

AUDITOR TOOK HIPPLE'S WORD

Checking Up of the Real Estate Trust Company a Mere Formality. STATE BOARD ALSO GUILTY NO EXAMINATION MADE FOR THREE YEARS.

Philadelphia, Aug. 31.—Receiver George M. Earle, Jr., of the Real Estate Trust company, which failed on Tuesday, is directing his efforts towards ascertaining if other officials or employees of the bank had guilty knowledge of President Hipple's transactions. He expressed surprise that William F. North, treasurer of the company, and Horace Hill, auditor, did not acquaint the directors with the condition of affairs if they were aware of the entanglements. Before any of the loans were paid to Segal or other borrowers it was Treasurer North's duty to approve them, and Auditor Hill, Mr. Earle points out, in examining the accounts must have observed the extensive amounts paid to one man. The fact remains, however, that no intimation was given by either man to the directors of the large loans made to Segal.

Auditor Is Silent. Mr. Hill declined to be interviewed today. He said he had made a statement to the receiver and that Mr. Earle had instructed him not to talk for publication. Receiver Earle denied this and said he would be glad if anyone possessing information would talk. It was learned from one of the directors that Hill was Hipple's personal choice for the position of auditor. From the same source it was learned that Hill's method of auditing the accounts of the company seems to have been to check up the securities offered by Hipple and then place his seal of approval upon the total amount of the various loans. This statement was presented to the directors.

STATE BOARD AT FAULT. Trust Company Affairs Not Examined for Three Years.

Philadelphia, Aug. 31.—Additional developments, sensational in character, continue to crop out in connection with the failure of the Real Estate Trust company, which institution closed its doors on Tuesday of this week. Today it became known publicly for the first time since the suspension of the trust company that there had not been a meeting of the directors of the failed bank for nearly three years—every detail having been left to the president of the company, Frank R. Hipple. It was this state of affairs which caused the clearing house association to hesitate about giving the aid of the trust company at the meeting on Tuesday. During the meeting of the clearing house bankers Joseph De P. Junkin, counsel for the Real Estate Trust company, was asked: "When was your trust company last examined by the state board?" "About three years ago," slowly replied Mr. Junkin.

Made Them Gasp. This frank admission caused a mild sensation among the bankers present, but when he was asked: "When did the directors of the trust company last examine its affairs?" his answer, "Not for more than two and a half years," caused the men who guide the affairs of Philadelphia's financial institutions to gasp. Criticism of the members of the clearing house association was responsible for the information being given out today by one of the leading members of the association. Several of the directors of the trust company had stated since the crash that the company could have been saved had the local bankers advanced $7,000,000. A member of the clearing house association who was present at Tuesday's meeting said today: "The directors of the Real Estate Trust company knew as little about the affairs

FARLEY OUTFIT A TOUGH CROWD

Strike-Breakers Pass Through Ogden Safely on Their Way to San Francisco.

Two carloads of the Farley strike-breakers passed through Ogden last evening on their way to San Francisco, where they will be used to break the street carmen's strike now existing there. More than five hundred people gathered at the union depot, many of them being union men whose intention it was to induce if possible the strike-breakers to leave the train here. Ugly reports had been received of the actions of these men at other places and to prevent any trouble here Chief of Police Browning, with his whole force of officers, was on hand, as were also the special officers of the railroad company. The extra precaution, however, was unnecessary. There was no trouble at this point, but this is probably due to the fact that the men on the first train were the riotous element who were not permitted to leave the cars or even to have the windows open during the stop in this city.

Armed Guards on Platform.

Armed guards were on each platform and were ready for any emergency. Notwithstanding the diligence several of the men escaped from the train by crawling through the windows. The strike-breakers were made up of the first party who were about the worst conglomeration of humanity that has passed through Ogden in years. In the majority they were foreigners, largely Russian Jews who were picked up by Farley and his aides in and about Philadelphia. Some of them were mere boys. This first train was in charge of a man named Jenkins. This individual was of the knowing kind. He responded to any name that might be given him and when asked for a statement concerning the trip said, "There's nothing doing, Willie. This is all on the sly. This is the forty-night guards on this train who attempted to talk with newspaper men was ordered by Jenkins to get inside the car. This outfit had a strenuous time at Lodge Pole, Neb., and Green River, Wyo. At each of these places they swarmed down upon the lunch rooms and stores, grabbing up everything in sight and refusing to pay for the same. At Green River they ran up against a deputy sheriff, who found it necessary to shoot one of them before they could be made to return to the cars. From Green River to Ogden no stop was made. At Evansville, Mo., those who had gathered at the depot to see the train go through hurled stones at it, smashing a number of the windows and glass doors. For the reason that they acted lawlessly strict orders were issued before the train reached here that any man leaving or attempting to leave the cars would be shot.

of the company as any of the bankers present. They did not appear to know whether the shortage was $5,000,000 or $10,000,000, and it would have been folly for us to advance the cash when the affairs of the bank were in such a deplorable condition. Mr. Junkin says, those who had the board of directors of the trust company had failed to do their duty for nearly three years. "The three directors of the company who came before us with outstretched hands for $5,000,000 had absolutely nothing to offer in return but dead sea fruit. They had not even confidence in their company's future to offer, for when they were asked if they would pledge their fortunes to make good losses that the allied banks might sustain by going to the aid of the trust company, they all failed. Under such circumstances the clearing house could not be expected to come to the aid of the trust company."

down. This had its effect with all but a few who made their get-away. Some Are Union Men. The second train was composed of a better element. These men were gathered together through advertisements in New York and corralled at the Mills hotel. At Ogden a large party of these men was induced to desert the train. Among these was P. J. Bowling of Brooklyn, one of the guards. Mr. Bowling said that more than fifty per cent of the men on board were union men and were taking advantage of this opportunity to get across the continent, and not more than one hundred would work for Farley. He said that the men were treated like cattle on the trip although they had been promised a great deal. When he was approached by some of the laboring men in Ogden and asked to desert he threw his club beneath the train and, with a score of others, remained where work will be found for them. Mr. Bowling said that many of the strike-breakers were persons who had left San Francisco after the fire and were adopting this chance of getting back. As the last train pulled out of Ogden the crowd hissed and called the men on board names. It is believed that the railroad company had considerable trouble in getting engineers, firemen and trainmen to haul the train out of Ogden. Some of them refused absolutely to go out with the strike-breakers, not from a union standpoint, but because they were afraid of their lives, believing some attempt may be made to dynamite the train further west. It is expected that the train will desert the second train at Oakland.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Bond of the New County Recorder, J. B. Wallace, Acted Upon.

The board of county commissioners held a special session yesterday for the purpose of acting on the bond of County Recorder J. B. Wallace, who was recently appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Recorder D. W. Ellis. The bond was for $10,000. A communication was received from Mr. Wallace appointing Mrs. E. E. West and Miss Brown as deputies. The appointments were made and the salaries fixed at $75 as previously. Mr. Wallace stated that he was unable at this time to fill the vacancy in his office because of his own advancement and was granted permission to place a man there temporarily at a salary of $3 per day. P. E. Matthews, a friend of George Ritchie, Mr. Matthews was for a long time connected with the Wells-Fargo Express company in this city. A communication was received from the Ogden City Improvement league asking that the dangerous parts of the Ogden canyon road be fenced. The same was ordered filed without action.

LABOR DAY PROGRAM.

One of the Largest Crowd of the Season Expected at Glenwood Park.

The Labor day committee of the local labor unions has changed the program of sports for the day. The game of baseball will be between the Brigham City team and the Lewis team of Ogden. This game is necessary on account of the Logan team being unable to get into practice for the game. Arrangements have also been made for receiving the returns of the Nelson-Gains fight at Golden and the same will be read at Glenwood park round up as the battle is fought. The latest reports from the surrounding country indicate one of the largest crowds of the season. All arrangements have been completed for the event. Many of the business houses of the city have already assumed holiday attire. The business portion of the town will be decorated from one end to the other.

WILL STUDY DRAWING.

Miss Evelyn Hendershot Resigns Position in County Clerk's Office.

Miss Evelyn Hendershot, who has been a deputy in the county clerk's office for the past two years, has resigned and will leave in a few days for Chicago to study drawing, her favorite occupation. Miss Hendershot is a natural artist, and has done some very creditable work in that line. One of the most noted pieces of work was the designing of the Elks' memorial worn by the local lodge of Elks during the recent Denver strike. In appreciation of this work the local lodge of antiquer held presented her with a silver model badge. Miss Hendershot is at present on her vacation. Her return will serve two weeks at her old position, the resignation not becoming effective until Oct. 1.

Wife Fears Foul Play.

Mrs. May Small of Salt Lake has appealed to Chief of Police T. E. Browning to aid her in locating her husband, Joe Small, who she fears foul play. Small was in Ogden a few days ago accompanied by his wife. At that time he had a large amount of money on his person which he displayed carelessly. Mrs. Small attempted to get her husband to cease drinking and when he would not she took to the capital without him. Since then she has heard nothing of the fellow and fears that he has been foully dealt with on account of the money he had with him.

Idaho Man Robbed.

George Oatman, who was on his way from Rexburg, Idaho, to some point in Missouri, was robbed at the union station about 10 o'clock last evening. Oatman, who is rather aged, came on the train from the north and while making his way through the crowd at the depot to see the strike-breakers, was jostled by three men, one of whom picked his pocket. The police were immediately notified, but no clue to the pickpockets could be secured. It is thought that the man boarded the Rio Grande western train which pulled out about that time for Salt Lake.

Gets Better Position.

H. A. Hansen, who has been assistant ticket agent for the Union Depot company for the past year, has resigned his position and will leave tomorrow for Oakland, where he goes to accept a position as train agent with the Southern Pacific company. Mr. Hansen has many friends here who will be pleased to learn of his advancement.

Resumed Their Trip.

Little and Hagerty left last evening for Wells, Nev., where they will engage Joe's car to continue the trip to San Francisco. The portion of the engine which caused the breakdown could not be replaced in this section so that a new part had to be sent by express from Chicago. This arrived yesterday.
