

WASHES AND SPRAYS FOR FRUIT PESTS

Experiments Made at Different Government Stations.

USE OF PARIS GREEN

SUCCESS FOLLOWS APPLICATION OF KEROSENE.

(Special Correspondence.) Washington, April 2.—A bulletin of interest to farmers and fruit growers regarding experiment station work has just been issued by the department of agriculture. Discussing the subject of insecticides the bulletin states that it has been observed by entomologists and fruit growers that the results obtained by the use of Paris green varied to a considerable extent. The California station has recently made some investigations of Paris green as an insecticide, as well as of the damage to foliage often noted as a result of its use.

As a result of these studies, three classes of unsaturated Paris green are recognized: Bogus, adulterated and low-grade. By Bogus Paris green is meant one that contains a considerable amount of inert substances, such as gypsum and flour, which are the essential constituents of pure Paris green. It is not believed that much Paris green of this nature is upon the market.

By adulterated Paris green is meant that to which some other cheaper and usually non-poisonous substance has been added for the purpose of increasing the weight, for example, gypsum and flour. A low-grade Paris green is one in which Paris green which contains a low percentage of arsenic. To raise the percentage of arsenic in such grades of Paris green it is customary to add free arsenious acid (white arsenic). Such a mixture, however, is very dangerous for spraying purposes, because arsenious acid is soluble in water and is likely to injure the foliage. This injury cannot always be prevented by the above facts it has been generally recommended for this purpose.

Standard for Paris Green. In several states laws have been passed which establish a standard for Paris green. These laws, however, simply require that the Paris green shall contain a fixed amount of arsenic (50 per cent) without specifying its form. It is evident from the above facts that the greatest benefit to fruit growers the inspection should take into consideration the form of the Paris green.

One of the chief advantages of pure Paris green as an insecticide is its slight solubility in water and the consequent possibility of using it in considerable quantities without injuring the foliage of plants. When, however, deficiency in arsenic content is made with a soluble form of arsenic, the insecticide is greatly reduced.

There is considerable difference of opinion as to the extent of such adulteration. Of twenty-five samples of Paris green examined during 1899 by the New York state station in compliance with the state law providing for inspection of this article, only one or two showed evidence of admixture of white arsenic.

This station states that the color of Paris green is changed to such an extent by admixture of white arsenic and similar materials that one can usually detect an adulterated article by its appearance. Paris green which is intensely bright green and uniform. When adulterated, the green loses something of its intensity and is grayish.

The bulletin further states that during the past few years the San Jose scale has caused so much alarm among the fruit growers that the produce has been unusually energetic efforts which have been put forth in this direction have resulted in the production of methods which are useful against a number of other insects, as well as against the San Jose scale.

Washes for the Scale. Besides the method of fumigation with hydrocyanic acid gas, various washes and sprays have been tried with more or less success against scale insects. Kerosene oil, diluted and undiluted, has been experimented with in a number of states, and recently crude petroleum has attracted attention as a remedy against the San Jose scale. A rather extensive series of experiments with this substance was recently conducted by Professor J. H. Smith at the New Jersey station, the results of which were such that a number of fruit growers were asked to make experiments on their own orchards, in order to determine whether the crude oil could be safely used as a spray or wash by an unskilled horticulturist.

The trees treated with the crude oil included all the ordinary fruit trees except the cherry, and numbered about 4,000. The crude oil was applied as a wash and as a spray. In the form of a spray it was used undiluted and also diluted with water in various proportions. These treatments were at first made during the winter, but later the oil was tried as a summer spray. Considerable injury to the trees resulted from its use upon the foliage of fruit trees during the growing season. The station, therefore, concludes that "Crude petroleum is not suited for a summer application, either pure or diluted with water, and in winter it is fully as effective against scale insects as kerosene, and is harmless to the most tender varieties and on the youngest trees."

As the oil remains on the surface a long time, it makes no difference whether it is put on undiluted or mixed with water. It is not so in the case of kerosene, which is washed off by rain. An undiluted form of the station recommends that an apparatus which makes a fine spray be used for its application. When this is not

THE EDUCATIONAL

State Superintendent Nelson returned Thursday evening from an official visit to the schools of Sevier county. Last evening he left for the "Land of Moab," where he expects to address some of the teachers Monday and Tuesday evenings. Mr. Ashton, the superintendent of the Salt Lake county schools, spent the past week visiting the county schools. The schools are still in a crowded condition, although the usual spring exodus is imminent. No spring vacation has been expected in the county schools, but a meeting of closing early in June.

Miss Morgan and Miss Wishard of the College Institute spent part of the week in Ogden, visiting friends. Miss Barbara Joffer of the Franklin college is expected to arrive in Ogden to assume her new duties on the Payroll presentation. Miss Joffer will be stationed just outside of Tacoma in one of the most beautiful sections of the northwest. Edward Hall will be closed during the coming week for a spring vacation. Hammond hall, Collegiate Institute and St. Mary's hall, the spring vacation the past week with the public schools.

University Notes. Professor George M. Marshall will conduct chapel exercises during the coming week. Tuesday morning last the Pyper-Whitney-Spencer-ratriek quartette furnished the music for chapel exercises. They rendered, "Beauty's eyes," "Sweet Alice, Ben Bolt," and "The Story of the Tower." There has been an unusual number of visitors at the university during the past week. Among the distinguished guests who were seen were Miss Grace Nelson, Miss Valentine Murphy, 90, and Miss Edith K. Watson, all of the same class; Mr. James Gibson, '95, now a member of the Brigham Young college at Logan; and Mr. A. J. Ledger, a member of the faculty of the same institution.

The debate preliminary to the intercollegiate debate with the University of Nevada will take place on Friday. The contestants have entered, and these will debate in pairs. This making six separate contests. The three papers which were worked in the preliminary will be named as the members of the debating team. It is believed that the last two weeks of carolous weather nothing could be done in the way of practicing. It is suggested by Professor Smith that equally good results may be obtained by using the apparatus which thoroughly mixes the oil and water as it is applied, the oil being diluted with 60 to 70 parts of water.

THE ISLE OF PINES

Treaty of Paris Did Not Mention it as Part of Cuba. (New York Sun.) The fact that the United States senate refused to admit that the Isle of Pines is an integral part of Cuba, stipulating in the resolution concerning the relations with Cuba that the question of its sovereignty shall be left to treaty in the future, is being used by promoters to induce the United States to purchase the island from the Spanish government. A development company has been formed and 25,000 acres of land in the Isle of Pines has been thrown on the market. The purpose of the company is to acquire the island in small farms of from ten to forty acres each. The purchasers get the land for $5 an acre if they agree to build their property within six months after the purchase. In the advertisements of the company attention is called to the fact that the island is the only one in the West Indies which has no personal interest in the sovereignty of the island. The United States will have no difficulty in proving its title to the little island.

The basis for the contention of the United States that the Isle of Pines belongs to this country was found in the first and second articles of the treaty of Paris. The first article says: "Spain relinquishes all claim of the sovereignty over and title to Cuba." No mention is made of the Isle of Pines. The second article is as follows: "Spain cedes to the United States the island of Porto Rico and the other islands now under Spanish sovereignty in the West Indies and the island of Guam in the Marianas or Ladrones." The United States holds that the Isle of Pines is one of the "other islands" referred to in the second article. The United States declares that it is comprised in the "Cuba" referred to in the first article, the sovereignty of which was relinquished by Spain but not ceded to the United States. Therefore they hold that the Isle of Pines is a cession should be the same as the future of Cuba.

The Isle of Pines is one of the 730 islands on the southern coast of Cuba. It is the only one of sufficient size to be of any importance. The area is 1,214 square miles and, according to the Cuban census of 1897, it contains a population of 3,226. This is an increase of over 1,100 since the census of 1887. It is one of the few municipalities of putting the campus into better shape. On Friday, however, teams were put to work, and last night not only the track, but also the basket ball grounds and tennis court, were ready to be rolled. On Thursday afternoon the first year students, commonly known as the "phans," gave a lively class programme. Almost all the members of the class were present, and a good time was had.

A summer school will be held in the university buildings during the coming summer, beginning on June 21. The faculty will consist of four professors and three instructors from the regular university force of the university. The executive committee was composed of Professor W. G. Royance, G. M. Marshall and G. Q. Gray and Mr. R. L. Meade, who will also act as secretary. Courses will be offered in political economy, grammar, composition, literature, pedagogy, psychology, Latin, physics, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, drawing and training. Information may be had of the secretary. The announcements will be out in the near future.

President W. J. Kerr of the Agricultural college was at the university yesterday, and on Friday Professor J. A. Merrill of the same school was visitor. Mr. McKnight of the training school and his teachers, who gave a very pleasant reception last Wednesday night to the university students, who are taking the normal building, and the room was decorated with silver and crimson and an abundance of flowers. Refreshments, consisting of ice cream, cake and lemonade, were served, and the time was spent in playing and singing games. The class Glee club rendered a number of selections. President and Mrs. Kingsbury and Professor and Mrs. Stewart were the only guests. The students had an unusually pleasant time and appreciated the kindness of their teachers very much.

Superintendent Christensen of Sapperton county paid a visit to the university last night. The faculty last Monday adopted the kindergarten course for next year, and also the courses preparatory to the general college courses in arts and science. Judge James McGarry, an old miner of Beaver and a member of the board of trustees, was in Ogden on Friday. He was well pleased with the work being done in the mining department, and he seemed as if he saw the boys getting such practical work in the occupation so near to him.

The athletic association will give a dancing party in Christensen hall next Friday night, the 12th of April. It will be the first of a series of three that are to be given in the last two weeks of the university and of athletics are invited.

FIERCE REBELLION IS ON IN COLOMBIA

Revolutionists Are Reported to Be Gaining Strength.

HARD BATTLE FOUGHT

GOVERNMENT TROOPS DEFEATED AND LOSE 250 PRISONERS.

San Francisco, April 6.—The Chronicle says: Private advices received by the steamer City of Sydney from Panama state that the revolution in Colombia is far from ended, and that the rebels are steadily gaining strength. About the 1st of March General Elloa, at the head of rebel troops, had a fierce battle in Caparrapi, state of Cundinamarca, in which the capital city of Bogota is situated. The government troops were defeated and 250 prisoners, 500 rifles and twenty-five cases of ammunition were left in the rebels' hands.

Generals Ramon Nieto has won several victories over government troops in Boyaca, and Generals Currea and Banez keep up the fighting in Cundinamarca. Tolima. In those two states there are reported to be 8,000 rebels. Generals Nieto and Delgado have captured Moniquila, with 250 government soldiers. Generals Colmenares, Ulloa and Escobar, after a marked victory at La Palma against 1,300 government troops, have taken positions in Pachó and San Cayetano with 1,500 men.

The situation at Panama is becoming worse and the government is again thinking of leaving the interior to the rebels, or liberating the territory themselves. The rebel forces in the interior of Panama now number 2,000 men, of which 600 are armed, but as soon as the rebels receive the arms and ammunition they have purchased, an army of 5,000 men will be available to move into Panama. The revolution has been in progress since Oct. 8, 1899.

REPORT IS DISCREDITED

Colombian Minister Has Heard of No Revolution.

Washington, April 6.—Dr. Martinez Silva, the Colombian minister, said today that he has not received any information concerning this latest reported revolutionary move in his country. He was inclined to place no credence in the report, as in his last visit from Colombia he received very assuring advices as to the peaceful condition of affairs in and around the capital.

Dr. Silva called attention to the fact that General Uribe, the acknowledged leader of the revolutionary element in Colombia, is in London, and that his latest advices from Panama stated that the guerrilla forces were fast disbanding into complete inactivity.

Overdue Steamer Arrives. Greenock, April 6.—The Allan line steamer Bona Avista, from Philadelphia, March 11, for Glasgow, a boat whose safety some apprehension was felt, has arrived here. She reports that she was fog-bound outside of Philadelphia, and remained anchored two days. Subsequently the weather was very rough, and the ship was swept from the coast of Colombia by a heavy sea, which smashed her deck house and carried away a lifeboat. Her coal became wet and her furnaces were fed with mainmast, and the ship was never any fear felt by those on board regarding the safety of the ship.

To Demolish Old Inn. London, April 6.—The Black Bull Inn, the last of the ancient hosteries in Holborn, is to be pulled down. It was here that the late Mrs. Gamp, the nursing experiences of Mrs. Gamp and Betsy Prig, and where the immortal Satrix perpetrated so many of her historic expressions. After standing for over 200 years, it is now to make way for a modern building, which will soon replace all the old haunts so dear to Dickens.

Called to China. Marion, Ind., April 6.—Aaron F. Walker of this city, a prominent lawyer and assistant editor of the Shield, the official national journal of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, today received an offer of the chair of the English in Nankai university, Nanking, China. His parents, the Rev. and Mrs. W. F. Walker, are Methodist Episcopal missionaries at Tien Tsai, China. He will accept the position.

Strikers Return to Work. Birmingham, Ala., April 6.—Four hundred coal miners who have been on strike several days at Blossburg have returned to work.

The Better Half. (Boston Transcript.) "I believe that the great body of American people are gentlemen," says President McKinley, "and experience has been that fully half of them are ladies."

THIEVES AND PLUNDER SECURED

SHERIFF ARRESTS WEST WEBER AND WILSON BURGLARS.

Assortment of Plunder Found Buried in Cans—One Man Confesses Crimes. Sheriff Layne and Deputy Joseph Bailey yesterday arrested two men for the burglary of Nathan Hawkes' store at West Weber three nights ago. Later the officers unearthed the plunder, not only of this, but of a lot of other burglaries. The men appeared at a second hand store on Twenty-fifth street and purchased a glass cutter, paying 60 cents for the same in pennies and having about as many pennies left. As about 100 pennies were taken from the place of Mr. Hawkes, the sheriff, as soon as he heard of the matter, concluded that the men were the right parties and they were arrested. Their names are Charles Layfield and George Bennett. Bennett, who is quite young, broke down and told the sheriff all about various thefts. Part of the plunder was the result of the raid on Mr. Rockham's place at Wilson. It was all buried in tin cans near the river in the southwestern portion of the city and consisted of all manner of dry goods, cash jewelry and some money.
