

CRACK DENVER TEAM COMING

Dubei Signs Hanover Baseball Team for Week's Series of Games.

John Dubei has just completed a schedule of games that should give the baseball fans some live sport during the next month. In spite of the rainy weather Dubei believes there will be some sunshine this summer and accordingly is getting ready to have some baseball when that time arrives. Yesterday he received a letter clinching a week's series of games with the Hanover team of Denver. This team was formerly known as the Garmitas and is without doubt one of the strongest amateur teams in the west. In spring practice this season the Hanover team beat the Denver Western league team, which gives some idea of the kind of ball they play. George Morrison Read, the well-known Denver sportsman, is manager of this team.

COLUMBIA STILL OBSCURATE

Faculty Refuses to Allow Students to Play Football—Committee Turned Down.

New York, June 14.—The efforts toward restoration of intercollegiate football at Columbia university have suffered a serious setback in the refusal of the faculty committee on student organizations to accept the request of the university committee on athletics, headed by Francis S. Bangs, who has been conspicuous as a graduate promoter of Columbia sports. The university committee had recommended to President Butler that the game be resumed next fall.

Only one of the five professors composing the faculty committee favors restoration of football. That one is Professor Herbert G. Lord, chairman of the committee, who thinks the students and their instructors would be more in harmony were football to be revived. Professors Odell, Jemp, Bogert and Mitchell argue that Columbia's educational policy suffered severely from football.

MAY LAND BIG DOG RACES

Bid of $1,500 Sent in by Salt Lake Sportsmen for Coursing Meeting.

Word was received yesterday from J. W. Williams, secretary of the Mississippi futurity, that the bid of the Salt Lake Coursing club had been received and that he would use his efforts to have the futurity run off in Salt Lake this fall. The date for bids for this big blue ribbon coursing event closes on July 1, and at that time something definite will be known.

MAY WINS FINALS

A ball game is scheduled for this afternoon at Walker's field, between the soldiers and Dubei's team. The game is called for 5:30 p. m. and it is up to the weather man as to whether it will be played or not.

FOOTBALL FIELD DAY.

The Salt Lake association football club will hold its annual field day at Wadsworth this afternoon. A number of sporting events are down on the program.

FISHING SEASON OPENS TODAY

Streams in Poor Condition on Account of Rain—Fishermen Must Have License.

June 15 is the date set by law for the opening of the fishing season, but this year the weather man has practically put a ban on fishing for a couple of weeks at least, or until the rain lets up long enough to allow the streams to get into condition for fishing.

Instead of the sporting goods stores being crowded with fishermen yesterday, laying in a supply of tackle, a few stragglers here and there alone were seen. It is not until the streams get into condition enough to announce that they would be on deck today. These few will probably be out, but it is a foregone conclusion that fishing will be anything but good. Where fishing is done to any extent it will probably be done with bait instead of flies.

Fishermen should remember that it costs one dollar a year to fish since the State Game Warden Cromar will have a number of permits out to patrol the streams, and every fisherman caught fishing without one of these licenses will promptly be arrested and taken into court and fined.

NAZARRO WINS EMERALD'S CUP

International Automobile Race in Germany Witnessed by Many Crowned Notables.

Homburg, Germany, June 14.—The automobile race for Emperor William's cup began a few minutes after 6 o'clock this morning under favorable auspices. The rains of yesterday had ceased and the roads had partly dried off during the night, while the skies showed some signs of clearing.

The imperial party left Homburg at 5 a. m., reaching Klosterthron at 5:45, where the court tribune had been erected and where Prince and Princess Henry of Prussia, the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Hesse, Prince Frederick Charles of Hesse and other princes and princesses occupied seats. The court tribune and all the other stands in the neighborhood were filled up rapidly, while hundreds of motor cars lined up along the route. In addition excursion trains brought thousands of people to Klosterthron from Homburg and other towns in the vicinity.

No American Contestants.

The events had a marked international character. While there were no American contestants, France, Italy, Belgium, England, Austria and Switzerland participated. Ninety-one machines started, of which the best were German. Twenty-one French, nineteen Italian, ten Belgian, four English, three Austrian and three Swiss.

The circle selected for the race covered a distance of 125 kilometers, which had to be traversed four times in order to complete the distance, 500 kilometers, or about 312 miles.

The prizes, consisting of a huge cup, a reason for the contest, were presented by the royal porcelain manufactory at Charlottenburg, were placed in an elevated position upon the balustrade of the court tribune, in full view of the contestants.

WAR IN CENTRAL AMERICA

Dispatch From Nicaragua Indicates That All Five Republics Will Soon Be Involved.

Washington, June 14.—A sanguinary war—perhaps two wars or more, with as many revolutions added for good measure—is what the state department officials now expect to mark the summer of 1907 in Central America. They are much cast down over the sudden and unexpected failure of the joint efforts of the governments of Mexico and America to bring about a condition of permanent peace between the turbulent republics in Central America. Official news of this nature reached the state department from one of its representatives in Nicaragua, who forwarded the explanation of the president of that country of his participation in the attack of Aracajita.

The exasperating feature of President Zelaya's message, according to the state department, was the way in which he sought to place upon America and Mexico the responsibility for the attack upon a friendly state by claiming that it was a necessary step in the execution of the plan for a union of the Central American republics. As a matter of fact, as one of the officials pointed out, certainly the United States and probably Mexico would welcome a combination of the little states into one republic under some capable head, but it has never for an instant been contemplated that such a union should be brought about by force. Indeed, the purpose of Mexico and the United States in securing the inclusion in the treaty of Amalapa, signed less than two months ago, of a provision for a general conference of the Central American republics, was to have them all join in that peace which might in the end result in re-establishment of the one-time "greater republic of Central America." As one of the parties to the treaty of Amalapa now attacks the other, the officials here feel discouraged and have decided to refrain from active intervention in the present disturbance.

A dispatch received from Captain Mullan of the gunboat Yorktown, now at Acapulco, says everything is quiet. If any vessel is sent to the scene of trouble, it will probably be the Milwaukee, now at Mare Island, San Francisco, a determination whether to send the Milwaukee will be reached tomorrow.
