

THEATRICAL MEN TO HAVE BENEFIT.

The success of the T. M. A. benefit at the Orpheum tonight seems to be already assured. The old adage regarding one volunteer being worth three pressed men emphatically holds good, and the way in which volunteers have stepped forward, both from the theatrical and amateur ranks, is gladdening the hearts of Messrs. Goss and Warner, in whose hands has been entrusted the work of getting up the bill. This will be a performance wherein there will be no deadheads, and the gross receipts will go to a worthy cause. The fact that the famous Orpheum orchestra, augmented by four more musicians, will contribute to the musical section insures first-class entertainment.

The Theatrical Mechanical association is well known throughout the country among the profession. Last week a local lodge was organized with some sixty charter members, and quarters were secured in the Deseret National Bank building on the third floor. It is to defray the expense attached to the furnishing of the rooms that the benefit performance is being given. Actors from the Orpheum, the Bonnie Brier Bush company, the Grand and the Lyric have volunteered their services for the occasion, but the prospects are that the entire program will not be announced until this evening. One of the features that is bound to bring down the house is the act of the two proprietors, Wright and Younger, who have been rehearsing a fake strong men act which they have unblushingly stolen and improved upon.

The bill as arranged to date comprises the following attractions: Kuhn and Youngerman, song and dance specialties. Miss Millie Williams, illustrated songs. Jack Held, humorous cartoons. La Gette, aerial gymnast. Behind the Scenes, setting and striking an act. Miss M. Mulvey, soloist on the Italian harp. Wright and Younger, feats of marvelous strength. Horace S. Ensign, Salt Lake's popular baritone. Appleby, symphony banjoist. Merode, athlete on Roman rings. Kindrome and three other acts.

CENTRAL COAL & COKE CO. CAN NOW FILL COAL ORDERS PROMPTLY. PHONES 1600. 38 S. MAIN

Be up-to-date. Go to Saltair April 5. KEEP THE TEMPLE WALLS SAYS SALT LAKE WOMAN

To The Salt Lake Herald: I am not a Mormon, nor ever was, though born and reared 'neath the shadow of that dear old historic wall. I feel that this is a matter about which the public have nothing to say; it belongs to the Latter-day Saints. I have a sentimental feeling akin to that we feel for our fine big trees; the present generation cannot hope to see such growth again, and so with the wall. The hands that fashioned the masonry are clinging to their final rest, and the spirit that prompted the building is no more. It would take but a brief time to remove it from our sight, but never again could it be replaced. While I am not a Mormon, I have the desire to make our city beautiful, my heart rebels at the thought of parting with all these hallowed relics. Where in all the big world can you find its counterpart? Our city would be similar to thousands of others if we build just as they have done. Many eyes have been delighted by the beauties enclosed within, and all, I think, are willing and anxious for the work at large to partake of that pleasure. My idea would be to remove one-half the wall down to the foundation or coping, on all four sides, leaving the other one-half at the corners and strengthening and preserving this as it is, through all time; placing an iron fence on the coping, thus disclosing the floral beauties within, which form such picturesque surroundings for those odd, rare and sacred buildings.

I would go further, and plant beautiful clinging vines about the corner walls, and grass and flowers at the base. I would widen out the cement walks at the entrances, so as to accommodate the vast multitudes who attend divine services. I would instruct the young and old, far and wide over these valleys, that a becoming and dignified cleanliness must be observed about this sacred place, and never again should the youth of Zion make these grounds like unto fair grounds, strewn with papers, orange and banana skins, nut shells, pop corn, etc. I would have receptacles for the absolutely unavoidable rubbish, but when you reflect that a square will take you out from this place of God, why should it be defiled by garbage? I was one of those favored by an invitation to inspect the temple just prior to the dedication, and oft I reflect on its magnificent beauty and wondrous construction, and here it is the people bring their purest, holiest, heart's devotion. Then, surely, the outside should be correspondingly clean, neat and bright. I am sure the effort, once made, must be crowned with success, for where such unity of purpose as within these walls? L. E. A. L.

HOME PRESCRIPTION

Speediest Relief Known to Science for Coughs, Colds and Consumption.

This home prescription has been familiar to druggists for years. Its wonderful effectiveness on coughs, colds and all affections of the bronchial tubes and pulmonary organs spread its fame from city to city with rapidly increasing popularity. Inquiry into the origin of this prescription developed the fact that it emanated from a prominent Philadelphia physician who gained fame amongst his profession for the development of the truly soluble preparation from the active principle of the pine tree, which although known to contain wonderful curative powers, was used by doctors on account of its insolubility. This new form of pine is known as "Home Prescription" and is made by doctors and druggists as the Concentrated oil of pine and it forms the chief ingredient in the famous "Home Prescription," which is here given to the public and is as follows:

Concentrated oil of pine, half ounce; pure whisky (spirits frumment) eight ounces; glycerine, two ounces. Mix and shake thoroughly and take a tablespoonful every four hours. This will frequently cure a cold inside of twenty-four hours. The ingredients can be secured at any drug store, and can be easily mixed at home in a ten-ounce bottle. The concentrated oil of pine comes put up or sealed in a screw-top package which retains all the original ozone. It should be borne in mind, however, that there are patent medicines put up by so-called chemical companies to imitate the wonderful pine oil. These can be avoided by making sure to get the "Concentrated" oil of pine. It is also said to be very effective in curing lumbago and uric acid rheumatism. For this purpose it is taken raw, a few drops on sugar, night and morning.
