

MEMORIAL DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Arrangements for Parade and Exercises in Orpheum Theatre and at Graves Completed. THOUSANDS ARE EXPECTED VETERANS ANTICIPATE A GLORIOUS CELEBRATION.

Thursday will be Memorial, or Decoration day. Hundreds of veterans of the war of states, of the Indian war veterans, of the Sons of Veterans, of the Spanish-American War Veterans, of the man's Relief Corps, will take part in the exercises. Notable exercises will take place in the Orpheum theatre at 10:30 o'clock, following a parade, which will begin at 9:30. Flowers will decorate the graves of the fallen soldiers, of those who have died as a result of wounds received in the service of the country, of those who performed their duty and came through it all unscathed, but who have since died. The members of the Woman's Relief Corps and their friends will provide flowers—the assembling of the floral tributes will be at No. 256 South State street. In the afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, there will take place the dedication of the Lincoln tablet in the Packard library.

Material changes have been made in the order of the parade and the exercises of parade since the first announcement was made. The general orders have been changed so as to read:

Each division will complete its formation and stand ready to march at 9:15 sharp. The command will leave the Knutson hotel promptly at 9:30 o'clock. The guide will be light.

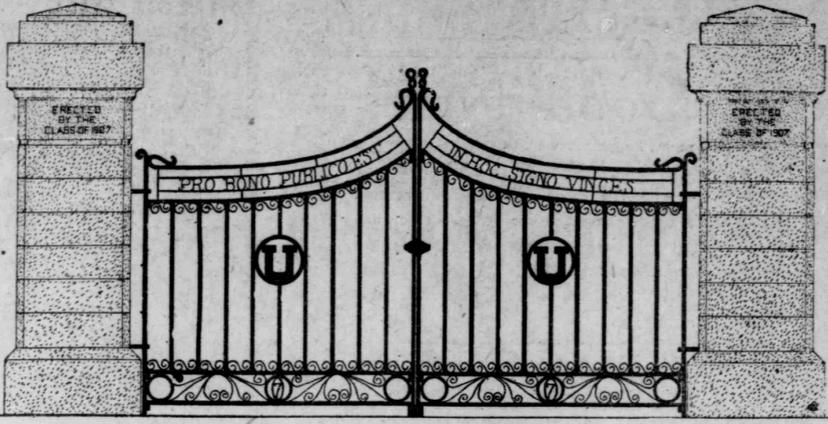

Line of March. The following is the line of march: West on East Third South street to Main street; thence north on the east side of Main street to South Temple; thence passing on the south side of the Brigham Young monument south on the west side of Main street to East Second South street; thence east on Second South to State street; thence north on the east side of State street to East Third South, where the command will be drawn into line and dismissed.

The exercises at the Orpheum theatre will begin at 10:30 o'clock. The program will be: Call to order by H. P. Burns, chairman of executive committee. Invocation, N. D. Corser, department chaplain. Song, "America," led by H. S. Ensign. Solo, H. S. Ensign, "The Brave, Sentimental."

Remembering the Dead. At the cemeteries there will be exercises, when the graves of the veterans of the wars will be solemnly decorated with a wealth of flowers. The Woman's Relief Corps has taken an active interest in this work, as it always does. The exercises will have accumulated a profusion of flowers. There will be floral tributes as well as a private character. The exercises, in their formal nature, will, it is expected, be concluded before 2 o'clock, although doubtless many will remain in the cemeteries where loved ones lie.

The members of P. E. Connor camp, Sons of Veterans, will assemble at Odd Fellows hall at 8:30. Adjutant H. D.

CLASS OF '07 TO ERECT MEMORIAL GATE.

Memorial gate to be erected at the main entrance to the university campus by the graduating class.

The memorial gate of the class of 1907 of the university will be a monument to the originality and school spirit of the graduates who leave the school this spring. Their four years at the university have been marked with success. Each year the class has instituted a set of customs that predominate in older colleges and all of them have been carried out with enthusiasm by the following classes.

The gate has been designed by Richard A. Hart, one of the students. The swinging portions will be supported on posts of red sandstone. This type of gate predominates at the University of Pennsylvania, where every class that has left for many years has left its memorial in that form.

The '07 memorial will span the main entrance to the university campus, facing west on Second South just east of Thirteenth East. In the center of the street is a roadway and on each side is a walk for pedestrians.

The gate and its materiality to the appearance of the grounds and will be a worthy substitute for the wooden ones that are now in place. Its design harmonizes with the architecture of the buildings. The custom of leaving a substantial memorial will be carried out by the classes that follow '07.

THE LINCOLN TABLET.

At 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon there will take place the dedicatory exercises in connection with the Lincoln memorial tablet in Packard library (the public library). This is the program:

Call to order, Adjutant General R. G. Sleeter. Prayer, Rev. Elmer I. Goshen. Presentation, Colonel George B. Squires. Acceptance on behalf of the city, Fisher S. Harris.

Song, "America," George R. Maxwell post quartette. It is the belief that Decoration day this year will far surpass in interest and numbers anything of the kind that has taken place in this city before.

Department headquarters has word from other cities in the state that preparations have been completed for a more extensive observance than ever before.

Dr. Hyatt, the local forecaster, gives it as his belief that there will be fair weather on Memorial day. The storm which has been in this city for the past week has moved eastward to Colorado. A high pressure over the north Pacific will cause this vicinity fair and warmer weather today, and probably tomorrow.

Spanish-American Veterans. At a meeting last evening a committee consisting of L. B. Eddy, A. M. Jarvis and William P. Jarvis was appointed to arrange for the participation of the Spanish-American War Veterans in the Memorial day parade and exercises—that is, this committee was authorized to make preparations for the carrying out of the ritualistic services at the graves of the men who lost their lives in the Spanish-American war at the expense of the local camp. The Spanish-American veterans will join the parade after assembling at their hall at 8 o'clock.

Pupils Furnish Flowers. The public school principals met yesterday afternoon at the city and county building and made plans for Memorial day. The children will be asked to furnish flowers and plants with which to decorate the Orpheum theatre, where the exercises will be held. This is a custom which has been observed for years.

SHOULD SHOP EARLY. Behooves Housewives to Lay in Stock of Provisions. The general understanding is that nearly all, if not all, the dry goods and furnishing houses will be closed all of Thursday, and that the grocery stores and meat markets will close at about 10 o'clock. This will give the housewives an opportunity to provide themselves with a stock of provisions for the day, if they be alert.

These hours will be observed at the postoffice; money order window closed; box window, general delivery, forwarding, inquiry, stamp and registry windows open from 11 in the forenoon to 1 in the afternoon; carriers' window will be closed; carriers will make one morning delivery covering the entire city, with three collections in the business districts; hotel delivery and collection will be made at 9 o'clock in the evening.

The banks will be closed, as will also the public offices.

ORIGIN OF MEMORIAL DAY. General Logan, Commander in Chief, Issued First Order. The first order setting aside a day for the observance of Memorial day was made by General John A. Logan, on May 5, 1868, then commander in chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

General Logan's order reads: "Headquarters Grand Army of the Republic, Washington, D. C., May 5, 1868. "General Order, No. 11. "I, The 30th day of May, 1868, is designated for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion, and whose graves have become mounds of unweeded earth, and in honor of the memory of our fallen soldiers, sailors and marines who united to suppress the late rebellion. What can add more to assure the living that the departed are not forgotten than by cherishing tenderly the memory of our heroic dead, who made their breasts a barricade between our country and its foes? Their soldierly lives were the reveille of freedom to a race in chains, and their deaths the tattoo of rebellious tyrants. Let us strive to guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of their slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread rudely on such hallowed ground. Let no irreverent act come and go of reverent visitors and fond mourners. Let no vandalism or avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic.

"If other eyes grow dull and other hands slack, and other hearts cold in the years that shall elapse, let us raise above the ruins of our departed comrades, the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us in this solemn presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us, a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude—the soldier's and sailor's widow and orphan.

"It is the purpose of the commander in chief to inaugurate this observance with the hope that it will be kept up from year to year, and that the memory of our departed comrades, who were so dear to our hearts, will be kept alive in the minds of the living, and that they will be remembered in the hearts of the coming generations. Let us strive to guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of their slain defenders. Let no wanton foot tread rudely on such hallowed ground. Let no irreverent act come and go of reverent visitors and fond mourners. Let no vandalism or avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic.

"Resolved, By the order of the Third judicial district of the state of Utah, that while we bow with becoming grace to the will of God, we mourn with those who are bereaved. We lay a tribute of love and respect upon his bier and will cherish his memory with affection and emulate his good deeds.

"Resolved further, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this court and copy be delivered to the bereaved family.
