take part in its exciting activities.

And Glorio, the grand racehorse, son of the great sire Galveston, won the Buena Vista handicap, the feature event of the opening card. Glorio made happy all those who follow their best judgment, Only those who took the chance that "something might happen" were disappointed. Carrying the red and green colors of W. P. Fine and the good boy Fischer, Glorio stood up gamely under the top weight in the race and won in the form that his class demanded.

With the fly of the barrier Glorio, Jolter and Lord Nelson were running like a three-truck team down the back stretch. Ethel Day, the veteran of many tracks, was two lengths back, with Madeline Musgrave, while left hopelessly at the post was Hannah Louise, one of the racing disappointments of the day.

Around the north turn went the field, with Glorio along the rail and always a neck to the good. Fisher was gauging his race nicely. Entering the stretch, it was seen that Glorio had opened up a gap of a length and was headed for the wire without fear of challenge. Excitement was left, however, for there came a gray streak, under whip and spur, running over the field on the outside of the track.

finally found a track to her liking and was making a gallant finish.

Fisher, however, never had to leave his hand ride and Glorio was home with his challenger a length and a half back. In third position was Lord Nelson, a favorite of the Butte track, who rewarded the backers of the Clopton entry by earn show money. The time of 1:14 2-5 was fast.

duel of the season in this city. Bender was hit safely only three times and gave one base on balls, while Donovan allowed four hits and gave two bases on balls. Collins got three of the home team's hits, one being a two-bagger.

Only five Detroit players reached first base. Of these only one got as far as second. Two of those who reached first base were thrown out by Livingston trying to steal second. Bender struck out nine of his opponents, these being distributed through seven innings.

Donovan was responsible for Detroit's defeat through his own blunders. He was given magnificent support by his team mates, McIntyre, Moriarity and Cobb making wonderful plays.

Collins scored the first run in the fourth inning, leading off with a two-bagger. He scored after Baker had sacrificed and Donovan threw wild to third. Philadelphia scored again in the eightin inning, when Heitmulier bunted safely. Barry sacrificed and Collins hit safely in succession.
