

Tomorrow Begins Our Week's Annual House Cleaning of Remaining Winter Merchandise

Our After-Inventory January Discount Sale

SOME stores in clearing decks for another season's selling campaign get out their moth balls and tar paper and pack merchandise, moth balls, tar paper and all into the storerooms until Spring and Summer is over and cold weather pokes its nose over the threshold. Not so with us. We simply sharpen the blue pencil and mark prices way, way down and announce our After-Inventory January Discount Sale.

IT'S a store policy—one of the unbreakable rules of our business—that we clear our stocks while they are new and seasonable. Because stocks are still large, prices have been made remarkably small—but this will evince itself when you come. Here is a page of clipped close bargain economies that laugh at moth balls and tar paper. Let your visit be an early one—they mean action.
