

ADVOCATES DEEP INLAND WATERWAYS

President Taft Arouses Intense Enthusiasm at the Convention of Interstate League, in Session at Corpus Cristi.

CONGRESS BLAMED FOR POLICY IN PAST YEARS

Chief Executive, However, Insists That the Railroads of the United States Are Entitled to "Square Deal."

HOMEWARD TRIP RESUMED

Corpus Cristi, Texas, Oct. 22.—Announcing himself as an advocate of deep waterways, when such projects can be shown to be practicable, and declaring the piecemeal "progression by jerks" policy of congress in the past with reference to such improvement should be replaced with a definite plan, President Taft caused much enthusiasm at the Interstate Inland Waterways league here today.

The President said that in addition to extending commerce deep inland waterways would serve to control railroad rates. Meanwhile, he urged the amendment of the interstate laws to make their provisions more effective. Mr. Taft added, however, he did not favor radical legislation, that his purpose merely was to keep railroad companies within bounds. He said the railroads should be encouraged. In some localities, he said, there was a disposition to do injustice to the railroads and drive them to a system of economy which prevents the development of the country through which they pass.

The President said citizens would go to any extent to get a railroad to come into their country, but there, not a friend of the railroad could be found anywhere, except, perhaps, the local council. The President urged a "square deal" for the railroads, that they might not be deprived of reasonable profits through popular legislation.

Charging that the halting and sporadic system of river and harbor improvements in the past was the work of the committees in congress, which had responded to clamor from home and to party considerations, the President said the time had come for a change in this system. A nine-foot inter-coastal canal was one of the projects to which the President referred as part of a system of waterways improvement.

President Taft arrived here at 11 a. m., and was taken to a grandstand, placed at the foot of a natural terrace where the delegates to the waterways convention and the general public had gathered. When he had finished his speech he went out to the Corpus Cristi Golf and Country club and dedicated the new links by striking a ball from the first tee.

The club presented him with a bag of nine epidemic golf sticks as the souvenir of the occasion. The President and several members of his party dined at the home of Mrs. H. N. King, who owns more land than any woman in the United States. Her ranch here comprises 1,200,000 acres.

NIGHT SCHOOLS ARE ADVOCATED

Federation of Labor Committee on Industrial Education in Session.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Night schools for the education of the children of the poor along industrial lines, in addition to schools for the night workers, are the subjects, probably will be asked by the American Federation of Labor, whose committee on industrial education is in session here.

Advocates of vocational schools are striving to have such an institution engrafted on the state public school systems. Labor leaders appeared tonight to be getting together to insist that the day instruction be made supplemental to the schools that will be kept open at night for juvenile workers.

SUPREME COUNCIL CONFERS THE THIRTY-THIRD DEGREE

J. H. Brown of Salt Lake Among the Number to Receive Highest Masonic Honors.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Interest in today's work of the supreme council for the southern jurisdiction, Scottish Rite Masons, centered in the election of four active members to fill vacancies created by death.

Grand Commander Richardson this afternoon, in consistorial session, conferred upon William Hayes Laird of Winona, Minn., and Benjamin B. Allen of Nashville, Tenn., the insignia of the order of the Grand Cross. This order was conferred for distinguished service in the cause of Scottish Rite Masonry.

Another event of interest was the recognition of representatives of other supreme councils near the supreme council for the southern jurisdiction, all of them thirty-third degree Masons, active.

This evening the thirty-third degree honorary of Masonry was conferred upon the following, among others: Arizona—M. A. Drachman, Tucson. California—L. S. McClure, San Diego. Utah—J. H. Brown, Salt Lake City. Washington—W. S. McCrea, Spokane. New Mexico—E. A. Cahoon, Roswell; J. G. Pitts, Sacramento.

The conferring of this degree occupied three hours. It is looked upon by Scottish Rite Masons as the highest honor in Masonry with the single exception of being an active member of the supreme council, which by its action today was increased to twenty-six by the election of four new members,

IRISH PEERS ARRIVE

T. P. O'Connor Arrives in This Country to Ask Financial Aid for the Home Rulers and Election Now Approaching.

HOUSE OF COMMONS AND LORDS AT LOGGERHEADS

Question for Great Britain to Decide Is Whether Peers or People Shall Rule in Matter of Imposing Taxes.

KING EDWARD FACES CRISIS

New York, Oct. 22.—"Ireland has never had such a chance for home rule as now," declared T. P. O'Connor, member of parliament from Liverpool, friend and lieutenant of John Redmond, and a fighter for the Irish cause, tonight. He talked optimistically of his country's future, a subject which will weigh into the ears of Irish-Americans from now until Nov. 19. That is what brought him to the United States on the steamship Lusitania.

"But there is an 'if,' he continued. "Ireland must make the most of her chance and it is to ask Irish-Americans to help her make the most of it, to contribute to carrying through the general election now approaching, that I am here."

"We are a poor people and of the eighty-one national or Irish members of parliament, the people have to support perhaps sixty by private subscription. The whole United Kingdom is in a ferment. Such revolutionary public utterances in responsible positions and such an answering temper in the people have not been known in three generations. The issue before the people has been put squarely by Lloyd-George and the people understand it. I cannot do better than to repeat his phrase, 'Shall the peers or the people rule?'"

Crisis Confronts the King.

"King Edward has foreknowledge of the crisis that may confront him, and his recent activity shows his anxiety. The budget now goes before the house of lords. If they reject it the government will go to the people for a vote of confidence, and in my opinion they will be returned. The present government would pass by 300 votes in the house a home rule bill for Ireland, were they not wavered by a conviction that the peers would promptly veto it. Therefore they will not waste time on a bill sure to be killed, when there is so much other important legislation pending."

"If the present government is sustained at the peers, they will demand of the peers a right of suspensory vote. That is, a bill passed by the house may still be rejected by the lords. But if the house again passes it in the face of this rejection, the bill shall forthwith become law."

Why the Peers Will Weaken.

"You ask me why the peers will grant this concession. Because, if they refuse to do so, they will demand of the king: 'Sir, you must give us a majority in the house of lords. The king may do this by the creation of new peers. He has done it for his own ends in the past, and this instance he would have to do it, because the sovereign under the constitution must follow the advice of his responsible ministers.'"

MURDER TRIAL IN WYOMING

Cattleman Accused of Butchering Sheepmen on Range Last April.

Basin, Wyo., Oct. 22.—The trial of Edward Eaton, George Sabin, Herbert Brink, Thomas Dixon, William Keyes and Charles Parris, cattle men, for the alleged murder of Joe Allemand, Jules Lazier and Joseph Emme, sheepmen, on April 2, 1909, is attracting great attention in the range country.

CABINET RESIGNS.

Copenhagen, Oct. 22.—The cabinet of which Count Holstein-Ledebow was premier, resigned today, following a vote in the chamber of deputies expressing want of confidence in the government. The cabinet, which was formed on Aug. 16 last, has been subjected to much criticism in the matter of the budget, which showed a large deficit.

WRECK IN OHIO.

Five Trainmen Killed When Passenger Train Ran Into Switch.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 22.—Five persons and possibly more were killed in a wreck on the Pan Handle division of the Pennsylvania railroad near Collinsville, O., late today when southbound passenger train No. 19 ran into a freight train on an open switch.

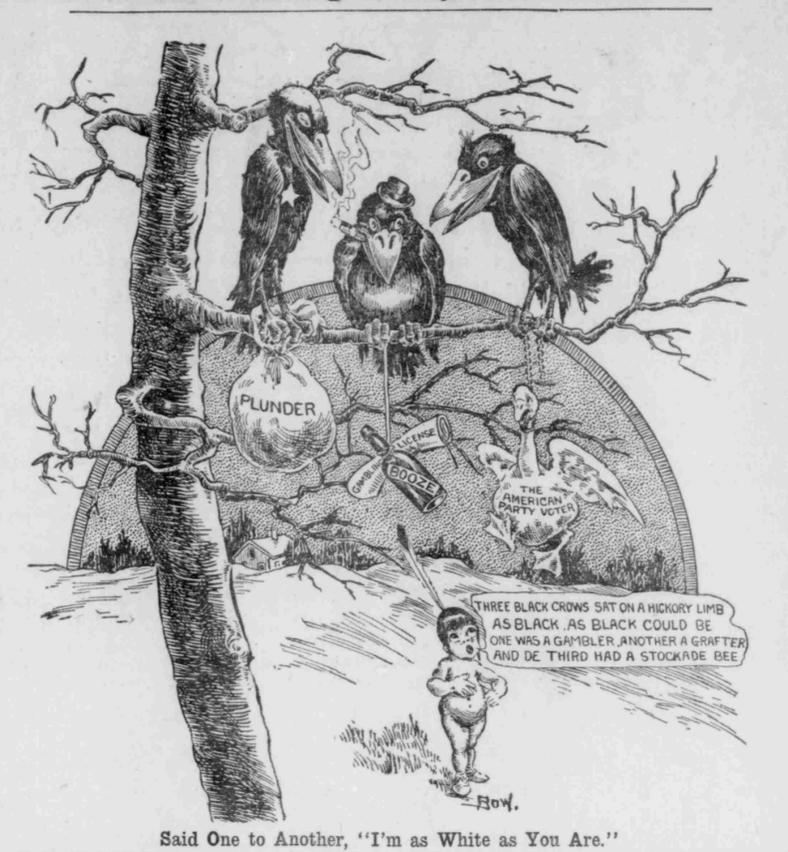

NO HOPE FOR RECOVERY.

St. Louis, Oct. 22.—Colonel John D. Hopkins, widely known as a manager of vaudeville theatres and amusement parks, is so dangerously ill here that hope for his recovery has practically been abandoned.

EARTHQUAKE IN INDIA.

Simla, India, Oct. 22.—Twenty-five persons were killed in recent earthquake shocks at Bellup, a small town on the Quetta railroad, in the central part of Beluchistan.

The Red-Light Triplets—No. 6

Said One to Another, "I'm as White as You Are."

REPUBLICANS HOLD RALLY TONIGHT

Republicans of Salt Lake will hold the biggest rally of the campaign at the Salt Lake Theatre tonight, with Senator George Sutherland, James D. Murdoch and John M. Knight for speakers. In addition to the speeches, there will be an entertaining musical program, and James Devine will act as chairman of the meeting.

Senator Sutherland, recognized as one of the ablest public speakers in Utah, will deliver the opening address of the evening, outlining the platform of the Republican party in the present municipal campaign, and presenting the claims of the Republican ticket as the logical one which the voters of Salt Lake will support as the sure means of putting an end to the misrule of the present administration and thus bringing about an era of renewed advancement in civic affairs.

The speech of James D. Murdoch will deal largely with facts and figures regarding the maladministration of the business of Salt Lake as a corporation under the American party. As the most efficient member of the city council, Mr. Murdoch is in a position to present information regarding the methods used by the American party organization to loot the city treasury, and those facts and figures regarding the graft of the present administration can best be presented by the man who, though a member of the minority and fighting practically alone, has been successful in blocking many deliberate attempts to misappropriate the money of the taxpayers of Salt Lake.

John M. Knight, candidate for councilman against M. E. Mulvey, who is backed solidly by the saloon men and gamblers, will present a strong argument for decency and reform in civic affairs.

MILK CAUSE OF TYPHOID FEVER

Nathan Straus of New York on Last Summer's Epidemic in That City.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 22.—That typhoid fever as well as other diseases, including tuberculosis, scarlet fever and diphtheria, can be prevented by Pasteurizing the milk supplies, was the forceful declaration of Nathan Straus of New York, a statement from whom upon what he terms the "milk-born epidemic of typhoid fever in New York City," was read before the American Public Health association today.

The origin of the seven weeks' epidemic during the last summer in New York, where 1,424 cases of typhoid fever were reported within that brief period, was disclosed by Mr. Straus as being traced to one of the largest milk distributing concerns. The distributors, he declared, was not made until 150 cases had developed among the customers of this company. The health department, he said, immediately directed the concern to Pasteurize its milk by heating it at 160 degrees for half an hour. This was done from Sept. 10 to Oct. 2. When the epidemic ceased.

"As it requires three weeks for typhoid to develop," continued Mr. Straus, "after the system had been infected, this experiment amounts to a mathematical demonstration of the efficacy of Pasteurization. This is one of the many illustrations coming to my attention in the eighteen years I have been endeavoring to save babies from the disease caused by infected milk."

"GAMBLERS" IN LAW'S GRIP

Bold "Gang" Caught Breaking the Law Is Hurried to Police Headquarters and the Party Organ Is Notified.

New York, Oct. 22.—Patrick H. McCarron, state senator and Democratic leader of Brooklyn, died at St. Catherine's hospital, Brooklyn, at 1:15 o'clock this morning, never having completely rallied from the effects of an operation for appendicitis, Oct. 12.

His death was not unexpected. The senator himself realized throughout the night that the end was near. To the physicians in consultation over him today he said: "Gentlemen, I know what you have come for. I knew I was dying the day I walked in this hospital. I have made a study of my own case, and I find my trouble is an old heart and an old stomach. If you rejoice them with new ones there might be a chance of my getting better."

One of the pathetic features of Senator McCarron's illness is that his aged mother was not apprised of his condition. She thinks that the campaign has kept him from home, and Senator McCarron had insisted that she be kept in ignorance for fear that the shock would be too great for her.

SHOT THROUGH THE HEART

Miss Leah Oppenheimer, Who Formerly Resided in Salt Lake, Kills Herself in New York.

New York, Oct. 22.—Miss Leah Oppenheimer, formerly of Butte, Mont., shot herself through the heart at the home of her sister, Mrs. George L. Symons, late today. DeLena was instantaneous. Miss Oppenheimer was 30 years old and had suffered long with a chronic affection of the nerves.

The Oppenheimer family resided in Salt Lake some years ago and is well known here. Miss Oppenheimer is a niece of Sol Siegel of this city. Mr. Siegel had not heard of the death of Miss Oppenheimer prior to being informed of the fact by a representative of The Herald-Republican Friday night. He said he knew nothing of the circumstances and of course could not throw any light on the shooting.

STATE SENATOR M'CARREN DEAD

Career of One of the Most Noted New York Politicians Closed.

New York, Oct. 22.—Patrick H. McCarron, state senator and Democratic leader of Brooklyn, died at St. Catherine's hospital, Brooklyn, at 1:15 o'clock this morning, never having completely rallied from the effects of an operation for appendicitis, Oct. 12.

His death was not unexpected. The senator himself realized throughout the night that the end was near. To the physicians in consultation over him today he said: "Gentlemen, I know what you have come for. I knew I was dying the day I walked in this hospital. I have made a study of my own case, and I find my trouble is an old heart and an old stomach. If you rejoice them with new ones there might be a chance of my getting better."

FOUR-YEAR CONTRACT.

Bids Asked for Carrying Mails From Stations to Salt Lake Office.

(Special to The Herald-Republican.) Washington, Oct. 22.—The postoffice department today sent out advertisements for bids for carrying the mail between the railroad station and the postoffice at Salt Lake, and for carrying the mail on star routes in Utah, Idaho and Wyoming. The contracts will run for four years from July 1, 1910, to June 30, 1914.

GOLD MOVEMENTS.

New York, Oct. 22.—Goldman, Sachs & Co. today engaged $20,000 in gold coin for shipment to Brazil.

EN ROUTE FOR INDIA.

Manila, Oct. 22.—Former Vice President Fairbanks left here today for Hong Kong, on the steamer Minnesota, en route for India. A large party gathered at the pier to bid him farewell.

THREE CANDIDATES FOR MAYOR OF NEW YORK CONTINUE TO MAKE SPEECHES, MR. BANNARD APPEARING IN DIFFERENT PLACES.

New York, Oct. 22.—All three of New York's mayoralty candidates, William R. Hearst, Independent; Otto T. Bannard, Republican, and William J. Gaynor, Democrat, were in the field again tonight hammering away with campaign speeches with election but nine days away.

HEARST HEARD BY THE VOTERS OF BROOKLYN

Expect to Establish a Newspaper in City of Churches After the Election Is Over and the Votes Are Counted.

GAYNOR SAYS NOTHING NEW

New York, Oct. 22.—All three of New York's mayoralty candidates, William R. Hearst, Independent; Otto T. Bannard, Republican, and William J. Gaynor, Democrat, were in the field again tonight hammering away with campaign speeches with election but nine days away.

Tammany Knows.

"When Judge Gaynor says he did not know where Tammany Hall is," said Hearst, "he is either singularly insincere or singularly ignorant. But I can tell you one thing, Judge Gaynor may not know where Tammany Hall stands, but Tammany Hall knows where Judge Gaynor stands or they would never have nominated him."

Hearst disclosed his ambition to add to his string of newspapers by establishing one in Brooklyn. "I was just preparing to start a newspaper in Brooklyn to grow with this great borough and to help your interests. If I am elected mayor I shall, of course, have to give up this particular plan, but I shall still own the paper. I shall then go ahead with my newspaper idea and do all I can to help the city. I believe I can do it."

Bannard's prediction that Hearst will be in third in his first reference to the election during the campaign, although Hearst has attacked Bannard bitterly. Both are heading the same fusion ticket. Gaynor's speeches covered ground that he has sons over heretofore and included his compliments to Hearst.

Statement by Murphy.

Among the most interesting incidents of the day was a declaration by Charles F. Murphy, state senator and Democratic leader of the election of William J. Conners as chairman of the Democratic state committee. E. F. McCabe of Albany, Hearst got McCabe out of the race by offering to put up $50,000 as a campaign slogan. Murphy said: "He told the story up to a certain point, then dismissed the subject with a chuckle, saying: 'Conners will tell you the rest. He knows more about it than I do.'"

David P. Hill, who made the famous slogan, "I am a Democrat," when he was a leader in state politics, was in New York today with a word of praise for Gaynor. "I hope Judge Gaynor will be elected; he is an able man," said the former senator.

RATE WAR WILL END.

Bell People Secure Independent Telephone Interests at Toledo.

Toledo, O., Oct. 22.—The Blade publishes today, upon what it says is absolute authority, the statement that the independent telephone interests which recently have been obtained by James S. Bralley and associates, have in reality been secured by the Bell company.

The Blade's information is that this merger places the Bell company again in possession of the field and that the rate war will be ended.

DRY FARMING CONGRESS.

Billings, Mont., Oct. 22.—United States Senator Moses E. Chapin of Minnesota will accompany President Louis W. Hill of the Great Northern and party to the fourth Dry Farming congress, and will deliver an address Tuesday morning. Chairman James J. Hill of the Great Northern will arrive Tuesday morning and address the congress that afternoon. President Howard E. Doty of the Northern Pacific will deliver an address at the same session.

MURDERER HANGED.

Salem, Ore., Oct. 22.—Math Jantjag, convicted of the murder of Mary Schalmaker, at Oregon City, was hanged at the state prison here today.

MYSTERIOUS YOUNG WOMAN AN ENIGMA TO OMAHA POLICE

Miss Dollie Dimples Mingles With Crowd Searching for Her and Escapes Detection.

Special to the Herald-Republican. Omaha, Oct. 22.—At the invitation of the World-Herald, the mysterious Dolly Dimples arrived in this city from Chicago this morning and proceeded at once to the office of the World-Herald, where for the greater part of an hour the celebrated woman of mystery permitted herself to be subjected to about every recognized identification test used by the local police department.

Several prominent police officials and business men superintended these tests personally, and at their conclusion every person present announced that it would be practically impossible for Miss Dolly Dimples to evade capture in Omaha.

In order to give the police officials every possible assistance, Miss Dimples walked into the business office of the World-Herald, where she chatted with those present. There were many knowing looks exchanged among the different police officials present, and when Miss Dimples announced her intention of making just one test of her alleged ability to evade capture in any sort of a small gathering, there was a general air of satisfaction noticeable on the countenances of those present.

There was just one thing, however, which the members of the party had failed to take into consideration—the fact that the World-Herald offered $500 in cash, not only to those present, but to any man or woman in Omaha who could identify her at the intersection of Sixteenth and Farm streets between the hours of 12 and 1 p. m. After leaving the World-Herald office the woman of mystery returned to the Rome hotel, where she made some sort of change in her personal appearance, and then started to the scene of

MAN WHO DIED IN HASTINGS, NEB., THE OTHER DAY, NOT FRANCIS SCHLATTER, WHO ONCE CAUSED GREAT SENSATION.

Los Angeles, Oct. 22.—Arthur R. Hinton, a newspaper man, who formerly lived in New Mexico, tells in an article in the Times of the death of Francis Schlatter, the "healer" and casts doubt upon the claim of the man who recently died in Nebraska, who was known as "Francis Schlatter." The article says: "Reports of the death of Francis Schlatter, the so-called 'divine healer,' in Nebraska, should cause a smile among those who know absolutely the fate of that unfortunate man."

BODY FOUND UNDER A TREE IN CHIHUAHUA BY A MORMON COWBOY, WHO AT ONCE NOTIFIED THE AUTHORITIES OF STATE.

Los Angeles, Oct. 22.—Arthur R. Hinton, a newspaper man, who formerly lived in New Mexico, tells in an article in the Times of the death of Francis Schlatter, the "healer" and casts doubt upon the claim of the man who recently died in Nebraska, who was known as "Francis Schlatter." The article says: "Reports of the death of Francis Schlatter, the so-called 'divine healer,' in Nebraska, should cause a smile among those who know absolutely the fate of that unfortunate man."

PERISHED MONTHS BEFORE

Los Angeles, Oct. 22.—Arthur R. Hinton, a newspaper man, who formerly lived in New Mexico, tells in an article in the Times of the death of Francis Schlatter, the "healer" and casts doubt upon the claim of the man who recently died in Nebraska, who was known as "Francis Schlatter." The article says: "Reports of the death of Francis Schlatter, the so-called 'divine healer,' in Nebraska, should cause a smile among those who know absolutely the fate of that unfortunate man."

LAST SEEN ALIVE.

Los Angeles, Oct. 22.—Arthur R. Hinton, a newspaper man, who formerly lived in New Mexico, tells in an article in the Times of the death of Francis Schlatter, the "healer" and casts doubt upon the claim of the man who recently died in Nebraska, who was known as "Francis Schlatter." The article says: "Reports of the death of Francis Schlatter, the so-called 'divine healer,' in Nebraska, should cause a smile among those who know absolutely the fate of that unfortunate man."

Los Angeles, Oct. 22.—Arthur R. Hinton, a newspaper man, who formerly lived in New Mexico, tells in an article in the Times of the death of Francis Schlatter, the "healer" and casts doubt upon the claim of the man who recently died in Nebraska, who was known as "Francis Schlatter." The article says: "Reports of the death of Francis Schlatter, the so-called 'divine healer,' in Nebraska, should cause a smile among those who know absolutely the fate of that unfortunate man."

CLOTHING IDENTIFIED.

Los Angeles, Oct. 22.—Arthur R. Hinton, a newspaper man, who formerly lived in New Mexico, tells in an article in the Times of the death of Francis Schlatter, the "healer" and casts doubt upon the claim of the man who recently died in Nebraska, who was known as "Francis Schlatter." The article says: "Reports of the death of Francis Schlatter, the so-called 'divine healer,' in Nebraska, should cause a smile among those who know absolutely the fate of that unfortunate man."

ANOTHER WOMAN LOVED HUSBAND

Mrs. Nanette Lillard of St. Louis Gets Into Print in Consequence.

St. Louis, Oct. 22.—Mrs. Nanette Lillard, who yesterday accused Mrs. Maude Ridley of giving her poisoned candy, today confessed to the police she had bought the candy and put the poison in it herself. She did so, she said, to turn Mrs. Lillard against her husband, R. W. Lillard, a newspaper reporter.

Mrs. Lillard's confession followed her identification by the police, who sold her the candy. As she admitted the poisoning plot was her own, Mrs. Lillard faints.

Mrs. Ridley said she loved Lillard, was released on bail. She was charged yesterday with attempted murder.

Tonight Lillard and his wife said there would be no prosecution of Mrs. Ridley. Mrs. Lillard in a signed statement said she had forgiven Gaynor, who she said her motive is expressed in the statement as follows:

"What I wanted—and all I wanted—was to protect myself from what I believed—and still believe was an imminent danger. I believe I have accomplished that object. There is nothing more for me to do."

MISS DOLLIE DIMPLES MINGLES WITH CROWD SEARCHING FOR HER AND ESCAPES DETECTION.

Special to the Herald-Republican. Omaha, Oct. 22.—At the invitation of the World-Herald, the mysterious Dolly Dimples arrived in this city from Chicago this morning and proceeded at once to the office of the World-Herald, where for the greater part of an hour the celebrated woman of mystery permitted herself to be subjected to about every recognized identification test used by the local police department.

Several prominent police officials and business men superintended these tests personally, and at their conclusion every person present announced that it would be practically impossible for Miss Dolly Dimples to evade capture in Omaha.

In order to give the police officials every possible assistance, Miss Dimples walked into the business office of the World-Herald, where she chatted with those present. There were many knowing looks exchanged among the different police officials present, and when Miss Dimples announced her intention of making just one test of her alleged ability to evade capture in any sort of a small gathering, there was a general air of satisfaction noticeable on the countenances of those present.

There was just one thing, however, which the members of the party had failed to take into consideration—the fact that the World-Herald offered $500 in cash, not only to those present, but to any man or woman in Omaha who could identify her at the intersection of Sixteenth and Farm streets between the hours of 12 and 1 p. m. After leaving the World-Herald office the woman of mystery returned to the Rome hotel, where she made some sort of change in her personal appearance, and then started to the scene of

CONTINUED ON PAGE 7.