

MAIN STREET TO BE BEAUTIFIED

Council Decides to Resurface It From South Temple to Fourth South.

OLD POLES COMING DOWN

NEW LIGHTS—ALL IN TIME FOR G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

With Main street resurfaced with asphaltum, from South Temple street to Fourth South, all poles out as far as Ninth South, and the new lights up, the Grand Army of the Republic visitors will see one of the prettiest thoroughfares when they parade here in August.

The first of these was from the Z. C. M. I. and others, asking for the asphaltum from First South to Fourth South. Enough of the property owners signed the petitions to carry the work through.

It is the intention to rush this so as to let the contract at the council meeting of May 21. Poles also will come down at once. The Utah Light & Railway company has now on the way 40 of the new steel poles, the first carted having been shipped last week from the National Tube Works of Pittsburgh.

The city and the street car company, realizing that this is a big order to fill, have given orders to rush the work. The poles will be taken down with a few days and the new ones erected as soon as the first cartload arrives.

NEWS STAND WRECKED BY RUNAWAY HORSE

G. W. Jewett Is Thrown Out and Severely Hurt—Horse Killed in Another Accident.

G. W. Jewett, a cripple, narrowly escaped serious injury, and perhaps death, when a horse standing in front of the Judge building, on the corner of Main and Third South streets, became frightened at a brass band passing in a street car and dashed madly into Postoffice place.

Jewett conducts a news stand on the corner, and as the frightened horse attempted to make the turn, he smashed into the news depot, nearly wrecking the portable affair, and knocking the proprietor out and upon the sidewalk.

Pedestrians along the street rushed to the man's assistance. His only injury was a serious flesh wound on the cheek. The horse was hitched to wagon No. 2, owned by the American Lumber Supply company, and was stopped in his mad run when he crashed into the news stand. The wagon was slightly damaged. The lumber supply company has expressed its willingness to pay all damages. A carpenter repaired the news station yesterday afternoon.

One of a team of heavy horses drawing a big ice wagon owned by the Alaska Ice company was pleased by the shaft of a single rig being driven by W. W. Farrell of the White Sewing Machine company in a runaway at Second and Fourth West streets yesterday afternoon, and the animal died as a result of the injury last evening. It said that the shaft penetrated three feet into the horse's body. Neither of the drivers was injured.

Before the collision with the ice wagon the runaway horse ran into a horse and rider, knocking the rider from the horse. The man remounted and set out in pursuit of the runaway, overtaking it just at the time of the collision.

IRVINE AT WORK ON THE JOB, BUT--

Appointment Not Confirmed and Nobody Knows Who Will Pay Him.

HOTEL MATTER TAKEN UP

KENYON APPEARS TO BE AT OUTFITS WITH COMMITTEE.

T. Lorenzo Irvine, appointed by Mrs. Margaret Zane Wheeler clerk of the juvenile court, lost no time in getting on the job. He was acting almost as soon as the letter of appointment was sent to the juvenile court commission, although that body has not yet confirmed his appointment. Established in the capacity of clerk, he at once made requisition on the county commissioners for some filing cases and other office paraphernalia which the commissioners are wont to supply to the district courts. The requisition promptly went to the waste paper basket.

The juvenile court commissioners, Governor Spry being quoted, say that unless the county arranges for Irvine's salary he will get no money, and the juvenile court appropriation is already allotted. This is the reason why there has been no confirmation and no salary fixed for the position.

Another matter in connection with the juvenile court, which the county commissioners must consider, is the provision of the two detention houses which the law says they must establish—one for boys and the other for girls. The Poplar Grove congregation, which bought the Linton building for a meeting house, wants to fix it over for that purpose and would like the superintendent, Guardello Brown, to get out as soon as possible. As there are a number of boys there now, new quarters must be provided at once.

FORM DRAINAGE DISTRICT

Camp's Lane Election Canvassed—Utah Light & Railway Co. Accepts Murray Franchise.

At yesterday's meeting the county commissioners canvassed the votes on the establishment in Camp's Lane of a drainage district with the result that but one dissenting vote was found. The election of the three trustees carried by the majority of the voters. The franchise is for forty-five years and will expire with the company's franchise in the city. By its terms the company must in ten days begin laying sixty-five concrete pipes between Salt Lake and Murray and finish them in sixty days. The Sandy and Brigham Junction lines must be in by August 1, 1909. In ten years the company must reduce its fare to Murray to 5 cents.

THREE SUITS FOR DAMAGES

Citizens Assert That Oregon Short Line Viaduct Injures Property.

Three suits were filed in the Third district court yesterday against the Oregon Short Line for damages resulting from the building of the viaduct on North Temple across which the street cars run. The suits are first by Sarah Ann Gibbs for $2,700, by James E. Gibbs, Sarah Ann Gibbs, Morris for $2,500, and by Sarah A. Gibbs and William F. Burton for $2,000.

SUIT OVER FURNITURE.

Carrie A. Yerrick Says She Bought Property in New York Hotel.

Intervention by Carrie A. Yerrick has further complicated the suit of the Houston Real Estate & Investment company and the Salisbury company against L. L. Hechler, who has been running the New York hotel for the collection of rent, amounting to over $3,500, and to suit him from the premises. Mrs. Yerrick states in her complaint that on Aug. 14, 1907, she bought the hotel furniture property from A. J. Stratton, who was then running the hotel, and assigned the debt for furniture to the Freed Furniture company. On Aug. 22, 1907, she paid the Freed company $4,000, which left her owing that company $1,000. She tendered the Freed company this latter amount on April 2 last, but the company declined to accept, having sold the notes to C. A. Johnson. She then made the tender to Johnson, who also refused to accept, claiming the amount was not sufficient to cover notes and interest. She asks the court to straighten out the tangle and declare her to be the owner of the furnishings in the hotel subject to the debt of $1,000.

INJURY CAUSES DEATH.

Carl Hagberg Dies in Hospital as Result of Accident.

Death claimed Carl Hagberg at the Holy Cross hospital last night. On Thursday Mr. Hagberg fell against a stove at his home, 429 North Main street, and cut his leg seriously. The effects of the injury and the shock, combined with the infirmities of old age, caused his death. He was born in Sweden eighty-four years ago, and about three years ago he became a Mormon convert.

WELCOME SIGN ON ENSIGN PEAK

Arc Light Display to Be a Feature of G. A. R. Encampment.

WELCOME SIGN ON ENSIGN PEAK

One of the big features of the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic to be held in Salt Lake next August will be a big welcome sign on Ensign peak. The sign will be "Welcome, G. A. R." in gigantic arc lights, so large that it may be distinguished for miles. This sign is to be the contribution of the Utah Light & Railway company. The executive committee of the G. A. R. encampment, which met yesterday in the office of Colonel Sterrett, executive director, in the Commercial club building, decided to accept, with thanks, this contribution.

The band of the Ladies of the G. A. R. will be one of the official musical organizations at the Grand Army encampment. This was decided yesterday by the executive committee, and $300 of the amount to be given this band was appropriated in advance in order that the band might be given the necessary funds to purchase new instruments and new music.

Another noted band that will take part in the encampment is the Madoc band of Topeka, Kan. The executive committee voted $300 to guarantee the expenses of this organization during the encampment. Thirty thousand additional booklets, at a cost of $300, were authorized by the committee. These booklets contain advertising matter relative to Salt Lake and the encampment. The committee appropriated $175 for the entertainment of the Union ex-prisoners of war. For maps of Salt Lake City $180 was appropriated.

COLLECTOR IS COMPLAINT

SALOONIST IS FINED $25 FOR BATTERY, BUT IS GIVEN STAY ON MOTION FOR APPEAL.

Peter Fotes, owner of a saloon at 561 West Second South street, was fined $25 in police court yesterday for battery. He was found guilty of battery upon the person of W. J. Phillips, collector for the Utah Independent Telephone company. His attorney secured for him a stay of twenty-four hours was granted. The collector says that when he went to Fotes' place of business to get some telephone wires, Fotes not only treated to some abusive language, a glass of beer in the face and rough handling, but was finally thrown out of the place. It is stated that a heated argument followed, and according to his story on the subject was that Fotes was not only treated to some abusive language, a glass of beer in the face and rough handling, but was finally thrown out of the place. COAL MINE INSPECTOR FINDS BAD PRACTICES

All Mines in Utah in Fairly Good Condition—Corrects Dangerous Methods in Some.

J. E. Pettit, state coal mine inspector, in his quarterly report to the governor states that all the mines in the state have been generally in fairly good condition. At the Kenilworth mine, belonging to the Independent Coal & Coke company, he found the miners taking into their work full boxes of giant caps for blasting, which is in conflict with the statute. He also found that the safety lamps were not distributed by the shot firers of each shift as they are wanted.

Council Declines to Reconsider and Ordinance Will Soon Become a Law.

LAST NIGHT'S SESSION

PURE FOOD AND REFUNDING OF UNUSED LICENSES DISCUSSED.

In five days after Mayor John S. Bransford has affixed his signature in approval, which will be today, the new liquor ordinance will become law. The city council meeting last evening to assent to a reconsideration, and by strictly party vote defeated the motion to that effect introduced by Councilman L. E. Hall. The Mayor stood right at the Councilman's feet, and the administration forces being absent.

Councilman Hall made a lengthy speech in making his motion to reconsider, of which he had given notice. He insisted that there were many needed amendments which the administration was chafing off. One of these was the hole in the wall between restaurants and bars, which would be allowed under the ordinance; another was the license for saloons to be $200 a month, and another to make it a misdemeanor to sell liquor to intoxicated persons.

Councilman F. S. Fernstrom, who had previously voted for the ordinance, said he still favored it, but he had been thinking over the question of wine, and he believed an amendment abolishing these altogether desirable, so would vote to reconsider.

The council reversed itself on this question when the petition of Garganci & Melich came up. These asked for a refund of $65 unused saloon and $8.05 unused merchant's license, the council having revoked their license months ago. After every member had spoken half a dozen times, a motion of J. J. Stewart that the minority report, which favored refunding the merchants, but not the saloon, license, be taken up on a tie vote.

Thomas Hobday, superintendent of water works, reported bids received for supplies and the offer of Bailey & Sons to supply oats at $2.10 per hundredweight, and hay at $16.50, was accepted.

A voucher showing the city's share of the cost of the detention home to have been $3,181.55, was referred to the finance committee. The attendance of boys at the home amounted to 4,044 days, out of which city boys represented 2,541 days.

Appointment by Chief of Police S. M. Barlow of W. E. Eickie as policeman, without pay from the city, for First South to First West and Richards street was confirmed.

For Clean Meat. Walter J. Frazier, city food inspector, asked to have Moedel, Radon & Williams and T. J. Nipper summoned to appear before the sanitary committee to show cause why their slaughter houses should not be declared nuisances. He also wanted the council to appoint a committee to visit and inspect the slaughter houses of these cities and those of the Utah Packing company, Hepworth's, the Murray Meat company, McMillan's and others and look them over. He urged that a stricter policy should be adopted in regard to the sale of meat. This will be considered by the sanitary committee. The franchise of the Salt Lake & Los Angeles railroad was passed, after an amendment had been inserted, at the instance of Councilman John Holley, providing for an arrangement to haul garbage in case the city should find it necessary to make such.

Councilman L. D. Martin offered a resolution authorizing the fire committee to purchase 3,500 feet of hose. This was passed, after being made to read to solicit bids to be passed upon by the council.

EIGHT THOUSAND PERSONS VISIT PROSPERITY FAIR

Eight thousand persons visited the Prosperity fair at the chamber of commerce yesterday, and as a result the day's stock of souvenirs and various articles of food and drink dispensed to visitors very nearly ran out before the closing hours.

Music was furnished in the evening by the Beeley Juvenile orchestra, while the afternoon open air concert was supplied by the High School band. Great crowds centered about the various exhibits.

LAST NIGHT'S SESSION

PURE FOOD AND REFUNDING OF UNUSED LICENSES DISCUSSED.

Too much talk in the city council has caused late sessions for some weeks back, and proper attention has not been paid to the real business of the city. President A. J. Davis proposes to stop this, if he can.

Last evening he briefly addressed the members on the rule which had been adopted for the governance of the council that no member should speak twice on any subject, and announced that in future he intended to enforce this rule. This followed an exhibition of oratory on the part of several of the members on the question of returning the unused portion of license money to saloon keepers whose license had been revoked.

The council reversed itself on this question when the petition of Garganci & Melich came up. These asked for a refund of $65 unused saloon and $8.05 unused merchant's license, the council having revoked their license months ago.
