

POLICE SAY HE HAS BAD RECORD

Claim Tetherington Has Been in Prison Three Times.

IS KNOWN AS "THE BOB KID"

MOTHER STILL BELIEVES IN HER SON'S INNOCENCE.

CHIEF of Police Paul yesterday received a letter from the chief of police at Los Angeles, Cal., which contained a full description of Robert W. Tetherington, and a photograph of him taken from the rogues' gallery.

In addition to the photograph, the letter contained a full description of marks on the person of Tetherington and his measurements by the Bertillon system. In the general description it was stated that Tetherington bore tattoo marks on the left forearm, and when it was learned yesterday that the Robert Tetherington who lies dangerously wounded at Holy Cross hospital, has the initials "R. W. T." imprinted in Indian ink on his left forearm, the police came to the conclusion that he is the California Tetherington, who did most of his time in California under the alias of "The Bob Kid."

Tetherington, lying on his cot in the hospital, was visited by the chief of police and asked to give an account of himself. He told practically the same story as he did the night of the shooting, but gave the names of the two men with whom he was talking at the time, to the police.

Tetherington now says that he had a tobacco sack with $50 in it hanging to the waistband of his trousers at the time of the shooting and that he had $10 in his pocket. The money in the sack was in greenbacks, and it is believed that the man who did the shooting, or some of those present at the time, knew where it was and took it away from him.

Mother Still Has Faith. Mrs. Tetherington absolutely refuses to believe that her son is a criminal and thinks that there is some mistake. In talking about the case last night she said:

"I know that Robby was never in the penitentiary, and the statement to the effect that he was is absolutely false. Although he has been away from home a great deal, and I have not always heard from him directly, yet I know that, living in California as I do, if he had been in the penitentiary I surely would have known it. I visited San Quentin twice with friends, and saw every prisoner there, but I never saw Robby."

He has always been a truthful boy, and he has been so good to us. He has worked hard to earn money, while Robby, and frequently while I was away, he has been in Colorado for some time and was on his way home when this terrible thing happened. I know that my boy has told me all he knows about the case, and I don't see why the officers want to fret him by cross-examining him so. After they left on Friday, he was very nervous, and so when they came yesterday I would not let them see him, not because I am afraid to see him, but because I am afraid to see him, but because he is my only son and my youngest child, and I want to take him back to California and nurse him back to health.

Initials on His Arm. "The officer who was here yesterday wanted to look at his arm, and after he had gone I went in and asked him what he had on his arm, that they wanted to see. He showed me his initials. Then he told me that last January he was playing cards in a room at Los Angeles with some men, who he found out later were burglars, and that the men were arrested in the room and they took him along too, because he was with them. He hired a lawyer and proved an alibi, but he said that they took a description of him while he was in jail, and he supposed that the chief of police there had sent it here.

He is not afraid to talk to the officers, but he has told them all he knows about it, and cannot understand why they want to talk to him so much. The officer said so yesterday, and I hope that he will be able to stand the journey back to California next week."

Concerning California. The trouble to which Tetherington refers in his story to his mother was his arrest in San Francisco in January on suspicion of committing burglary in Nevada. Late information indicates that he is well known in the criminal records of the west as "The Bob Kid," and that he has served three terms in San Quentin penitentiary for burglary, one from Fresno, and twice from Los Angeles. He was arrested in Los Angeles last April for having been blowing tools in his possession.

The police do not believe that Mrs. Tetherington knows of her son's criminal career. She is a refined and cultured woman, and has unbounded faith in her son. He has evidently made it a point to keep all knowledge of his misdoings from her. If he recovers he will probably be arrested by the local police for assisting in blowing the safe of the Sierra Nevada Lumber company, and an effort will be made to apprehend the other members of the gang, who are now known to the police. Descriptions of the men wanted have been sent broadcast over the country, and it is believed that they will be apprehended in some city or another within the next few days.

WAS EXPENSIVE JOKE.

Kester's Style of Fun Cost Him $10 in the Police Court. In the police court yesterday afternoon, Charles Kester was fined $10 for petty larceny. Kester, according to the story, came to town on Friday, and after taking a few drinks went into the store of Nichols & Crabbe and picked up a coat, which he walked off with. He was caught, and brought back, whereon he said he did it as a joke.

"It was only a 'josh,' your honor," said Kester yesterday. "I'm no thief, but I had been drinking and I didn't think it was stealing."

"Your idea of humor," said Judge Tanner, "has not met with the approval of the public so far as I can learn in my study of the works of ancient and modern humorists. Of course, if you wish to start a new school of humor, that is your privilege, but as promoters of new schools of thought, generally, have to wear the martyr's crown, there can be no exception in your case, and the clerk may set down a little entry of you against your name on the book of martyrs."

DIED OF DIPHTHERIA.

Sudden and Fatal Attack Seizes Little Ruth Butts. Ruth Butts, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Butts of 186 K street, died suddenly yesterday morning after a very brief but severe attack of diphtheria.

The child was taken ill Thursday afternoon and that evening Dr. Richards was called to see her. At that time, according to the statement of the doctor, there was no indication of the nature of the disease, and no throat affection at all, and he left a prescription with instructions to be called if the child grew worse. The child seemed to get no worse until about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, when she suddenly became very serious, and Dr. Richards was called immediately.

When he reached the bedside of the little girl he found her in a dying condition, and found that the disease was diphtheria. She died about 8 o'clock in the morning. The parents, the doctor said, had no idea what the disease was until he reached the bedside at 4 o'clock in the morning, and he did not know the nature of it or suspect it until that time.

The matter was then reported to the board of health and the house was placed under quarantine.

Late Locals

TABERNALE RECITAL.—Lovers of Scotch ballads will be given a treat at the tabernacle next Friday afternoon at the usual time for the Friday recital. Upon that occasion R. C. Easton of the "Bonnie Scotch Song" company will sing and brand some colts at Mr. W. H. Rex's ranch. Among others Mr. Williams branded one with his own brand belonging to George Nebeker. Williams wrote and told Nebeker of the fact, saying he had made a mistake, and would make satisfactory arrangements with him. The prosecution insisted that it was not alone the Nebeker colt, but another in addition which Williams branded. He was sentenced to three months in the county jail.

DUTIES OF REGISTRARS.—Acting on the frequent complaints of numerous legal voters of their inability to register, the board of county commissioners yesterday directed to inform the registrars that they are compelled to register all persons applying for registration who, on the day of election, will be legally qualified and entitled to vote in their respective election districts. The penalty for refusing those who do not register is a fine of not more than $100, together with one year in the county jail.

FOOD VS. RECREATION.

Good Food of the Greatest Importance. There is really no need to go away for rest if one will take scientifically made food that rebuilds the nerve centers and makes work a comfort and pleasure.

One of our prominent novelists was sent to Colorado. "Ride every day, sleep in a tent, eat when you are hungry," my physician told me, but food did not satisfy me and rest would not end the fatigue that had me in its grip. I was a mere machine; eating, sleeping, walking, riding, but unequal to a day's work and with no zest for the day's pleasure.

"At the lowest ebb of strength and courage, my eye fell on a piece of newspaper with which my guide was making a camp fire, and I picked it up and read, 'Grape-Nuts, Food for Brain and Nerve Centers.' I read on; it seemed to be a description of my own case cured by a diet of Grape-Nuts. I sent for a supply of the Food by the next pack train that left my camp. It came, forty-five miles from the nearest settlement, on a burro's back. That night I ate Grape-Nuts without cream, milk or sugar. It tasted good. I felt that for the first time in six months I had been fed.

"I went to my bed of pine boughs, slept like a tired child, and woke rested without cream, milk or sugar. What I needed, better than a new sky, better than exercise, better than rest, because lacking the food that exhausted nature was crying for, these things could not help me. 'I am well now. If, in the future, I win any rewards by my pen, I shall count them gained by the food that made me back to me, and that gave me back to my old boy living.' "DO YOU KNOW HAVE NERVES,"

Says Mrs. Bertsel of Brooklyn.

Pe-ru-na Refresnes, Invigorates, Recuperates.

Like a Charm. So the Fair Sex Speak of the Action of Pe-ru-na.

Catarrhal Diseases the Bane of American Women.

"Health and Beauty," Dr. Hartman's Latest Free Book.

Dr. Hartman receives many letters from suffering women who have been cured of some catarrhal derangement by the use of Pe-ru-na. The following letter speaks for itself:

The Pe-ru-na Medicine Co., Columbus, O. "Gentlemen:—My health was excellent until about six months ago when I seemed to have a collapse from over-doing socially and the doctor ordered an entire change of scene and climate. As this was an absolute impossibility at this time, I had to try and regain my health in another way and was induced by a friend who gave Pe-ru-na such a good recommendation to try Pe-ru-na. I cannot tell you the condition of my nerves when I began to use it. The least noise irritated me and I felt like I was not worth living but Pe-ru-na soon changed me into a well woman and now I do not know I have nerves."—Louise Bertsel, 19-1-2 Second street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

It is very easy indeed for the doctor to order patients a change of scene and climate. Such an order is very easily given and is often a very appropriate remedy.

Indeed, it would be a good thing if all people suffering from nervousness could travel and recuperate their nerves by change of climate and scene, but not one case in five hundred can do this. Most people are tied at home by duties or possibly cannot afford to make the desired change.

It is very easy, therefore, for the doctor to order this change, but sometimes Bradford, Misses May Reid, Louise Jorgensen, Ida Hougaard and Miss Madson all of mine and Mrs. Anderson went to Richfield Friday to attend court.

Suit was begun in the district court yesterday by John H. Bailey against William H. Rowe to collect a judgment for the sum of $1,963.16, rendered in October, 1894. No part of the judgment has been paid, according to the complaint, and the plaintiff prays for judgment in the amount together with interest from that date and for the costs of the action.

There are six heirs to the estate of John Rose, valued at $800, according to a petition for letters of administration of the estate of Albert E. Walker, who died in this city on the 12th of June of this year, was filed in the district court yesterday by Mrs. Winifred S. Walker, widow of the deceased. According to the petition, Walker died without a will and left an estate valued at $8,500, consisting of real and personal property. The only heirs are the widow and Alberta Winifred, a 6-months-old child.

"It Goes Right to the Spot." When pain or irritation exists on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment will give prompt relief. "It goes right to the spot," said an old man who was rubbing it in, to cure his rheumatism. R. Smith, proprietor Smith House, Tenaska, Tex., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment in my family for several years and have found it to be a fine remedy, for all aches and pains, and I recommend it for pains in the throat and chest." 50c and $1.00 at Z.
