LOVE FOUND A WAY

Young Man Has Much Trouble to Get the Maiden of His Choice.

An instance of where the course of true love required an extraordinary amount of smoothing came before the court clerk's office yesterday, but as usual in such cases love found a way and the young couple departed with the coveted marriage license.

Charles R. Beus, aged 25, of Hooper, and Miss Laura S. Dieu, aged 17, were the lovers in the case. The girl's father required the signature of parent or guardian. Now the parents reside in far away Belgium, but the couple had provided an affidavit that they had provided a document for just such an emergency. They had an affidavit written in the ponderous French of the United States consul and failed to conform in many other respects to the requirements it could not be accepted.

However, investigation during the day revealed that Mr. Beus, the prospective father-in-law of the maiden, had become sponsor for her when she was in the hands of a French notary. He had signed himself that she should never become a pauper charge on the commonwealth. With this as a "foundation" the papers were drawn and signed by the judge of the district court for the appointment of James Beus as guardian of the girl. Time and other formalities were waived, and in the absence of Judge Richards, the necessary orders making Beus the guardian and accepting as bondsmen Charles R. Beus, the prospective husband, and James W. Atves, the guardian promptly gave his consent for the issuance of the license and the same was promptly issued. On Tuesday next the ceremony will be held at the Salt Lake and with the tying of the knot the responsibility of the guardian will end. Mr. Beus will then become the father-in-law of his ward.

WEATHER IN OGDEN. The average temperature in Ogden yesterday appears somewhat disappointing. The maximum was 72 degrees, the minimum 50 degrees and the minimum 30 degrees during the first fifteen days of August when the maximum was 91 degrees. These were the 20, 5th and 6th. The highest average temperature of Ogden was 73, when the maximum was 90 degrees and the minimum 32. These figures are taken from the record kept for the government by Enoch Furr.

ALMOST A MURDER. Prisoners in Jail Fight Over Piece of Bread. A bloody battle, all over a piece of bread, took place yesterday about noon in the county jail between two prisoners, Allen Jones and James Desmond, in which Jones was terribly cut with a knife which the other had in some way smuggled into the place and had in his possession. The fight broke out when Jones had taken in and some of them had finished eating when the two men started to quarrel over a slice of bread. It appears that Desmond had another prisoner's slice of bread and announced that instead of paying it at that meal he would pay it at supper time. Jones, who is judge of the kangaroo court, insisted that Desmond pay it there and then. Desmond denied Jones' right to enforce such a decree, and a quarrel resulting in a fist fight followed. Desmond, who is the worst of the affair when he drew a knife and slashed the other man across the arm, cutting the muscles of the arm across in several places.

WARDEN HAS RESIGNED. Outcome of the Georgia Prison Investigation. Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 15.—The Georgia prison commission, which has been investigating the whipping of Manie de Cris, a white woman convict on the state prison farm, made its report today. With the report came the announcement of the resignation of Warden Allagood and acceptance by the commission. The charges of improper proposals by Allagood, alleged by the woman and French convict toward other female convicts are found to be "absolutely false and malicious." The report says the warden acted entirely within his authority in whipping Miss de Cris, and that he was led to it by severe aggravation. The commission concludes that this particular punishment was an "error on the part of the warden, who, recognizing that his usefulness may have been impaired by reason of the prejudice against him caused by the de Cris affair, has voluntarily handed in his resignation.

FLOATS ONCE MORE. Bar Harbor, Me., Aug. 15.—The battleship Massachusetts, which stove severely in her bottom when she scraped Egg Rock Wednesday, floats on the water more lightly tonight than before, having been relieved of immense quantities of naval supplies. It is not anticipated that she will be much difficulty in taking the Massachusetts to a navy yard after temporary repairs have been completed. It is expected that she will proceed under her own steam early next week.

COD CATCH SMALL. St. Johns, N. F., Aug. 15.—American fishing boats and French fishing vessels returned from the Grand Banks report that the fisheries there continue a complete failure. Owing to the scarcity of fish the boats are now in New Foundland waters. It is estimated here that the total catch of the cod fisheries of North America for the present season will be the smallest in twenty years. The French have fared the worst, their catch being only about one-third of the average.

C. Brown of Congo, Ky., was found dead this morning near the railroad track about three-quarters of a mile north of the Oregon Short Line and Rio Grande western crossing at Lake View. The body was found by Deputy Sheriff Graham when he investigated the case and from all appearances the dead man had tried to jump over a train. The body was found on the tracks about 2 o'clock this morning, and was dragged the distance to where he was found from Laune B. Edwards and H. G. Edwards, who were driving a wagon to him this morning, directed to Utah, Kan. The man was fairly well dressed and the letters indicate that he and his relatives are very respectable people. Premier Petroff Thinks the Macedonian Situation Well in Hand. Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 15.—Premier Petroff has just returned from a visit to the Macedonian frontier, where it touches the district of Dimitzita, and he takes a somewhat optimistic view of the situation in Macedonia. He believes that the outbreak will be confined to the village of Monastir, where the Turks will probably succeed in suppressing the insurrection.

When interviewed today on the conditions he discussed the affairs frankly. Regarding the reports that Bulgaria was responsible for the outbreak, he pointed out that the center of the disturbed area is nearly 300 miles from the Bulgarian frontier and is separated from it by a country largely inhabited by Turks. Consequently, he said, it is foolish to say that the movement is aided by bands from Bulgaria, and it is equally unreasonable to suggest that the arms of the insurgents came from Bulgaria. He asserted that as a matter of fact the guns used by the insurgents are all of French manufacture, and that most of them were bought from Turkish officers and men, who, receiving no pay, had resorted to the sale of their guns and ammunition to obtain money. The insurrection, he declared, was entirely a national movement, and was not organized by the Macedonian internal committee, which in itself was proof of the shocking condition of affairs due to the excesses of Turkish rule. He said that the Bulgarian army, entered Macedonia in full force to plunder and destroy. The situation in the unhappy villages he thought had been rendered more desperate by the refusal of the Turks to permit the unemployed to leave in order to secure work elsewhere. This goaded the population to the most desperate measures. Premier Petroff declared that the Bulgarian government is doing its utmost to maintain peace. "Not only is the frontier carefully guarded to prevent the crossing of insubordinate forces, but a rigid inspection also exists at the interior, and it is absolutely certain that no bands, large or small, are passing the frontier at this time. A few individuals may, of course, be crossing, but no excitement or enthusiasm is evident in Bulgaria now, but should the unexpected happen and a massacre of Bulgarians occur, or should the movement assume alarming proportions, the population of Bulgaria would naturally become greatly excited, and while the government is most anxious to maintain the status quo, it is equally forced to consider Bulgarian revolutionary sentiment. Thus a most critical situation might arise. It appears now, however, as if the movement would be confined to the district of Dimitzita, and if it extends beyond that, it will be a cause for alarm. On the contrary, he is of the opinion that the situation will soon change for the better.
