

Salt Lake Woman Who Made Bonnets for Queen.

Living in modest quarters in this city is a woman who, half a century ago, used to make bonnets for Queen Victoria. She is Mrs. E. J. D. Roundy of 422 West First North street, the widow of Jared Roundy, and who for sixteen years has been in the business in Salt Lake City. In the early '50s she was employed in what was known as the Queen's Millinery house, at 95 New Bond street, London, where headgear was made exclusively for members of the royal family. Her is an interesting story in connection with the death of England's long reigning monarch, for, among other things, Mrs. Roundy has recollections of the long ago in England when Victoria was crowned queen.

"I was only 6 years old when Victoria was crowned," said Mrs. Roundy yesterday, "but I remember that there were two young girls given all over England, and my father, who was George Merley Drake, carried me on his shoulder to one held in Devonshire. That was the town where I was born and where I learned millinery. The story of how I came into the queen's house is long and was told for in those days only the finest milliners in the land were employed there, and I was but a country girl at the time. I had a very good education in London and made living for myself. When novices were taken into the establishment they were charged with the making of a bonnet, and I was the only one who was not a milliner for a long time. I was staying at the house of a cousin, who was milliner for Lady Hamilton. At the time of the coronation, the queen ordered four mourning bonnets for members of the family to wear at the funeral, and I was the only one who was asked to get to work on them. Lady Hamilton found out that I had done the work and sent for me. She advised me to leave my father and go to London to work for her. I went to the millinery shops to work, and gave me a note to Miss Newton, president of the Milliners' Institute, asking her to find a place for me in the city. Miss Newton the only vacancy she knew of was in the queen's house, which was conducted by the royal milliner, Miss McClelland. Miss Newton hesitated, but there was no way around Lady Hamilton's note, so she sent me there with another note and some recommendations. When you see Miss McClelland, hold up my note and watch her face. If she frowns hold up Lady Hamilton's note, and if she smiles, Miss McClelland frowned very much."

Heitfeld Presents the Certificate of Election.

NEW SENATOR ABSENT HE WAS GREETING HIS FELLOW TOWNSMEN IN BLACKFOOT.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The first business in the senate today was the presentation of the credentials of Fred T. Dubois as senator-elect of Idaho, and of Shelby M. Cullom as senator-elect of Illinois. The presentation being in Mr. Dubois' case by Mr. Heitfeld and in Mr. Cullom's case by Mr. Cullom.

The desk of the Illinois senator was covered with flowers and upon his appearance, the members of the senate were cordially greeted by his associates. Mr. Dubois is still in Idaho.

RECEPTION AT BLACKFOOT. Senator Dubois Meets His Fellow Townsman.

(Special to The Herald.) Blackfoot, Ida., Jan. 26.—A public reception was held here this afternoon at the court house in honor of Senator Dubois. All business was suspended in the city, and the streets were thronged with people, regardless of politics, to greet the new senator.

The senator spoke feelingly of his long association with the people of Blackfoot and assured the people that he was concerned on him was as grateful to him as they were of affection from the people among whom he had lived.

DIVORCE REFORM FOR WYOMING BILL IS INTRODUCED IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 26.—During the past few years Wyoming has gained for itself an unsavory reputation as a state of easy divorces and it was to end this that a bill has been introduced in the legislature.

Cheyenne and other cities in the south-eastern part of the state have been the scene of a divorce mania. There were 156 divorces granted in 1900, and 137 in 1901. Under the law that the requirement is a residence of six months in the state, and a decree of divorce can be secured with very little trouble.

WATCHMAN DEAD IN DEPOT. Building is Burned, Supposedly by Burglars.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Jan. 26.—The Denver & Rio Grande freight depot in this city was burned this morning. Watchman L. C. Wells was found dead in the building, lying in a pool of blood. It is supposed that he was killed by burglars who then fired the building.

The loss was estimated at $5,000. Much freight was lost, and the loss was not yet known.

SEVERAL MOUNTAIN STATE PEOPLE RECEIVE APPOINTMENTS.

Washington, Jan. 26.—The president today sent the following nominations to the senate: Idaho—A. G. Nettleton, secretary of the state; Utah—George D. Corson of Wyoming, agent for the state; Colorado—Melvin A. Deering, of Colorado, receiver of the land office at Gunnison; and Rev. Oliver C. Miller of California, chairman of the United States army.

RENO ATTORNEY DROWNED.

Reno, Nev., Jan. 26.—E. E. Copeland, an attorney in Reno, was found dead in the Cochran Irrigating ditch this morning. He was drowned while going home at an early hour this morning. Copeland became bewildered and making a wrong turn fell into the ditch. Upon the whole, the most that can be said is that both the executive and congress are discussing the wisdom of an extra session, and that no conclusion has been reached on the point.

GAMBLING BILL IS DYING. Belief in Boise it Will Fail—Doings of Legislature.

Boise, Idaho, Jan. 26.—The house today received a strong protest, signed by Boise residents, against the passage of the bill to repeal the anti-gambling law. It is practically conceded the measure will not pass.

A resolution for constitutional amendment for board of arbitration is being considered. Compulsory arbitration is found to be unconstitutional and the proposed amendment is being rejected.

SHERIFF'S SLAYER CAUGHT. John Wolf Is Taken After an Exciting Chase.

Virginia City, Mont., Jan. 26.—Word was received here this afternoon that John Wolf, who murdered Sheriff Summers near Egan's yesterday, had been captured in the upper Madison valley, and is being held in custody in search of him.

The capture was effected after an exciting chase of many miles. The murderer was mounted on a superb animal and had ridden to a great distance as possible between himself and his pursuers. He stopped at a ranch house, and the road and secured something to eat. The ranchman said he was looking for a bunch of cattle that he had lost. He had devoured some food, and, remounting his horse, rode away as fast as the animal could carry him.

A COMBINATION OF DOCTORS. BOTH MEDICAL SOCIETIES PASS RESOLUTIONS.

The medical men of Ogden have entered into a combination against what is known as "irregular practitioners." At a joint meeting of the two medical societies held Friday night, strong resolutions were unanimously passed wherein the doctors assert that they will sign no more death certificates where the dead person was treated by a non-graduate or an irregular practitioner.

ELECTRICAL MARVELS FOR BUFFALO FAIR. (Omaha Bee.)

Wonderful as it will be in all its departments, it is as an exhibit of the wonders of electrical power that the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo, which will open next spring, will outdo all that has preceded it.

Buffalo is but a few miles from Niagara Falls, where one of the greatest feats of modern times has within a few years been accomplished in the harnessing of electric power. The old problem of first burning coal and then creating steam by means of it was done away with at Niagara when they set the great turbine water wheels in motion and began to use the mighty force of the greatest waterfall in all the world.
