

PROHIBS NEXT TO NOMINATE

National Convention of Party to Be Held at Columbus, Ohio, This Week.

MUCH ORATORY PROMISED SEVERAL NAMES MENTIONED AS LIKELY CANDIDATES.

Columbus, O., July 12.—Delegates are arriving here today for the prohibitionist national convention, which will be held next Wednesday and Thursday, and for the state convention, which will open tomorrow.

Many Orators. Beginning tomorrow night there will be mass meetings every night at Memorial hall, where the conventions will assemble, addressed by leading temperance orators.

Race an Open One. Indications now point to an open fight for the nomination for president. There is an effort to move among some of the leaders of the party to place a southern Democrat and a northern Republican on the ticket, and Seaborn Wright of Georgia and Judge Samuel R. Ariman of Indiana were approached on the subject.

Among the candidates for president who have been prominently mentioned are: Fred F. Wheeler, Los Angeles; Daniel J. Sheen, Peoria, Ill.; Joseph P. Tracy, Detroit; Rev. W. F. Palmer, Salt Lake City; and Alfred L. Mangus, New York, and Dr. J. E. Cranfill, Dallas, Tex., a former candidate for vice president. "The platform will be brief and direct," said Chairman Jones. "It will denounce the Republican and Democratic parties because of the failure of congress to put a stop to the shipment of liquor into prohibition states. Other issues will be covered. In the convention will be about twenty-five platform makers, and each probably will have a draft of a platform. More planks will be offered than will be adopted by the resolutions committee, and fewer will be debated on the floor of the convention. I do not think any delegate will offer a resolution to endorse the Anti-Saloon league."

ORPHANAGE BOYS ESTRAYS

Three Lads Say They Were Not Well Treated and Decided to Run Away.

Three little boys who ran away from the State street orphanage yesterday morning were found wandering about the grounds at the Salt Palace last night and were taken into custody by Special Policemen J. D. Brown and J. C. Nelson. The boys were Wilford Coombes, Joseph Ely and Lawrence Blundell. Their ages ranged from 8 to 13 years.

The Coombes boy, who was the first to fall into the hands of the special policeman, was taken back to the orphanage. The other two boys were taken to the county jail, where they were passing the night. They were not kindly treated at the orphanage, and that they did not want to go back. They had lived all day on popcorn.

MURDEROUS ROBBER.

Hobes Held Up—One Thrown Under Car and the Other Shot.

Missoula, Mont., July 12.—Late tonight two tramps were brought to Missoula, one with a bullet through his forehead and the other with both feet cut off. The men, who were taken to a local hospital, were injured in a fight that followed an attempt to hold them up. The two were in a box car beating their way to Helena, and while passing through a tunnel near Bonita a third hobo entered the car and after relieving one of them of $50 shoved him from the car. He rebounded from the tunnel's wall and fell under the wheels. His comrade grappled with the robber and was shot through the head. Neither is believed to be fatally injured. The robber escaped.

LOVE, LIQUOR AND LAUDANUM

Suicide of David Wheeler, Who Had Been Spurned by Married Woman.

Because Mrs. Dora Elmer, a married woman, had spurned his love, David Wheeler, a member of one of the most prominent families in Weber county, drank the contents of a two-ounce bottle of laudanum at the Fashion rooming house some time yesterday morning. His lifeless body was discovered during the early afternoon by the housekeeper. Physicians worked over the body for more than half an hour, but were unable to bring it back to life.

Young Wheeler was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wheeler, respected residents of Slaterville. It is reported that until recently he was a frequent visitor at the Elmer home, in the same settlement. He became infatuated with Mrs. Elmer, who, when she discovered what was going on, rejected Wheeler's advances and forbade his calling any more. This seemed to prey upon the young man's mind. In fact, he left a note addressed to Mrs. Elmer, in which he said that it was because she would have nothing to do with him that he intended taking his life. For some time past, Wheeler, who was 22 years of age, had been drinking a good deal. A week ago he went to his parent's home in Slaterville slightly under the influence of liquor. The young man's father took him to task about his drinking. Following this interview, Wheeler went to work for Charles Stallings at Huntsville. He came to Ogden on Saturday and was stopping at the Fashion rooming house, where he ended his life yesterday. The supposition is that the disappointment in his love affairs, coupled with the use of liquor, caused Wheeler to end his life. In addition to the letter addressed to Mrs. Elmer, Wheeler left a note in which he directed that his regards be given to Charles Stallings and James Hunter. The drug which he drank was purchased at a local drug store. The police took charge of the suicide's effects, and the body was taken to the Larkin morgue.

DEATH CALLS A PIONEER.

Mrs. Sarah B. Moore, another pioneer resident of Weber county, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John L. Wilson, 702 Twelfth street, shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. General debility was the cause of death.

Mrs. Moore was born in Diss, England, seventy-nine years ago. When a small girl, she moved to America with her parents, and when 14 years of age she embraced the faith of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, of which she was a staunch supporter to the last. Mrs. Moore came to Weber county in 1849, and has lived here since that time. She was the widow of the late Bishop Moore, and is survived by four children: David M. Moore, Joseph B. Moore, Mrs. John L. Wilson, County Commissioner Frank Moore. She also leaves thirty grandchildren and eleven great-grandchildren.

Local Option Address. Dr. P. A. Baker, of the Anti-Saloon league of America, delivered a temperance address at the Ogden tabernacle last evening. There was a large attendance. Dr. Baker's theory is along the local option line. He advocated pledging the candidates on either or both of the legislative tickets for local option.

Burglar Is Captured.

Dan Jordan was captured by Officers R. Finocck and Vance while in the act of robbing the clothing store of Fred M. Nye, 2413 Washington avenue, at 12:30 this morning. Jordan gained entrance through a rear window, which he smashed. The falling glass attracted the officers. Jordan was found trying to hide under one of the counters. He claimed that he was intoxicated at the time, and gave this as the reason for his act.

WANDERING OVER CHINA

Head of the Buddhist Faith an Unwelcome Guest Wherever He Makes a Stop.

Pekin, Saturday, May 30.—In the spring of 1904 Colonel Sir Francis Edward Young, husband of the British army led a British column over the mountain passes of the Himalayas and fought his way into the holy city of Lhasa. In the eyes of all true Buddhists this was desecration, and ever since the Dalai Lama, the head of the Buddhist faith, accompanied by a large number of monks, has been wandering over northern China. He would not stay in his city after the feet of infidels had trodden its sacred soil. Consequently, he has been wandering from one Chinese city to another, and wherever he is received, he is treated as an unwelcome guest at the various cities where he is received. Now that the Lama is coming to Pekin, where, as a matter of fact, he will be no more welcome than he was at Urga in Mongolia, at Si Ming and Kanseuh and at Paj Yuan Fu, in Shan Si. Political expediency, however, will make it necessary for the Chinese authorities to receive him with a show of great courtesy, but they will do their utmost to persuade him to return to Lhasa, and if they cannot get him to start for home they will send along a numerous force of troops to see that he reaches there without stopping bodily on the way.

The Lama has taken his travels seriously and has had with him a retinue variously estimated at from five hundred to one thousand men. This pomp is fitting for the head of the Buddhists, but to entertain such a host in the luxurious manner they expect has been both expensive and troublesome for the Chinese. Upon whom the Lama has descended and demanded hospitality in the name of his high office.

STOPPED BY FLOOD.

Fairbury, Neb., July 12.—The train bearing John W. Kern to Lincoln, due there at 11 a. m., was ordered held here tonight until morning on account of heavy rain. The railroad officials desired to investigate the condition of the tracks before allowing the train to proceed.

A TEMPERANCE TALK.

(Louisville Times.) Hal Chase, the famous first baseman, was advocating teetotaling among ball players. He argued well, and in the midst of his argument he told a story. "Leroy Vigors, a friend of mine," he said, "turned up to play in an amateur game with a skate on.

"When Vigors stepped up to the bat he smiled a silly smile and said to the umpire: "I shes three bats an' three balls here. What am I to do—hit—do?" "Hit the middle ball," said the umpire. "But Vigors struck out." "Durn ye, Vigors," said a coach, "why didn't you hit the middle ball, like the umpire told you?" "I did," says Vigors, with an injured air, "only I hit it with the—hic—outside bat."

WISCONSIN MEN KING'S GUESTS

Delegates to Democratic Convention Entertained in Various Ways in Salt Lake.

SPECIAL RECITAL TODAY

WILL HEAR GREAT ORGAN IN TABERNACLE THIS MORNING.

Eighteen prominent Democrats and their friends were distinguished visitors entertained in Salt Lake City yesterday. The party was a part of the Denver convention crowd from Wisconsin. As soon as they were taken in tow by Major Sam A. King, who was their host and pilot during their stay in the city. First they were escorted to the Temple grounds, where they attended the anti-saloon mass meeting. Then they were taken by Mr. King for a street car trip over the city. Afterwards Major King carted them off to the lake, where they revelled in the water to their hearts' content.

After the bathing there was an informal little banquet. Judge Martin L. Lucock of Juneau, Alaska, delivered a brief address, in which he complimented Major King upon the manner in which the party was received and entertained here, and also voiced the sentiments of his fellow travelers, when he said that Salt Lake certainly had proved a revelation to them. Major King responded briefly, returning to town, there was a visit to the Commercial club.

This forenoon there will be a special organ recital in the tabernacle, beginning at 9 o'clock. The early hour is rendered necessary by reason of the fact that the party is compelled to leave at 12:25, when their special car will be attached to the Limited.

In the party are: John Kelly, of Juneau, a prominent attorney; Paul A. Henning, also of Juneau, who carries the banner that is "For Bryan first, last and all the time"; William F. Shannon, of Port Washington; Frank E. Schultz, who is the right-hand man of Mayor Rose of Milwaukee; W. Lamoreaux and L. S. Keeley, the latter superintendent of schools at Maysville; H. A. Sawyer, a prominent attorney of Hartford; Harry D. Schwaback of South Georgetown; John Malone and his son, Mike Malone, the last two named being the only members of the party who have even been in the west. They are extensively interested in mining in the inter-mountain country.

FRENCH SENDING OVER WARSHIPS FOR THE PARADE.

Quebec, July 12.—Historic Quebec on the occasion of its thirtieth anniversary celebration of its founding, is planning a great historical military and naval pageant in which the pages of history will be turned back to show to the world in a series of dramatic pictures how history was made in Canada in the days of old. The heir to the throne of the British empire is coming to honor the memory of Canada's founder, Samuel de Champlain and his official landing will be made a brilliant spectacle. Sixty by six through the streets of Old Quebec, where once all three were at enmity, will march representatives of America, of England and of France, while in the harbor below the assembled battlements of many nations will boom out a salute to the past, present and future of Canada.

Military Display.

The dedication of the battlefields will be made the occasion for a military display on July 24. Thousands of soldiers will be mobilized from all parts of Canada and a score of battleships and cruisers will be in port representing England, the United States, France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Japan and the Argentine republic. The Indomitable will be preceded by a fleet of four battleships and two cruisers, which are expected to arrive here on Thursday.

BOUND TO FLOURISH.

(London Chronicle.) She was shopping in one of the big stores when her eye fell on a remarkably fine plant. "Will it flourish in the sunshine?" she inquired of the shop assistant, with a sharp, scrutinizing glance. "Yes, madam," was the courteous response. "Don't say it will if it won't," she said, severely. "If it wants plenty of sun I suppose it will fade and die in the shade." "Oh, no, madam!" "What?" she exclaimed, with a triumphant how-I've-caught-you-air. "You tell me it will flourish equally well in sun or shade. Ridiculous. A remarkably accommodating plant, I must say. My good man, why it's a perfectly unnatural plant—'Expert, madam,' interrupted the floral expert. "It is unnatural, an artificial plant, in fact."

NOW'S THE TIME.

(Atlanta Constitution.) Now's the time for thinkin' of the cool old country ranch— Warm enough for wadin' in the rippled, runnin' branch; Fer thinkin' of the meadows—the lazy, daisy dells— To rest up in the shadows, in the hearin' of the bells.

Cattle bells that tinkle— Cross meadows, clover-deep, Sing-song like, until you dream An' hear 'em in your sleep. Hot enough for slippin' from the city's dust an' heat To feel the dew-drenched grass blades A ticklin' of your feet. An' tilt the mossy buckets of shady country wells. Where the watermelon's coolin'—in the hearin' of the bells.

Cattle bells that tinkle— Cross meadows, clover-deep, Sing-song like, until you dream An' hear 'em in your sleep.
