GAMBLING HOUSE SAFE IS LOOTED

Elite Club Has Good Day's Play and Robbers Steal the Entire Winnings.

The Elite club, at 215 Washington avenue, in the heart of the business district, was entered by thieves some time between 1:30 and 2 o'clock yesterday morning and the safe blown open and robbed of about $1,200 in cash and valuables. The robbers gained entrance and made their exit by the main entrance, fronting on Washington avenue.

After completing the job the robbers made good their escape, unnoticed and despite the efforts of the police and sheriff's force they are still at large and no clue to their identity has been secured.

The Elite club, a gambling hall, is run by Louis Saville and is located over the Elite saloon and cafe. The latter place is open day and night, and at least a dozen men were working there during the time the robbery was committed. The safe was in the rear of the place where the customers were according to a previously arranged plan, and from the fact that on Wednesday the club made its first substantial winning for some time, the belief is current that the robbery was committed by some one who was familiar with the workings of the place.

Entrance through the main door was gained with the aid of a jimmy. The double lock on the door was broken off. The thieves, once on the inside, worked like veterans. They went to the rear room where, on two large safes, they placed a long stepladder reaching up to a skylight. This was undoubtedly meant for use in case of detection before the job had been completed. There was no occasion for pressing this improvised exit into commission, however. Not even those in the saloon below heard the slightest thing to awaken their suspicions.

With the emergency escape way fixed, the robbers next turned their attention to the safe, which stands in a corner. The combination was first known to them. At this point the opinions of the officers working on the case differ. Some believe that after a few minutes the door was opened, and others think that the tumblers in the safe door were worked in a similar manner to that in the Doyne jewelry store robbery in Salt Lake a couple of months ago. The condition of the safe would seem to give the greater weight to the latter conclusion. If an explosive was used it certainly did not leave any satisfactory trace on the door. Once the safe door was open the rest of the work was easy. All the thieves had to do was to scoop up the gold, silver, currency and checks, valued at $1,200, and watches and other jewelry, and then walk out.

At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the janitor went to clean out the place as usual. As soon as he discovered that the front door had been broken open he telephoned for Louis Saville, the proprietor, who hurried to the place to find that he was $1,200 poorer. He went to bed the night before. On the floor were burned matches, indicating that the robbery was in the nature of a fire. Ordinarily the place does not close before 2:30 o'clock, but yesterday morning, in view of the fact that the place was a profitable one, Mr. Saville decided to close an hour earlier to permit the employees to get a little extra rest.

The fact that the loss of the greater part of the club's money was not considered by the robbers in formulating their plans and selecting a time for the haul, the town was not troubled as usual, however, but the thieves did their work in such a manner that detection from the street below was next to impossible.

It is believed that there were at least four men in the robbery, and that while two men worked on the interior, one stood pigion was stationed on the street and another at the head of the stairs, ready to sound an alarm in case of discovery.

FRISCO EDDY'S THREAT.

Said He Would Blow Halliday's Head Off, but Didn't.

An echo of the cut-off days was heard last Wednesday night when Frisco Eddy pulled a gun on Jack Halliday and threatened to kill him. Halliday called the bluff and the bluff made his escape before an officer could be called.

Both Halliday and Frisco Eddy were members of a gang of twenty-five of the most notorious characters ever banded together. Locally they were dubbed the Zang gang, after the Zang saloon hold-up, but they were more widely known as the Frisco Boo gang. At the time of their apprehension following the saloon robbery Halliday turned state's evidence and the others who were interested in the job received from three to eleven years in the state penitentiary. The three-year man has since been released, but the others are still doing time. Halliday was liberated. It is claimed that those who were sent to the penitentiary threatened to kill Halliday at the first opportunity after their release.

Frisco Eddy was not one of those who were convicted. On Wednesday night he ran into Halliday in a Twenty-fifth street saloon and the two men had some words. Later they again met in the Board of Trade saloon and here Frisco Eddy pulled his gun and threatened to blow Halliday's head off. Halliday refused to be bluff and called the turn by telling him to go ahead, and instead Frisco Eddy put his gun away and got out of the place. The police were notified of the occurrence, but as yet Eddy has not been located.

DISCUSS BUILDING PLANS

Idaho University Regents Hold Two Days' Session at Boise—No Decisions Are Reached.

(Special to The Herald.)
Boise, July 11.—After being in session two days, the regents of the state university adjourned at 3 o'clock this afternoon, to meet again Monday to decide definitely on the plans for the administration building to be built at the university. The objects of the meeting of the regents were to decide on a number of changes in the plans for the building and to decide which parts should not be erected at this time, in order to bring the cost within the amount available.

Many plans were discussed, and at the close of the first day's session it was thought that it would be best to postpone the building of the north and south wings of the building, but at today's meeting the discussion was largely in favor of erecting the south wing and not finishing the upper part of the building. At Monday's meeting it will be decided which of these plans will be adopted.

When the regents meet Monday J. E. Tourelotte, the architect for the building, will have ready for their consideration itemized estimates of cost and the estimated cost of each section of the building, so that the regents may use these figures in making their decision on which part to erect at this time. The regents adopted the change in plans of the entrance of the building. According to the new plans the rotunda will be very striking with its arches. Immediately following the decision of the board of regents at the meeting Monday bids for the erection of the superstructure will be asked for to be opened some time early in August.

BE WARNED IN TIME

NERVE FAG MEANS THAT VITAL FORCES ARE EXHAUSTED.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Meet This Condition by Building up the Blood and Strengthening the Nerves.

Nervous debility is the forerunner of a nervous break-down perhaps the first warning sign of paralysis.

The first thing to do in nervous debility is to stop the cause of the trouble, if possible, whether it is irregular living, worry, or whatever it may be. Then the nerves must be given especial nourishment and the blood enriched. This is the mission of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and this is why the pills have been used with such great success in nervous troubles that did not yield to ordinary methods of treatment.

Mr. Charles W. Lowell, of Shelburne Falls, Mass., says: "I was run-down in health for ten years and for much of that time was unable to do any physical work on account of nervous debility. I kept at my work in the office although I was not in condition to do so and several physicians had been unable to give me any relief.

"I couldn't do a good day's work without being all used up. I suffered from general fatigue all the time and had no strength or ambition. I had frequent backaches and a headache at least once a week. My sleep was broken. My eyes were affected by my nervous condition and I had dizzy spells for half an hour at a time, especially after eating a hearty meal. My appetite was poor and I was troubled with gas on my stomach and constipation.

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me by a friend and finally I made up my mind to try them. My appetite improved, my sleep became sound and restful and I gained in weight and strength. My nervousness has entirely left me. I am very glad to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain the elements necessary to make new blood and, as the nerves get their nourishment from the blood, have been found invaluable in a wide range of diseases of the blood and nerves, such as rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers, neuralgia, nervous debility, St. Vitus' dance and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

It is alleged, it is being brought to this country in large numbers for immoral purposes. The protest declares that wholesale mistreatment, perjury and fraud are perpetrated on the part of immigrants and perjury and collusion on the part of the Japanese residents in this country.

What Hunyadi Janos Is

The Origin of the Name.

In Hungary, in the 15th century, there lived a wonderful man—a great soldier and wise statesman—who was principally instrumental in driving back the "unspeakable Turk" and keeping him out of Hungary for centuries. A similar feat was performed by these marauders were ravaging most of Europe. By his victories in war and peace this man endeared himself to the people and gained a great and permanent place in the nation's history. His name was HUNYADI JANOS, or John Hunyadi, as it would be in English. To the present day, in the affections of one of their greatest national heroes. Is it strange then that they should wish to give this honored name to one of their most wonderful natural products—the famous Mineral Laxative Water from the Springs at Buda Pest? The unflattering value of this water as a sure and gentle Natural Laxative has gained for it a world-wide reputation, greater even than that enjoyed by old John Hunyadi in Hungary. A bottle costs but a trifle and contains many doses. One dose, 1/2 a tumblerful (drunk on arising, slightly warmed for best results), will within an hour move the bowels gently but copiously. At all Druggists. Ask for it by the full name—HUNYADI JANOS.
