

THE SALT LAKE HERALD

Published Every Day in the Year BY THE HERALD COMPANY. Terms of Subscription. DAILY AND SUNDAY—One month, $5...

married another man. The millions of this young fellow gave him no happiness. If Harry K. Thaw who shot Stanford White in New York the other night had been today in a prison cell with a charge of murder hanging over him...

HUMOR OF STATE PRESS.

Result of Monkeying. G. P. Thompson monkeyed with the water lately, and he caught the rheumatism...

Probably Filled the Bill.

(Salina Call.) Some time ago in Call advertised for a girl to learn typewriting. She never came, but a boy dressed in skirts came in and made application.

Getting Away From Beef Trust.

(Beef Trust Record.) "Beef on Salt" was the prominently displayed in front of one of our local meat markets a few days ago.

Richard Will Spruce Up.

(Panguitch Progress.) Richard Lloyd left last Sunday for Idaho to get a new suit and to see if he can't better himself.

This Bird a Fledgling.

(Davis County Clipper.) Arthur Bird and Miss Ada Smith of Salt Lake wanted a marriage license but as the would-be groom was under age and his mother would not give her consent because she said he could not earn enough money to support himself...

Farmer's Absentmindedness.

(Davis County Clipper.) A man went to the postoffice the other day and tried to get his mail out of a lock box with a key that did not fit, and was arguing with the postmistress that he must be the right key because of certain writing on it. Just then his son came along and exclaimed: "Father you have got the key to the hen house."

CLEVER PARAGRAPHS.

These "Very, Very" Days. (Springfield Republican.) This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

One Pure Food Product.

(Atlanta Constitution.) Despite not the homely prune. It is food. This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

What's in a Name?

(Florida Times-Union.) Now that Senator Beveridge has turned his attention to meats, would it not be a good idea for Senator Bacon to look after drinks?

He'll Think You Are an Anarchist.

(Philadelphia North-American.) Two men in Arkansas were poisoned by eating Pickens' sausage. Don't let Chancellor Day hear you say it.

Still Standing Pat.

(Chicago Record-Herald.) "There never," says Speaker Cannon, "has been so little said about a change in the policy of the government."

WHO IS HERE DESCRIBED?

A Famous Characterization, of Possible Contemporaneous Interest. (New York Times.) To the Editor of the New York Times: While glancing through the pages of a book by a statesman of world-wide renown I happened upon the following:

OFF FOR THE POLE.

Taking with him everything that his experience has taught him he may need, Walter Wellman has started from Paris for Spitzbergen. From the latter place he will make his effort to reach the north pole by the airship route. Prior to his departure Mr. Wellman announced that his big airship was as nearly perfect as it was possible for human hands to make it. The craft will be thoroughly tested around Spitzbergen before the actual dash for the pole begins.

COMPENSATION FOR ALL.

In an address to the Bankers' association of West Virginia a few days ago Senator Elkins himself a rich man and a banker, said: "Very rich men never whistle. Poor men always do. Bird songs are in the hearts of the poor. This is well. In every condition of life there is compensation." And another rich man said, not very long ago: "Millionaires do not know how to laugh." The rich always feel sorry for the poor, at least to the extent of being very glad they themselves are not poor. The poor feel sorry for themselves, sometimes, though nearly always they get a good deal out of life.

FOR HONEST DEALING.

Congress has given the president a great opportunity to compel American manufacturers in certain lines to deal fairly by the government. The opportunity is found in the senate resolution, passed also by the house, directing that material and equipment for the Panama canal work be purchased from American manufacturers except where, in the opinion of the president, the bids are too high. If they then turn to foreign manufacturers, if Mr. Roosevelt carries the spirit of the resolution into effect we may expect some very fair competition in Panama canal materials and supplies.

EMOTIONAL INSANITY.

Authoritative announcement has been made that the attorneys for young Harry K. Thaw will set up the defense of emotional insanity. The statement is calmly made that it will not be urged that Thaw was insane before the shots that killed Stanford White or that he is insane now. The reason for this is that if he should be adjudged insane now he would be committed to an asylum, instead of being given his liberty. According to the attorneys, Thaw was mentally irresponsible only during the very few moments in which his automatic revolver was pumping bullets into White's body.

THE SALT LAKE HERALD: MONDAY, JULY 2, 1906

Designs of Great Masters of Fashion

London.—Furs are included in the orders Princess Henry of Battenberg has given for her daughter's trousseau. Among them is a set of very fine chinchilla—a large granny muff, deep colored revers and handsome cuffs and collar, supplied by Messrs. George Poland & Son, are allied to a full length coat of very pale grey cloth, the delicate color called in Paris epousule (twilight); the warm lining is of pure white and is lined with ermine.

These "Very, Very" Days.

(Springfield Republican.) This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

One Pure Food Product.

(Atlanta Constitution.) Despite not the homely prune. It is food. This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

What's in a Name?

(Florida Times-Union.) Now that Senator Beveridge has turned his attention to meats, would it not be a good idea for Senator Bacon to look after drinks?

He'll Think You Are an Anarchist.

(Philadelphia North-American.) Two men in Arkansas were poisoned by eating Pickens' sausage. Don't let Chancellor Day hear you say it.

Still Standing Pat.

(Chicago Record-Herald.) "There never," says Speaker Cannon, "has been so little said about a change in the policy of the government."

WHO IS HERE DESCRIBED?

A Famous Characterization, of Possible Contemporaneous Interest. (New York Times.) To the Editor of the New York Times: While glancing through the pages of a book by a statesman of world-wide renown I happened upon the following:

OFF FOR THE POLE.

Taking with him everything that his experience has taught him he may need, Walter Wellman has started from Paris for Spitzbergen. From the latter place he will make his effort to reach the north pole by the airship route. Prior to his departure Mr. Wellman announced that his big airship was as nearly perfect as it was possible for human hands to make it. The craft will be thoroughly tested around Spitzbergen before the actual dash for the pole begins.

COMPENSATION FOR ALL.

In an address to the Bankers' association of West Virginia a few days ago Senator Elkins himself a rich man and a banker, said: "Very rich men never whistle. Poor men always do. Bird songs are in the hearts of the poor. This is well. In every condition of life there is compensation." And another rich man said, not very long ago: "Millionaires do not know how to laugh." The rich always feel sorry for the poor, at least to the extent of being very glad they themselves are not poor. The poor feel sorry for themselves, sometimes, though nearly always they get a good deal out of life.

FOR HONEST DEALING.

Congress has given the president a great opportunity to compel American manufacturers in certain lines to deal fairly by the government. The opportunity is found in the senate resolution, passed also by the house, directing that material and equipment for the Panama canal work be purchased from American manufacturers except where, in the opinion of the president, the bids are too high. If they then turn to foreign manufacturers, if Mr. Roosevelt carries the spirit of the resolution into effect we may expect some very fair competition in Panama canal materials and supplies.

EMOTIONAL INSANITY.

Authoritative announcement has been made that the attorneys for young Harry K. Thaw will set up the defense of emotional insanity. The statement is calmly made that it will not be urged that Thaw was insane before the shots that killed Stanford White or that he is insane now. The reason for this is that if he should be adjudged insane now he would be committed to an asylum, instead of being given his liberty. According to the attorneys, Thaw was mentally irresponsible only during the very few moments in which his automatic revolver was pumping bullets into White's body.

THE SALT LAKE HERALD: MONDAY, JULY 2, 1906

SALT LAKE GRAND MUSICAL FESTIVAL

MONDAY, JULY 2. to MONDAY, JULY 9. Afternoons at 3:30. Evenings at 7:30. SIXTEEN SUPERB CONCERTS. BY THE WORLD-FAMOUS

Royal Hawaiian Band

FROM HONOLULU. By Permission of the Government of Hawaii. SIXTY MUSICIANS AND SINGERS

A Military Band, a Stringed Orchestra, a Choir, Mandolin, Guitar and Banjo Clubs and Solo Singers, Rendering Varied Programmes of POPULAR, CLASSICAL AND OPERATIC MUSIC and the Superb Native Music and "Hula" Songs of Hawaii.

Captain H. Berger, Founder and Leader. DANCE TO THE MUSIC OF THE ROYAL HAWAIIAN BAND. Special dance music by the Royal Hawaiian Band each Evening (Excepting Sunday) after the concerts.

$25 in Cash Prizes Daily. $100 in Cash Prizes July 4

To Holders of Lucky Numbers of Admission Tickets, Prizes Drawn Each Evening.

ROUND TRIP TICKETS, including concerts, 25c. Special Reserved seats, 25c extra.

RELIABLE PIANOS SOLD BY RELIABLE PEOPLE.

Chamberlain Music Co.

We have the LARGEST and BEST stock of Pianos in Utah for you to select from. 51 - 53 Main Street.

THEATRE

The Coolest Place in Town. All Week, Starting TONIGHT

Matinee Wednesday and Saturday, 2:30. Herschel Mayall

And a strong company presenting THE WIFE

By Belasco and De Mille. PRICES—Evening, 50c, 35c, 25c and 15c. Matinee, 15c and 25c. Box Office open 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

NEW GRAND THEATRE

LAST WEEK OF THE ETHEL TUCKER STOCK CO. Presenting Jesse James

Night Prices, 10c, 25c, 35c, 50c. Matinee, 15c and 25c. FOURTH OF JULY MATINEE WEDNESDAY. Thursday, "Deadwood Dick"

NO MOQUITOES. NO SALOON. UPPER FALLS SUMMER RESORT

Most Beautifully Situated Resort in the State. THE IDEAL FAMILY OUTING PLACE. Among the pines, in the heart of beautiful Provo Canyon, between the Upper and Bridal Veil Falls, along the famous trout stream the Provo river, where the air and water are pure, cool and fresh from the snow-capped mountain peaks. R. G. W. R. R. Station. Long distance phone. P. O. Provo. Rates reasonable. L. L. DONNAN, Proprietor.

For a Limited Time Only, A FINE HOLLOW GROUND RADIUMITE RAZOR FREE.

To each purchaser of the Dollar Radiumite Strop (The Strop That Honors.) Step in and examine them.

Halliday Drug Co.

Between Orpheum and Salt Lake Theatres. Phone 888.

CASINO

Opposite the Postoffice. TONIGHT. IN SUNNY TENNESSEE. VAUDEVILLE BETWEEN ACTS. Ladies Free Monday and Friday.

THE NETTLETON ORCHESTRA

MUSIC FURNISHED FOR ALL OCCASIONS. Telephone: Bell, 4262; Ind., 4076.

Designs of Great Masters of Fashion

London.—Furs are included in the orders Princess Henry of Battenberg has given for her daughter's trousseau. Among them is a set of very fine chinchilla—a large granny muff, deep colored revers and handsome cuffs and collar, supplied by Messrs. George Poland & Son, are allied to a full length coat of very pale grey cloth, the delicate color called in Paris epousule (twilight); the warm lining is of pure white and is lined with ermine.

These "Very, Very" Days.

(Springfield Republican.) This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

One Pure Food Product.

(Atlanta Constitution.) Despite not the homely prune. It is food. This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

What's in a Name?

(Florida Times-Union.) Now that Senator Beveridge has turned his attention to meats, would it not be a good idea for Senator Bacon to look after drinks?

He'll Think You Are an Anarchist.

(Philadelphia North-American.) Two men in Arkansas were poisoned by eating Pickens' sausage. Don't let Chancellor Day hear you say it.

Still Standing Pat.

(Chicago Record-Herald.) "There never," says Speaker Cannon, "has been so little said about a change in the policy of the government."

WHO IS HERE DESCRIBED?

A Famous Characterization, of Possible Contemporaneous Interest. (New York Times.) To the Editor of the New York Times: While glancing through the pages of a book by a statesman of world-wide renown I happened upon the following:

OFF FOR THE POLE.

Taking with him everything that his experience has taught him he may need, Walter Wellman has started from Paris for Spitzbergen. From the latter place he will make his effort to reach the north pole by the airship route. Prior to his departure Mr. Wellman announced that his big airship was as nearly perfect as it was possible for human hands to make it. The craft will be thoroughly tested around Spitzbergen before the actual dash for the pole begins.

COMPENSATION FOR ALL.

In an address to the Bankers' association of West Virginia a few days ago Senator Elkins himself a rich man and a banker, said: "Very rich men never whistle. Poor men always do. Bird songs are in the hearts of the poor. This is well. In every condition of life there is compensation." And another rich man said, not very long ago: "Millionaires do not know how to laugh." The rich always feel sorry for the poor, at least to the extent of being very glad they themselves are not poor. The poor feel sorry for themselves, sometimes, though nearly always they get a good deal out of life.

FOR HONEST DEALING.

Congress has given the president a great opportunity to compel American manufacturers in certain lines to deal fairly by the government. The opportunity is found in the senate resolution, passed also by the house, directing that material and equipment for the Panama canal work be purchased from American manufacturers except where, in the opinion of the president, the bids are too high. If they then turn to foreign manufacturers, if Mr. Roosevelt carries the spirit of the resolution into effect we may expect some very fair competition in Panama canal materials and supplies.

EMOTIONAL INSANITY.

Authoritative announcement has been made that the attorneys for young Harry K. Thaw will set up the defense of emotional insanity. The statement is calmly made that it will not be urged that Thaw was insane before the shots that killed Stanford White or that he is insane now. The reason for this is that if he should be adjudged insane now he would be committed to an asylum, instead of being given his liberty. According to the attorneys, Thaw was mentally irresponsible only during the very few moments in which his automatic revolver was pumping bullets into White's body.

THE SALT LAKE HERALD: MONDAY, JULY 2, 1906

Designs of Great Masters of Fashion

London.—Furs are included in the orders Princess Henry of Battenberg has given for her daughter's trousseau. Among them is a set of very fine chinchilla—a large granny muff, deep colored revers and handsome cuffs and collar, supplied by Messrs. George Poland & Son, are allied to a full length coat of very pale grey cloth, the delicate color called in Paris epousule (twilight); the warm lining is of pure white and is lined with ermine.

These "Very, Very" Days.

(Springfield Republican.) This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

One Pure Food Product.

(Atlanta Constitution.) Despite not the homely prune. It is food. This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

What's in a Name?

(Florida Times-Union.) Now that Senator Beveridge has turned his attention to meats, would it not be a good idea for Senator Bacon to look after drinks?

Designs of Great Masters of Fashion

London.—Furs are included in the orders Princess Henry of Battenberg has given for her daughter's trousseau. Among them is a set of very fine chinchilla—a large granny muff, deep colored revers and handsome cuffs and collar, supplied by Messrs. George Poland & Son, are allied to a full length coat of very pale grey cloth, the delicate color called in Paris epousule (twilight); the warm lining is of pure white and is lined with ermine.

These "Very, Very" Days.

(Springfield Republican.) This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

One Pure Food Product.

(Atlanta Constitution.) Despite not the homely prune. It is food. This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

What's in a Name?

(Florida Times-Union.) Now that Senator Beveridge has turned his attention to meats, would it not be a good idea for Senator Bacon to look after drinks?

He'll Think You Are an Anarchist.

(Philadelphia North-American.) Two men in Arkansas were poisoned by eating Pickens' sausage. Don't let Chancellor Day hear you say it.

Still Standing Pat.

(Chicago Record-Herald.) "There never," says Speaker Cannon, "has been so little said about a change in the policy of the government."

WHO IS HERE DESCRIBED?

A Famous Characterization, of Possible Contemporaneous Interest. (New York Times.) To the Editor of the New York Times: While glancing through the pages of a book by a statesman of world-wide renown I happened upon the following:

OFF FOR THE POLE.

Taking with him everything that his experience has taught him he may need, Walter Wellman has started from Paris for Spitzbergen. From the latter place he will make his effort to reach the north pole by the airship route. Prior to his departure Mr. Wellman announced that his big airship was as nearly perfect as it was possible for human hands to make it. The craft will be thoroughly tested around Spitzbergen before the actual dash for the pole begins.

COMPENSATION FOR ALL.

In an address to the Bankers' association of West Virginia a few days ago Senator Elkins himself a rich man and a banker, said: "Very rich men never whistle. Poor men always do. Bird songs are in the hearts of the poor. This is well. In every condition of life there is compensation." And another rich man said, not very long ago: "Millionaires do not know how to laugh." The rich always feel sorry for the poor, at least to the extent of being very glad they themselves are not poor. The poor feel sorry for themselves, sometimes, though nearly always they get a good deal out of life.

FOR HONEST DEALING.

Congress has given the president a great opportunity to compel American manufacturers in certain lines to deal fairly by the government. The opportunity is found in the senate resolution, passed also by the house, directing that material and equipment for the Panama canal work be purchased from American manufacturers except where, in the opinion of the president, the bids are too high. If they then turn to foreign manufacturers, if Mr. Roosevelt carries the spirit of the resolution into effect we may expect some very fair competition in Panama canal materials and supplies.

EMOTIONAL INSANITY.

Authoritative announcement has been made that the attorneys for young Harry K. Thaw will set up the defense of emotional insanity. The statement is calmly made that it will not be urged that Thaw was insane before the shots that killed Stanford White or that he is insane now. The reason for this is that if he should be adjudged insane now he would be committed to an asylum, instead of being given his liberty. According to the attorneys, Thaw was mentally irresponsible only during the very few moments in which his automatic revolver was pumping bullets into White's body.

THE SALT LAKE HERALD: MONDAY, JULY 2, 1906

Designs of Great Masters of Fashion

London.—Furs are included in the orders Princess Henry of Battenberg has given for her daughter's trousseau. Among them is a set of very fine chinchilla—a large granny muff, deep colored revers and handsome cuffs and collar, supplied by Messrs. George Poland & Son, are allied to a full length coat of very pale grey cloth, the delicate color called in Paris epousule (twilight); the warm lining is of pure white and is lined with ermine.

These "Very, Very" Days.

(Springfield Republican.) This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

One Pure Food Product.

(Atlanta Constitution.) Despite not the homely prune. It is food. This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

What's in a Name?

(Florida Times-Union.) Now that Senator Beveridge has turned his attention to meats, would it not be a good idea for Senator Bacon to look after drinks?

He'll Think You Are an Anarchist.

(Philadelphia North-American.) Two men in Arkansas were poisoned by eating Pickens' sausage. Don't let Chancellor Day hear you say it.

Still Standing Pat.

(Chicago Record-Herald.) "There never," says Speaker Cannon, "has been so little said about a change in the policy of the government."

WHO IS HERE DESCRIBED?

A Famous Characterization, of Possible Contemporaneous Interest. (New York Times.) To the Editor of the New York Times: While glancing through the pages of a book by a statesman of world-wide renown I happened upon the following:

OFF FOR THE POLE.

Taking with him everything that his experience has taught him he may need, Walter Wellman has started from Paris for Spitzbergen. From the latter place he will make his effort to reach the north pole by the airship route. Prior to his departure Mr. Wellman announced that his big airship was as nearly perfect as it was possible for human hands to make it. The craft will be thoroughly tested around Spitzbergen before the actual dash for the pole begins.

COMPENSATION FOR ALL.

In an address to the Bankers' association of West Virginia a few days ago Senator Elkins himself a rich man and a banker, said: "Very rich men never whistle. Poor men always do. Bird songs are in the hearts of the poor. This is well. In every condition of life there is compensation." And another rich man said, not very long ago: "Millionaires do not know how to laugh." The rich always feel sorry for the poor, at least to the extent of being very glad they themselves are not poor. The poor feel sorry for themselves, sometimes, though nearly always they get a good deal out of life.

FOR HONEST DEALING.

Congress has given the president a great opportunity to compel American manufacturers in certain lines to deal fairly by the government. The opportunity is found in the senate resolution, passed also by the house, directing that material and equipment for the Panama canal work be purchased from American manufacturers except where, in the opinion of the president, the bids are too high. If they then turn to foreign manufacturers, if Mr. Roosevelt carries the spirit of the resolution into effect we may expect some very fair competition in Panama canal materials and supplies.

EMOTIONAL INSANITY.

Authoritative announcement has been made that the attorneys for young Harry K. Thaw will set up the defense of emotional insanity. The statement is calmly made that it will not be urged that Thaw was insane before the shots that killed Stanford White or that he is insane now. The reason for this is that if he should be adjudged insane now he would be committed to an asylum, instead of being given his liberty. According to the attorneys, Thaw was mentally irresponsible only during the very few moments in which his automatic revolver was pumping bullets into White's body.

THE SALT LAKE HERALD: MONDAY, JULY 2, 1906

Designs of Great Masters of Fashion

London.—Furs are included in the orders Princess Henry of Battenberg has given for her daughter's trousseau. Among them is a set of very fine chinchilla—a large granny muff, deep colored revers and handsome cuffs and collar, supplied by Messrs. George Poland & Son, are allied to a full length coat of very pale grey cloth, the delicate color called in Paris epousule (twilight); the warm lining is of pure white and is lined with ermine.

These "Very, Very" Days.

(Springfield Republican.) This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

One Pure Food Product.

(Atlanta Constitution.) Despite not the homely prune. It is food. This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they are over, everybody will be very, very glad."

What's in a Name?

(Florida Times-Union.) Now that Senator Beveridge has turned his attention to meats, would it not be a good idea for Senator Bacon to look after drinks?

Designs of Great Masters of Fashion

London.—Furs are included in the orders Princess Henry of Battenberg has given for her daughter's trousseau. Among them is a set of very fine chinchilla—a large granny muff, deep colored revers and handsome cuffs and collar, supplied by Messrs. George Poland & Son, are allied to a full length coat of very pale grey cloth, the delicate color called in Paris epousule (twilight); the warm lining is of pure white and is lined with ermine.

These "Very, Very" Days.

(Springfield Republican.) This is "very, very bad," said the president. "You are very, very wrong," retorted the audacious Mr. Wadsworth. "Then are you very, very days of law-making and when they