

VEAL SUPPLY IS EXHAUSTED

Wholesalers Are Utterly Unable to Fill the Orders of Their Customers.

APPLE MARKET VERY SHORT

FISH MORE PLENTIFUL NOW THAN FOR SEVERAL DAYS.

Veal, or rather the lack of it, caused more trouble for the merchants yesterday than all other articles put together. The demand was very heavy and the supply nil. Late last night a small shipment from Ogden was received by one of the wholesalers, but it did not come in time to save the shedding of commercial tears. The price on veal jumped from 9 1/2 cents per pound wholesale to 10 cents, and then up to 10 1/2 cents before the close of the markets. It is likely that veal will be over 10 cents per pound today unless some large shipments are received the price will be 11 cents before Monday.

"If retailers would only depend upon the commission men instead of the farmers, meats would not go leaping and bounding in price every time a small shortage became apparent," said one large wholesaler when asked as to the cause of rise in price and shortage in supply of veal. "Most butchers buy direct from farmers. Commission men do not attempt to keep a large supply of some classes of meats, because of this. We wholesalers protect our customers when they protect us. In December very few calves were born, and for that reason the supply is limited. If we had a steady demand and sure customers for veal we would make special arrangements for a steady supply. The price would not then be so erratic."

Apple Supply Is Small. The apple supply has been getting smaller and smaller during the week. Medium grade apples now cost as high as three or four pounds for a quarter. Very few apples of any class are being offered, however. Early next week, it is said, that several large shipments from Idaho will arrive in the city, and this will have a tendency to relieve the market and at the same time lower the price.

The fish offerings are better now than they have been for the past ten days. This is said to be due to better climatic conditions prevailing along the western coast. Sturgeon, though high at 17 1/2 cents per pound, is quite plentiful. Smelts are scarce, as are most of the smaller fish. Several very large and fine quality halibut were received here yesterday.

Oysters are unusually high for this season of the year. Blue points are bringing $3 per hundred. This is $1 per hundred more than they usually are at this time of the year.

Dressed chickens and turkeys are about the same. Hens are being sold at 18 to 20 cents, while broilers are bringing 22 1/2 cents per pound. Turkeys are scarce and are being sold at 25 cents per pound.

Vegetables Fairly Plentiful. Vegetables are fairly plentiful. All of this class of produce comes from outside the state. Few if any kinds of fancy vegetables grown in Utah are now offered.

While the market is not flooded at present with merchandise yet a dearth of things is not apparent. The shipments now arranged for will easily meet any call to be made within the next three or four days. It is believed that better conditions will prevail after that time.

Clerk W. H. Wilkins of the board of public works yesterday tendered his resignation to Chairman F. J. Leonard of the board, with a statement that he wished to relieve the chairman of any embarrassment that might arise out of the new ordinance or otherwise. Mr. Leonard did not accept the resignation, but assured Mr. Wilkins that he would be glad to have him continue as clerk, in which the application was based, but Chief Dinan asked for special information concerning the alleged offense and is evidently going to make a fight to hold the man. CONVENTION OF COPPER COPIES

National Insurance Convention Adopts Set of Comprehensive Resolutions and Adjourns.

UNIFORM LAWS ADVOCATED

STANDARD FORM OF INSURANCE POLICY.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Delegates to the national insurance convention embodied today the results of their two days of deliberation in a set of comprehensive resolutions which was subscribed to by the committee as a whole. Six states voted against the adoption of the resolutions, and twenty-three voted in the affirmative. The state of New York, which represented the largest number of delegates declaring that they did not care to express an opinion recommending legislative action until after the presentation of the report of the Armstrong committee.

Scope of the Resolutions.

In the resolutions adopted, the system of life insurance commonly known as the deferred dividend plan was condemned and declared to be unjust in operation. An annual accounting of the surplus funds in the hands of insurance companies was endorsed and the convention declared for a plan for the government of insurance companies whereby each policy-holder shall have a more direct voice in the management of the affairs of the company. The matter of investment of the funds belonging to the policy-holders and in the hands of the insurance companies is in the opinion of the convention, be reduced to a uniform basis and must be governed with reference to conditions. A standard form of insurance policy to the exclusion of all other forms, to be adopted by state legislatures, was declared advisable.

On the other matters referred to the committee on resolution, action was deferred for further consideration.

Object Accomplished.

After the adjournment of the convention Insurance Commissioner Drake of the District of Columbia, at whose invitation the convention was called, said that everything that could be desired had been accomplished. "At best," he said, "all that could be hoped for at this gathering was work of a preliminary character and that has been done. At the adjourned meeting I feel confident the fruits of our sowing will be reaped. I consider the outcome very satisfactory."

Colorado, Oklahoma, Wyoming, Washington and Hawaii were among those who voted for the resolutions, and the vote of Kansas was negative.

Immediately after the adoption of the report the convention adjourned to meet at a time and place to be determined by the executive committee of the national insurance commissioners, the convention to be held at the same time and place as the convention of the national insurance commissioners. The time and place of the latter convention is now set for Washington in September, but both time and place are subject to change.

The committee of fifteen which is to prepare the report on proposed changes in present insurance methods will report at the meeting to be held hereafter.

"HOLDING" COMPANY ONLY

National Packing Corporation Never Killed an Animal or Made a Sale.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Arguments concerning the admissibility of evidence occupied most of the time of the packers' case today, and at the time of adjournment only two witnesses had been on the stand. Last night, just prior to the adjournment District Attorney Morrison objected to any statement of the president of the National Packing company, relative to any conversation between the president and the packers. He claimed that Mr. Lyman was not a party to the trial nor was the National Packing company, and therefore that his evidence as to the plea of immunity should be ruled out. Judge Humphrey finally permitted Mr. Lyman to relate the conversation, but he was materially from other conversations of the same kind that have been previously given.

Late in the day, when under cross-examination by District Attorney Morrison, Mr. Lyman admitted that the National Packing company has never slaughtered an animal or made a sale. He declared that it is a holding company only.

RECEIVER IS ASKED.

Affairs of the Coe Development Company in Court.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 2.—The appointment of a receiver for the Coe Development company is asked for by L. M. Holt, a stockholder in the company, in a suit that was filed in the United States circuit court today. The suit is brought against the Coe Development company and E. H. Harriman, president of the Southern Pacific company. The complaint also asks that the court annul an existing contract between the California Development company and the Southern Pacific, and that a temporary injunction be granted restraining the Southern Pacific from further financial dealings with the Development company and from altering the contract between the two corporations.

Holt alleges that a conspiracy has been entered into between the Southern Pacific and Harriman by which they have secured absolute control of the Development company through its financial needs, and have loaned it about $400,000. It is also alleged that Harriman and the Southern Pacific propose to sell to the national reclamation bureau the property of the Development company to the great loss of the stockholders.
