THE SUNDAY HERALD.

FOR A LONG TIME The Sunday Herald has been looked upon as the only paper between Denver and the Pacific coast that has kept pace with modern methods of Sunday newspaper making.

It seems proper at this time to call attention to some special attractions that will be offered during the fall and the early winter months, some of them beginning in August.

With the opening of the legitimate dramatic season, The Sunday Herald will begin the publication of theatrical letters from the pen of Franklin Fyles, the celebrated New York critic.

The labor question is one that directly concerns a vast majority of the people of the intermountain country as well as of the nation.

For lighter reading The Sunday Herald will have the McClure & Phillips short story service.

Next Sunday the publication will commence a series of articles by Ernest Harold Baynes, the famous expert on American animals, birds, wild flowers and other matters pertaining to nature study.

Of course the usual features, such as the Walt McDougall story for children, Marion Harland's page for housewives, the fashion page and others will be continued.

OREN ROOT'S RISE.

THE CASE OF OREN ROOT, general manager of the Metropolitan Street Railway company of New York City, gives us another illustration of the fact that this is the day of young men.

A college bred boy, Root found on graduating that he would be compelled to earn his own living.

Before long he became a motorman. From that he was promoted to a clerkship, then to assistant to the secretary of the company.

While with this road he had worked sixteen hours a day at an average of 19 cents an hour.

road to promotion. No employer is going to pay an employe every cent he is worth, for that would leave no margin of interest on the investment.

This is rather a new way of looking at an old subject. Very few employes receive as much salary as they think they are entitled to.

Also, it should be some comfort to the worker to remember that if he did get every cent he earned he would be an unprofitable investment.

THE VOLATILE FRENCH. THOSE FRENCH are great people. They are always doing the unusual thing.

According to the dispatches she gazed scornfully upon the audience and wore a becoming steel-colored gown and a dainty round hat, bearing a cut steel ornament and a cluster of white roses.

When James R. Keene says the loss of $1,000,000 in Wall Street "merely annoyed" him, one cannot but wonder how heavy a loss would have to be to Jar Mr. Keene.

THE FIVE-MILE RIFLE. NEWS REPORTS TELL of a remarkable weapon that has been turned out at the Springfield arsenal of the United States government.

It is claimed that with this weapon it is possible to hit a man at a range of five miles. Now, it may be true that the new army rifle will carry a bullet a distance of five miles, but is there a marksman in the army who can hit a target the size of a man five miles away?

Accuracy is better to be desired than great range. During the civil war the casualties were greater than in any war this country has ever known.

Old Time Stories. Captain Burns of Glasgow, recently, with the permission of the Duke of Argyll, has been searching for relics of the Admiral of Florence, one of the vessels of the Spanish armada known to have been blown into the bay of Tober-mory bay island of Mull.

Complaint is made because a man who was suffering with acute alcoholism was given a sentence of ten days in jail in the city court.

If all the engineers in the country got $50 a minute for slicing time off of running schedules, as was the case with one of the engineers of the Lowe special, our trains would be going some pretty nearly all the time.

The great volcano of Kilauea has stopped spouting after many years of activity. This leaves the geyser "Old Faithful" in Yellowstone park as President Roosevelt's sole competitor.

An eastern scientist has discovered a process by which gold can be turned into silver. That's a very useful invention—if you don't care what you say.

THE SPARKS

There's an uncompleted film that we all know very well. And it's time to get him judging misses.

Mr. Hodge wishes it understood that while he is the husband of Mrs. Hodge, they are merely casual acquaintances.

Back in Ohio a cow ate a vest containing $85. The animal was killed and $75 recovered. The farmer said she held back ten for her trouble.

Wall, it's all off with Carrie Nation and her legion. She was used the police of Scranton, Pa., just like any one would do, for misbehaving her.

British automobilists, very properly, are fighting the pending measure limiting the speed of motor cars to twenty miles an hour.

The pursuit of the California convicts has been conducted with rare skill. Only one innocent man has been killed by the officers thus far.

It was a few years ago at a little cattle shipping town on the Yellowstone in eastern Montana. A herd of cattle was brought in from the range for shipment to an eastern market.

The naval war game off the coast of Maine having come to an end, victors and vanquished will fight the "battle" all over again, over a few cold bottles.

SIR THOMAS

(August Barr, McIntosh, Monthly.) "You're Sir, Dooley," said Sir Thomas to a bloomin' mug with Shamrocks I. 2. 3.

Judge Boldertoss, justice of the peace, refilled his cornob pipe and gazed meditatively over the sloping lawn.

THE DISAPPOINTED ROOSTER. "Once we had a rooster here that, I regret to say, gentlemen, was a confirmed inebriate."

There's that old cup now. "There's that old cup now," said Sir Thomas to a bloomin' mug with Shamrocks I. 2. 3.

STRANGE STORIES OF THE DOMESTIC HEN

roosters, which always terminated in physical encounters of so serious a nature that next day we were able to inspect the arithmetical arithmetic dinner.

THE GOLD CURE. "Well, from that day on Pluto was never known to touch an intoxicating drop. In fact, he began to grow stronger on the subject of temperance, or rather, total abstinence, to the rising generation of roosters in the poultry yard, and by every gesture and chorle expressed his ardent approval of the fall to see the point? My dear friends, he had unconsciously taken the gold cure."
