Senator Clark of Montana Meets With An Accident.

MORE ABOUT SMOOT CASE

HERALD CARTOONS CAUSE AMUSEMENT.

(Special to The Herald.) TYASHINGTON, Feb. 27.-Senator Clark of Montana, whose carriage was overturned with him last evening while he was being driven to the depot, was uninjured by the accident, although badly shaken up. The vehicle, which was a closed carriage, was turned completely over, and, for-tunately, the driver was able to get at the heads of the horses in time to prevent them dragging the car-riage and possibly injuring the occu-pants. Fred Harris, the senator's coachman, was slightly injured by the Polygamy Amendment.

Petitions praying for the enactment of legislation to provide for a constitutional amendment for the prohibition and punishment of polygamy, signed by members of the Baptist and Presbyterian churches of Salida, Colo., were presented in the senate today by Senator Teller, and similar petitions were presented by Senator Burrows, signed by members of the W. C. T. U. of Bennington, Mich., and the Methodist church of Plymouth, Mich.

Senator Burrows received a sharp Petitions praying for the enactment

Senator Burrows received a sharp protest against seating Senator-elect Smoot, signed by members of the Ministerial association of New York state. The senator did not present it and declined to make its contents public.

Senator-elect Smoot spent much of his time today in the senate chamber listening to the senators and watching closely the proceedings. He has visated many of the departments and is getting acquainted with various departmental officers.

The explosion is the fourth since the establishment of the works in 1889.
The press mill is where the powder is pressed, caked and placed in kegs.
The four men killed and the two fatally hurt were in this room at the time. One of the men, it is stated, caused the explosion by carelessly pounding one of the kegs.

The bodies of two of the victims were torn into fragments and scat-tered to the winds, and the press mill, containing 250 kegs of powder, was completely destroyed. The financial loss will amount to about $25,000.

SIERRA'S FORCES ROUTED BY BONILLA

Washington, Feb. 27.—A cablegram received at the navy department today from Admiral Glass, dated yesterday, aboard the New York, announced the arrival of his flagship and the Boston and Marblehead at La Union, Salva-dor, yesterday. He said that com-munication by telegraph with Amapala was interrupted, and reported further

CHINESE SOLDIERS AMBUSHED BY REBELS

Pekin, Feb. 27.-Advices received Pekin, Feb. 21.—Advices received here today show that 500 imperial troops were caught, Feb. 13, in an ambush in the Yang Yuing pass by the rebels of the province of Kwang Si, South China. All the soldiers were killed, and the rebels captured large supplies of arms, which the troops were taking to the besieged garrison of Chi Yuen.

GREAT BRITAIN SWEPT BY A GALE The official reports admit that the rebellion in Kwang Si is increasing and has spread over the border into the orovince of Hunan. The viceroy of Hunan has sent treops to the boundary to check the rebels' advance.

Telegraphic communication northward of Leeds was entirely interrupted, the Continental service was interfered with and large numbers of ships were forced to seek shelter in the harbors. Many minor wrecks occurred and the lifeboats were busy all along the coasts.

There were several fatalities inland, caused by falling chimneys and flying debris, and many houses were unroofed.

The wind in the north of England blew with hurricane force. The Lancashire mills and churches suffered greatly. The grandstand of the Lancaster Football club was lifted bodily and deposited outside the grounds. Scores of shop windows at Liverpool were blown in and the spoods scattered about the streets.

A newly erected church at Holy Head was lifted from its football.

Woman In Burning Building | President Has No Hope That the Panama and Cuba Treaties Will Pass Before March 4.

Little hope is felt among members of the cabinet that the Cuban reciprocity and Panama canal treaties will be ratified by the venate at the will be ratified by the senate at the present session, and each day's delay in acting upon them is increasing the probability of an extraordinary session of the senate. The president has re-iterated his determination to call a special session of the senate in the event of failure of either one or both of the treaties. So far as can be ascertained, the president has not determined on any date for the opening of the extra session if one should be called, but it is regarded as likely that it will be practically right after the close of the

This morning his body, clad in an undershirt, was found lying on a couch in a small room, off the lower hall, used by Mr. Burdick as a smoking room. The body was covered with a rug and a number of sofa pillows. The couch was saturated with blood and the walls and floor of the little room were spattered with brains and blood. The head had been crushed with some blunt instrument.

Mysterious Murder of E. R. Bur- Recounts His Crimes Without a Trace of Feeling.

NO CLUE TO THE MURDERER SEARCH FOR MISSING WOMAN

POLICE HAVE A THEORY BUT MURDERER CONFESSED SEVER-AL YEARS AGO IN PRISON.

Burdick, president of E. L. HAMILTON, O., Feb. 27.—Mrs. Sadie Wenzell, who came here last night to see her brother, Alfred Knapp, the self-confessed multimurderer, had a long talk with the prisoner in the presence of Sheriff Bisdorf. His sister had previously advanced, that the crime was the work written him about marrying his fourth of a burglar, was abandoned as the police probed deeper into the case, and tonight, while they claim to have several important clues, no arrest has been made.

Mr. Burdick was last seen alive last tion Mrs. Wenzell said: "Ally, it has been said "Ally, it has been said that I have Hannah's earrings and ring, and I want you, in the presence of the sheriff, to exonerate me on that score."

Fourth Wife's Escape. "Had you not been arrested, would you have killed the wife whom you now have in Indianapolis?" was asked of Alfred Knapp today.
"That is hard to tell," was the reply.

The question did not disconcert
Knapp, but seemed to arouse in him a speculative sense that caused him to a speculative sense that caused him to go into an explanation of his arrest.

"I know that she woke up several times since we were married and found my hands on her neck, when I was asleep, too. She would wake when I grabbed her, and wake me and ask me what I meant by taking hold of her neck that way, and I could not tell her why because I was asleep and did not know I had done it. Just last week she woke up just in time, or she might never have woke up at all. I might never have woke up at all. I grabbed her so tight and was choking her so that she was nearly gone and woke me up. I cannot see what makes me do that."

the search will be abandoned. Mayor Bosch said today
"Unless we find the body of the wife (Hannah), Knapp will likely be turned over to the Cincinnati police, where they have a case against him in which the bodies were recovered and to which he has confessed."

In anticipation of Knapp's possibly being tried deswhere today.

being tried elsewhere, he was today interviewed on the three cases at Cin-cinnati. Knapp went over each of the cases to which he confessed yesterday, giving the most revolting par-ticulars. In the case of Mary Elkhart, whom he first met at Dayton, he im-plicated this third wife, Hannah Goddard, but his cross-examination was such that the officers do not think the girl. The Cincinnati officers say that evidently he knows all about the killing, of Mary Elkhart, Emma Lit-tleman and Jennie Connors, as he give all the descriptions perfectly, even to the kind of a towel found around

Has No Feeling. Knapp did not show any feeling as he proceeded to tell the complexion of each victim, her size, traits of habit, etc., and in each case he was cor-rect in these details. When asked as to his motives he stated that he was afraid of them for what they knew about him. He intimated that he had talked to his wives about how he had done previously, and especially to Hannah Goddard, his third wife. He said Jennie Connors, his second wife, had threatened to tell something and he got rid of her, but he kept Hannah Goddard quiet because she was as guilty as himself in killing Mary Elkhart. And he killed little Emma in the lumber yard because he feared in the lumber yard because he feared she would tell on him. He said his wives were good to him, worked hard and were kind, but when he got afraid of them he put them out of the way and never had any fear of being detected.

Killing of Mary Elkhart.

Killing of Mary Elkhart.

Alfred Knapp has paid no attention to the repeated orders of his attorneys and his sister not to talk about his crimes. In anticipation of his probable trial at Cincinnati, Knapp was interviewed today regarding the cases there, and especially about the strangling of Mary Elkhart. When asked why he killed her, he coolly replied: "I was afraid she would tell something she knew."

"What did she know?" he was asked, and then he said: "Well, it was this way: I was married then to Jennie Connors, the one I threw in the canal, you know, and I was going with Hannah to this house on Walnut street, in Cincinnati, to Mary Elkhart's room. That night Hannah and I went there and Mary Elkhart went out and when she came back Hannah and I were together, and Mary got sore because we were there so long and she said: 'I am going to tell your wife on you,' and then she went out again to the bakery. Hannah was afraid she would tell and said we ought to keep her from it, and that it how it happened. We made it up and when Mary came back I choked her from behind."

Held Mary's Hands. "What did Hannah do?"
"Sae held Mary's hards; that's the reaon she never said anything."
"Did you tie a towel around her neck?"

When asked to describe Mary Elkhart, mapp said:
"She was as tail as me, and had dark air. Oh, I knew her when she was in layten. She advertised for a corresponding in the personals and I answered it and used to go to see her."
"Was Mary jealous of you and Handah?"

"Maybe."
"How was Mary Elkhart dressed when ou killed her?"
"Just in a nightgown."
"How did it happen that just after recrning from the bakery she was dressed nly in night clothes?"
"That's the way she was dressed when he came in the room."
"Where was her bedy found?"
"In front of the washstand on the loor."

"In front of the Washstand on the floor."

Asked then to describe the flight of himself and the woman, Knapp said he left first and met the milkman, almost knocking him down in the doorway, and that he had seen the milkman as he clambered from his wagon and told Hannah to wait until the man had passed through the hall, and that if the man discovered her he would fix him. The woman, he said, followed after the milkman had gone, and he then returned, locked the door to Mary Eikhart's room and later threw the key into the canal.

He went into much further details
