FOR A RATIONAL FOURTH.

Proper observance of Mayor Morris' proclamation by police officers and celebrants will go a long way toward giving Salt Lake City a "rational Fourth" this year.

Two paragraphs of the proclamation are especially commendable, the one relating to the sale of toy pistols and metal caps to children, and the one relating to the placing of explosives on street car tracks.

The mayor's warning against the use of firearms, by directing attention to the law prohibiting their discharge, is in line with his other precautions for the protection of life and limb.

Protection to property is contemplated by the sections of the proclamation prohibiting the use of fireworks in back yards, alleys, etc., and the building of bonfires anywhere in the city.

Probably the police and fire departments do not need any special instructions to make every effort to enforce the law governing the celebration of the day, but the mayor's proclamation will serve to impress the existing laws upon their minds as well as to make plain to them the extent to which the mayor has determined to exercise his discretionary power.

PRUNING THE GRIFT.

It seems somebody around the Equitable Life offices figured that Chauncey Depew's affidavit contenance was worth $20,000 a year. David B. Hill was estimated at one-fourth that value.

Under the Morton regime, these succulent grafts have been eliminated, along with other donations of policyholders' money to gentlemen whose friendship or political pull or social standing gave them a hand in the grab-bag.

Out here in the wild and woolly west, we know a little something about flotation of stocks with the aid of respectable names on the directory, we have occasional deals in salted mines, and we thought there were some really bright men operating in the "wild-cat" line.

No wonder the Mutual Life asks for a state investigation of its affairs in order that its policy-holders may be reassured; no wonder the whole business of life insurance has suffered from the exposure of the Hyde-Alexander management.

NEW TARIFF SCHEME.

A scheme of tariff revision by the adoption of the maximum and minimum plan now in operation in Europe is likely to be recommended by the president, according to recent advices from Washington.

to cases where the high American tariff has caused retaliation. Under the maximum and minimum tariff scheme, which has never been tried by the United States, two rates of customs duties are enforced.

A complete revision of the present tariff schedule would be necessary to the adoption of this plan, and there is every reason to believe a complete change of congress, or at least a complete change of control, is necessary to any modification of the existing rates which have been so profitable to the protected interests.

It is, nevertheless, gratifying to learn that the president contemplates making an investigation of the character indicated. An inquiry of this sort, if conducted thoroughly and honestly, ought to disclose much important information and will be of great educational value to the people of the country.

NATION'S EXPENSE ACCOUNT.

According to the treasury statement for the fiscal year just closed, Secretary Shaw's guess on the year's deficit was better than even he dared to hope six weeks ago. The guess was only $6,500,000, instead of $18,000,000 as estimated by Mr. Shaw.

But a deficit of even $24,500,000 should be a cause of congratulation for the secretary. The month of June came gallantly to his rescue with a surplus of nearly $12,000,000, and this unexpected amount reduced the promised deficit of $37,000,000 to the figure given above.

It is interesting to note that under the grouping of sources of expenditure in the report, the pension department is the only one that shows a decrease from the figures of 1904. Here there was a falling off of $900,000. Civil and military expenditures for 1905 were $15,000,000 in excess of 1904, notwithstanding that the figures for 1904 including payment for the right of way of the Panama canal and the loan to the St. Louis fair.

The total receipts were about $42,000,000, about $2,000,000 in excess of Mr. Shaw's estimate. Adding to this the deficit of about $24,500,000, it is seen that it cost $57,500,000 to run the government from July 1, 1904, to July 1, 1905, or about $7 for each person under the jurisdiction of the United States, not counting the natives of the Philippines.

MURRAY'S GREAT FOURTH.

Within a period of little more than two years, Murray has risen from an unincorporated village to a city of the second class, a record that speaks eloquently of the advancement made by that portion of the county lying south of Salt Lake City.

SOCIETY

Mrs. David Evans was the hostess yesterday at a large and thoroughly delightful luncheon followed by cards, at which some forty of her friends were entertained at her beautiful home on the East Drive.

The guests were Mrs. James A. Miller, Mrs. H. J. Dinny, Mrs. S. W. Sears, Mrs. Ellen Elliott, Mrs. C. D. Moore, Mrs. C. H. Van Arman, Mrs. Isadore Mayer, Mrs. Pauline Sands, Mrs. Charles Cain Crismon, Mrs. F. E. Hobbs, Miss Edith Hobbs, Mrs. E. A. Wedgwood, Mrs. A. A. Thomas, Mrs. Thomas Kearns, Mrs. C. Buckholtz, Mrs. Roberts of Chicago, Mrs. Paul King of Michigan, Mrs. A. E. Birch, Mrs. W. F. Adams, Mrs. M. A. Hanson, Miss Lucille Sears, Miss Claire Ellerbeck, Mrs. W. R. Wightman, Mrs. W. L. Snyder, Mrs. M. J. McPherson, Mrs. Peter McPherson, Mrs. John Reed, Mrs. J. D. Woods, Dr. Lydia Muma of Indiana, Mrs. F. J. Dickert, Mrs. Joseph H. Rawlins, Mrs. Walter Scott, Mrs. George W. Snow, Mrs. Thomas Marionaux, Mrs. Hal W. Brown, Mrs. Agnes Osborne and Mrs. William H. Dale.

Mr. Charles G. Plummer and Mrs. W. Montague Ferguson entertained a group of the musicians of the city yesterday at a luncheon at the Country club in compliment to Madam Anselma M. Fox of Chicago, who is the guest of Miss Agatha Berkhoel. The long table was covered with trailing branches of crimson and white, the great sprays being arranged as to preserve the natural bent of the gorgeous flower. Seated at the table with the hostesses and the guest of honor were Miss Berkhoel, Mrs. F. J. Fabian, Mrs. Ira Lewis, Mrs. Martha Royle King, Mrs. William A. Wetzel, Mrs. Graham F. Putnam, Miss Genevieve Ellerbeck, Mrs. Maud Thorne, Swenson and Mrs. Benner K. Smith.

Another luncheon at the Country club was that given by Mrs. E. O. Howard in compliment to Miss Joy De Camp, at which a few of the young girl friends of the hostess were present. The decorations were all in pink and white, pink sweet peas and gypsy filium being used. A low centerpiece of the two same used and corsages of the same tied with long streamers of pink ribbon gave an added color effect.

The members of the Whist club entertained yesterday at a luncheon at the Alta club for Mrs. Fred Simon, who leaves tomorrow for the city of Seattle. Besides the members of the club, numbering about a dozen, there were present as many more of the old-time friends and acquaintances of the guest of honor. The large oval table was decorated in red and yellow, the showy corsages blossoms being all in crimson rambler. A large basket filled with flowers was suspended above the table, and below it was a bed of simple clover blossoms for good luck. Around the edge of the table sprays of the rambler were laid and at the opposite corners vases of it added a brightness to the table.

Mrs. George Y. Wallace entertained yesterday at a party, at which she was loved by a luncheon in honor of a few of her former neighbors who are leaving town. They were Mrs. Ira O. Rhoades, Mrs. P. R. Ferguson and Mrs. Warren C. Bogue, and the friends to meet them were Mrs. O. W. Powers, Mrs. A. E. Hutchinson, Mrs. Cyverus Buckingham, Miss Harriet Dunster, Mrs. Elizabeth Belden, Mrs. O. E. Cary, Mrs. Page, Miss Winnie Rhoades and Miss Coralline Holmes.

Miss Louise Sullivan entertained about a dozen of her girl friends at a Kensington yesterday afternoon for Miss Winnie Rhoades, who leaves in the morning for San Francisco. The hours of the last July day were passed in sewing and conversation, the guests being seated on the lawn and the broad veranda.

Professor Thomas McClelland, president of Knox college, Illinois, and a party will be in the city today to stay till tomorrow evening. The party will include, among others, the parents of Dr. L. E. Arnold of this city, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Arnold of Galesburg.

Dr. Lydia Muma of Indiana is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Walter Scott, for a part of the summer. The hostesses at the country club today will be Mrs. E. O. Howard, Miss Maud Thorne and Miss Katherine Williams.

Miss Jenna Budd Geddes will give a large lake party this evening for her young friends. Mrs. Dorsey Ash entertained a few of her friends yesterday at cards, followed by a luncheon at the University club. The affair was given to meet her mother, Mrs. E. E. Richardson of Wilmington, and in the game of 500 prizes were won by Mrs. Ernest Drake and Mrs. W. P. Cooper.

Mrs. A. B. Thompson leaves next Tuesday for her home in Portland, Ore. Miss Clara Thompson will be in the city for a few weeks longer of friends at the post.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Schuler will be at home after Tuesday at Whitehall. Mrs. J. E. Gray of Kansas City is here visiting Mr. and Mrs. David R. Gray.

Miss Beatrice O'Connor gives an informal musicale at her home Monday evening. Mrs. Edward M. Allison leaves early next week to spend the summer in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kearns will leave next Wednesday for their summer home near Santa Rosa, Cal. Mrs. Thomas Marionaux will give a luncheon next Wednesday for Mrs. John Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mine of Cedar City are in town, the guests of Miss Maud May Babcock. Mrs. Mine was formerly Miss Annie Spencer of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Hobbs and their daughter, Miss Edith Hobbs, leave this morning for a stay of some two months in Portland.

Mrs. E. A. Wedgwood goes to Provo today to spend a week with Mrs. Sam Schwab. Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Ferguson will leave this morning for a visit of two months in Scotland.

Mrs. J. W. Lilly and her daughter, Mrs. Kate Lilly Sprack, are here from Binghamton, N. Y., visiting Miss Maud May Babcock and her father. Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Bogue will leave here early in August to make their home in Denver. Mrs. E. W. Whitney gives a small luncheon today at her home.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will hold a reunion tomorrow at Saltair.

The marriage of Miss Clara Stephens and Albert C. Peity took place Thursday instead of Wednesday, as announced. Mr. and Mrs. Peity will be at home after July 15 at 417 East Second South street.

Misses Dorthea Neve and Genevieve Brown entertained at a salt water party Wednesday evening. At the beach a supper was served, place cards being laid for fourteen. Dancing was the principal occupation of the evening. Those present were the Misses Dorthea Neve, Genevieve Brown, Mabel Bolton, Mabelle James, Lorenze Brown, Hattie Hogan and Allie Sheriff. Messrs. Joseph Held, Bert McArthur, Ed Puszev, Oscar Hunter, Oliver Harvey, Alma Gardner and Cliff Sanders.
