

ASKS $125,000 IN LABEL SUIT

W. R. Jones, Jr., Brings Action Against Salt Lake Tribune.

ON FIVE DIFFERENT COUNTS

GARDNER FOUND GUILTY OF SELLING LIQUOR TO INDIAN.

William R. Jones, Jr., superintendent of the county infirmary, has commenced suit against the Salt Lake Tribune for $125,000 for libel. Jones objects to an article that appeared in the Tribune November 29th, which accused Jones of perjury, padding his accounts, and shady transactions. The story also accuses Jones of stealing, feeding the inmates of the infirmary on rotten mutton, and swearing to false payrolls. For this Jones wants $25,000.

November 7th the Tribune printed a story to the effect that the guilt of Jones as a payroll padder and perjurer had been admitted, because the Deseret News did not deny the accusation made by the Tribune. Apostle C. W. Penrose, editor of the News, is the father-in-law of Jones. The superintendent is accused of sending a wagon load of potatoes to one of the county commissioners, and of selling hogs without giving an accounting. For this Jones says he has been damaged another $25,000. For three other articles published, which Jones declares are false and libelous, he wants $25,000 each.

GUILTY OF SELLING LIQUOR.

Jury Declares John A. Gardner Sold Booze to Red Men.

The trial of John A. Gardner on the indictment charging him with selling ancient spirits to Wario, an Uncompaghe Indian, and to Ungaska, a Ute, was finished in the United States court yesterday. The jurors, after an hour's deliberation, returned a verdict of guilty as to the charges of selling to Wario, and guilty of selling to Ungaska. Sentence was deferred by Judge Marshall.

All the petit jurors were excused until Monday morning, when Robert Reynolds, who is also under indictment for selling liquor to red men, will be placed on trial. It is claimed by District Attorney Lippman and Assistant District Attorney Cherrington that Joseph Hicks, John A. Gardner and Robert Reynolds made a business for years of selling whisky and alcohol to the Indians at the White Rock and Uintah agencies.

Court Notes.

Judge Hall yesterday granted May Probst a divorce from Les Probst, on the ground of failure to provide. On the ground of non-support, Wilhelmina Nelson asks the court for a decree of divorce from Per Nelson. The couple were married September 5, 1905, and have an infant son, whose custody the mother desires.

Moroni Wagstaff, a street car conductor, has adopted Maude Carlton, age fifteen years. The girl is a daughter of Mrs. Wagstaff by a former marriage.

Mrs. Jane Stringfellow has petitioned the probate court for letters of administration for the estate of her husband, the late Samuel Stringfellow, who died August 20th. The deceased left real estate valued at $8,800 and personal property worth $250, consisting of shares in an irrigation company. There are, besides the widow, eight children to share in the estate.

Captain A. A. Smith and others, who were indicted by the recent federal grand jury, will be arraigned in the United States court today. After they have entered their pleas, their cases will be set by Judge Marshall for trial at the next term of court.

WARNING TO NAVIGATORS.

Washington, Dec. 9.—Mr. Griseom, the American minister at Tokio, has cabled the state department that Mr. Fisher, the vice consul at Nagasaki, reports that all shipping has been warned to keep twenty miles away from Pescadore, an island off the west coast of Formosa, and it is reported that fortifications are being constructed at Seoul.

MASS OF SORES

Awful Suffering of a Boy from an Itching Humour.

CURED BY CUTICURA

Not One Square Inch of Skin on His Whole Body Was Unaffected.

"My little son, a boy of five, broke out with an itching rash. Three doctors prescribed for him, but he kept getting worse until we could not dress him any more. They finally advised me to try a certain medical college, but its treatment did not do any good. At the time I was induced to try Cuticura Remedies he was so bad that I had to cut his hair off and put the Cuticura Ointment on him on bandages, as it was impossible to touch him with the bare hand. There was not one square inch of skin on his whole body that was not affected. He was a mass of sores. The bandages used to stick to his skin and in removing them it used to take the skin off with them, and the screams from the poor child were heart-breaking. I began to think that he would never get well, but after the second application of Cuticura Ointment I began to see signs of improvement, and with the third and fourth applications the sores commenced to dry up. His skin peeled off twenty times, but it finally yielded to the treatment. I used the Cuticura Resolvent for his blood, and now I can say that he is entirely cured, and a stronger and healthier boy you never saw than he is to-day."

ROBERT WATTAM, 4922 Center Ave., Chicago, Ill., Dec. 30, 1897.

No return in six years, Mr. Wattam writes, Feb. 23, 1903.

Your letter of the 21st in regard to the case of my little boy at hand, I am truly thankful to say that the cure effected by the Cuticura Remedies has been a most thorough and successful cure to date."

RUSSIA FAILED TO BUY WARSHIPS

Effort Was Made to Get Chilean and Argentine Vessels.

WOULD BE TOO LATE NOW

CAPTAIN CLADO'S MOUTH WILL BE BUTTONED.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 9.—The Associated Press is authorized to make the following statement: "The reports spread abroad that Russia has purchased either Chilean or Argentine warships are untrue. Efforts were made to secure them for the purpose of reinforcing Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron before it sailed, but there were so many difficulties in the way that the project was abandoned. Their purchase now, even if it were possible, would be unavailing, as Rojestvensky will have arrived in the far east before they could be manned and fitted. After the war the ships will be out of date. Having fasted ourselves we are equally confident that the ships will not fall into the hands of the Japanese."

reeing of Sadness.

The Associated Press is also authorized to state that every ship of the Port Arthur squadron is destroyed it will have no effect on Rojestvensky's plans, which never contemplated assistance from the Port Arthur squadron. The reports of the sinking of a number of Russian ships, of which the admiral has no confirmation, however, caused a feeling of extreme sadness in high naval circles where the plans of Rear Admiral Wren, the commander of the Port Arthur squadron, were known. It seems incredible that when it became apparent the ships were under fire of the Japanese guns that they were not taken out and sunk in deep water where they would be beyond the possibility of salvage. The admiral, it is said, is still here, but can account for the failure to do so. Admiral Wren was confronted by conditions of which the admiral is in ignorance.

Talked Too Much.

Captain Clado's campaign in the Novaya Zemlya against the admiral and in favor of sending out the Black sea fleet irrespective of treaty considerations promises to have a sensational sequel. The captain has gone to the length of not only criticizing the admiral but the Grand Duke Alexis, the high admiral. It is announced at the admiralty that Captain Clado's action is intolerable and that he will be arrested for insubordination. The captain is one of the witnesses detached from Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet to appear at Paris before the international commission which is to inquire into the Nonnen sea incident, but his punishment will only involve confinement in a guard house for two weeks, and therefore will not interfere with his attendance at Paris.

JAPANESE SURPRISED.

Did Not Expect to Destroy the Fleet So Easily.

Tokio, Dec. 9.—(5 p. m.)—Considerable astonishment is expressed here over the fact that the Russians in no way resisted the disabling of the Port Arthur fleet. In certain quarters the opinion is entertained that the Russians opened the sea-cocks of the submerged vessels, so as to lessen their exposure to the Japanese fire.

The recent cessation of mine clearing was taken as evidence that the fleet did not intend to make a sortie. There was no sign of life on the Russian ships during the bombardment, and from this fact it is concluded that the blue jackets took refuge on land or that they are engaged in the land defenses.

With the Russian second Pacific squadron approaching, those in Tokio cannot comprehend the failure of the Russians to die hard and to inflict all possible damage on the Japanese fleet, even at the cost of weakening the effective garrison.

Now that the Port Arthur fleet has been disabled, it is deemed impossible for the Russians to overcome the inferiority of the second Pacific squadron to Togo's fleet, unless, at present unobtainable, a Black sea fleet should pass the Dardanelles.

Getting Them Ready.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 9.—The admiralty announces officially that while the ships in the Baltic will be made ready as soon as possible against any eventuality, no decision has yet been arrived at regarding sending them to the far east. The fleetship Syria, the only modern battleship, will not be completed before early in the spring.

Dismantled and Laid Up.

London, Dec. 9.—The Associated Press learns in official quarters that an investigation induced by the renewed suggestions of sending out the Russian Black sea fleet showed that most of the ships of that squadron are dismantled and laid up.

WILL PAY TODAY.

County Will Settle All Claims Held Against It.

The county auditor and treasurer announced yesterday that they would today pay all claims outstanding against Salt Lake county. Any one who has a bill against the corporation is requested to present it this week if he desires his money. The election judges, tellers and registrars will receive their pay; road claims for work performed will be liquidated, and all accounts of corporations or individuals for supplies or labor will be settled.

Over 1200 warrants are at present in the hands of Auditor J. M. Fisher, and it is expected that these will be met today as the county treasurer has within the last few weeks taken in several thousand dollars in taxes. The county officials desire to settle all outstanding accounts in order that by the close of the year the books may be clear and in condition to hand over to the incoming employees.

TO KEEP GUTTERS CLEAN.

Merchants Must Not Sweep Dirt Into Them.

The superintendent of streets is commencing to enforce the rule that merchants in the business section of the city in sweeping the sidewalks in front of their establishments must put the dirt and rubbish in a proper receptacle and not in the gutter. During the summer months the order was not enforced rigidly. The tradesmen were permitted to sweep the dirt from the sidewalk into the gutter, for the latter was cleaned out every day, and the refuse could be easily carried away.

Now that the season is getting late and the ground is frozen, it is almost impossible to clean the gutters thoroughly, so no one will be allowed to sweep waste matter into them. Sweepings should be placed in a can or box so that the scavengers can gather up the refuse in their wagons when they make their daily rounds.

MARKET PRICES REMAIN STEADY

Commission Houses Received Few Shipments Yesterday.

FISH SCARCE AT PRESENT

COMB AND STRAINED HONEY COMES IN CAR LOT.

The local market was quiet yesterday and very few shipments were received. There was a scarcity of fish on account of bad weather on the coast. Idaho trout have been coming in slow and the demand soon disposes of the supply. Crabs and lobsters are in big demand, and unless a shipment arrives today, there will be none on the market. The poultry market is well supplied, but the present demand is light. A carload of honey came in yesterday and it is of excellent flavor. The strained honey sold for 25 cents a pint and the comb honey was quoted at 15 cents a box. There were no changes in vegetable and fruit yesterday, and the dealers had a good assortment on hand.

MUCH MONEY FOR IMPROVEMENTS

Government Will Spend $320,000 on Fort D. A. Russell.

WORK WILL BEGIN VERY SOON

FURTHER EXPENDITURES ARE LIKELY.

(Special to The Herald.) Cheyenne, Wyo., Dec. 9.—The war department has authorized the expenditure of an additional $250,000 at Fort D. A. Russell, and bids will be submitted on Dec. 14 for the following new buildings: Two double barracks for cavalry, two double officers' quarters for captains of cavalry, one double officers' quarters for two lieutenants of cavalry, bachelor quarters or club house in the cavalry-artillery section of the post; addition to guard house; one stable for ninety horses; wagon sheds; addition to quarters; master's store house; several shops and work sheds. Work on these buildings will be commenced just as soon as the award can be made and hurried to completion. The erection of these new buildings will mark the expenditure of about $1,200,000 at Fort Russell in the past three years, and about $1,800,000 in the past six years. The contractors state that inside of a year steps will be taken to replace the eight old infantry barracks with new and modern double structures. At the end of two years they say, Fort Russell will be equipped to house a full regiment of infantry, a squadron of cavalry, two batteries of field artillery, regimental headquarters, a large hospital corps. At that time provision will have been made for one colonel, one lieutenant colonel, five majors, five captains, thirty-six lieutenants, five surgeons, a total of sixty-eight officers, 1,800 enlisted men, 600 horses, and a store room sufficient to house 200,000 feet of clothing and provision all. At the end of two years, it is asserted, the complement of men at Fort Russell will number, inclusive of officers in all branches, 1,800 enlisted men, 600 horses, and 200 civilians, including medical, musicians, enlisted men and service men, more than 2,200. It is expected that before the end of two years Cheyenne and Fort Russell will be connected by an electric railway. Among the improvements at the post during the past few years are electric light, complete system of waterworks, enlarged parade ground, several miles of new carriage drives and stone sidewalks, gymnasium for the enlisted men, four
