

SNORES CHARM CURIOUS SNAKE

Dream of University Student Ends Suddenly.

BEADY EYES MET HIS GAZE

STARTLED SHRIEK MAKES SERPENT BEAT RETREAT.

Dell Judd has demonstrated that snakes are great snake charmers. Dr. Orson Howard, professor of natural science at the university, has long been an admirer of strange pets.

Next door to the doctor's office is the temporary home of the A. F. fraternity boys. When tired the boys adjourn there for a few minutes' rest or sleep, and herein lies a tale.

Snake Watches Sleeper.

A short time ago, Dell Judd, tired by his strenuous work on the track, lay down on the lounge to rest his weary bones. Scarcely had his eyes closed in deep sleep, when a small snake, with two bead-like eyes, slid slowly and noiselessly under the door separating the "frat" room from Professor Howard's office, followed by a long streak of bluish black.

About this time Mr. Judd was lost in his slumber, and pleasant dreams of winning the mile run in the coming track meet were chasing themselves across his mind. The sun was fired and the race began. Determined, each man started out at a record-breaking pace, but despite the efforts of the others, Judd was slowly drawing away from them.

Serpent Goes Exploring.

Slowly he approached the lounge from which the sounds were pouring in ever-increasing volume. Mr. Snake was in his glory, he coiled up and then uncoiled, glided around the room in overpowering ecstasy, and finally turned to the side of the sleeping Judd, coiled himself and slowly raising his head came face to face with the source of his enchantment.

By this time the race was almost finished, the home stretch had been reached and Judd still maintained his lead. "Mind the snake!" cried the spectators and the music of fifty bands he broke across the tape winner by a safe margin. But the excitement of it all was too much for Judd, and he awoke.

ENCAMPMENT IS BEING AGITATED

Most of the Guard Wants Another Tour of Duty.

EXPENSE MAY PREVENT IT

STRAWBERRY VALLEY AND PROVO ARE DISCUSSED.

An encampment of the national guard this summer is being agitated in military circles. As near as can be learned the majority of the organization favors going into camp this year the same as they did last year.

Government Acts Too Late. The excess cannot justly be attributable to the officers of the guard. The first orders received from the war department were broad, not limiting expenditures on certain lines, especially the commissary department.

Strawberry Valley Talked Of. Brigadier General John Q. Cannon said yesterday that he hoped to have an encampment. The matter of location of a camp has yet hardly been considered, he added.

COMES FROM LAND OF MANY BAD MEN

Sheriff Lewis of Cochise County, Arizona, in the City.

WEARS A VALUABLE CHAIN

TALKS ON STATEHOOD AND FUTURE FOR BISBEE.

Cochise county, Ariz., is not the most peaceful community in the United States, according to Sheriff Lewis of Tombston, the county seat. He says there are fifty-seven men in jail awaiting trial for different degrees of crimes.

Statehood Sentiment Not Dead. Speaking of the statehood troubles of Arizona, the sheriff said: "How it is ever going to terminate I don't know. We are hopeful that eventually we will be admitted into the union."
