GROCERS MADE GREAT GAINS

Half a Million Increase of Aggregate Business Over the Year Preceding.

CENTER OF GREAT REGION

LARGE AREA NOW DEPENDENT ON SALT LAKE.

The most gratifying gains in the volume of business done in the last twelve months, over the preceding twelve months, is shown by the wholesale grocers of Salt Lake.

During the last year the aggressive campaign that has been waged by local wholesale grocers, to corral the trade of Colorado, Wyoming, Idaho, Montana, southeastern Oregon and Nevada, have brought results that were even more successful and pleasing than the wholesalers themselves anticipated.

During the last year the aggregate wholesale grocery business of Salt Lake has reached the enormous total of $4,242,000. This is an increase of not less than $500,000 over the preceding year. Statements given by the Z. C. M. I. wholesale grocery department, the Anderson-Taylor company, W. S. Henderson, Kahn Bros. Co., J. M. Marriott and the Utah Italian Produce company, show that the wholesale grocery business of Salt Lake is growing rapidly and steadily, and that the same comparative results in the matter of increased volume of business are being demonstrated. The increase in the last year has been greater than in former years, by reason of the enlarging scope of business, the aggression that has been carried on recently.

Center of Great Region.

The true position held by Salt Lake with regard to the business area encompassed in the states mentioned, may be realized when it is known that there is scarcely a town or hamlet in the entire intermountain region that is not dependent upon this base for supplies in the grocery lines.

Local wholesale grocers estimate that they have received in the last year 1,984 cars of goods, and that they have sent out of the city 1,140 cars of groceries.

The ensuing industry of the state sends to a great extent the business of the local wholesalers as a great part of the products of the Utah canneries is placed on the shelves of the retailers in the near by states. The market for Utah canned goods is almost unlimited, and wholesalers declare that they have no difficulty in selling the entire season's pack.

This class of goods is shipped as far east as Missouri river points, as far west as Oregon and other North Pacific coast points, and to every city in an area of 500 miles in all directions, of which Salt Lake is the commercial and distributing hub.

One local house which supplies only Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, sent out last season more than 3,000 cases of tomatoes, though the season's crop was far short of the average, and 4,000 cases of other canned goods. The frequently expressed opinion, says a local dealer, that the flavor and quality of Utah canned goods are far superior to the California goods.

Further Increase Possible.

One of the leading wholesale grocers of the city, in answer to a question as to what local wholesalers should do to increase their trade volume, said yesterday:

"Wholesalers and jobbers of Salt Lake should become better acquainted with the tradesmen of the surrounding states. Inducements should be given these dealers outside of Utah, to come here and do this distributing center and have facilities at close range. Such inducements as the Six States Business Men's excursion, planned by local merchants, to be run in June for the benefit of the business men of surrounding states.

"Wholesalers should give good goods at low figures, a trifle lower than their competitors in other centers. A difference of 2 cents a case on canned tomatoes, for example, would mean the tide of trade toward Salt Lake in all surrounding states.

"Discriminating tariffs on freight rates should be equalized. Arbitrary local freight rates also help to hold us down, and the roads should be brought to the force of the arguments of shippers in behalf of better rates."

ORE CARS STRIKE SALT LAKE TRAIN

Several Persons Are Slightly Injured in Wreck at Sandy Last Evening.

NO DOCTOR WAS REQUIRED

EXCURSIONISTS TO SALT LAKE FROM UTAH COUNTY.

Eighteen loaded ore cars collided head-on with the southbound Salt Lake Route local train No. 6 at 9:15 o'clock last night, just as the passenger train came to a full stop at Sandy. The impact of the collision drove the passenger train nearly 100 yards down the track and the passengers were thrown from their seats. Seven were slightly injured. The list follows:

List of Injured.
James A. Dean, Provo; cut over right eye and nose hurt.
Mrs. Mary Halmastead, Lehi; nose cut.
Mrs. M. C. Winters, Provo; nose badly cut and teeth loosened.
Professor Lund of the Brigham Young college, Provo; kneecap injured.
A. L. Cullmore, Pleasant Grove; injured about shins.
Earl Marmstead, Provo; cut on head.
Mrs. F. E. Thompson, kneecap injured.
Anderson-Taylor company, W. S. Henderson, Kahn Bros. Co., J. M. Marriott and the Utah Italian Produce company, show that the wholesale grocery business of Salt Lake is growing rapidly and steadily, and that the same comparative results in the matter of increased volume of business are being demonstrated.

Cars Run Down Hill.

The ore cars broke away from the point of the mountain and ran several miles down grade before the collision occurred at Sandy. The runaway train broke in two sections near Draner. The first section crashed into the passenger train. Engineer Hansen heard the crash of the runaway train and jumped from his cab. The first two cars on the runaway train were empty. They were telescoped into the passenger engine, tearing off the pilot and smashing the smokestack. The guide wheels were raised off the rails and the entire front of the engine was stove in. The second section of the runaway train was traveling about fifty yards behind the first section. The second crash piled two steel cars directly across the track, demolishing them. The second section telescoped three of its cars almost on top of the first section. Fifty yards of track were torn up and the ties were raised out of the ground. The second crash did no damage to the passenger train. The windows in the coaches were broken and several of the passengers were slightly injured. Others were buried from their seats in the scramble to get out of the coaches others received slight bruises.

Many Excursionists on Train.

There were fully 100 persons on the train, a larger number than usual on account of the excursion to Salt Lake in connection with the track meet. Fortunately the train was empty on time and was stopped when struck.

All trains were delayed by the accident and the tracks were not cleared early this morning. The road is open as far as Sandy, and by noon all trains will again be running regularly. The wreckage on the east side of the track the station would have been wrecked. As it is, no damage is done to the station property except the tearing up of the dirt platform.

An engine came down from Salt Lake at midnight to help clear the track. The passengers were taken to their destinations over the Denver & Rio Grande. The runaway, it is believed, occurred from the bumping of cars at the point of the mountain, where an engine was switching.

RUSSIAN MENNONITES HERE

Distinguished Leaders of Faith Looking Into Conditions of People in America.

Jakob Quiring of the Department of the Volga, Russia, and Rev. Herman Epp of Turkestan are at the Kenyon. Mr. Quiring is one of the leaders of the advanced branch of the Mennonites in Europe and is a man of great scholastic attainments. He is a graduate of the famous theological college at Basle and has been in charge of the home mission department of his church in Europe. He was sent out to this country to inquire into the condition of the people of his faith who have emigrated from Russia and Germany. He has just returned from a visit to the Mennonite settlements in Washington state and will go from here to western Canada to look into the condition of the large colonies in western Canada. Rev. Herman Epp is a missionary among the people of his faith who left Russia and settled in Turkestan. Julius Siemens, who is a colonization agent in Ritzville and who is a member of the same faith, is accompanying the party on a portion of their tour. These Mennonites are not the same as those of Pennsylvania, who cling to their peculiar dress and ways but differ only from modern Evangelical churches in their doctrine of non-resistance. They will not perform military duty. It is the attempt of Russia to impose this upon them that has led to their wholesale emigration to this country.
