

UTAH KEELEY LEAGUE COUNCIL MAY NOW TAKE ACTION ON NEW JAIL AND CREMATORY

Those Who Have Taken the Cure Will Incorporate an Association.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of graduates and patients met in the parlors of the Keeley institute last evening for the purpose of completing the organization of the Keeley League of Utah. It was a very lively meeting and all present enjoyed an intense interest in the work laid out.

Last June city property to the value of $17,117.05 was sold by order of the city council to secure cash for the purpose of building a new city jail and new crematory. Four months have elapsed away, the cash has been in the treasury all the time, and every hour the need for both the jail and the crematory has grown more urgent, but up to this time not one definite step has been taken by the council toward meeting the needs of the city in either direction.

That the election is over and the need of padding the cash accounts of Auditor Reiser no longer exists, it is fair to assume that some move in the matter will be made. It is a well known fact that this $17,117.05 has been needed for campaign purposes to make a showing for the administration and help balance the heavy overdraft against the city at the banks. That motive no longer exists.

As to the selection of the jail site, the council has dallied along as though its only object in life was to kill time. First the police and prison committee had the matter in hand and accomplished nothing so completely after two months' trial that a special committee of the council with A. A. Robertson at its head was appointed and the selection of the site taken from the old committee and turned over to this special committee. This committee, for a portion of it, reported to the council in favor of the purchase of a site to the east of the city and county building, near the heating plant now owned by the city. This report has never been acted upon by the council, and there the matter rests.

The crematory matter seems to be in the same box. After much wrangling the sanitary committee, headed by Dr. Beatty, decided on the purchase of a site on the corner of Fifth South and Fifth West streets. The report was submitted to the council, and there ran into a political snag that has kept it tied up ever since. The councilmen from the Second precinct fought the proposition of having the crematory located in that part of the city. Planning and Auditor Reiser started petitions in the precinct against the location of the crematory there, and no amount of argument to the effect that the crematory was objectionable had influence. It is said that 1,300 names were secured to these petitions, and they are now lodged with the council. Dr. Beatty says he expects to call the matter up at the council meeting tonight, but judging from the experience of the past four months, nothing will be accomplished.

Dr. Beatty stated that he thought the cost of the crematory plant, including the cost of the ground, would be about $20,000, and this plant, he thought, would be sufficient for many years. The natural supposition is that the balance of the $17,000 will be expended on the jail site and building.

CONFESES THAT HE PLANNED TO SWINDLE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Louisville, Nov. 11.—Newell C. Rathbun, who was supposed to have died in a Jeffersonville (Ind.) hotel last Thursday, was arrested in Louisville today.

According to Rathbun, the corpse that was shipped to Little Rock for burial was the body of W. L. Teneyke. The police say Rathbun has confessed to desertion from the United States army and to having formed a plan to fraudulently collect $4,000 insurance on his life, but that he denied having killed the man who died in the Jeffersonville hotel.

Rathbun was arrested about 11 o'clock this morning at the United States recruiting station in Louisville, where he had just enlisted under the name "Lou Root," Detroit. He is held in the police station, where he made a statement in which he said: "I came to Louisville about ten days ago and formed a plan to make the insurance company think I was dead so that I could collect the insurance. I fell in with a man who said his name was W. L. Teneyke, in front of the Salvator Army headquarters in Louisville, and told him of my plan and he agreed to help me. Our plan was to obtain a corpse from some place, put it in a hotel in Jeffersonville and then set fire to the building."

"While we were in Jeffersonville we took a number of drinks and Teneyke got drunk. I think his death was caused by drinking. I put the letters addressed to me in his pockets and left. I did not kill him. I then came to Louisville and went to the recruiting office and enlisted."

The police are trying to establish the identity of the dead man. One of their theories is that he was a tramp whom Rathbun had fallen in with. Coroner Coates of Jeffersonville says that he examined the stomach of the dead man and found traces of enough laudanum to kill two men.

CONSIDER ARMY POSTS.

Board of Officers to Decide What Garrison Shall Be Abandoned.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The secretary of war has ordered to be convened in Washington, Nov. 25, a very important board of army officers to consider the purpose of considering several matters connected with the army, particularly regarding the military posts and reservations. This board consists of Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, Major General John R. Brooke, Ellwell S. Otis, S. M. B. Young, Arthur MacArthur, Brigadier General John C. East, George M. Randall and William A. Koubie.

The order directs the board to consider the location and distribution of military posts required for the proper accommodation, instruction and maintenance of the army. The board shall make recommendations as to what posts shall be abandoned or retained, which should be enlarged and to what extent, and the location, size and character of such new posts as may be necessary with a due regard to the proper distribution of the different arms of the service, based upon strategic, sanitary and economical considerations.

The board also will formulate and submit a project for the location and survey of sites for four permanent camp grounds of instruction of the regular army and state national guard together with the probable cost of the sites and the expense of putting them in condition for such camp grounds. The findings of this board will be reported to congress by the secretary of war. This order does not apply to the sea coast fortifications which are under control of the board of fortifications.

WRECK ON THE O. R. & N.

Passenger Train Runs Into a Freight—None Badly Injured.

La Grande, Ore., Nov. 11.—The west-bound passenger train on the O. R. & N. this morning ran into freight train No. 21, which was standing on the track near here. The freight had been stopped to repair a broken journal. A light engine standing about four car lengths behind broke the force of the contact and prevented the wreck from being more serious, though it was driven into the freight with sufficient force to shatter the caboose and one stock car into kindling wood.

The engineer on the light engine, expecting the passenger, had sent a flagman back, and Engineer Stanfield saw a signal, not in time, however, to stop the train on the frosty track. The passengers were badly shaken up and many sustained scratches and other flesh wounds, but no bones were broken and no injuries are serious. The windows of the coaches were shaken out, both engines were badly damaged and three cattle were killed. The wreckage was soon cleared, and trains were running this afternoon.

Carter Files Answer.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 11.—In the United States court today former Captain Oberlin M. Carter filed an answer to the proceedings of the government to recover money now possessed by the ex-captain and his friends. He states that the money is his and that he has defrauded no one. He contends that his disbursements were passed upon by those higher in authority than himself when they were made and that the government cannot proceed against him in the manner it had to take his money.

Mrs. Valentine Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Happiness will go out of your life forever, my sister, if you have any of the symptoms mentioned in Mrs. Valentine's letter, unless you act promptly.

"My crematory matter seems to be in the same box. The report was submitted to the council, and there ran into a political snag that has kept it tied up ever since. Here is the letter:—"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony to your list, hoping it may induce others to avail themselves of the benefits of one like a new person, and valuable remedy. Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt I am like a new person, and I was able to do anything. Had sharp pains all through my body. Before I had taken half a bottle of your medicine, I found myself improving. I continued its use until I had taken four bottles, and felt so well that I did not need to take any more. I am like a new person, and your medicine shall always have my praise."—Mrs. W. P. VALENTINE, 566 Ferry Avenue, Camden, N.J.

SHEEP TAX OPINION.

Complicated Question Sent in From Uintah County.

An opinion of interest to all sheepmen was handed down by Attorney General Breiden yesterday in response to a query from County Attorney John Pope of Vernal. The latter presented the case of a property owner of Uintah county, who ranges sheep on that part of the Uintah Indian reservation situated in Wasatch county. Eight months of the year the family resides in the reservation, and the rest of the year in Uintah county, where his children attend school. The question at issue was where the sheep are taxable.

Attorney General Breiden in his opinion declares the sheep liable to taxation in Wasatch county.

BECKHAM STRIKES BACK.

Sends a Scorching Letter to the Governor of Indiana.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 11.—Governor Beckham tonight addressed to Governor Durbin of Indiana a letter replying to the criticism by that executive of the courts and officials in Kentucky in his recent letter refusing to honor the requisition for Taylor and Finley, wanted for alleged complicity in the assassination of Governor Goebel. He severely arraigns Governor Durbin for his refusal, charging that in doing so he violated his oath of office to support the constitution of the United States, and that he became "a party after the fact to the most infamous crime in the history of this state, the cold-blooded and dastardly murder of an eminent and distinguished citizen of Kentucky."

The Kentucky executive also charges that Governor Durbin's action in refusing to honor the requisition for Taylor and Finley, bargained made before his election to office, and characterizes his charges against the courts and officials of Kentucky as serious and inexcusable misrepresentations.

He takes the stand that the governor of a state has no discretionary powers, but only ministerial powers, in the honoring of legally drawn requisitions from other states, and this is taken here as an indication that Governor Durbin, by his refusal to honor the requisition, is instituting, if such proceedings are instituted, they will be in the courts of Indiana, and taken on appeal to the supreme court.

Scrofula

Scrofula is an unwelcome legacy, but one which the children of blood poisoned parents must accept, with all its humiliating consequences. It is an inheritance that makes one poorer; that brings wretchedness and disease instead of health and riches, for the child whose ancestral blood is tainted with Scrofula or the loathsome virus of Contagious Blood Poison is unfitted for the arduous duties of life so long as any of the transmitted poison remains in its veins. Scrofula manifests itself in various forms; swollen glands about the neck and throat, catarrh of the head, weak eyes, hip bone disease, white swelling and offensive sores and abscesses are familiar symptoms, attended usually with loss of strength, poor digestion and pale or bloodless complexion. The skin is sometimes most dreadfully affected, eruptions breaking out on all parts of the body. Scrofula destroys bone, tissue and flesh; no part of the human system escapes its withering, leucemic touch.

Parents whose blood is poisoned by their own misdeeds, or who themselves may be suffering for the sins of some remote ancestor, must restore their own blood to its normal purity and strength, or they cannot expect healthy, robust children. S. S. S. cures Scrofula, like other diseases of a deep-seated, constitutional character, by restoring life and purity to the profoundly poisoned blood, and the rich, strong blood that is carried to the swollen and diseased glands absorbs and destroys the tuberculous deposits, and the painful, disfiguring sores and other evidences of Scrofula disappear.

S. S. S. should be begun immediately upon the appearance of the first symptoms, or where there is a known predisposition to Scrofula. Our medical department will be found of great help to those who are struggling with this wasting disease of heredity or any other blood trouble, and we invite you to write us. Should you or any member of your family need advice, our physicians will cheerfully give the information you desire, for which we make no charge. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

HARD TO RAISE MONEY.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 11.—The Business Men's association is encountering no little trouble in securing the necessary funds for the expenses of the national mining congress scheduled to meet in this city in November. The city council and board of county commissioners have decided that they have no power to dole out money for this purpose, and a successful meeting of the association seems doubtful unless some quick action is taken by the citizens themselves.

Indications That the New Constitution Will Be Ratified.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 11.—Returns from forty counties in Alabama indicate that the new constitution will be ratified by 27,800 majority against ratification and the city of Birmingham gave a very heavy vote for ratification.

Leaders of the opposition to the new constitution claim that frauds were committed in Birmingham and throughout the state. General Charles M. Shelly, who is chairman of the campaign committee opposed to ratification, gave out the following statement tonight:

"We have carried whole counties by a large majority against ratification of the new constitution, notwithstanding fraudulent methods in this and other towns in northern Alabama. We do not think it is possible for advocates of certain government property in the black belt or negro counties sufficient to change the result."

If the new constitution is adopted 35 per cent of the negro vote will be eliminated from politics in Alabama.

O. W. Underwood, chairman of the Democratic campaign committee, said tonight: "I claim the state for the new constitution by 27,800 majority."
