

JUDGE TAFT TO MAKE ADDRESS

Conference of National Conservation Commission With Governors Dec. 8.

Washington, Nov. 28.—President-elect William H. Taft has accepted an invitation to preside over and address a joint conference of the national conservation commission with the governors of the states, in this city, Dec. 8, an event which will bring together an assemblage of the nation's leading men in commercial, financial and political activity, and whose importance may be expected to rival the noted White House conservation conference held by President Roosevelt last May.

The joint conference will be in progress four days and will be fraught with wonderful possibilities toward shaping an epoch in the country's commercial advance. In fact, it is the first conference wherein tangible data as to the scope of the natural resources in the United States will be presented by the commission and a practical plan mapped out whereby conservation may be accomplished.

President Roosevelt will deliver an address the opening day, J. H. Hill, John Mitchell, Andrew Carnegie and a score of others have invitations to be present.

Since the conference seven months ago, when the president quickened the interest of the entire nation in one of its most perplexing problems, the national conservation commission has made an inventory of the natural resources of the country. This inventory, which embraces waters, minerals, forests and lands, will be presented by Gifford Pinchot, chairman of the commission, who, in his report to the president, Jan. 1, will make recommendations which both the work of the commission and the joint conference may suggest an vital in solving the conservation problem.

HEAVY FALL OF SNOW.

Kansas City, Nov. 28.—A heavy rain and snow, the latter from two to six inches in depth in some places, has fallen over southwestern Kansas, in Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle, and as far west as New Mexico during the past twenty-four hours.

The wheat crop will be greatly benefited by this moisture.
