

NEWHOUSE BUYS A MERCUR MINE

Acquired Heavy Control in Golden Gate Extension. DIVIDENDS DUE FOR APRIL DAILY-WEST ORDERS PAYMENT OF $72,000.

FRIDAY night Samuel Newhouse dropped quietly into town, and as a result of his coming, another important deal was rounded out and clinched last evening.

When seen last evening he stated that he had been interested in the company for a long time, and a few years ago he held an option on J. R. Walker's controlling interest, and during the life of his bond he sank a shaft on the property.

Recently he took the matter up again and obtained a more reasonable proposition from the heirs. Yesterday the deal was closed and the 250,000 shares of stock passed to Mr. Newhouse.

Speaking of the shaking up that has occurred over the decision to quit driving the great Newhouse tunnel at Idaho Springs, Colo., Mr. Newhouse said the success of the tunnel as a business proposition has already been determined.

WANT LEAD AND GOLD MINES. Specific Inquiry For One of Each Came From the East Yesterday.

That eastern capital is still eagerly seeking investment in the mines of this section, and that the price cuts little figure so long as it gets value received was particularly emphasized in a letter received in this city yesterday.

In the same letter inquiry was made for a first-class gold proposition worth anywhere from $50,000 to $1,000,000, the writer stating that prospective purchasers were ready to qualify for the amount that might be involved the moment they were shown that such a property was to be had.

Communications of this character are received very frequently by brokers and prominent mining men, and the recipient of the letter in question stated that there was no doubt that the record being made by the producing and dividend paying mines of the state was beginning to attract attention.

Believed the Rob Roy Will Exceed the Annie Laurie in Richness. (Milford Times.) Developments in the Rob Roy mine, in Newton district, indicate that it is likely to become a greater bonanza than the famous Annie Laurie, on the opposite side of the mountain.

One and Bullion. Ore and bullion settlements in this city during the past week amounted to $294,200, yesterday's proportion of the total being $131,900, as follows: T. R. Jones & Co., ores, $5,000; bullion, $1,000; McCornick & Co., ores, $7,900; copper bullion, $4,000.

Good Business and Generally Well Maintained Prices the Rule. The week on the mining exchange closed with the sale of 39,125 shares of stock at the total of six days being 679,895 shares and $328,635.55.

Initial Run Yesterday Afternoon Was Very Satisfactory. An initial test of the Utah shale company's oil return was made yesterday afternoon and the result was highly satisfactory as to the quantity and quality of the oil product obtained.

OLD PRODUCER TO RESUME. The Amelia Company preparing to shut up its Beaver Mines. J. H. Dupux, the veteran Beaver county mine operator, who built and operated mills and smelters in conjunction with his properties down there in the early days, states that preparations are under way for a resumption of operations at the Amelia Gold & Silver company's property in Star district.

er Mammoth have also had a stimulating effect, and the outlook for the season is anything but discouraging. Ajax has fallen off a little from Monday's sale figures, but it has been one of the heaviest sellers of the week.

May Day closes a little weak, as do also Yankee Consolidated, Marthas, Washington and one or two others, while Ben Butler, Sacramento, Silver Shield, South Swansea, Sunshine, Little Chief and a few others have held an even keel.

Yesterday a sale of Ontario was made at $5.75, and during the week Grand Central, Mammoth, Daly, Century and a few others of the less active shares have been made at firm to advancing figures.

Mining Notes. Six cars of Yankee Consolidated ore reached the sampler yesterday. The annual meeting of the May Day company is scheduled for tomorrow. The Conklin sampler was yesterday in receipt of twelve cars of ore from Tintic.

W. M. White came up from Beaver county yesterday on mining and other business. President Holbrook of the Grand Central company was up from Provo yesterday. Manager Jacob E. Bamberger of the Daly-West company will return from a business trip to Denver today.

After a month's stay in this city, Col. George W. E. Dorsey left for his home in Fremont, Neb., home again yesterday. Manager Walter G. Flier went out to Stockton yesterday to note the progress of operations at the Honerine. Roy R. Hughes, secretary of the Bonanza Consolidated company, returned from a six weeks' trip to the coast yesterday.

Five cars of Mammoth and one car of Lower Mammoth ore arrived from those Tintic mines yesterday, and will be on the market tomorrow. A. F. Holden, managing director of the United States company's mines and smelter, returned from a brief business trip to Omaha yesterday.

to the Dewey mill at Bingham for treatment. Bingham Bulletin: Andy Christopher and partner last Monday opened the road to the Neptune & Kempton, after a number of days' shoveling, and Wednesday started four teams hauling a 300-ton lot of ore to the depot.

Eureka Reporter: Arrangements are about completed for the resumption of work at the Swansea mine. The shaft, timbers between the 550 and 550 levels were entirely burned out by the recent fire, and it will require considerable time to replace them.

Milford Times: Superintendent Mandlin reports that the O. K. never looked better. The chute of high-grade ore encountered on the 300 last week was widened out to two feet, with every indication that it will lead to something bigger. Conditions on the 400 are also better than ever before.

Bingham Bulletin: Last Monday ground was broken at the site of the lower terminal building of the United States company's aerial tramway. The structure will be about thirty rods northward from the Highland Boy's terminal, and close to the Rio Grande Western track.
