

has been a rule of the church" asked Attorney Jones. Attorney Stewart objected and after considerable cross-examination the witness admitted indirectly that there were other than written laws in the church. He went on to say that a sermon becomes a law as soon as it is read and continues to stand as such until repealed by the church. "Nothing upon sealings, Attorney Jones asked the witness how many forms there were. "Three, as I have testified to a dozen times during the day," was the answer. "Services Are Not Printed. "Are they printed?" "No, they are not." "May they not vary in form of words?" was asked. "If they are not written, may they not be varied in form by the officer of the church officiating?" "They may not," was the emphatic denial. It was at that juncture that the witness said that a mistake might be made in solemnizing that wrong ceremony, and that possibly a word or two might be accidentally interpolated or left out which would change the meaning of the ceremony which the contracting parties wished solemnized. "Don't you know there are hundreds of sealings and marriages in all of the temples all the time?" asked Attorney Jones. "Do you mean there is a continuous performance of them?" asked the witness. "You know what I mean," replied the attorney. After putting the question in a direct way, Elder Pearce said: "Well, you didn't ask it that way?" "None of your business," retorted Attorney Jones.

Said He Was a Prevaricator. The court interrupted the witness and Attorney, whereupon the latter said: "I want the witness to answer, for he is prevaricating."

The court administered a mild rebuke to the attorney, who then asked the witness to answer the question. "Yes," was the answer of the elder. "They live and cohabit together?" "Yes."

Leaving that subject, Attorney Jones touched upon the probity of Daniel H. Wells, who married Dr. Park and Miss Armitage. The witness said he was a man of probity.

Several times the attorney tried to get in the question showing that Dr. Park and Miss Armitage's marriage was one that would be considered as a matter of public policy, but was unsuccessful because the court sustained the objections.

Views of Church Very Liberal. "Suppose a man and a woman are sealed as husband and wife, and then do you understand under the law of the church they commit adultery?" was asked. "It would not be adultery," replied the witness.

By a long course of examination, with many objections interpolated by Attorney Stewart, Attorney Jones induced the witness to make the following statement: "A couple are sealed it is optional with them, before the ceremony is performed, whether they are to live together or not, and that should they change their minds after the ceremony has been performed, and cohabit thereafter, it is not a matter of the church and under the laws, would not be unlawful. He also brought out the testimony that many of women sealed for eternity could marry by the state laws."

"Have you ever witnessed an eternity sealing?" was asked. "Yes," was the answer.

Questions touching upon further particulars as to when, where and who the parties were, witness refused to answer. After a short rest, Attorney Jones asked the witness was executed until Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

A TEST EXPERIMENT. Peculiar Power Possessed by a New Medicine.

Of new discoveries there is no end, but one of the most recent, most remarkable and most valuable is a discovery which it is believed will take the place of all other remedies for the cure of those common and obstinate diseases, dyspepsia and stomach troubles. This discovery is not a loudly advertised, secret patent medicine, but is a scientific combination of wholesome, perfectly harmless, essential, fruit salts, pure pepsin and bismuth.

These remedies are combined in lozenge form, pleasant to take, and will preserve their medicinal properties, wherever all liquid medicines rapidly lose whatever good qualities they may have had as soon as uncorked and exposed to the air.

This preparation is called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and it is claimed that one of these Tablets or lozenges will digest from 300 to 3,000 times its own weight of meat, sugar and other wholesome food. And this claim has been proven by actual experiments in the following manner: A hard boiled egg cut into small pieces was placed in a bottle containing warm water heated to 88 degrees (or blood heat); one of these Tablets was then placed in the bottle and the proper temperature maintained for three hours and at the end of which time the egg was as completely digested as it would have been in a healthy stomach. This experiment was undertaken to demonstrate that what it would do in the stomach, it would also do in the stomach, hence its unquestionable value in the cure of dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Very few people are free from some form of indigestion but scarcely two will have the same symptoms. Some will suffer most from indigestion, bloating from gas in the stomach and bowels, others have acid dyspepsia or heartburn, others palpitation or headaches, sleeplessness, pains in chest and under shoulder blades, extreme nervousness as in nervous dyspepsia, but they all have the same cause, failure to properly digest what is eaten. The stomach must have rest and assistance, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give it both, by digesting the food for it and in a short time it is restored to its normal condition and vigor. At the same time the Tablets are so harmless that a child can take them with benefit. This new preparation has already effected many astonishing cures, as for instance, the following:

After using only one package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets I have received such great and unexpected benefit that I wish to express my sincere gratitude. In fact, it has been six months since I took the package and I have not had one particle of distress or difficulty since. And all this in the face of the fact that the best doctors I consulted told me my case was Chronic Dyspepsia and absolutely incurable as I had suffered twenty-five years. I distributed half a dozen packages among my friends here who are very anxious to try this remedy.

MRS. SARAH A. SKEEL, Lynnville, J. P. Co., Mo. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere at 50 cents for full sized packages. A little book on Stomach Diseases mailed free by addressing P. A. Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

PAYNE BRINGS FORTH THE BILL

Measure Designed to Put the Cuban Treaty in Force.

PREROGATIVE OF THE HOUSE

WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

Washington, Nov. 12.—When the house met today the speaker announced the ways and means committee, as follows: Republicans—Messrs. Payne (N. Y.), Dalzell (Pa.), Grosvenor (O.), Tawney (Minn.), McCall (Mass.), Babcock (Wis.), Metcalf (Cal.), Hill (Conn.), Boutelle (Ils.), Watson (Ind.), Curtis (Kan.) Democrats—Messrs. Williams (Miss.), Robertson (La.), Swanson (Va.), McClellan (N. Y.), Cooper (Tex.), Clark (Mo.)

Mr. Payne introduced the bill to make effective the Cuban reciprocity convention, which, without objection, was read by title and referred to the committee on ways and means.

Text of the Bill. Following is the full text of the measure: That whenever the president of the United States shall receive satisfactory evidence that the government of Cuba has made provision to give full effect to the articles of the convention between the United States and the republic of Cuba, signed on the 17th day of December, in the year 1902, he is hereby authorized to issue his proclamation declaring that he has received such evidence, and thereupon on the tenth day after exchange of ratifications of such convention between the United States and the republic of Cuba, and so long as the said convention shall remain in force, all articles of merchandise being the product of the soil or industry of the republic of Cuba which are now imported into the United States free of duty shall continue to be so admitted free of duty, and all other articles of merchandise being the product of the soil or industry of the republic of Cuba imported into the United States shall be admitted at a reduction of 50 per cent of the duties and taxes now levied as provided by the tariff act of the United States subsequently enacted. The rates of duty herein granted by the United States to the republic of Cuba are and shall continue during the term of said convention preferential in respect to all like imports from other countries; provided, Sugar Duties. That while said convention is in force no sugar imported from the republic of Cuba and being the product of the soil or industry of the republic of Cuba shall be admitted into the United States at a reduction of duty greater than 20 per centum of the rates of duty thereon as provided by the tariff act of the United States approved July 24, 1897, and no sugar imported from any other foreign country shall be admitted by treaty or convention into the United States while this convention is in force at a lower rate of duty than that provided by the tariff act of the United States approved July 24, 1897; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be held to constitute an admission on the part of the house of representatives that customs duties can be changed other than by an act of congress, originating in said house.

Guarding Against Fraud. Sec. 2. That so long as said convention shall remain in force the laws and regulations adopted or that may be adopted by the United States to protect the revenues of the United States in the declarations and proofs that the articles of merchandise to which said convention may apply are the product of the soil or industry of the republic of Cuba shall not impose any additional import duty, excepting the consular fees established by the United States, for issuing shipping documents, which fees shall not be higher than those charged on the shipments of similar merchandise from any other foreign country, and that articles of the republic of Cuba shall receive on their importation into the ports of the United States the same tax or charge that may be imposed by the national or local authorities of the United States upon the articles of merchandise of the republic of Cuba imported and prior to their entering into consumption in the United States shall be imposed and collected without discrimination upon like articles whenever imported.

Mr. Payne having moved to adjourn, Mr. Williams (Miss.) inquired if he was ready to announce the programme of the majority.

Mr. Payne said a meeting of the ways and means committee would be called tomorrow and he hoped to report the bill to the house tomorrow.

Adjourned.

SIX TRAINMEN KILLED

Two Heavy Freights Collide on Top of an Embankment During a Fog.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 12.—Two heavy freight trains, one of them a doubleheader, collided in a dense fog near New Hope, Ky., on the Knoxville division of the Louisville and Nashville today, killing six trainmen and injuring two, one probably fatally.

The Dead. Martin Graves, engineer. Main Conner, engineer. Edward Sturges, engineer. John Reynolds, fireman. William Leyden, fireman. H. H. Leach, fireman.

Injured. S. E. Hume, head brakeman, will probably die. A. R. Winkler, head brakeman. The trains met on a reverse curve at the top of an embankment thirty feet high. The three engines were completely demolished, and nearly every car and both trains landed at the foot of the embankment.

NEW CARDINALS AT CONSISTORY

First Ceremony Conducted by Pope Pius in Public.

PONTIFF ENTERED IN STATE

GREAT CONCOURSE OF PEOPLE AT THE VATICAN.

Rome, Nov. 12.—Pope Pius X. held his first public consistory today. Five cardinals, including the papal secretary of state, Merry del Val, received their red hats. Considerable excitement pervaded the whole apostolic palace, the pope himself being about the only person who remained calm.

At an early hour all the thoroughfares leading to the vatican were crowded with cabs carrying thousands of persons hurrying to secure good positions from which to witness the solemn function, while cardinals and other prelates and the various personages attached to the papal chapel drove up in heavy, old-fashioned carriages and were received with the usual honors by the papal guards.

That it was the middle of November, when rain may be expected, was beautifully clear and crisp.

The ceremonies began at 10:30 o'clock when the five cardinals who were to receive the red hat, Mgr. Merry del Val, Mgr. Callegari, the archbishop of Padua, Mgr. Agazzi, the papal nuncio at Lisbon, Mgr. Talloni, the papal nuncio at Vienna, and Mgr. Katschschaler, the archbishop of Salzburg, Austria, went to the Sistine chapel to take the oath before Cardinals Gregolino, Rampolla and Macchi, heads of the three orders of the sacred college.

Mgr. Merry del Val and Mgr. Callegari wore their red robes for the first time, and all the members of the prelates formed a most striking picture, the effect being heightened by the incomparable singing of the Sistine chapel choir, directed by Abbe Perosi.

All present noticed the firmness and determination with which Mgr. Merry del Val pronounced the words of the oath.

Meanwhile the corridors through which the cortege had to pass and the Sala Regia, where the consistory was held, were filled with spectators, the places in the three tribunals, with seats set apart respectively for the diplomats, the Roman aristocracy and specially invited persons, being uncomfortably crowded. When the audience had begun to feel the strain of waiting, a distant murmur, gradually enlarging into distinct phrases of acclamation, advised those who occupied the Sala Regia that the pope was approaching. A moment or so later the whole group burst upon them, their view, arousing a perfect storm of applause and cries of "Long live Pope Pius" and "Long live the pontiff" which were continued until the pope had descended from the sedia gestatoria, in which he had been borne by eight scarlet-clad sellaria, flanked by the great feathered canopy.

Naturally there were comparisons of Pius X. with the late Pope Leo XIII. Only a few months ago the figure which then occupied the sedia gestatoria was frail and bowed, more like a spirit than a man. Now the pontiff was a strong, living personality.

Assembly Blessed. His holiness was clothed in full pontifical vestments, and the emerald emerald sparkling on his finger as he raised his hand to bless the assemblage. Preceding him were the celebrated Swiss Guards, all trimmed in coming close behind them. The Noble Guards came next, escorting the pontiff, who was followed by a train of bishops, priests, monks and court laymen, at the end of the procession being another detachment of guards.

The pontiff seated himself on the throne in the center of the hall, while the cardinals went to their stalls on either side, with the bishops at the left.

Intense silence then fell over the assembled throng, and then the new cardinals were introduced by the master of ceremonies, who, while they knelt one by one before the pope, held a cardinals hat over their heads.

Thereupon the pontiff, with real emotion, repeated the usual formula, in which, used on such occasions, the pope usually embraced the five cardinals tenderly.

The newly honored prelates then arose and went to each of their brother cardinals and gave and received the usual fraternal embrace, the choir in the meanwhile singing softly.

When the ceremony of the exchange of embraces was ended, the pope bestowed the papal benediction on all present and then withdrew, the halls and loggias resounding with acclamations as he passed on his way to his apartments.

In Sistine Chapel. After returning thanks in the Sistine chapel, the new cardinals, with the other cardinals, retired to the hall of the consistory to hold a supplementary secret consistory, during which the pope granted them the privilege of participating and speaking at meetings of the congregation in all matters of extraordinary ecclesiastical affairs.

Among the Americans who were present at the public consistory were the students of the American college, with Vice Rector Murphy, Bishop Labreque of Chicoutimi, Quebec, and Father Meyer, assistant general of the Jesuits.
