MRS. BRADLEY'S REGRET FOR HER CHILDREN Comes to Salt Lake in Time to Have Christmas Dinner With Them. WILL BEGIN LIFE ANEW IN SOME FAR-OFF PLACE IS DEEPLY GRATEFUL TO MANY PEOPLE WHO HAVE BEEN KIND TO HER.

After all the sad, bitter experiences of her life, the outcome of the trial is obliterated for Mrs. Anna M. Bradley, when she has reached her former home and been surrounded once more by her children. The one great thing that remains for her is significant of her hopeful, cheerful nature. It is the goodness of the people who have befriended her. And while reticent about talking, and in no sense willing to pose before the public, her heart is overflowing with gratitude for the treatment she has received.

Thanks Her Attorneys. "I feel that the outcome of the trial was to be expected. I have seen the less deeply sensible of the devoted and earnest work of the attorneys who worked so hard for the verdict. I think Judge Powers represented all that a man and an able attorney could be in such a case. And I feel that the careful and conscientious work of Mr. Wells and Mr. Hoover was crowned by the eloquence and ability of Judge Powers. Of course there was much to be said of which I could not take notice, but when any particularly bright spot from a mental standpoint comes out of my own personality to enter into the cleverness of it, I have never seen a man who represents the ideal of a judge better than Judge Stafford did. And yet he is considered the sternest and most severe judge in Washington. I felt that everything he did was in the real cause of justice, and his manner was so kindly and gentle that one could not feel it was with a high sense of his duty to aid mankind.

Is Deeply Grateful. "If I should talk all day I could not express, nor could I write, the gratitude I feel toward those loyal friends who all over this broad land have helped me to live through the terrors of the past. I have found the most devoted and loyal friendships that have ever developed on this earth. Not alone from those who I know me before the course of my life was changed by this unhappy affair have these people of devotion, but from literally hundreds of others whose sympathies have been aroused by my sorrow. "Of the friends who I know me before, one already knows. But of the devotion of the individuals who have stood by me through all this, this is the significant part of it. The greatest sympathy, the most helpful words of comfort, have been from the very good women—the women who were not alone above reproach, but whose own lives have been blessed with such happiness and every joy that comes to the ideal home.

HARRISON, N. J., MURDER MYSTERY NO NEARER SOLUTION---THEORY OF POLICE

New York, Dec. 27.—The mystery surrounding the circumstances of the murder of the unknown woman whose body was found near a hamlet in a pond on the outskirts of Harrison, N. J., 35 years ago, has been solved, tonight, it is said, by the police. The theory on which the detectives are now working is that the woman came to her death in Newark and that her body was carried to the lonely pond so that the real scene of the crime and the identity of the murderer might be concealed.

APPEAL MADE TO THE PRESIDENT

Senator Newlands of Nevada Trying to Prevent Withdrawal of Troops. UP TO GOVERNOR SPARKS LEGISLATURE WILL HAVE TO BE CALLED TOGETHER.

Washington, Dec. 27.—Senator Newlands of Nevada is endeavoring to prevent withdrawal of the government troops from Goldfield until some other means of protection is had. Today he called upon Secretary Taft at the war department and strongly urged that execution of the order issued by the secretary for the withdrawal of the troops next Monday be suspended until he has had an opportunity to communicate with Governor Sparks and endeavor to induce him to call the Nevada legislature together.

Doubt as to Legality. Administration officials feel that the present situation in the matter of Goldfield's case cannot be continued in view of the doubt that exists as to the constitutional and legal right of the executive to employ any part of the regular army in Nevada under present conditions. Governor Sparks' attention has been repeatedly called to the fact that this constitutional doubt might be removed by the simple device of calling together a state legislature, when that body could either give its warrant to the use of the federal troops or provide by legislation for raising a state force of soldiers.

Forwarded to Roosevelt. Following the receipt of Senator Newlands' protest, Secretary of War Taft tonight communicated with President Roosevelt at Pine Knot in regard to the withdrawal of the troops at Goldfield. The secretary is of the opinion that the governor had recommended in the matter, nor would he say whether he had heard from the president in turn. Secretary Loeb said the White House is entirely without advice from Pine Knot, as the Goldfield question was being handled by the war department.

POSTHASTE TO PINE KNOT. Couriers Dispatched With Message for the President.

Charlottesville, Va., Dec. 27.—Upon receipt of a telegram early this afternoon, presumably from Washington, Crew, accompanied by Sloan, left posthaste for Pine Knot. About 2:30 o'clock a telephone message was received from Glendower, a mile from Pine Knot, stating that nothing had been seen of the two couriers up to the hour of closing, 6 o'clock. The distance is sixteen miles over muddy roads. They will probably spend the night at Plains. Dealing, returning to Charlottesville in the morning. The president, after spending the forenoon at the cottage, spent the entire afternoon in the mountains across Hardmore river. Five miles from the hunting lodge, in quest of wild turkeys. The start was made from Pine Knot immediately after luncheon, the trip being made on horseback.

TRAIN AFTER TRAIN. Road From Caliente to Pioche Doing Considerable Business.

WILSON ALSO ILL. Former Congressman Edgar Wilson Will be in Charge of the Defense for the Present at Least.

Former Congressman Edgar Wilson will be in charge of the defense for the present at least. Wilson, however, was unable to be in court today on account of illness, and John F. Nugent conducted the case, announcing that the defense would begin its evidence by the introduction of depositions taken in the Bradley affair. The reading of the depositions occupied the entire forenoon session. They were introduced in an effort to show that the explosion at the residence of Fred Bradley in San Francisco was the result of a leakage of gas. It was shown that Bradley had recovered damages from the gas company for the damage done.

BELIEVES IT HOLD-UP. "Coal ought to be delivered to the extent of Salt Lake City for $3 or $3.25 at the most. That figure would give all of those in the business a profit, the producer would receive a fair revenue, the railroads would receive a fair rate for their haul and there would be a margin left for the dealers and the delivery service. I think our committee found last winter that coal could be mined and placed on board cars for about $1.25. Allowing the railroad a cent a mile haulage on every ton, say from the Helper district, which is approximately 100 miles from Salt Lake, I believe the roads would still be making money, and plenty of it, in that particular branch of the traffic. Fifty cents for the retail dealer and 50 cents for delivery should give the Salt Lake consumer his coal at $3.25.

NO REAL SHORTAGE OF COAL. "Our committee is one appointed to exist as an official board to gather data for the guidance of the next legislature. It was the aim in appointing the committee to keep standing an official body which might at any time inquire into a coal shortage, did one exist. Our findings would simply be the placing of the matter before the next legislature in concise form. We have not the power of employing corrective measures.

RAILROADS SHOULD REDUCE. Richard P. Morris, general manager of the Citizens' Coal company, said: "The haulers have had to take 25 cents less the ton. Now, if the railroad would cut its tariff 50 cents, and the mine owners 50 cents, Salt Lake would have coal at $4.75 or $5."

COAL PRICE OF COAL IS AN OUTRAGE. Member of Senate Committee Declares $3.25 a Ton Would Be Plenty.

Senator George W. Lawrence, one of the senate committee appointed upon the adjournment of the session, believes that the people of Salt Lake are being held up. Senator Lawrence said: "Believes It Hold-Up. "Coal ought to be delivered to the extent of Salt Lake City for $3 or $3.25 at the most. That figure would give all of those in the business a profit, the producer would receive a fair revenue, the railroads would receive a fair rate for their haul and there would be a margin left for the dealers and the delivery service. I think our committee found last winter that coal could be mined and placed on board cars for about $1.25. Allowing the railroad a cent a mile haulage on every ton, say from the Helper district, which is approximately 100 miles from Salt Lake, I believe the roads would still be making money, and plenty of it, in that particular branch of the traffic. Fifty cents for the retail dealer and 50 cents for delivery should give the Salt Lake consumer his coal at $3.25.

CAN BE PUT ON CARS AT MINES FOR $1.35. PRESENT REDUCTION OF 25c FALLS ENTIRELY ON THE TEAMSTER.

A reduction in the price of coal of 25 cents was made in Salt Lake yesterday. The dealer will lose nothing, for the delivery service is the sufferer. Recently coal that had been $6.50 was cut to $6. This included Wyoming, Peacock, Diamond and Kemmerer. The coal of the Utah Fuel company—Clear Creek and Castle Gate—had been quoted at $6 since the last advance. The 25-cent reduction will apply to dealers generally, and to the teamsters particularly. The price of coal now is $5.75.
