

The things sacrificed by a sin-sick soul for the sake of appearance in Lent form a most interesting collection of statistics. A few girls were discussing the subject of what each had "given up" some days ago, when one of the more worldly broke in with, "Well, I didn't give up anything." Chorus of "Oh, mys," met her ear, and finally pressed to it, she said, "No, I didn't give up anything. I don't think one should ever give up any happiness which comes her way, and I certainly wouldn't consider it a sacrifice to give up things I don't consider happiness." Is there a better statement in regard to sacrifice?

Already the golf enthusiasts are thronging the Country club grounds daily, and although the actual date of opening will not be set for some weeks yet, the club will be practically open all through the bright spring weather. The links are getting in better shape every day, and there have been numerous small parties to enjoy them so far.

Cupid is still at it, even in these days of prayer and penitence. One young couple may be seen every day taking the stroll to afternoon service, no doubt going to say prayers of sorrow. But they look anything but sorry, and there is a strong suspicion that, like Gabriel, he fixes his eyes on her as the saint of his deepest devotion.

Women's Clubs.

What the Y. W. C. A. is making an effort to do here, and what they doubtless will accomplish in time, has already been done in Chicago, and with what success can be shown by the following written by Mrs. Sarah S. Platt Decker, the general federation president:

"Every club woman should visit the 'Union Day Rest' in Chicago, if the opportunity offers, at No. 4 East Munroe street. It was projected and is carried on by the Kilo association, to provide a club home for business women. The rooms are comfortable and attractive, and include reception room, office, library, music room, parlor, bedrooms, sewing room, lunch and lecture rooms. A careful study is made in the culinary department to serve only the best food, prepared upon hygienic principles. No article costs more than 2 cents. The homelike atmosphere of the place, the freedom and restfulness, and the absence of the ever-pervading cigar and cigarette smoke, so peculiar to the usual restaurant, make an ideal combination for the noon-day meal for busy workers. Much more could be told, if space permitted, of the classes and lectures and social entertainments, of the physical culture, of the health talks, whose motto is, 'Get well; stay well; look well.'"

"Best of all are the friendships and comradeships brought about between the business and home women, and still better than the best, is the example of business sagacity, of courage, of unselfish service, and of useful living given by the members of the Kilo association in conducting this successful and public-spirited enterprise."

The help and co-operation of the Utah State Federation has been pledged for this year to the Y. W. C. A., and with the help there should be some such result right here in Salt Lake as the above shows.

The Spirit of Liberty Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held the March meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. U. U. Hickey, with Mrs. M. A. Breeden as chairman of the afternoon. Mrs. Breeden had secured Bishop F. S. Spalding to speak to the chapter on "Modern Radicalism and the Spirit of '76." The speaker traced the beginnings of the American revolution to three characters, whom he classed as not of the highest grade, but rather of the malcontent class, joined later by men whose high ideals made of the cause a noble one. The speaker held that the present unrest may, by the leaven of sane, conservative men, be made a movement for good in affairs of the country. The music was furnished by Naomi Hoffman and Marguerite Duvall, pupils of Miss Mary Olive Gray, the former playing Nevin's Alba and "Danse d'etoles," and Miss Duvall playing selections by Strauss and Beethoven. Mrs. E. V. Silver and Mrs. V. P. Hickey assisted the hostess.

A most interesting meeting of the Woman's League is planned for tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, and a half hour will be devoted to business. At 3:30 o'clock a short program of addresses will be given, the speakers being Frank B. Stephens, John D. Spencer and Dr. T. E. Beatty. Each man will speak ten minutes on "What the Woman's League Can Do to Help Salt Lake." The membership is increasing materially, and at the business session standing committees on ordinance, law, detention home, consumers' league, night schools, isolation hospital, pure food, vacation schools and sanitation will be appointed. The purpose of the appointing of these standing committees will be, first of all, to co-operate with those organizations already working along these lines. A short meeting of the executive committee will be held at 2:30 immediately before the other.

The Utah Sorosis of Provo celebrated its eleventh anniversary Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. A. Holdaway. The rooms were profusely decorated with flowers, guilax and potted plants and the club colors. An interesting musical program was rendered and refreshments served. The regular meeting of the club was held Saturday with Mrs. Cornelia Lund. Mrs. Lund presented an interesting paper on "Carlsbad," and "The German Army and Navy" was the subject of an equally able paper by Mrs. Frederick Cliff.

At the meeting of the Ladies' Literary club held Friday last Miss Clara I. Colburn of Rowland Hall read the paper published in The Herald some time ago on "The Education of Girls," which was listened to with marked attention by the club members and their guests. Miss Mildred Tibbals gave a most interesting account of her stay in Oxford, describing the town and the university as well in an entertaining manner.

The music was furnished by Mrs. Helen Shearman Gue, who sang two solos, by Miss Alice Seckels, and by the club chorus.

The regular meetings of the Woman's Athenaeum of Park City was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Shields, when a very interesting
