RIPANS. I had been troubled for several years with indigestion, caused chiefly by eating pastry for my lunch, and that led to dizziness and headache. I was unable to go anywhere alone, for I was subject to very severe fainting fits, so severe that for about a half-hour I would imagine I saw black cats running around me. One day a friend told me about Ripans Tablets and coaxed me to try them. I finally did, and since that I have hardly been able to find words good enough to express my gratitude. Since taking the Tablets I feel almost as people say "baked over" for there has been a wonderful change. At Drugists. The Five-cent package is enough for an ordinary occasion. The twelve-cent bottle, 50 cents, contains a supply for a year.
