

JUGGLING STOCKS IS CHARGE MADE

Stockholder George S. Kimball Wants Books of Continental Company Opened.

APPLICATION TO COURT CLAIMS INTENTION TO RELEASE INDEBTEDNESS INJURIOUS.

The Continental Life Insurance & Investment company is again the subject of litigation. This time George S. Kimball, a stockholder, is applying for a writ of mandamus against John Demm, vice president and director; H. C. Edwards, vice president, director and general counsel; W. V. Rice, secretary and director; W. S. McCormick, treasurer and general manager; to permit him to make examination of the books. In his application he makes charges of fraudulent juggling of stocks and assets of the company.

The application was filed late yesterday afternoon. An alternative writ was issued by Judge M. O. Ritchie fixing May 8 as the time for showing cause why the examination should not be permitted. Kimball says that about March 29 last the Western Securities company of Arizona issued a circular to the effect that the Continental Life was about to release to the Western Securities company an indebtedness of $100,000, and that the Continental has further relinquished securities given to secure a probable indebtedness of $95,880, and has also agreed to assume another debt of the Arizona company for $35,500 in consideration of an assignment of notes and a cancellation of contracts which, he says, are of questionable value. He further states that the directors of the Arizona company control the stock of the Continental company, and that the deal in prospect will work injury to the interests of the stockholders in the insurance company. He has tried, he says, to ascertain the value of the notes and the validity of the contracts, but can get no information. No later than yesterday, he says, he made a demand for the examination which was refused.

Game Commissioner to Stop Slaughtering by Small Boys. Boys in the outskirts of the city have been using guns and pistols too promiscuously, and many complaints have been received by Fred W. Chambers, state fish and game commissioner. He will take measures to stop the shooting of song birds and will make a few examples if he can find them. Some of the lads do not confine their marksmanship to birds, but have been plugging cows and horses. Any lads taken in this sport will be turned over to the juvenile court.

Preliminary Work Progresses on this New Building

Holmes-Knox Building, State and Second South.

Preliminary work on the new Holmes-Knox building, corner State and Second South streets, has been going on rapidly now for several days. This building will be four stories in height, occupying 165 feet on State street and 115 feet on Second South street, and will be so constructed that three additional stories may be added at any time. The three upper floors will be utilized for hotel purposes, with the office on the ground floor. There will be 180 rooms for hotel use. A feature of the arrangement of the structure will be an elegantly appointed rathskellar with sufficient room to seat 300 people. J. C. Craig of Salt Lake is the architect who drew the plans for the building. The block will be handsomely constructed and will cost about $250,000.

NEW SCHOOL HOUSE TO GO UP ON EAST BENCH

Matter to Be Discussed at Meeting of Granite School Board Tonight—Need Is Urgent.

A new school house is to be built on the east bench, probably at Twenty-first East and Twelfth South streets. At a meeting of the Granite school board at the county school house tonight the matter will be talked over and plans laid for the installing of the school. The need for the new school house has been urgent for a long time, and especially so during the last year, because of the rapid growth of the district and the promised growth of the various new additions opened there, including Idlewild, Sunnyside, Laurelhurst and Westminster Heights. At the present time much inconvenience is experienced in the matter of schools. Teams now haul the children down from their homes each morning to the Sugar House school, in Twelfth South. The growth of the district has been so rapid of late that the new school house has been determined necessary. Last Sunday night residents of that part of the country met and talked over the matter of a site. No definite conclusion was reached, but it is probable that the building will be constructed on Twenty-first East.

RAILROAD BREVITIES.

General Manager W. G. Martin of the Denver & Rio Grande arrived in Salt Lake yesterday, accompanied by General Superintendent J. C. Dailey, who met him en route. Mr. Martin is making the usual tour of inspection, but announces that his visit has no special significance. A special train carrying fifty persons from Fort Worth, Tex., to San Francisco and return, is to arrive in this city on May 13. The persons comprising the party are making the trip at the expense of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram as a result of a recent newspaper contest in the Texas city. The party will remain in Salt Lake until the afternoon of May 14, when they will proceed to Ogden, thence to San Francisco and Los Angeles, returning via the Salt Lake Route on May 29. Manager Calkins of the Star-Telegram will be in charge of the party. The report that the Denver & Rio Grande had put into effect a reduced tariff on Fremont county, Colorado, coal to Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas, 25 per cent below the regular rate, was denied yesterday by Fred Wilde, general freight agent of that road. In a telegram from Denver signed by him, it was stated that the matter has not even been under consideration.

EXCITING ROBBERIES OF CELESTIAL RESIDENTS

Early Wednesday morning a Japanese, whose name is unknown, reported to Lieutenant of Police John Hemple that two masked men had entered his apartments about 6 o'clock and robbed him of $30. The Jap, who lives at 321 West Second South street, said that he was suddenly awakened about 5 o'clock Wednesday morning, and was startled to see a masked man standing near his bed leveling a gun on him while another was busy ransacking the room. After the robbers had gone a search of the room was made by its owner, who found that $30 had been taken by the highwaymen, together with a gold watch and several other small articles of value. The Jap was so frightened that he could give the police but a poor description of the men. Chin Chin, mayor of Chinatown, was also the victim of burglars Wednesday, and is about $80 loser through their visit to his home on Plum alley. At 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon Mayor Chin went to his bedroom and was surprised to find a thief ransacking the place. As Mr. Chin entered the room the burglar jumped from a second-story window and ran down Plum alley toward Second South street, with Chin and a dozen other Chinamen close behind. The burglar ran across Second South street, entered a saloon and made his escape through the rear door into Victoria alley. The police were notified of the robbery and given a description of the burglar, but were unable to locate any trace of him.

AMERICAN PARTY MEN TO MEET THIS EVENING

District Chairmen Will Attempt to Resurrect Organization for Fall Campaign. The district chairmen of the so-called "American" party are called to meet this evening in an attempt to resurrect the organization for the fall campaign. The office of a chairman for the campaign has already been made by the central committee, who have selected A. J. Weber. There is no doubt that Judge Weber's selection will be ratified by the district chairmen if he decides to accept. Up to last evening he was said to be still considering and to be insisting on certain conditions which the leaders of the party may find it difficult to grant. Judge Weber wants to know, first, where the money is coming from to run the campaign and how much there will be of it. He is, too, a little dissatisfied with the saloon ordinance, having been the attorney for the saloon men in most matters requiring legal advice. The party men began early to try to get together, and during the past fortnight several meetings of the central committee have been held. A candidate for mayor has even been put forward tentatively in the person of H. G. McMillan, the present chairman of the city board of public works. It has been decided by the leaders to cut Councilmen T. H. Black and L. D. Martin out of the race this year. These councilmen, however, are counting on support in the wards to again give them the nomination, when the party will have to accept them. A matter which may make serious trouble among the district chairmen this evening is the recent petition for the removal or non-confirmation of J. T. Raleigh, street supervisor. A number of the district chairmen are said to have signed a petition asking for Raleigh's scalp, and are dissatisfied that no attention was paid to them.

MALONE IN COURT.

Assault of Paulson Arraigned on a Serious Charge. J. S. Malone, who, on April 8, wounded Nels Paulson by shooting him, was arraigned in police court yesterday on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, with intent to commit murder. C. B. Diehl, counsel for the defense, took twenty-four hours to enter a plea for the defendant. Judge Bowman fixed bail at $5,000, in default of which Malone was taken to the county jail. Attorneys C. B. Diehl and A. J. Weber prepared to secure bonds, but at a late hour last evening the bond had not been secured. Judge Diehl argued in court to have the bond lowered to $2,500, while Assistant County Attorney Bowman asked that the bond be made $10,000. Mr. Paulson's condition was much improved yesterday and he was removed to his home.

UTAH VETERANS TO MEET TODAY

Commander in Chief Nevius Will Be Present at State G. A. R. Encampment.

The annual state encampment of the G. A. R. will open in this city this morning at Odd Fellows' hall on Market street. From the fact that the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army will be present, and that important matters pertaining to the national encampment to be held in Salt Lake in August will be discussed, a large attendance is looked for. Delegates from the various posts in the state will meet at 10 o'clock, and the election of officers will be next in order.

The race for commander will be kept this year, and the two men prominent mentioned for this office are Lucian Smyth, United States marshal, and George Squires, state insurance commissioner, while several other veterans will also enter the contest. Practically all of the time in the morning will be devoted to the election and matters of business of the department. The afternoon will be spent in making plans for the August gathering. In the evening the installation of officers will take place, and a banquet will be enjoyed, at which H. M. Nevius, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., will make the address. Commander Nevius and Colonel F. M. Sterrett will return to Salt Lake this morning from Los Angeles, where they have been attending a department encampment. They will arrive over the Salt Lake Route, and the Ladies' G. A. R. band and delegations from the Commercial Club and local Grand Army post will meet them at the station.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

After a lengthy trial in police court yesterday, in which a number of women were interested spectators, Judge Bowman found Mrs. Christine Hauptfleisch guilty of battery on the person of Mrs. Mary Rudy and she was fined $5, but was granted a stay of execution for one day. A Mrs. Geisler, it appeared, was responsible for a good deal of the trouble, and when she was called to testify she created considerable amusement. She said: 'I went to Ninth West and Second South streets on the night of April 17, and it was I who whipped Mrs. Rudy. I was waiting for my husband to come home with her, but she came alone. I had promised her a good licking, and she got it. I picked up a stick as she alighted from the car, and I says, 'You get it now.' According to the testimony of the plaintiff, she got it.
