

MRS. BURDETTE GETS DIVORCE

Bingham Case Is Settled by Judge Hall.

MR. BURDETTE'S SUSPICIONS UNABLE TO PROVE HIS ALLEGATIONS.

The trial of the Burdette divorce case was concluded yesterday afternoon before Judge Hall, resulting in a prompt decision for the wife on her complaint charging her husband with cruelty. With the decree in her favor the plaintiff will be permitted to resume her maiden name of Gabriella B., and she will also have the custody of her child, but the father may visit it at all reasonable times. By reason of the fact that when Burdette sold his home he shared the proceeds with his wife, the court decided that so alimony would be allowed the plaintiff, but the defendant may be required later to provide for the child's support if he does not voluntarily make provision for its maintenance. The decree requires Mrs. Burdette to pay the fees of the attorney, and each side must bear its costs. The court remarked that if Mrs. Burdette should renege the decree would be subjected to amendment as to the custody of the child.

Affectionate Letters.

Several letters written by Burdette to his wife after the date named in his complaint as the time when she had been guilty of immoral conduct with the ex-convict were offered in evidence. They showed that he was a devoted writer of love epistles. In one of them he stated that he had assayed his wife's actions in the crucible of his mind, resulting in his conviction that she had proven herself pure and virtuous. Another letter confessed that he had acted toward her like a cowardly cur.

Some unimportant corroborative testimony for the cross-complaint was given by Sadie Garland, A. Stringham and Heber McNeil. Rebuttal testimony by Mrs. Burdette and her mother, Mrs. Ivis, closed the case.

In reviewing the issues, Judge Hall remarked that it would be for the best interests of the husband and wife that they be separated from the matrimonial bonds. Continuing, the court said that the allegation of adultery in the cross-complaint was not proven. The absence of McNeil, the alleged co-defendant, from the plaintiff's list of witnesses had been referred to by counsel for defense as a point in his favor, but the court saw no merit in this plea, since the defense could have subpoenaed him as a witness.

The court was of the opinion that the incident of April 19, when McNeil was found at the Burdette home as defendant behind the scenes, justified Burdette to a certain extent in reproving his wife for her indiscretions, but that the extent of choking her, calling the neighbors in and circulating stories in the camp reflecting upon her chastity.

Divorce For Mrs. Lilley. Judge Hall yesterday granted a decree of divorce to Sarah Amelia Lilley from her husband, Herbert F. Lilley, whom she married at Portland, Ore., on Oct. 2, 1897. The defendant was in default for failure to answer the complaint against him, which charged that he had last year deserted his wife, and since then had wilfully failed to provide for her support, although abundantly able to provide for her, being in receipt of a large salary monthly from his employment as an architect's draughtsman. The plaintiff was represented at the trial by Attorney Lippman. The testimony of Mrs. Lilley, corroborated by Lillie Johnson, was taken to support the allegations. The decree granted awards Mrs. Lilley the custody of her child, permits her to resume her maiden name of Simpkins and requires the defendant to pay monthly alimony at the rate of $25.

FOR LOSS OF A LIFE.

Portland Cement Company Sued For $10,000 by G. W. Howe's Heirs. Heber W. Hartley, administrator of the estate of George W. Howe, deceased, yesterday instituted suit in the district court against the Portland Cement company to collect $10,000 for the heirs of deceased as damages for his death on Nov. 22, 1900, at defendant company's mill in this city. The complaint alleges that Howe's duties were to see that the machinery was oiled and the coal tanks filled with coal, and while attending to his duties on the fatal day he was required to step over a revolving shaft, the approach to which was unsafe by reason of the coils and set screws which were protruding from the shaft and which caught in the dark floor. Howe was caught by the shaft and hurled to instant death, and negligence upon the part of defendant company in failing to provide a decent safe place to work is charged.

District Court Notes.

The trial of the right of way case of the Rio Grande Western Railway company against George Crismon and wife and their mortgage occupied all of yesterday in Judge Morse's court. Half a dozen witnesses, mostly real estate agents, were called to testify for the defense as to the amount of damage caused to the Crismon farm, southeast of the city, by reason of the railway occupying a strip through it, and three experts in realty values testified in rebuttal. The issues will be submitted to the jury this forenoon.

The controversy over the estate of the late Edward W. Skelton has been settled out of court, and yesterday Judge Hall granted an order dismissing the petition of Sarah Skelton, the surviving widow, for a family maintenance allowance out of the estate's funds in addition to her third of all the property.

Judge Morse yesterday granted an order citing all parties in interest to show cause on Dec. 13 in the case of W. G. Benham vs. the Salt Lake City Water & Electrical Power Company why the judgment claim of S. E. Blinn against the defendant company should not be paid.

Judge Stewart will hold court this morning, at which time the setting of criminal cases for trial in December will be made.

ART AT HIGH SCHOOL

Prize Winners in the Utah Art Institute Contest Awarded Yesterday.

A short time ago prizes of $6 and $4 were offered by President Culmer of the Utah Art Institute for the best work done by any pupil in the art department of the High School. This offer aroused great interest among the students and many creditable pieces of work were entered in the competition. On Wednesday the pictures were arranged by Mr. Harwood, the art teacher in the High school, and submitted to the judges, Mrs. Grace Kerr, Miss Myra Sawyer and Mr. George Taggart. The first prize of $6 was awarded to a study of figures in oil, by Lillian Connolly, the second to a landscape in oil, by Owings Sheekel. Honorable mention was accorded to an excellent charcoal drawing of the Venus de Milo, by Miriam Brooks.

The pictures receiving the prizes will be exhibited next week at the Utah Art Institute. In addition to the prize winners there were a number of other pieces of great merit, including studies in oil, water color, pen and ink and charcoal. The work reflects great credit both upon the teacher, Mr. Harwood, and the students of the art department.

SAME OLD GAME.

People Still Paying For Letter Boxes That Never Come.

One of the mail carriers, while delivering at 871 Second street yesterday, was handed a slip of paper, in which Postmaster Thomas is deeply interested. It purports to be a receipt for 50 cents for the use of a mail receiving box for the term of five years. The same parties were heard of in the same line of work some months ago. It was stated at the time that the postal authorities were trying to locate them. The business is being carried on most in the heart of the city.

Thea gent who issues the receipt, which is all printed matter, except for the number of the house, agrees to deliver the mail for a set future time, but collects the money in advance. A sample of the receipt follows: "The United States Standard Letter Box & Pate company, Receipt No. 95-27. Received from house bearing the number 871 Second street the sum of 50 cents, being payment of rent in full for the full term of five years of one mail receiving box to be held in the name and care of * * * and will be placed in position by the manufacturers."

"Positively no money refunded." "W. B. HACKETT, President." A peculiarity in the receipt is that the place of business of the firm is not named, the agent does not sign it, the president's name is in printer's ink and the name of the postmaster is not named, only "the house." The postmaster has been informed that the parties claim that they are authorized by the government to issue the business, but Postmaster Thomas is in ignorance of any such authorization.

J. HAYES COOK BURIED.

Many Friends Mourn Death of the Veteran Prospector. All that was mortal of the veteran prospector, J. Hayes Cook, was laid to its final rest in Mount Olivet cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral services were held from the undertaking parlors of E. G. O'Donnell. A large number of the old friends and acquaintances of the deceased gathered to pay their last respects to one who was loved and honored by all who knew him. Many beautiful floral offerings were presented.

The services were conducted by Dean Eddie of St. Mark's cathedral. They consisted of the simple rites of the Episcopal church. At the close of the services a large cortege followed the deceased to his last resting place in the cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Mat Cullen, Judge Peter Lochrie, Judge Sutherland, Henry Kohl, Angus Buchanan and Scheid Baxter.

CIGARETTES CAUSE INSANITY

Job Reading of Murray Recommended to the Asylum. Job Reading, a widely known farmer residing at Murray, was recommended to the state insane asylum yesterday, after an examination into his mental condition by County Physician May and Dr. McElroy before Judge Pro Tempore James. His mania, which is of the melancholy type, was found to be due to excessive smoking of cigarettes and worry over business difficulties, which are said to be more imaginary than real. Reading was an inmate of the asylum during 1894 and again two years later. His tendencies are homicidal when he is in one of his passions.

Frank Heaston, a young man from Bingham, was brought before County Clerk James last evening to be examined for his sanity by the county physician and Dr. E. L. Elmer. In the opinion of the witnesses it is dangerous to let the young man go unrestrained, and he was committed to the asylum for treatment. His insanity is of the melancholy type and is attributable to epilepsy and an injury to the head, for which his skull was trepanned last year, with beneficial results to him physically, but without securing all the desired relief for his mental condition.

WIFE WAS FORGIVING.

Assault Case Against J. C. Wilcox Is Dismissed. J. C. Wilcox will escape punishment for beating his wife on July 5. The schoolkeeper was convicted in the police court of the offense of assault and battery and sentenced to serve 100 days in jail and to pay a fine of $50. He appealed to the district court, but yesterday City Attorney Stephens obtained leave to dismiss the case, because of the refusal of the wife to prosecute her husband. Attorney Stephens presented for the court's information a letter from Mrs. Wilcox, written at 214 South State street, announcing her desire to have the case against her husband dismissed. This was followed by a statement from the attorney to the effect that Wilcox had effected a reconciliation with his wife. Judge Morse dismissed the case.

Vagrancy Case Dismissed. Upon the motion of the prosecution, Judge Diehl yesterday dismissed the case against Brian Pinro, charged with vagrancy. Wednesday Attorney Truman asked that the case be dismissed upon the grounds that there was no court competent to try it, and the matter was taken under consideration by the judge. Yesterday Prosecutor Scherer asked that the case be dismissed and the motion was granted.

HARDSHIP ON THE CHILDREN

Can No Longer Wander Over Tooele County.

QUARANTINE IS DECLARED APPLIES TO CHILDREN UNDER SIXTEEN YEARS.

Hereafter if any child of Salt Lake City under the age of 16 years wanders over to Tooele County, across the Oquirrh range of mountains, thirty miles away, his or her parents are liable to imprisonment in the Tooele county jail if the Tooele sheriff catches them. Dr. J. A. Phillips and the Tooele county board of health have proclaimed a quarantine against Salt Lake children on account of the presence of scarlet fever and diphtheria in this city. The state board of health yesterday received a copy of the proclamation, which reads as follows:

"The public is hereby notified that a quarantine now exists between Tooele county and Salt Lake county for all children under 16 years of age, for an indefinite period and until further public notice is given of its removal. "Every individual should be interested in preventing the spread of the dread disease of scarlet fever and diphtheria now prevalent in Salt Lake county and it is called upon to advise the county health board in maintaining inviolate this quarantine."

Quarantine Is Unnecessary. Salt Lake authorities regard the quarantine as unnecessary and assert that the Tooele officials are needless alarmed. While no attempt is made to deny the prevalence of contagion, it is maintained that the prospects are now bright for stamping it out and maintaining more thorough control in each case. At the same time it is pointed out that there is little occasion for children to pass back and forth to Tooele county, distance and lack of attraction making it practically out of the question.

It would be just as reasonable for the people of New Zealand to declare a quarantine against Salt Lake," said Health Commissioner King last evening. In fact, more so, as New Zealand is a settled and civilized community that Salt Lake might have occasion to visit. Children from Salt Lake are not accustomed to climbing the mountains and crossing the divide to attend school in Tooele county or to seek playmates there.

The only persons to be affected by the embargo and who might suffer hardships therefrom would be miners who might wish to remove their families to Tooele county. The quarantine is directed against children only. Any boy or girl who would stroll off twenty-five or thirty miles from school to trade infected toys or dolls with the youngsters of Tooele ought to be spanked.

Both diseases complained of are prevalent to a distressing degree, we have just been allowed an important addition to our force that ought to be of great assistance in isolating victims and the associates from contact with others. The system of school inspection that has been adopted results in the children being developed every day that would otherwise develop into unknown to the parents and tend to spread the disease. Everything looks bright now for checking the spread among children. It is in no sense of the word an epidemic. The condition that maintains here is general. The remedy is isolation and punishment of a violator of quarantine regulations. It is so much to induce others to observe such regulations as are necessary to the public health."

FOOD STOPPED IT.

Good Food Worth More Than a Gold Mine. To find a food that will put an absolute stop to "running down" is better than finding a gold mine. Many people when they begin to run down go from one food to another and find it impossible to find a food that will stop the progress of disease. Grape-Nuts Food is the most nourishing known and will set one right in that respect.

The experience of a Louisiana lady will be interesting. Mrs. J. H. Graham, Wallace, La., writes: "I received a severe nervous attack some time ago and from overwork gradually broke down. My food (I do not agree with me and I lost flesh rapidly. I changed from one kind of food to another, but kept getting weaker. I was unable to stop the loss of flesh and strength."

"I do not exaggerate when I say that I finally became, in reality, a living skeleton. My nights were sleepless and I was compelled to take opiates in various forms. After trying all sorts of different foods without success I finally got down to eating bread with a little butter, and after awhile this began to sour and I could not digest it. Then I took to toasted crackers and lived on them for several weeks, but kept getting weaker. "One day I was brought knowledge of Grape-Nuts Food, and it seemed to me from the description that it was just the sort of food I could get on. I began by eating small portions, just as it comes from the package, dry, gradually increasing the amount each day, sometimes warming and adding a little butter."

"My improvement began at once, for it afforded me the nourishment that I had been starving for. No more harassing pains and indigestion. For a month I ate nothing but Grape-Nuts and a little cream and sugar, then I got so well I could take on other kinds of food. I continued to gain flesh rapidly. Now I am in better health than I have been in years. I still stick to Grape-Nuts because I like the food and I know of its powerful nourishing properties. My physician says that my whole trouble was the lack of power to digest food, and that no other food that he knows of would have brought me out of the trouble except Grape-Nuts."

NEW RULE OF JOBBERS

Salt Lake Wholesale Houses Refuse to Sell Goods to Consumers.

The wholesale grocers of Salt Lake have reached an understanding among themselves whereby they will not sell groceries and produce to consumers. There was a time when the wholesale business of the city was badly demoralized; the jobbers sold to anybody who came along, so long as the goods went out in original packages. Finally the retailers stepped in with the proposition that they would boycott any jobber who sold goods to consumers. The idea was that it was unjust for the jobbers to sell goods to the retailers and then undermine them by selling to their customers. Lately the jobbers have been carefully observing the rule of selling only to the trade. One result of this is that many of the favorites of the jobbers are finding themselves out in the cold, and many vigorous kicks are being registered.

CUT IN SUGAR.

California Companies Announce Another Reduction. There was another slump in the price of sugar in the local market yesterday. The price of the best sugar at 10 cents a sack and cane sugar 20 cents a sack. The cut of yesterday puts the price of beet sugar on board the cars in Salt Francisco at $4.10 per hundred weight, and of cane sugar at $2.20. With the 75 cents freight added, this makes the price to jobbers in the Salt Lake market $4.85 and $3.85 respectively. J. W. Heywood, the local representative of the Western Sugar Refining company and the Spreckels Sugar Refining company, in discussing this last cut in price, said he knew of no cause for it outside of the general weakness in the sugar situation.

Business Notes. The Anderson Real Estate Investment company has just closed a deal for the 10x10-rod lot on the corner of First and O streets. The purchase was made from Charles Pickney, and the price was $2,000. The purchasers will erect a number of dwelling houses on the lot.

The church authorities have decided to run the South Temple street annex to the News building up to a height of seven stories, to correspond with the main building. It will have a round tower at the top. The building will be erected over, and from that point up the building will have a width of fifty-five feet. It will be set back slightly from the street line, and will be entirely different from that of the main building, to give the idea of an independent building. It will run back the full depth of the lot, about 100 feet. The lower floors will be utilized for printing and book binding purposes; the upper floors will be cut up into offices. The work on the new building will be started as soon as it can be secured from the main building.

The bank clearings yesterday were $230,000, compared with $249,982.73 for the corresponding day of last year.

The price of cane sugar is going up again in the cities of the Missouri Pacific. The Missouri Pacific received a telegram from its correspondent at Kansas City yesterday, informing him that cane sugar had just advanced 40 cents a sack in that locality. This is understood to refer only to the city, in which the sensational cut of some time ago took place. The cut left the price at $4, and this addition of 40 cents will leave it still far below the normal figure.

Justice Court Notes. L. S. Fleming, who got into an altercation with M. T. Reid several nights ago in a restaurant over the possession of the same, was fined $10 yesterday by Justice Kroeger on the charge of assault and battery. The testimony of both sides was as cross as two sticks, but a simple case of "you did" and "I did not." The justice concluded that the law had been broken, but not very severely.

Justice Nielsen decided the case of Mrs. Herman Pathe vs. E. T. Farrer in favor of the plaintiff. The action was to recover a piano sold by Mr. Pathe, but which in reality belonged to his wife. The point of law involved is an interesting one to attorneys.

There is probably no disease more distressing and annoying than piles. FARRER'S PUCIERE FILE OINTMENT is daily curing cases of years' standing of itching and bleeding piles. STATE NEWS

PAYSON AND SALEM FARMERS GET $32,000 FOR BEETS

Payson, Nov. 21.—Two hundred and sixty-six cars of sugar beets have been shipped from the Rio Grande depot at Payson, worth $32,000. They were raised on Salem and Payson farms. This diffusion of money has enabled the people of this end of the county to pay their taxes promptly. The crop has been over the average, though at first it was thought it would not be as good as last year. More acres will doubtless be planted next year.

PARK CITY HAPPENINGS.

Park City, Nov. 21.—The city council met last night, with four of the five councilmen and the mayor present. After the reading of the minutes, of the previous meeting, the following bills against the city were read: City orders, $82; streets, alleys and bridges, $16.35; time cards, $68.27; election bills, $160; miscellaneous bills, $1,739.94. Warrants were ordered drawn and the bills paid. After some discussion on a new street the council adjourned until Dec. 1.

The Athletic association of the Park City High school is making preparations to give the football team from Hill Falls college a great time on Thanksgiving. The boys of the team here at working hard advertising the same, and a record-breaking crowd is predicted. "The public is hereby notified that the new Elk lodge to be organized here next Wednesday evening are spreading themselves to give the football team a swell affair. That the lodge will start with a large membership is assured now, as it seems every man in town is to join."
