SANTA HAS STREET PARADE.

Procession Draws Hundreds of Children to Follow the Line of Various Equipages.

"First of all der wuz Santy ridin' in a auto" with a dozen kids, den der wuz two dozen more—kids, den Santies—ridin' on velocipede wagons, air-ships, autos and other oddfiddlers, and last of all der wuz a merry-go-round on a wagon.

The youngster stopped to catch his breath, his eyes were filled with the happiness that youngster's eyes only can mirror.

"Say! It wuz great, all right, all right. You see some store got up de parade."

Santa Claus rode around the main streets yesterday followed by a swarm of urchins pedaling as if for life on autos, boats and other toys furnished by a store yesterday. The parade made the "kids" happy and more than served its purpose of advertising. The urchins pulled off impromptu races or fell off frequently, also impromptu, to the delight of the lines of people watching their antics from the curbs.

The youngster mentioned was one of the tiniest of youngsters. He had approached an "urchin" in the "parade."

"What did I do wid me polipes? Say, what do ya suppose I did wid em? Wait to sell 'em? When I seen dat procession comin' towards me corner wid Santy at de head I trun de polipes away an' got a bike. Miss a cinch it? Dat? Huh! Not so y'd no' it? Got? Well, goodbye! Polipes! I got yure home paper! Got a Herald?"

DR. SIMMONS DIES.

For Many Years a Successful Practitioner in Utah.

Provo, Dec. 16.—Dr. T. H. Simmons died at his home in this city last night at 10:30 o'clock from general debility.

Dr. Simmons was born at Little Compton, R. I., Dec. 23, 1830. He studied medicine while a young man and graduated from the medical department of Harvard. In 1851 he came west and practiced his profession and engaged in business in California, Oregon and Idaho, coming to Utah in the late '60s. He remained in Salt Lake for some years, and in the early '70s came to Provo, where he remained until 1878, when he moved to Alta, where he built up a successful drug business and a large practice, and where he was justice of the peace.

In 1881 he returned to Provo, where he had since resided. On coming here he had since resided for several years engaged in the drug business, and was a member of the city council from the fourth ward for one term.

Dr. Simmons was recognized by the profession and the laity as a skillful physician and had a large practice until a few years, when his health made it impossible for him to engage in active practice.

He leaves a wife and daughter here, and other relatives in California and the east.

The Masonic fraternity, of which the doctor was a member of long standing, will have charge of the funeral. Services will be held Monday at the Congregational church commencing at 2 o'clock.

A marriage license has been issued to Albert H. Peay, aged 21, and Anna Louisa Soderstrom, aged 18, both of Benjamin.

F. M. Vance, who a few days ago escaped from the county jail in Coalville, where he was held on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, with intent to commit murder, is believed by the officers here to have gone to Missouri, where he and his brother originally came from. Vance's brother was a teacher of instrumental music in this city and a few days before F. M. Vance left the Coalville jail the brother sold his interest in the business here and left town.

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Johnson, All well. "David Garrick" was presented last evening before a large audience in the Opera House by the Brigham Young University Dramatic company, under the direction of Miss Miriam Nolke. The play was presented in an exceptionally able manner and was greatly appreciated.

TRADE SPURT ON HOME STRETCH

Merchants See Records for Former Holiday Seasons Badly Broken.

REALTY OWNERS' GOSPEL

"LOOSENING UP" URGED BY A SALT LAKE DEALER.

On the home stretch of the holiday trade, Salt Lake merchants see nothing in the way of a record that will make the volume of business for previous years take a seat far in the rear. This is true both as regards the amount of business transacted and as to collections. In every respect, with the possible exception of real estate, this healthy improvement is to be expected.

Real estate dealers are urging a more liberal observance of the "holidays" policy of business. One real estate agent said yesterday:

"Salt Lake property holders should take this view: You live and I live. A man buys a couple of lots for $500. He purchases for a speculation. In thirty days, maybe, or sixty, I come along and would like those lots for building purposes. If he jumps the price up to $1000 I and thousands of others are shut out. If he should ask $200 or $300 that would leave him a good profit and at the same time allow me to invest."

In other cities property exchanges involving $20,000, are made while the margin of profit is only a few hundred. Things are kept on the move. Salt Lake's busy realtors expect to get double a fair price for their property they will sell for some time. This city is all right, but there are two or three cities on the coast which are just as anxious to get outside investors to invest with them. All one has to do is to put himself in the place of the investor to find out where the outside going.

"Don't construe this as 'loosening,' but study as an endeavor to wake the people up to the fact that the property holding their property at just a 'lettle' too high a valuation.

The worse of this dealer are not hard to duplicate among other agents. The records for the past week shows few transactions of more than a few thousands and some of importance. The transfer of a street lot for $20,000 from Clara Giles to W. H. Dickson was announced during the week, but was practically agreed weeks ago.

Tuttle Brothers sold two residence lots on North State street during the last few days, one for W. C. Corbion, to James E. Payne for $2,750. This lot is located on the northwest corner of State and First North streets. It is 17 by 121 feet, and is at present occupied by a small brick house. The other sale was a vacant lot, 15 by 15 feet, on the east side of North and State streets, which was purchased by J. H. Hadley and W. A. Needham from L. E. Hall. The price paid was $1,200. It is the intention of the buyers to erect two modern houses on the property.

Tuttle Brothers are negotiating for the sale of a lot, ten rods frontage, on Third West and the South. An offer has been made of $17,000, and on this a payment has been made, although the buyer has not been closed. It is possible the buyer will erect a large warehouse on the lot.

Stocks and Bonds.

The commercial stock and bond market has been active during the week past, although final quotations show few changes. Sugar stocks are a little weak, but bank stocks are firm, selling at high-water marks. It is the opinion of many that the flurry which caused sugar stock to go down was only natural after the abnormally high price it reached, and that within a month there will be a normal readjustment.

FREE COAL FOR THE POOR

Z. C. M. I. Will Follow Its Usual Custom and Distribute 100 Tons During Current Week.

Following its usual custom the Z. C. M. I. will distribute 100 tons of coal free among the poor people of Salt Lake this winter. The coal will be distributed through the C. S. Martin Coal company.

Notwithstanding the unusual shortage of coal in the city the company has made arrangements with the wholesale companies whereby the 100 tons will be supplied. The distribution among the poor people will probably begin Tuesday.

ONLY $22.50.

THINK MOOR IS LYING

Officers Believe He Was Injured in a Row With Some of His Confederates.

Members of the sheriff's force who have been investigating the case of James Moor, the man who claimed to have been shot by hold-ups near the old German smelter Dec. 9, are now firm in the belief that Moor's story is not correct, and that he was shot by a member of the gang that robbed a box car at Brigham Junction a few days before Moor was hurt. Moor has been in the county jail since he first reported the hold-up, and his account of it has been "checked up" carefully during his confinement.

Moor appeared at a Murray drug store, wounded and bleeding, and said he had been shot near the old smelter.

Officers Believe He Was Injured in a Row With Some of His Confederates.

The officers took up his bloody trail, easily followed in the snow that covered the ground at that time, and traced it not to the smelter, but to within a few feet of the door of the house wherein shoes stolen from the box car were "cached." The officers also say they will be able to prove that Moor sold several pairs of the stolen shoes. They believe he was wounded during a quarrel with another member of the gang near the house where the stolen shoes were stored.

Eight of the nine men now under arrest in connection with the robbery of the box car were arraigned on charges of burglary before Justice Holm at Murray yesterday. The men were J. L. Robert, Stephen Olds, Thomas McGinn, Frank Monroe, James J. Bradford, Thomas Shear, Frank Warren and Thomas Madden. All pleaded not guilty, and each was placed under a bond of $1,000, which was not furnished. The hearing was set for 10 o'clock next Friday, at which time Moor will be arraigned. The men have been telling variegated stories during their several confinements, and it is likely several charges will be placed against some of the prisoners.

The men were arrested by Marshal Michael Mauss of Murray and members of the sheriff's force, Dec. 9. They were escorted to Murray yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Sharp, Axel Steele, Andrew Smith, Jr., and Alvah Stout. At Murray the party was met by Marshal Mauss and a man with a camera, who asked permission to make a photograph of the prisoners. The officers consented readily, and Marshal Mauss placed the eight prisoners in a military line in front of the camera. Just as the shutter was pressed the eight prisoners, without having uttered a word, wheeled about as one man, so that the camera caught a picture of eight backs of assorted sizes and non-committal character.

NOTICE OF STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.

LOWER MAMMOTH MINING COMPANY, 25 Dooly block, Salt Lake City, Utah. Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Lower Mammoth Mining company will be held at its principal office, 25 Dooly block, Salt Lake City, Utah, on the 8th day of January, 1906, at 2 o'clock p. m. of said day, for the election of a board of directors consisting of seven members, and for the transaction of such other business as may legally come before such meeting. A. A. PETERSEN, Secretary.

Dated at Salt Lake City this 13th day of December, 1905.

LEAVES EDUCATIONAL INVESTIGATION COMMISSION—GEORGE A. EATON APPOINTED IN HIS PLACE.

James H. Anderson has lost a public office, not through the expiration of his period of service, but through resignation. It is only fair to Mr. Anderson, however, to say that the office he has relinquished has no salary attached to it.

Governor John C. Cutler announced yesterday that Mr. Anderson's resignation as a member of the commission appointed to investigate duplication of work in the University of Utah and the Agricultural college had been accepted, and that Principal George A. Eaton of the Salt Lake High school had been named to succeed him. Mr. Anderson was secretary of the commission. It is not known yet whether Mr. Eaton will succeed to the post of secretary.

Mr. Anderson's letter of resignation gave no reason for the step, nor did the governor's proclamation announcing the fact offer an explanation. By the terms of the act which created it, the members of the commission serve without compensation, but they are to be allowed "the actual and necessary expenses incident to said investigation." The commission consists of nine members, as follows: Governor John C. Cutler, chairman; H. Bullen, Jr., J. C. Walters of Cache county; Dr. A. S. Condon of Weber county; Professor John M. Mills, Professor George A. Eaton of Salt Lake county; Rev. H. S. Goodwin of Utah county; F. H. Smith of Wasatch county; Reinhard F. Scher of Beaver county.
