

POWERS REPLIES TO PROVO ATTACK

Takes Up Circular Issued at Home of Smoot.

DEFENDS HIS POSITION

SHOWS MALICE OF OPPOSITION BEING MADE.

(Special to The Herald.)

Provo, Nov. 7.—The opera house was crowded this evening to hear Judge Powers speak, many standing during the entire time that he was talking. He was listened to with a great deal of attention, and was frequently interrupted by enthusiastic applause. His sallies of wit and sarcasm at the expense of the Republicans convulsed the audience. His scorching references to the campaign that has been waged against him on account of the action he had taken in the Liberal days, and by garbled extracts from his testimony in the Smoot investigation met with intense approval evidenced by the close attention and vociferous applause whenever a climax was reached.

In spite of some housewren because of five or six speeches during the day, the judge sustained his well-established reputation as a campaign orator. The day had been a very hard one for the judge. He had spoken in Salem, Benjamin, Spanish Fork, Mapleton and Springville before coming to Provo. At every place he was greeted with overflowing houses and enthusiastic and sympathetic audiences.

Former Mayor Thomas N. Naylor acted as chairman. He introduced Judge Powers by making the prediction that the county, state and nation would return to the party that had placed manhood above the dollar mark, and had that test of its sincerity.

He spoke of Judge Powers' ability to represent Utah in congress.

Few Excerpts Taken.

Judge Powers excused himself for any lack of enthusiasm he might manifest on account of his numerous speeches during the day. He referred to the leaflet issued by the Republican county chairman, and made caustic comments on the fairness of taking a few excerpts from testimony that covered several hundred pages. He concluded that the excerpts were all that could be considered objectionable. In the testimony printed, he had referred to the days of the division on party lines. Those were peculiar days when men went to bed at night as Democrats and awoke in the morning as Republicans. When he spoke of "the sheep and the goats," he referred to that kind of men. He further spoke of the testimony before the committee at the Smoot investigation, which he wanted the Mormon people to read. He stated that he had come to the counsel of Senator Smoot and told them what he would testify to, and told them what he would like them to ask him.

Had Taken Honorable Attitude.

He told them that he could tell some things favorable to Utah which he wanted to tell. Then Judge Powers referred to the testimony in which he had spoken of the great distinction and honor which had come to Utah people, mentioning Miss Adams, Miss Toot, Miss Gates, Mr. Dallen, and others, as evidence of the condition of high education in Utah. He had gone to the senate committee because he was compelled to go, as had President Joseph F. Smith, and he believed both of them had told the truth as they understood it. He had refused to sign a petition for the expulsion of Senator Smoot, telling the Republicans who wanted him to sign it that if they did not like their senator they could get rid of him in the same manner as they had done with the late Senator Smith. And when a statement had been brought to him to sign denying the truth of the statement of Joseph F. Smith before the committee that the Gentiles of Utah had conspired to drive the Mormons out of the state, which President Smith testified, he had declined to do so, saying that others might sign such a statement, but that he could not.

The judge deprecated the attempt of the Republicans to revive old conditions by such methods as those of the circular, the very thing which they objected to in the American party.

He pledged himself to faithfully represent Utah and her citizens in congress, and to oppose any legislation aimed exclusively at Utah, which he believed was able to settle her own difficulties at home. The tariff, the trusts, and the claims that the democracy had done nothing for the country were also discussed by Judge Powers.

Musical and vocal selections were rendered by Miss Pearl Boren, Mildred McAllister and a trio composed of Messrs. Whitehead, Strong and Knowland.

After the meeting the Democrats entertained a large crowd of people at the Mozart pavilion.

DEMOCRATS AT EUREKA.

Campaign Closes There With Great Demonstration.

(Special to The Herald.)

Eureka, Nov. 7.—The Democrats of Eureka closed their campaign tonight with a monster meeting in Odd Fellows' hall. The famous Boxer club, which was organized four years ago, was out in full force, parading the streets in uniform, with torches, banners and fish bagpipes. At the hall an entertaining programme of songs, recitations and speeches was given. Edward Pike presided, and addressed the voters on the local ticket. W. Rydahl of Provo made an eloquent and logical address on national lines, one of the best speeches heard in Eureka during the campaign. At the conclusion of the programme every lady present was given a chance to guess at the majority which the Democratic candidates for congress, governor, state senator and representative would have in Eureka over the Republican candidates for the same office. Four handsome prizes will be awarded those whose estimate comes nearest the actual majority.

MEETINGS AT KAYVILLE.

Both Parties Hold Rallies There.

(Special to The Herald.)

Kaysville, Nov. 7.—Both the Republicans and Democrats held rallies here this evening, the latter drawing the larger crowd. The Republicans had for their principal speaker Ben E. Rich, and sent over to the Democratic meeting a challenge to a debate. The Democratic leaders after considering the matter, decided to refuse the offer on the ground that they did not care to furnish speakers for a Republican rally so that their opponents could draw a crowd. The Democrats believed that as they had the larger meeting their speakers would do more good where they were.

Two weeks ago when Judge Powers spoke here for the Democrats, the Republicans were challenged to a debate. They refused, they said, because the speaker they expected, Joseph Howell, did not appear, and they feared to trust their fortunes to Wesley K. Walton, the substitute.

GLEN MILLER LOOSE.

Remote From Railroad He Makes Nasty Speech.

(Special to The Herald.)

Huntington, Nov. 6.—Last night the Republicans had a rally here. Glen Miller of Salt Lake was the principal speaker, and in referring to some of Parker's speeches he said that some of the things Parker said were d-d lies. He said the American party was a Democratic side show, and that they were working to create a religious prejudice. He read from speeches of Frank Cannon and Senator Dubois to prove that both the American party and the Democrats said the Mormon people were d-d criminals.

There never was a speaker in Emery county that appealed stronger to religious prejudice and for church influence than he did. He said there was a movement on foot in Colorado speaking with Judge Powers in the theater tonight that told the miners at the coal camps that he would rather be an anarchist than vote the Republican ticket, and Miller referred to the assassination of President McKinley by an anarchist to create the impression that the Democrats were responsible for that murder.

CANNON'S CLOSING SPEECH.

Says Roberts Now Is Not the Roberts of 1895.

The American party held the closing rally of the campaign last night in the Utahian park theatre, which was presided over by a large crowd of people and held's band played a number of popular airs before the meeting was closed. As usual, Frank J. Cannon was the principal speaker, but he enunciated no new ideas and did not arouse the customary enthusiasm. He devoted most of his talk to assailing Brigham H. Roberts, who seemed to have aroused his ire by statements made in a speech at Brigham Saturday night, when he poured hot shot into the ears of the Republicans.

REPUBLICAN CLOSING TAME.

Frick and Booth Speak in the Theatre.

When Spell Binder J. E. Frick finished speaking at the Salt Lake theatre last evening, the crowd—if the audience could be called such—was a man to leave for their homes. Other speakers were on the programme, but those present seemed to have enough to say to the effect that the evening and the "final grand rally" of the campaign came to a sudden end without any of the red fire tricks that usually mark the finish of a political campaign.

ILLEGALLY REGISTERED.

Arrests Will Be Made on Attempt to Vote.

One of the chief duties of the party watchers at the polls in Salt Lake county today will be in the direction of keeping out illegal voters. That the registration lists have been greatly padded is beyond doubt and every effort will be made to prevent those who have been fraudulently registered from casting a ballot. State Chairman Eamberger and County Chairman Thomas of the Democratic party have offered a reward of $50 for the arrest and conviction of each person who attempts to vote in violation of the law. Arrangements have been completed to have officers at each polling place in readiness to make arrests immediately following complaints.

The matter has been taken up in earnest. Already applications for warrants have been made in several cases where the committee has reason to believe attempts will be made to vote. One case reported yesterday was that of a man and his wife who arrived from Ogden and attempted to register this fall and have been boasting that they would vote. The Democratic county committee is in possession of their names, and they are being watched to see if they attempt to vote they will be promptly arrested.

HAS NO AUTHORITY.

B. S. Harmsen Not Representative of Democratic Committee.

In a statement made yesterday the Democratic county committee calls attention to recent actions of B. S. Harmsen of Bingham Junction and asks that Democrats in this county be advised that Mr. Harmsen has no connection with the committee and is not in any way authorized to speak for the committee.

CARD FOR THE COLORED.

W. W. Taylor Advises Brethren How to Vote.

W. W. Taylor is out with a thoughtful card in which he shows the colored people just why they should vote the Republican ticket. Mr. Taylor alleges that "a very clever and cunning man on foot to mislead and deceive the colored voters and to prejudice them against those leaders of the Republican party who are helping to build up the church." He cites that although Ezra Thompson, a Gentile, was mayor of Salt Lake for four years he never appointed a colored man to the city council. He also cites that although P. Howell, colored, to any position whatsoever. On the other hand, however, James H. Anderson and W. W. Wilson, Mormons, have appointed Joseph Burnett a "lawn man on the city and county grounds," and W. W. Taylor license collector for Salt Lake county.

FISTIC ARGUMENTS AT BUTTE. Political Campaign Closed With An Accompaniment of Decayed Fruit and Eggs in the Great Montana Copper Camp.

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 7.—The political campaign closed in Butte tonight in whirlwind fashion at times threatening to develop into a general mix-up between the various political parties engaged in holding rallies on the principal thoroughfares of the city. Two Republican meetings were broken up by gangs of rowdies in a mix-up of fists. At another William Scallion, ex-president of the Amalgamated Copper com-

AFFAIR ENDED WITH A LAUGH. Russian Officials Handling Warring Factions of Students in a Rational Manner—Lances of the Cossacks No Longer Necessary.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 7.—There was a small student disturbance at the university today but it was handled in the same rational manner as the one at the Kazan cathedral about ten days ago, and as a result the whole affair passed off without serious consequences. About a thousand university students divided into two groups, one singing the Russian national anthem, and the other the "Marseillaise." The police appealed to the latter group to stop, and they agreed to do so if their opponents stopped. This was done, and the affair ended with a hearty laugh all around. The previous affair referred to above was organized on the occasion of the return in the Kazan cathedral on the anniversary of the death of Alexander III, the students making a demonstration in memory of the death in the Peter and Paul fortress of one of their number, named Borski. On this occasion, the prefect of police, ordered the police home and personally spoke to the students, asking them to desist and disperse, which they did. These two incidents, small in themselves, have created much talk in St. Petersburg, owing to the methods of dealing with student disturbances, which is attributed to the initiative of Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, minister of the interior. The demonstrations were neither more nor less serious than many which in recent years were put down by charging Cossacks with the riotousness. The pleasure is also expressed with the announcement of the resumption of the Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky's public receptions.

WOMEN WILL ASK CITY COUNCIL TO MAKE PUBLIC BATHS OUT OF WARM SPRINGS. In a petition to be presented to the city council next Monday night the Ladies' Literary club, through a committee named by the home and education section, will ask that the Warm Springs be converted into a public bath and park. The plans embrace a children's playground in conjunction with the baths. The committee, of which Mrs. W. R. Hutchinson is chairman, points out the fact that every summer many youths are arrested for violating the ordinance by swimming in the Jordan river, that many of these violations and consequent arrests might be avoided were there a public bath where the boys might swim on a nominal charge, possibly by centimeter T.
