PRETEND TO BE PURE PATRIOTS

Servian Ministers Indignant Over Great Britain's Action.

OFFICERS WERE ASSASSINATED

CABINET CAME TO THE AID OF THE COUNTRY.

Belgrade, June 20.—The foreign minister, M. Kellevics, in an interview today, expressed intense indignation at the announcement from London that the British minister had been instructed to withdraw from Belgrade on the arrival here of King Peter. The minister said it was inexplicable why the British government intended to make the withdrawal of the Servian minister responsible for the deplorable events of the night of June 10. The members of the present cabinet, he added, had really displayed great patriotism in coming to the aid of their country in the sad crisis.

Made For Publication.

Minister Kellevics' statement was made carefully for publication and may be regarded as an official expression of the views of the government. The minister said:

"It is with deep indignation that we find in a recent telegram from London an indication that it is intended to make the deplorable events which occurred on the night of June 10, the cause of the withdrawal of our minister from London. It is with regret that we find that events of that night were carried out by Servian officers, who had been resolved to prevent the probable proclamation of the brother of Queen Draga as the successor to the throne."

"The fact that a woman was among those who perished in the struggle provoked by the attack of an anti-royalist upon officers is regrettable, most so, her death was by no means necessary even though she had been present at the whole Servian people from the moment she presumed to place the crown upon her unworthy head."

Work of Officers.

"The upheaval of June 11 was the work of a large number of officers. The consequences of the revolution, however, were sanctioned by the entire army and the whole people."

"With regard to the members of the provisional government who were called upon to take the reins of government in the absence of all authority, they only proved their patriotism and personal courage by accepting so delicate a mission as the restoration of the monarchy with and with gratitude solemnly confided to them."

"Is forgotten that the men composing the present government were drawn from all parties and were hitherto engaged in bitter political struggles. In devotion to their country could unite them at this critical moment. Proof of the fact that they rendered good service to their country is found in the peace and order prevailing throughout the kingdom. It is, therefore, good reason to regret that an attempt is now being made by a band of adventurers to attempt the regeneration of a young nation, which has passed through a time of trial and tribulation which is attested by the fact of liberty and civilization."

ALEXANDER WARNED.

Message Received a Few Hours Before He Was Killed.

Vienna, June 20.—Major Pomenoski, the military attaché of the Austro-Hungarian legation at Belgrade, was the last person outside of King Alexander's household who saw him alive. The afternoon of the day preceding the tragedy Major Pomenoski, at the request of the king, accompanied King Alexander, which was interrupted by the king's adjutant, Lazar. Pomenoski, who had been in communication with the king which seemed to agitate the latter. King Alexander added the fact that Pomenoski had been continued at some future time. Major Pomenoski, however, returned to find four officers standing in a group and reading an anonymous letter. One of the officers, who was a friend of the king, warned him that he would be killed. The king, who was much disturbed by the letter, but was reassured by M. Petrovics, who ridiculed the warning, and told him that he would, contrary to his usual habit, occupy his lodging in a house that night.

KING PETER IS IN A TIGHT POSITION

Belgrade, June 20.—Although King Peter is prepared to undergo any sacrifice for the sake of his throne, and punishment of the assassins his only means of satisfying any requirements appear to be to permit himself to be taken into custody, and to himself until quiet is restored, when they will be permitted to resume their places in the army. The provisional government holds office solely at the will of the army and should King Peter promise to punish the officers implicated, it is as likely as not that the army will force the withdrawal of the invitation to occupy the throne. It is suggested in official circles that Russia may possibly advise the officers concerned to do absent themselves.

EIGHT MORE VICTIMS.

Total of 167 Bodies Recovered at Heppner.

Heppner, Ore., June 20.—The O. R. & N. company has resumed regular service to Heppner, the track having been repaired today after an interruption of six days. Eight bodies were received at the morgue today, making a total of 167 recovered. Some were found below Douglas, a distance of about thirty miles. The situation at the morgue is becoming very trying, as the bodies are in a bad state of decomposition, but notwithstanding this fact they had been properly cared for and prepared for burial. The women who have so faithfully performed this task are worthy of the highest commendation. They have stood by this, the most trying duty of all. Money and supplies are being sent from the state and from neighboring states. Up to this time $2,250 has been received.

THE PICKET WON HIS FIRST RACE

American Derby Captured in Hollow Style in Record Time.

CLAUDE WAS NEXT IN LINE

BERNAYS WAS THIRD—SAVABLE ALSO RAN.

Chicago, June 20.—The Picket, a horse that never before flashed first past the post, won the American Derby today. He set the pace every step of the distance, was never challenged, and won in a gallop by six lengths. He ran the Derby distance, one and a half miles, faster than it was ever run before in the race. His time was 2:33.

Claude, the winner of three Derbies, was second, Bernays, the Cincinnati candidate, was third. It was a race without the thrill of an exciting finish. The crowd of 70,000 people which witnessed the sixteenth running of the event saw a contest that had been decided when the field turned into the street in front of a struggling field. The Picket ran so easily and truly as to leave no doubt that he would finish. The roar of cheers which greeted the successful horse began when The Picket was more than an eighth of a mile from the wire.

A Record Breaker.

The Derby was a record breaker of the turf. Nineteen horses went to the post, the last previous field being fifteen. The largest crowd that ever gathered on a western race track covered the Washington park grounds. The race was the richest in the history of the race with one exception. Betting on the race began in March and continued unabated until the day of the triumph. Money, it is asserted, was wagered on the Derby than on any other race ever run in America.

The Start.

Starter Dwyer delayed the start nine minutes before he dropped the flag. Sinner Simon, a "dark horse," was the first to get in motion, but The Picket did not delay an instant. In the first run for position he was successful and he had the lead in comparatively a few strides. Past the stand and in the hope of a triumph, he was running second, with Gilfain, Maxey Blumenthal and other conspicuous candidates in the next position. Thereafter the race was a struggle. The Picket struck the back stretch, Savable was in seventh place, and in front of him was The Picket, An Revolt, Linguist, Bon of Salsator, thought by John A. Drake to be invincible, failed to live up to his reputation. He received a rifle from Jockey Lester. Reiff that seemingly a move could be duplicated. Savable was never dangerous, and the fortune bet on him by his owner went to enrich the bookmakers.

Nearing the Stretch.

The gradually lengthening field of horses was the head of the stretch. The remainder of the journey was through a lane of people, who were clinging to the rails 100 deep on each side of the track. There was a great electrifying struggle. The Picket had his field beaten, and beaten badly. He was simply running as he pleased. Jockey Dwyer, who had been in the position at the start and end of the race, but little John Daly saw he had no chance to catch The Picket and also eased up, but almost too soon. Bernays, backed by a contingent of assistants, came on grandly from the center of the field and hitched up in a drive with Savable for the shortest time of the purse. Bernays got it by a neck.

History of Winner.

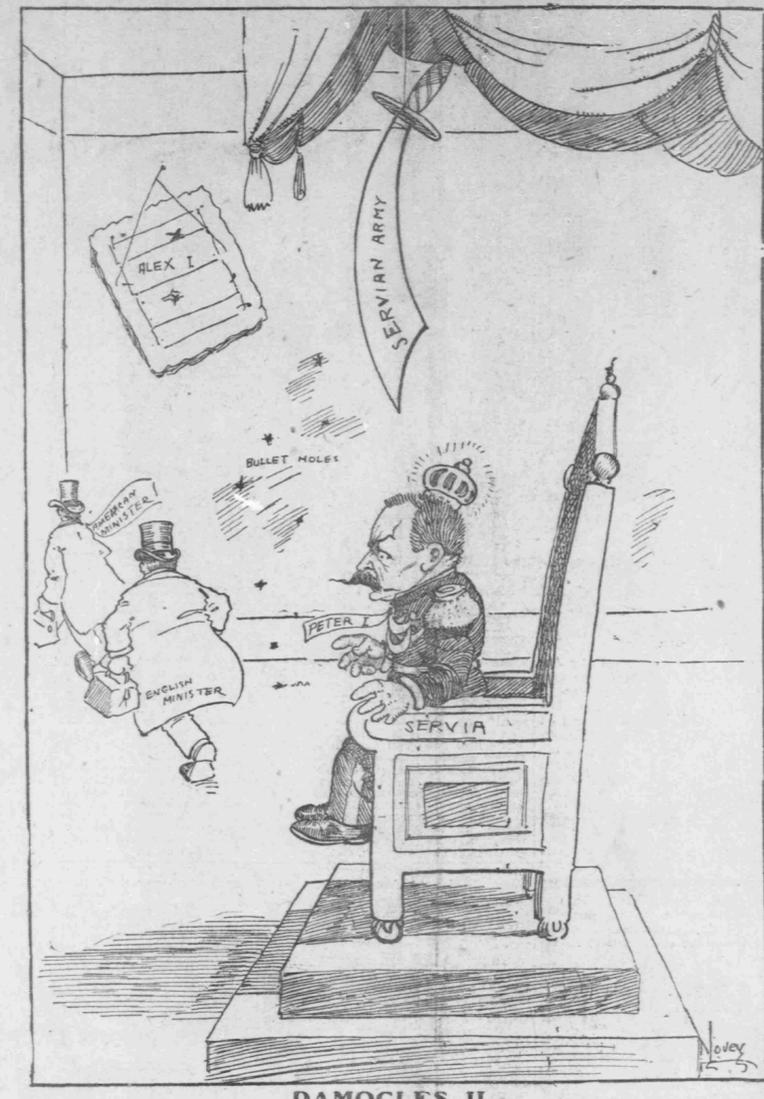

The Picket is a bay colt by Falsetto-Voltario. He was bred by his owners, Middleton and Jungbluth, at Louisville. He was trained by the same parties, and consequently carried the light burden of 115 pounds.

The Picket was regarded as a dangerous candidate. Last Tuesday he worked in the Harlem track in preparation for the Derby in almost record time. He covered the mile and a half in 2:32. The time was so fast that many people doubted the truth of the reported workout. The race today proved The Picket to be a wonderful horse. He practically repeated the workout in the same time.

The Betting.

The bookmakers wrote as many tickets as usual, but the amounts were small. All the big bettors laid their money in the future books and did not engage in any battle in the betting ring today.

The Picket opened at 6 to 1 and advanced to 10 to 1 before post time. Claude advanced from 4 to 7 to 1. Bernays remained stationary at 6 to 1. While Savable went from 5 to 2 to 3 to 1. Fore and Aft, the Tennessee horse, was probably the best played of any of the field. The largest bet was by Joe Yeager, who had a ticket calling for $18,000 to $300. He made the bet three months ago. The weather was complete. The largest bet was by Joe Yeager, who had a ticket calling for $18,000 to $300. He made the bet three months ago. The weather was complete.

BRIDE'S NAME IS DIVULGED

State Treasurer Hay of Wyoming to Be Married in July to Mrs. Mary A. Seaboldt, Formerly a Resident of Salt Lake.

(Special to The Herald.)
DENVER, June 20.—The mystery surrounding the fiancée of Henry G. Hay, state treasurer of Wyoming, which has been puzzling society ever since the well known Wyoming financier's engagement became known, was solved yesterday when it was learned that the bride to be is Mrs. Mary A. Seaboldt of this city.

Mrs. Seaboldt has been well known in society circles of Denver and Salt Lake City for years. She was the wife of Bert Seaboldt, the well known mining man of Salt Lake City, but obtained a divorce from him in Chicago two years ago. She came to this city and took charge of the chambers at 177 California street. She continued in her managerial capacity until June 1 last.

The delay in fixing the date and announcing the fiancée is said to be due to a deal about to be consummated by Mr. Hay, whereby he is to take a position in New York at a salary of $25,000.

CONFESSED THAT SHE SLEW HER HUSBAND

Spokane, Wash., June 20.—Aminda De Lartigue, whose husband's remains were found buried in the front yard of her farm, near Pomeroy, Wash., this afternoon confessed at the trial at Pomeroy that she had killed her husband with an axe and buried the remains on the night of Sept. 2, 1902. She claims she came to her husband's bedside, and when he was asleep, she hit him on the head, burying the body beneath the same night, together with his saddle. Self-defense is her plea, and she disclaims malice. She was 20 years the senior of her husband.

SPECIAL TERM OF COURT TO BE CALLED. DESPERATE CHASE THROUGH STREETS.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 20.—The Breathitt county feud has been the occasion of much talk of state officials and prominent politicians and others here today and the past two nights.

County Judge Hargis, who accompanied Jett and White here yesterday, was with friends until last midnight. His party returned to Lexington as the guest of John S. Kain, proprietor of the Leland hotel, and a prominent politician. Hargis is a member of a "committee" before the central committee, which recently reorganized the local organization. This action was afterward defeated by the county judge and his associates in the city. The members of the deposed local organization have been very attentive to Judge Hargis, and have been in the different conferences. This has caused reports about alliances. Some of the conferees were trying to get in communication with people at Lexington, Ky., in the person of Joseph Bruner, a detective for the Lexington and Eastern railroad, who runs to Jackson, was proceeding to arrest several visitors to Jackson as "accessory before the fact," and was prevented by E. J. Ewen, who declined to swear out the warrants.

Ewen Fears Assassination.

Even is still a prisoner in the Martin home and has been observing the house day or night, as there are many persons in Lexington now who have recently arrived from Jackson. County Judge Hargis, who is in an agitation there for the answer of prominent people for trial on charges of venue.

Tonight politicians of what is known as the "city hall faction," who are arrayed against the "insurgents," or court house faction, which is now in power, gave Judge James Hargis a supper at the Leland hotel. City officials were among the hosts, also Henry Bostwright, recently nominated for treasurer.

Among the others present were John S. Kain, president of the board of councilmen; Aldermen Allen and Burley; J. A. Livingston, city solicitor; C. W. White, registrar; John Payne, city jailer; John Manser, superintendent of public works; J. M. D. Ross and J. T. Watkins. There is no doubt that the party was an Osborne and the Harrison county officials that no troops be sent to Cythiana while Jett and White are in the city. The Osborne faction is less enough feudists from Breathitt county should be there to make the situation threatening.

Allowed No Extras.

Lexington, Ky., June 20.—Notwithstanding Judge Hargis' request that Jett and White be allowed "extras" at his expense, both men ate the jail breakfast. This was visiting day, and visitors were not allowed to see the Breathitt county prisoners. Jailer Wallace says he intends to be present at the court in the morning, any person who calls on Jett or White will not take any chances on either poison or collusion with outsiders. He watches all food that goes to them. Judge Hargis is still here.

ALLEGED ROBBERS CAUGHT IN IDAHO

(Special to The Herald.)
Blackfoot, Id., June 20.—Edwin Anderson and Henry M. Hildner, who had been suspected of horse stealing near Gray's lake, were today brought in by a posse of citizens and charged with breaking into and robbing the store of Henry E. Heath at Gray's. The prisoners were captured with about $400 worth of jewelry and dry goods, together with a large quantity of postage stamps stolen from the post office, which is in the Heath store. Both men are regarded as desperate characters and several missing horses in that vicinity are thought to have been stolen by them. At a preliminary hearing this afternoon they waived examination and were bound over until the fall term of court in the sum of $1,000.

UNITED STATES ALSO REFUSES RECOGNITION

Washington, June 20.—The United States government has adopted an attitude similar to that of England toward the new Servian dynasty. It will be in no haste to recognize the new government in the absence of some exhibition of a disposition to govern the new Servian dynasty. Mr. Jackson, who, besides being minister to Greece, is also minister to Servia, will not present his credentials to the government of King Peter at present. In fact, these credentials have not been prepared.

HOPPERS IN MONTANA.

Livingston, Mont., June 20.—Conspicuous prevalence among ranchers of the Bridger Creek country over a threatened grasshopper plague. At the present rate these pests are multiplying it will be a matter of time before they will punish the quality. Therefore, Mr. Jackson, who, besides being minister to Greece, is also minister to Servia, will not present his credentials to the government of King Peter at present.
