY IN SIGHT WILL LAST FORTY-FIVE DAYS.

New York, Sept. 14.—The Herald says: New York City is face to face with a coal famine, the period of distress which may recall to the old inhabitants the coal strike of 1873, when the anthracite cost the consumer $12 to $14 a ton.

This city, of all others, will bear the brunt of any coal famine which the labor trouble may develop. The amount of coal now in the hands of New York dealers, now on the way to the city and in the hands of the coal companies, above ground, is estimated at only forty-five days' supply, which means about 1,250,000 tons.

MINERS ARE QUITTING.

Men Do Not Wait For Monday Before Striking.

Seranton, Pa., Sept. 14.—Few men were working today in the eighteen mines owned by the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad company, which employs 10,000 mine workers. The colliers of the Ontario & Western railroad, employing 2,000, were shut down, the men having decided to quit after they had ascertained for work.

The Delaware & Hudson company mines are working with a small force. The local unions of this company's employees decided almost to a man to go on strike.

The individual operations, embracing more than thirty mines and breakers, are likewise quiet, and the condition existing throughout the anthracite region is near a complete shut-down.

Tonight will see the practical closing of every mine and breaker in the anthracite region, extending from Pittston on the south to Forest City on the north.

These workings give employment to nearly 55,000 men and boys, more than one-third of the entire number of employees in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania.

OPERATORS ARE FIRM.

Say They Will Close Their Collieries.

New York, Sept. 14.—R. M. Oliphant, president of the Delaware & Hudson railroad, said he would not reply to the telegram from John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, demanding arbitration of the differences existing between the company and its employees.

"It seems to me," said Mr. Oliphant, "that the whole thing is a complete shut-down of the coal mines in the anthracite region, extending from Pittston on the south to Forest City on the north. These workings give employment to nearly 55,000 men and boys, more than one-third of the entire number of employees in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania."

DARING THIEVES MAKE RAID ON THE SHERIFF AT OGDEN

Officers Sperry and Davis are in "hot pursuit" of a thief who stole a horse, saddle and harness from Sheriff Lane of Ogden a few days ago.

The horse and outfit were stolen from Ogden on Sept. 1, and it was learned that the thief was headed for Salt Lake. The police here were notified of the matter, and Davis and Sperry undertook to find him. The horse was located in north Salt Lake, but was left there in order to lead to a detection of the thief and the finding of the other stuff.

The thief hid the saddle and other articles in the old soap works building on Ninth West street. James Wilkinson, the owner of the works, found them there and suspecting something crooked took them to his home at 125 South Third West, and reported the matter to the officers. The stuff was brought to the station yesterday, and Sheriff Lane, who was down from Ogden, identified it.

A valuable dog belonging to the owner of the horse, and which evidently was very much attached to the latter, followed the horse when the thief rode off. The dog was found with the horse here in the city.

COL. AND MRS. WEBBER HOME

COMPLETED A FIVE MONTHS' EUROPEAN TOUR.

CONDITIONS IN ENGLAND AND FRANCE DESCRIBED—UNDER A WAR CLOUD—EXPOSITION A FAILURE.

Colonel T. G. Webber was at his desk in the Z. C. M. I. yesterday afternoon for the first time in five months, having returned with Mrs. Webber from an extensive tour of Europe. His vacation, the first of any importance in a number of years, was greatly enjoyed. Colonel Webber states, his visit to England after an absence of twenty-four years being of especial interest and satisfaction.

Colonel and Mrs. T. G. Webber left Salt Lake in the middle of April and sailed for Naples direct upon reaching New York. They visited the ruins of Pompeii and while in that vicinity saw Vesuvius in eruption, obtaining a splendid view of the great volcano. After leaving Naples, the Salt Lakers went to Rome and later to Florence, Pisa, Milan, Venice, Genoa, Nice, Monte Carlo, Switzerland and finally passed over into Paris and London.

Colonel Webber stated that business conditions in England were all that could be desired. The fighting in South Africa has left sorrow in thousands of homes and caused some depression in business, but as a rule matters are in good shape.

"In France there was a distinct anti-British feeling," said Colonel Webber, "but it was not so noticeable after Admiral Seymour had complimented the French marines so highly on their bravery in China. Both countries are expending immense sums of money fortifying their coast defenses. They seem to be ready under a war cloud that will sooner of later break."

"The Paris exposition is a disappointment. It cannot be compared with the Chicago fair, although the display of arts at Paris is perhaps more elaborate. There is a noticeable scarcity of British exhibits and in machinery America takes second place, with France first."

"As a financial proposition it will be a failure, I believe. They have already reduced the admission price and there seems to be no system governing the exposition."

Colonel and Mrs. Webber met a number of Utah people while away, visiting the Mormon church headquarters at 42 Islington, Liverpool. They sailed for home from Southampton Sept. 1 on the St. Louis.
