

PULL TOGETHER AGAINST DISEASE

Health Officers to Hold a Convention.

FIRST IN STATE'S HISTORY

DELEGATES FROM EVERY CITY AND TOWN EXPECTED.

A convention is to be held in Salt Lake Oct. 7 and 8 that will be far from the least important state convention of the year. It will be made up of the health officers from every city, town and district in Utah as far as they can be induced to attend. Up to this time responses have been received to insure the success of the movement and these assurances with the work to be done from this time forward guarantee by far the most important health meeting ever held in the state. The move for this state health convention was started by Dr. T. B. Beatty, not as secretary of the state board of health, but in his individual capacity as a physician deeply interested in the health and prevention of contagious diseases. The board of health has fallen in with the idea enthusiastically and the members will take an active part in the convention. The sessions of the convention will be held in the city and county building and as it comes at the time of the fall conference of the state board of health officers from the remote portions of the state to attend when under other circumstances it is impossible, the trip would be too great. It is the hope of the promoters of the new move to have every district in the state represented and in cases where it will be impossible for the regular health officer to attend the plan is to have representatives selected. It is even suggested that in cases where the health officer cannot afford the expense, it would repay the county or town to pay the expenses. Special stress is to be laid upon the subjects of water supply, contagious diseases, school hygiene and quarantine. Papers will be read on these and other allied subjects by men recognized as authorities. It is not known what any talent will be called in from outside of the state, but it is possible that men of wide reputation will be present. This is the first convention of the kind ever held in Utah. The main object is to arouse an interest among the people in general and health officers in particular in sanitation, the treatment of contagious diseases and the proper steps to be taken in all emergencies to protect the public health.

WORKING BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Odd Fellows Nearly Through With Their Business.

DEFEAT FOR AMENDMENTS

COMPETITION DRILL OF CRACK CORPS.

San Francisco, Sept. 22.—The sovereign grand lodge of Odd Fellows and the grand encampment of California continued their sessions today behind closed doors. Several proposed amendments to the constitution were considered by the former body, and good progress toward completing the work of the annual session was made. The constitutional amendment proposing that young men of 18 years of age be eligible to membership in the order was defeated. The amendment providing for a number of changes in the official titles of the officers of the sovereign grand lodge was also voted down. Amendments proposing the barrier of sex be removed so that the Rebekahs might become representatives and the grand lodge and that the color line be extended so as to include the admission of men who were party of Indian descent were both defeated. Two measures tending to reduce the term of office enjoyed by representatives of the sovereign grand lodge from two years to one, also met with defeat. Laid on the Table. The amendment providing that men who were only indirectly engaged in the liquor business might be admitted to membership in the order was laid on the table because of a technical defect in its mode of presentation. Grand Sire John B. Goodwin was granted permission to read to his home as soon as he desires owing to the fact that his visit to San Francisco began much earlier than usual because of illness. The past president also presented a beautiful gift to Grand Sire Goodwin. The Washington, D. C., and the Sacramento drill corps met in competition at the Mechanics' pavilion. The members of "Washington" captured were commanded by Captain D. V. Chalm, an officer of the 10th States army during the Spanish war. This drill corps won the prize last year at Baltimore. Captain W. E. Ercoline commanded the Sacramento drill corps. Three officers of the United States regular army acted as judges.
