

HOUSE EARNS ITS COMMITTEES

Kinney Gets Judiciary, Merrill Ways and Means. MINORITY IS REPRESENTED

CLERK J. D. HOOPER AND BILLS ARE CONSIDERED. Kinney of Salt Lake and Merrill of Cache are the two members of the lower house who will be at the head of the two most important standing committees which will govern legislation in that body during the sixth session, respectfully the judiciary and ways and means.

The committee on highways and bridges and on irrigation and reservoirs are also important ones, as nearly every member of the lower house has some bill affecting the same in these respects. Of the former, Maughan of Cache is chairman, while Austin of Utah is at the head of the committee on irrigation and reservoirs. A. V. Anderson of Salt Lake is chairman of the committee on smelters and smelting.

The question of sorting out places on the different standing committees for the three minority members of the house was apparently settled by mathematics as the proportion of membership, three out of forty-four, not including the speaker, is exactly the same as the proportion of Democratic committee "jobs" to the whole, fifteen out of forty-four.

List of Committees. The personnel of the forty standing committees follows: Agriculture and Horticulture—Hawley, Richards, Luther, Jones, Stewart, Spencer, Miller, Kuchler, Wootton, Stringham. A., Austin, Joseph, Kinney, Lyman, Stewart, Simons, Tolton. Hooper Row Revived.

The row precipitated last Friday over the proposed discharge of John D. Hooper, committee clerk, was revived yesterday, owing to reference in the minutes of Kinney's motion, which Hooper had pointed out reading clerk. Kuchler's motion on later withdrawal, and no mention, therefore, should have been made in the daily journal.

In motion of Joseph, and after considerable wrangling, the reference was ordered expunged from the minutes, Austin then insisting that his motion should be read.

APPROPRIATION FOR STRIKE BILL

Senate Measure Grows Out of Carbon County Affair. STEP FOR PARTISAN BOARDS

M'KAY WOULD REORGANIZE HORTICULTURAL BODY. Utah's expense bill for the service of state troops during the Carbon county strike was the subject of a bill introduced in the senate by Senator Lewis yesterday. The bill calls for an appropriation of $25,925 to pay a loan made to the state by the National Park Bank of New York on Jan. 25, 1904. The money was borrowed by Governor Wells to pay the troops for their field service. The amount is due within a few days and Senator Lewis asked for the immediate passage of the measure. He has omitted to attach a title to the bill, however, and for this reason it was sent to the committee on appropriations. The bill will doubtless come up today and prompt action will be asked.

Senator Larsen introduced a bill providing for the establishment of another experiment station, to locate and direct the same, and asking an appropriation of $25,000. The measure contemplates the appointment of a board of seven members, six to be named by the governor, the other to be the director of the Agricultural college experiment station, to locate and direct the same, and asking an appropriation of $25,000. The measure contemplates the appointment of a board of seven members, six to be named by the governor, the other to be the director of the Agricultural college experiment station, to locate and direct the same, and asking an appropriation of $25,000.

Senator Larsen explained that this bill has no relation to the bill previously introduced providing for experiment farms. His idea is to have one large and one or several tracts of suitable for practical demonstration of benefit to the agricultural and horticultural interests of the state. The board of commissioners is to select not less than forty acres, in one or several tracts, suitable for practical demonstration of benefit to the agricultural and horticultural interests of the state. The board of commissioners is to select not less than forty acres, in one or several tracts, suitable for practical demonstration of benefit to the agricultural and horticultural interests of the state.

For Partisan Boards. The first move toward making the state boards more strongly partisan and terms of membership concurrent with the expiration of the term of the board when Senator McKay introduced section 1, chapter 104 of the session laws of 1905, creating political parties, whose terms shall be of four years' duration to begin within thirty days of their appointment, is under the new bill, to create a political party, whose terms shall be of four years' duration to begin within thirty days of their appointment, is under the new bill, to create a political party, whose terms shall be of four years' duration to begin within thirty days of their appointment.

List of the Bills. Senate Bill No. 4 by Larsen—To establish an experimental, intrastate society of commissioners of horticulture, culture and irrigation. Senate Bill No. 5 by McKay—Amending section 1, chapter 104 session laws of 1905, creating political parties, whose terms shall be of four years' duration to begin within thirty days of their appointment, is under the new bill, to create a political party, whose terms shall be of four years' duration to begin within thirty days of their appointment.

A timely use of Piso's Cure often prevents pneumonia. VICTIM OF COASTING. Seattle, Jan. 16.—Fred Nicholson, son of a well-known Seattle business man, was killed last night as a result of injuries received from coasting yesterday. Young Nicholson was going down a hill on a sled, when he struck an obstruction and he was thrown violently. He was unable to get up and he was injured internally. He was 17 years old.

CHARGES AGAINST CALIFORNIA JUDGE. Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 16.—Articles of impeachment against Superior Judge E. S. Torrance of San Diego were presented in the assembly today by McCracken of Los Angeles at the request of the Los Angeles Bar association. In presenting the articles he asked that they be referred to a special committee of five judges to be appointed by the speaker to investigate the charges against Judge Torrance. Assemblymen Wyatt, Devlin, Barnes, McGowan and O'Brien.

JEROME'S OFFENSE. WAR UPON GAMBLERS. New York, Jan. 16.—Following District Attorney Jerome's announcement that his grand jury had indicted several alleged gambling houses would be begun in earnest today. Frank Farrell, the alleged gambler, who is being held in the county jail, has been searching for several days, today, for a place to hide out. He is being guarded by the district attorney's forces. "Dave" Johnson and the committee on municipal laws and the city attorney.

Horrible Murder in Northern Nebraska. Norfolk, Neb., Jan. 16.—Andrew Nelson, aged 26, a farm hand, murdered Miss Carson, a young girl, early today. Miss Jacobson was asleep with her mother in the room when she was killed. The fire for the morning, Nelson crawled into the room and blew off her head with a shotgun, and turning the weapon on himself, was instantly killed. The bodies were found later lying together. Jealousy was the cause of the tragedy.

Antidote for War. Barcelona, Spain, Jan. 16.—A curious method of terminating the Russo-Japanese war was initiated at a meeting here today. Delegates representing 106 labor and other societies telegraphed to the international anti-militarist committee of Holland demanding that a general strike be proclaimed in all countries with the object of ending hostilities in the far east.
