RECOVERY IN THE STOCK MARKET

Strong Support Stopped the Drive Against Amalgamated, Union Pacific and Reading.

SHORTS DRIVEN TO COVER CLOSING TONE WAS FAIRLY STEADY.

New York, March 6.—The day's movements gave unmistakable evidence of relief from the pressure of the urgent and forced liquidation which upset prices yesterday. A desultory recovery was the consequence, in which covering of short contracts by professional operators on the bear side of the market played a large part.

The announcement of the deposit in the sub-treasury of $2,000,000 for transfer by telegraph to San Francisco gave a chill to the market owing to the importance attached to the money situation from a stock market standpoint.

Today's money rates were not materially changed although the general tone began to show the benefit of the liquidation accomplished in the stock market.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value $2,000,000. Bonds were all unchanged on call.
