

GRAFTERS TRY TO KIDNAP EDITOR

Fremont Older of San Francisco Bulletin Arrested and Husted Out of Town.

CRIMINAL LIBEL CHARGED RELEASE OBTAINED AT SANTA BARBARA.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Sept. 28.—Fremont Older, managing editor of the San Francisco Bulletin, who has been active in aiding the prosecution of the bribery graft cases in San Francisco, was taken off a southbound Southern Pacific train at 8:30 o'clock this morning by a force of twenty deputy sheriffs, who served a warrant for his arrest to appear in the superior court before Judge S. E. Crow at 10 o'clock this morning on habeas corpus proceedings to rescue him from the hands of a constable from Los Angeles, who, it is alleged, virtually kidnaped him in San Francisco.

Word was received here early this morning of the reported kidnaping of Editor Older, and of his enforced trip to Los Angeles in the custody of a deputy sheriff. Attorney Cobb—Francis J. Heney's associate—telephoned to Richards & Carrier, local attorneys, and asked them to institute habeas corpus proceedings to take Older from his captors on the train.

Judge Routed From Bed.

Judge S. E. Crow of the superior court was roused from his bed at 2 a. m. and all necessary papers prepared, empowering the sheriff to capture Older by force if need be. All available deputy sheriffs and police were on hand and boarded the train promptly as soon as it came to a standstill. The first search failed to reveal Older or his captors, but on going through the rear Pullman car a second time he was seen and recognized. A copy of the warrant and habeas corpus proceedings were then served on Older and shown to Deputy Constable Ben Coffin of Los Angeles, who had him in charge. Older and the Santa Barbara officers left the train without resistance. Attorneys Porter Ashe and Luther Brown were on the train and accompanied the deputies. Escorted by several deputies Older was conducted to a waiting automobile and rushed to the court house to await a hearing.

Charged With Libel.

The legal ground upon which he was taken by the Los Angeles officers was a warrant for his arrest issued by W. W. Sumner, chief of a justice court in Los Angeles, and sworn to by a brother of Attorney Brown. It charges Older and E. H. Corcoran, who has been in the Bulletin in connection with the alleged attempted kidnaping of the late Supervisor Lowmeyer, with conspiracy to defame the city of Los Angeles.

Last Wednesday's issue of the Bulletin contained an account of certain actions of Luther Brown in connection with it, in which it is alleged that he had been in company with the late Supervisor Lowmeyer. The warrant was issued in Los Angeles because Attorney Brown's home is there, in telling of his arrest and spiriting away Mr. Older said:

Decoyed by Telephone.

"I was in the office of Francis J. Heney yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock, waiting for Rudolph Spreckels, when a telephone message came for me. I answered it and asked who it was, receiving the reply that it was a Mr. Stapleton, and that he was waiting for me at the hotel. I asked what he wanted, and he replied that he wished to see me on personal business. I hesitated and he repeated that it was very important and personal business, which he could not discuss over the telephone. I suspected that it was a trap and told the attorney Cobb so. He said of course it was a trap, but I determined, however, to see just what it was and told them to leave word for Rudolph Spreckels, when he came in, that if I was not back soon they would know what was doing. After leaving Heney's I noticed that two automobiles were following me on Van Ness avenue. They dashed to the curb and four men jumped out and one of them a warrant was thrust into my face and I was told that it was from Los Angeles.

Husted Out of Town.

"I protested that I wanted to see my attorney about it, but they would not let me. The four men had surrounded me and hustled me into the automobile. In it were two deputy sheriffs and two others, one of whom I think was a Calhoun detective and the other car were Attorneys Ashe and Brown.

Mr. Older said that the men promised to take him before Judge Carroll Cook, who had countermanded the warrant, but instead of doing so rushed him at the rate of thirty miles an hour to Redwood City, where they got on a train with him.

"When they seized me on the sidewalk," said Mr. Older, "they searched me to make sure that I had no weapons. In the automobile the man next to me thrust something which I supposed to be a revolver against my side and told me they would shoot if I made any disturbance.

Finally the captive was permitted to dictate a message to Rudolph Spreckels. He was unaware of the habeas corpus proceedings until Santa Barbara was reached.

Scheme of Calhoun's.

"This whole thing is a diabolical scheme of Patrick Calhoun's. They are a desperate band and will not hesitate at anything." The proceedings before Superior Judge S. E. Crow lasted an hour and a half, in which time the whole story of the kidnaping came out. It ended by Older being allowed bail in the sum of $2,000 named in the warrant, to guarantee his appearance in the justice court at Los Angeles at such time as the court there should designate. The bail bond was signed by H. F. Lincoln, cashier of the First National bank, and Paul Fox, a local capitalist.

Brown's Story.

Luther Brown, who swore to the complaint of criminal libel against Older, told his story of the circumstances. "Say for me," he said, "that this is entirely a personal matter. Neither Calhoun nor any other man has instigated me to undertake these proceedings.

He denied the reports that had been published about him. Attorney Porter Ashe, who testified during the proceedings, practically admitted the kidnaping of Older.

Mr. Older will return to San Francisco tonight, in company with Interstate Commerce Commissioner Franklin K. Lane, who is on his way north from Los Angeles.

DENIED BY CALHOUN.

Grafters Had No Part in Kidnaping of Older.

San Francisco, Sept. 28.—Patrick Calhoun of the United Railroads said tonight that the alleged attempt to kidnap Fremont Older could not truthfully be made to appear to have been undertaken by those defending themselves from charges of bribery.

"The facts are," said Mr. Calhoun, "that Mr. Luther Brown, who is a lawyer of Los Angeles and one of the associate counsel of my defense, was attacked a few evenings ago by the Bulletin, which printed an infamously untrue story in connection with an alleged attempt to kidnap former Supervisor Lowmeyer.

"Under the state constitution there are but two places that a man accused of criminal libel can be arraigned—one is in the county of the person libeled, the other is in the county where the libel is published.

"Mr. Brown swore out a warrant in Los Angeles county and had the warrant approved in this county by Judge Cook. Older was then arrested and an attempt was made to take him to Los Angeles. It was but an ordinary arrest.

It is further pointed out by Brown's friends that it is perfectly obvious that it would have been futile to have attempted the arraignment of Older in San Francisco county, in view of the close relations existing between Older and the prosecuting officials of San Francisco county.

RECOVERING ON DAMAGE.

(Harper's Weekly.)

In the small compartment for smokers at the rear end of a train going out of Norfolk a few weeks ago sat three commercial travelers and an old farmer whose dilapidated exterior made every player on the side of the conductor.

"I'm only a poor lone man," he said, with tears in his eyes, "I haven't a cent in the world. But my daughter is dying—here he almost broke down—and I want to see her. Please don't put me off. It's only sixty miles."

"Doing," said the conductor, though with a touch of pity. "Orders are orders. You'll have to get off at the first stop."

"It's all right, conductor," said one of the drummers. "I'll pay for him. How much do you want for a roll of bills?"

"Not on your life," cried the farmer, "thank you just the same, though." And, drawing out his own rather substantial roll, he paid his fare. The conductor grinned and passed on.

"Gentlemen, I owe you an explanation," said he to his astonished companions. "Five years ago this darn railroad ran over one of my cows—ran over her head. She was my witness. I sued the company for $40, but their cursed lawyers beat me out of it. Since then I've been trying to get my forty every way I could, and by hook or crook, I've beat 'em out of thirty-seven of it. It was the other three I was tryin' for just now."

THE TEST.

(Indianapolis Star.)

Jules Dupree, the French artist, who recently found in Miss Constance Learning of Wolf, Mont., the ideal beauty whom he had set out to search the world for, was talking in New York about America.

"I have been much impressed in America," he said, "with the dash and strength of your baggage handlers, or baggage smashers, as you justly call them.

"In Washington one day I pointed out to a baggage smasher a rather frail grip-sack.

"Is that grip-sack strong enough," I asked, "to go in the baggage car?"

"He lifted the grip high above his head and threw it on the ground with all his might."

"That," he said, "is what she'll get in Philadelphia."

"He took it up again and banged it against the side of a car four or five times.

"That is what she'll get in Chicago," he went on.

"He tossed it high in the air and on its descent jumped on it, breaking the lock open this time, so that the contents were scattered over the platform."

"And that's what she'll get in Slouix City," he concluded. "You'd better take her in the Pullman with you, boss, if you're going farther than Slouix City."

A Husband's Question.

When a man, from drinking coffee, goes to such a condition that he cannot eat breakfast without throwing it up, it seems time to quit, but there are thousands of people who do not understand that when an article of food or drink produces such conditions as these, it should be absolutely left off.

A little woman out in Mont. writes that she and her husband knew enough to quit coffee when it had rapped them hard. She says: "My husband was so badly affected that he ate no breakfast for three or four years. He would often try to drink a few sips of coffee and invariably throw it up.

"When Postum Food Coffee was brought to my attention I tried it without having any faith in it, but when I found what a delicious beverage it was when prepared according to directions, and from trying it on myself found there were no bad effects, I induced husband to take a cup without telling him what it was. He objected at first, saying that he would be sure to throw it up, but when I insisted upon his trying it, he agreed with him.

"Morning after morning I gave him Postum without telling him that it was any different from ordinary coffee. His stomach quickly recovered and he began to eat breakfast. He asked me one morning as he called for a second cup 'what witch' had taught me to make such delicious coffee,' and where I found some that would agree with him. Then I told him for the first time that he had not been drinking coffee, but Postum, which had so strengthened his stomach that he could now eat as much breakfast as any one.

"My two sisters were badly troubled with stomach disorder, but after leaving off coffee and taking Postum they both recovered their appetites and took on considerable flesh. I wish everyone could be induced to use the health-giving, aromatic Postum.

Use and Recommend Newbro's Herpicide

"I am sending you my photograph to show what Newbro's Herpicide has done for me. Since I first tried Herpicide upon my hair I have used it exclusively in giving scalp treatments to others, and I would not think of trying to get along without it." (Signed) MRS. ANNA CONNER. 2807 Archer Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Hundreds of lady scalp specialists and hair dressers use and recommend Newbro's Herpicide, instead of products of their own manufacture upon which a much larger profit could be made. They claim that Herpicide makes friends for them and gives much better satisfaction. Some hair dressers use Herpicide for obstinate cases only, but why not use the best first?

Herpicide is a delightful dressing that can be used when there is no disease of the hair or scalp, and as an actual remedy for dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair it stands in a class singularly its own.

Many ladies object to a gummy and sticky hair dressing, or one that is full of sedimentary chemicals intended to dye the hair. The marked preference for a clean and dainty preparation, particularly one that overcomes excessive oiliness and leaves the hair light and fluffy, is reflected in the enormous sale of Newbro's Herpicide. Discriminating ladies become enthusiastic over its refreshing quality and exquisite fragrance. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. At drug stores—Send 10 cents in stamps to The Herpicide Co., Dept. N, Detroit, Michigan, for a sample. Guaranteed under the food and drugs act June 30, 1906. Serial No. 915. Be sure you get Herpicide.

"RUNNING WATER PURIFIES ITSELF" IS ANOTHER MYTH

Every country boy "knows" that running water purifies itself. This "law of nature" has long been reckoned by many persons as one of their most valuable intellectual possessions, says the New York Tribune, highly efficacious in discomfiting city folks who are wont to complain of the pollution of streams by barnyards and other rural centers of bacterial life.

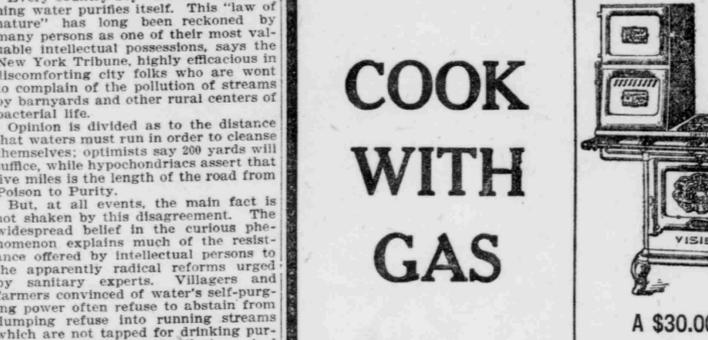

Opinion is divided as to the distance that waters must run in order to cleanse themselves; optimists say 200 yards will suffice, while hygienic purists assert that five miles is the length of the road from Poison to Purify.

But, at all events, the main fact is not shaken by this disagreement. The widespread belief in the curious phenomenon explains much of the resistance offered by intellectual persons to the apparently radical reforms urged by sanitary experts. Villagers and farmers convinced of water's self-purifying power often refuse to abstain from dumping refuse into running streams which are not tapped for drinking purposes near the points of pollution. And but alas for this popular "law of nature!" The timid bacteriologists have proved that, at least so far as the dread typhoid bacillus is concerned, the "law" is a myth.

Recent experiments conducted by the laboratory of hygiene at the University of Wisconsin indicate that the typhoid bacillus lives from eight to ten days in ordinary flowing water. Thus the investigators show that "if a stream flows at the rate of half a mile an hour, and a water supply is pumped from it twenty miles below the outlet of a sewer, it may be only forty-eight hours between the act of defecation of a typhoid patient and the act of swallowing the still living discharged bacilli in the town twenty miles away."

The accuracy of the Wisconsin observations being admitted, the need of informing the public of the death of the beloved myth can scarcely be exaggerated. A new and powerful argument is added to the arsenal of those who are fighting for reform in the disposal of refuse and sewage. Flowing water does rid itself of many impurities, as some careful tests show. But if the track derailed by the cow which it may contain cannot be so annihilated the "law of nature" is worthless as an argument for pollution.
