

SCHOOL REVENUE IS INCREASED

House Bill Providing More Money for Salt Lake Teachers Passes.

ACTION ON CENSUS BILL

On recommendation, Marks' house bill No. 217, which failed Thursday, was passed by the house yesterday. The measure is designed to increase the revenue for school purposes in Salt Lake City and fixes the rate of tax levy. As passed by the house its provisions include a clause to provide more money for teachers' salaries. The chief objection to the bill on the previous day lay in the provision for a levy for grounds and buildings. The bill is considered one of the important ones of the present session.

Consolidation Bobs Up.

One of the plans for the consolidation of the University of Utah and the state Agricultural college bobbed up for a moment in the house yesterday, but its lease was short lived. When senate bill No. 171, by Park, was called up, Mr. Mills moved that the measure be made the subject of discussion in committee of the whole next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Mills' resolution also provided that the debate be limited to fifty minutes a side, to be apportioned by Messrs. Thompson and Pederson. There was much discussion of the suggestion, but Tolton at length put and end to it by moving to indefinitely postpone the Mills resolution, on the ground that the bill is now in the hands of a committee, and that it would be discourteous to that committee were the summary proceeding proposed carried out. The Tolton motion prevailed.

Senator Hollingsworth's senate bill No. 93, defining degrees of burglary and fixing the penalty, emerged from a shower of amendments unscathed and was passed. The bill provides a penalty of from twenty-five to forty years for first degree burglary; one to twenty-five years for second degree, and three months to three years for third degree. The first degree clause is aimed at bank burglars and in other big robberies where dynamite is used, and where life is taken or endangered. Efforts were made to reduce the penalties in certain cases, but these failed. Five votes were cast in opposition.

A bill passed the house yesterday making it possible for Salt Lake City to take an official census of its population at any time, the cost to be paid by the city. Other cities may do likewise. The bill is Hollingsworth's senate bill No. 97. The city census may not be taken during the years when a state or government census is taken. This measure is of especial interest to the letter carriers of this city, as well as to the people in general. It is believed by the carriers that the city has a population sufficient in size to entitle them to more pay.

Burglar Tool Bill Passes.

Robinson's house bill No. 71, which passed the house yesterday, makes it unlawful to make or have in one's possession tools of a burglarious character or deadly weapons, if the intention be to use such implements to break into any house. The offense is made a misdemeanor.

SESSION ENDS WEDNESDAY

The legislative session expires Wednesday next by constitutional limitation, but notwithstanding this fact adjournment will probably not be taken until several days later.

Not Likely, However, That Legislature Will Adjourn for Several Days.

The way this is worked is by stopping the clock. The members of the senate have no idea what time it is and can stay in session indefinitely if they wish, the journals of the last regular day containing the records of all business done on succeeding days.

SPEAKER ENTERTAINS.

Members of House His Guests at Enjoyable Banquet.

Speaker of the House Harry S. Joseph last evening entertained the members of the legislative body over which he presides at a banquet in the Elks' club rooms.

HOUSE NOTES.

The house will meet at 10 o'clock this morning.

A memorial was received from citizens of Los Wayne county, asking that the legislation proposed by the late Representative Thomas, pertaining to the road improvement, be favorably acted upon.

Many members of the Woman's Republican club were present in the house yesterday.

The speaker has called for all outstanding committee reports by next Tuesday.

Saved Her Son's Life.

The happiest mother in the little town of Ava, Mo., is Mrs. S. Ruppel. She writes: "One year ago my son was down with such serious lung trouble that our physician was unable to help him; when, by our druggist's advice, I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery, and in a few days improvement came. I kept this treatment up for a few weeks when he was perfectly well. He has worked steadily since at carpenter work. Dr. King's New Discovery saved his life." FOUR SCHOOL BILLS PASSED

Measures Desired by Educators Are Ratified by the Senate.

ONE FOR UNIFORM COURSES

Several important and long desired changes were made in the school laws of the state yesterday when the senate passed house bills Nos. 70, 90, 122 and 185, by Mr. Richards. The measures were recommended by the Teachers' association and also by leading educators throughout the state, who will be glad to know that they now need only the governor's signature to become laws.

County As a District.

House bill No. 70 provides that where an entire county is constituted into one school district it shall be a county school district of the first class. Heretofore in order that a county might be a district of this class it was necessary that it should have 3,000 children of school age. The present law has worked against the best interests of the school in some of the smaller counties, and hence the amendment.

The act specifies that the board of education may issue to a teacher a special certificate, favorable, special, or conditional, in order that he may be employed in a school for a period not more than one year; that any county superintendent or board of trustees can employ a teacher temporarily, provided that such teacher has made application to the state board of education, and that the board can grant to any graduate of a normal training school a certificate valid for two years.

The other measure, house bill No. 122, relates to the duties of county superintendents. It provides for his visiting each school in the county at least twice in each school year, while on such visits to carefully observe the condition of the school, the mental and moral instruction given. He shall advise and direct the teachers in regard to their work, and shall keep a record of such visits, which he shall file with the state board of education, to be used for or against teachers at the time of their examination for certificates.
