

SPEAKS OF THE DIVORCE EVIL

Bishop W. H. Moreland Delivers Address at Episcopal Conference.

WOMAN'S PLACE AND WORK

BISHOP W. F. NICHOLS AND DEAN HINKS ALSO HEARD.

The afternoon session yesterday of the Episcopal conference at St. Mark's was productive of several interesting addresses. The general topic for the session was "Women's Place and Work," and under this head Bishop W. H. Moreland of Sacramento spoke on "In the Home," Bishop William F. Nichols of San Francisco on "In the Church," and Dean Hinks of Boise on "In the Church Institution, School and Hospital." Dean Hinks spoke in place of Bishop J. B. Funston, who is unable to leave Boise because of illness.

There was no small sprinkling of women when the meeting was called to order at 2:30 p. m. Before the programme was taken up Bishop Nichols, who presided yesterday, read a letter from Bishop Keets of Olympia, Wash., in which the latter expressed his regrets that press of church duties prohibited his attending the conference.

Bishop Nichols announced as the committee on resolutions, Dean J. B. Fiddle, Rev. N. B. W. Galloway and Rev. E. Rufin Jones.

Touches on Divorce.

Bishop Moreland's address was a straight appeal for a more sacred regard for the home and the influence it wields in shaping the lives of the younger generation. The home, he said, in introducing his subject was the unit of society. If the home was pure, then the streams which should flow from it would be pure. The speaker said that to deal with woman's place in the home necessitated the consideration of marriage. He pointed out the relation of the sexes to the church, and how he had bought his bride with his blood. Continuing he said:

"Just as inconceivable as that Christ can be divorced from the church, so man and woman can be divorced, that man can be united in holy bonds with more than one. Marriage is a vocation, not a mere ceremony.

The climax of selfishness in marriage is, of course, divorce. Many men and women enter into marriage with the idea that if it is not satisfactory they can break it off and draw another ticket in the lottery.

Growth of Evil.

Bishop Moreland pointed out that there had been 700,000 divorces in the United States during a period of thirty-four years ending 1901. Divorces, he said, was the "darkest cloud in life today."

"If the divorces increase in like proportion in the next thirty-four years, we shall have 3,000,000 divorced persons. It will go on and on until a great sacrament becomes merely a social event. The position of a wife is not safe so long as the divorce courts are open. Teach your boy that selfish marriage means destruction of happiness, and your girl that loveless marriage means degradation of home."

Christ, he said, was the one through whom the home was bound together. Bishop Moreland held that women who believed that they were justified in seeking divorces, but who refrained because they honored their marriage vows, were heroes as brave as those who gave up life on the field.

Homes or Hotels?

"It rests on woman more than man to make the home what it ought to be. We're getting to be a nation of hotels and inns. We need more little homes, we need housekeeping.

"Our motto is no longer 'God Bless Our Home,' but 'God Bless Our Apartments.'"

"Our grandmothers and their ancestors were able to shell peas and entertain continental generals at the same time. The modern generation needs more of the housekeeping virtues."

In concluding, Bishop Moreland made a statement that drew many a smile from the congregation:

"Many a man is walking the street today who carries in his face a notice, 'Wanted, a Home.'"

Bishop Nichols, in telling of "Woman's Place in the Church," said that the rounding out of a Christian home was a Christian church. He took occasion to plead the call to the ministry be not submerged, that it be given an equal opportunity to develop in young men alongside with the call to the law, medicine or some other profession. He dwelt especially on the good work that might be accomplished by deaconesses and sisters in the sparsely populated missions of the west.

"Sisters in disguise," he said, "were found among most young women workers, including the woman reporter, who did not always see the pleasing side of life. In their patience he recognized a realization of the cause of Christianity, that they help in brightening this world. The telephone girl's voice, he said, often coming from the receiver, patiently and sweetly to a vexed person was an indication of that Christian spirit."

In conclusion he said that woman's place in the church was hand in hand with man. Dean Hinks touched particularly on woman's place in the hospital. Souls, he said, had been won by the tender sympathy of woman, in the church in the hospital, in the school and in the hospital. He illustrated his address, which was brief, by instances of woman's influence which he had observed during his ministry.

Following the afternoon programme, the Episcopal delegates and visiting clergymen, including Holmes and Hinks, left for the courtesy of Colonel and Mrs. Edwin F. Holmes.

Morning Programme.

Following holy communion service yesterday morning the delegates were guests of Miss Clara Colburn at breakfast at the Hotel Holmes. This morning the Women's Guild of St. Paul's will serve breakfast at 7:30 a. m. service at St. Paul's church. Resolutions of thanks were expressed yesterday to the kind members of St. Mark's.

In the absence of Rev. J. W. Greenham of San Jose, Rev. N. B. W. Galloway delivered the first address yesterday morning under the head of "Special Missionary Problems in the Seventh District." Rev. Mr. Galloway spoke on "Meeting the Apportionment."

He urged that the apportionment be equitably divided among the church members, that the richer parishioners be not looked upon for the larger share. He spoke of three plans in vogue and discussed them. First, raising the apportionment by pledges at the beginning of the church year; second, through collections; third, by means of little boxes at home.

Archdeacon Bywater led in the discussion. He dwelt on the personality of the pastor as a factor in meeting the apportionment. He believed that the title system was a good one, that is to set aside 10 per cent of the parish receipts for special work. Of this 2 per cent might be used for diocesan missionary work, 2 1/2 per cent for diocesan work, and 2 1/2 per cent for diocesan work.

Others who discussed the question were Rev. H. Ramsey, Rev. A. Miller, Rev. L. C. Sanford, Rev. C. E. Perkins and Archdeacon John A. Emery. Archdeacon Emery spoke on "Methods of Developing Self Help." He dwelt on the personality of the men in the various mission fields, showing that much depended on their scholarly attainments, their tact and adaptability. The hardships of the work, he said, where the population is scattered were pointed out. Among those who joined in the discussion were Rev. Alfred Brown, Rev. Mr. Swan and Rev. Mr. Miller. The latter pointed out the value of western missionary training for western work in distinction to that of the eastern colleges.

Rev. J. W. Gunn of Montrose, Colo., spoke on the "Relation of the Church to the Christian Home." He dwelt on the work of the movement for the unity of creeds. He urged harmony and fraternal feeling between the various churches. Some of the best clergymen in the Episcopal church, he reminded his hearers, had come from other churches.

Rev. N. B. W. Galloway followed in the same vein, urging that schisms be avoided. He advocated a further degree of charity in each direction, although this matter has not yet been determined.

The Santa Fe started the fight several weeks ago, when it announced that it would sell round trip tickets to Chicago and Kansas City at one fare on certain dates, in addition to the one-fare rate that had been agreed upon by Transcontinental Passenger association lines for conventions in the east.

This action was taken in the regular manner provided for members of the association. It was stated at that time by the Santa Fe that it wished to extend the low rate privileges to patrons who might desire to go east, but who would not attend the conventions at remote points.

SANTA FE CUT-OFF.

President Ripley Says $10,000,000 Will Be Expended on Project.

San Francisco, May 5.—President E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe, who is still on the coast, has announced that there will be spent by the company $10,000,000 in building a new cut-off for the company's overland line to California in order to avoid mountain grades and reduce the running time of trains. The western end of the cut-off will be at Belen, a station on the present main line in New Mexico about twenty-seven miles south of Albuquerque, while the eastern end will be at Texico in Texas, a station on the company's line running north and south between Kansas and the Pecos valley country in western Texas.

ORANGES FOR THE MANY.

California Fruit Given to All Corners at San Pedro Office.

Several clerks in the Salt Lake ticket office were kept busy for an hour yesterday handing out California oranges to the public. The oranges were from the famous Oatman's Sunny Mountain navel and were given away to advertise the climate of California and the Salt Lake route.

Railroad Notes.

Union Pacific motor car No. 1 made a trip to Ogden and return yesterday afternoon, leaving the Short Line depot in Salt Lake at 2:30. It came back several hours later and returned to the city during the night. Several Short Line and other railway officials

SMITH INDICTMENTS QUASHED AND GRAND JURY SCORED BY JUDGE

New York, May 5.—Judge Foster, in the court of general sessions today quashed the indictments charging conspiracy against J. Morgan Smith and his wife, Julia Patterson Smith. He gives the district attorney permission to re-submit the case to the grand jury. The Smiths were arrested in Cincinnati and are now in the Tombs prison here. The Smiths will remain in the Tombs pending the decision of the district attorney as to whether he will re-submit the case to the grand jury. Counsel for the Smiths said that after twenty-four hours he will move for their discharge if the district attorney has not by that time decided to re-submit the case and fixed the time to do so. In dismissing the indictments Judge Foster severely criticized the grand jury. "The minutes of testimony show no evidence whatever of conspiracy on the part of these defendants," he wrote. "The grand jury has no right to find an indictment where there is no evidence to support it. I can only explain the fact that an indictment was found on the theory that the defendants, who were absent from the state, were until May 15, the reason for not adjourning since die being that the attorneys desired to make a careful study of all the proceedings, and to look for any technical errors which might have crept in, remedying them at the adjourned meeting, if any were found.

Changes in the Laws.

The Utah state legislature, at its session passed several innocuous-looking laws, which it now develops, were framed almost solely in the interests of Mr. Harriman, to enable him to carry out his program yesterday. Although he had a majority of the stock, he did not have the two-thirds necessary to increase the capitalization under the old statutes. Consequently a series of acts were put through, in substance as follows:

An amendment was made to one section of what is known as the "railroad law," permitting the election of directors for three years. Formerly the law limited their term to one year, or until their successors were elected and qualified. By this change, Mr. Harriman has been enabled to elect his board of directors and maintain control for three years, no matter what the changes in common stock ownership may be.

Another change permits a majority (formerly two-thirds) of the stockholders to bond, sell, etc., and also permits the board of directors to draw and formulate their own by-laws, instead of leaving that matter to the stockholders.

Another provision was the allowing of the majority interests of the stockholders to authorize the issuance of preferred stock; formerly, it was two-thirds.

MOTOR CARS ARE COMING. Six New Gasoline Engines Ordered for the Short Line.

(Special to The Herald.) — announced that the Union Pacific will build eight gasoline motor cars for the Short Line. The cars will be No. 1, and that the cars will be taken to Salt Lake City and installed in the service on the Ogden-Cedar Breaks line. They will be longer and heavier than the first car which has proved such a success on its western trip, and work will begin on them at an early date according to a Union Pacific official.

This morning, Union Pacific motor car No. 1 is at Salt Lake City on its way to Portland, and is making some phenomenal runs over the system.

RATE WAR IN THE WEST.

Southern Pacific Announces That It Is Ready for Cheap Fares.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 5.—Another move in what may prove to be a lively passenger rate war from California to the east has been taken by the Southern Pacific in announcing that it not only would meet the recent action of the Santa Fe in declaring a rate of one fare for the round trip to Chicago and Kansas City, but would extend the privilege to various other cities.

The Southern Pacific now offers round trip tickets on certain dates in May, June and July at $9 to Missouri river points; $6.50 to St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans; $7 to St. Paul and Minneapolis; and $2.50 to Chicago.

Tickets at these rates will be good for return within sixty days from date of sale, and probably will have a stop-over privilege in each direction, although this matter has not yet been determined.

L. O. Leonard returned from St. Louis yesterday. He announces that the Missouri Pacific will maintain a separate agency here and go after its share of the business.

The Oregon Short Line will run a popular excursion from Salt Lake to Ogden Sunday, leaving Salt Lake at 7:10 and 9:30 a. m., and 1:40 and 4:10 p. m. Returning trains will leave Ogden at 2:40 and 6:20 p. m.

WOULD WACK AND SCREAM

Baby's Awful Suffering from Eczema—Could Not Hold Her—Tore Face and Arms Almost to Pieces—Grateful Mother Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES SAVED HER LIFE"

"When my little girl was six months old, she had eczema. We had used cold creams and all kinds of remedies, but nothing did her any good; in fact, she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands up, and when I would dress her, I had to put her on the table, for I could not hold her. She would kick and scream, and when she could, she would tear her face and arms almost to pieces. I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment, two cakes of Cuticura Soap, and gave her the Cuticura Resolvent, and she was cured, and I see no traces of the humor left. I can truthfully say that they have saved her life, and should advise any one suffering as she did, to give Cuticura a fair trial. Mrs. G. A. Conrad, Lisbon, N. H., Feb. 7, 1898."

"It is with pleasure that I can inform you that the cure has been permanent. It is now five years since she was cured, and there has been no return of the disease since. I have advised a lot of friends to use Cuticura in all diseases of the skin."

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment, the great skin cure. This is pure, sweetest, most speedy, permanent, and economical treatment for torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, scaly, crusted and pimply skin and scalp humors.
